THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

A Resolution to do Away With Government House Maintenance.

TORONTO, April 22.

The Legislature held three sessions yesterday, adjourning at 12.10 this morning. The principal part of the sittings was taken up in committee and progressing bills. A general slaughtering of bills took place. By the time the House got through with amending this and that measure, and beheading measures which the Government would not allow to proceed this session, the order paper was pretty well cleared off. But little now remains to be done, and what is to be done will have to be done quickly.

Hon. C. F. Fraser moved the third reading of the bill to amend the Factory Act. He said that a deputation of workingmen had waited on him and after explanations had represented they had no further objections to the bill.

Other bills read a third time were: Bill No. 73, to amend the act respecting public schools, Mr. Ross (Mid.); No. 113, respecting distress for rent, Mr. Hardy; No. 146, respecting the taxation of patented lands in Algoma, Mr. Ross (Hur.); No. 84, respecting the Niagara Falls Park, the Attorney-General (Mr. Morin of Welland got a clause inserted making Stewart and Robinson streets public entrances to the park); No. 9, incorporating the village of Tilbury Centre.

These bills, which stood for third readings, were amended in committee and reported back to the House: No. 126, respecting the appointment of police magistrates, the Attorney-General; No. 55, to amend the act incorporating the Home for the Friendless, Hamilton, Mr. Gibson; No. 135, to extend the operation of the Land Titles Act and otherwise amend the same, the Attorney-General; No. 127, for further improving the law, the Attorney-General; No. 150, to amend the Municipal Act, Mr. Hardy.

Mr. Balfour got his libel bill passed the second reading and it was referred to a select committee. The bill protects the press from vexatious suits by irresponsible parties for blackmailing purposes. The bill is founded on the latest American and English acts and it liberalizes the responsible press generally.

Mr. Smith's bill (No. 154) for the purpose of obtaining certain information from the clerks of county courts with regard to chattel mortgages registered with them was passed its second reading and referred to a select committee. This bill is for the benefit of wholesale men. It appears there are four or five county court clerks in the province that refuse the agents of wholesale houses access to their books, even on the payment of fees. The clerks at Hamilton and Bowmanville were mentioned by Mr. Smith as among them.

Mr. Coanee's bill (No. 175) to amend the Revised Statutes respecting municipal Institutions in Algoma, Muskoka, Parry Sound, Nipissing, Thunder Bay and Rainy River, was read a second time and referred.

The Commissioner of Public Works, when his bill for the erection of the new Parliament Buildings was passing through committee, said the architect's estimate for completing the interior of the structure was $236,000.

All of the notices of motion and questions on the paper were withdrawn by their makers. One, by Mr. Harcourt, for an order of the House for a return containing certain minutes of the University Senate was agreed to.

Bills No. 126, 137 respecting stationary engines, Mr. Garson, 145, 146, 147, 150, 151, 158, 159, 160, 162, 163, 164, 169 and 175 were discharged.

Mr. Meredith got an amendment inserted in the R.S.O. classing English sparrows as among the members of the feathery tribe that can be destroyed at all times.

The House went into committee of supply. On the item of $1700 for the maintenance of Government House, Mr. Marter of Muskoka moved in amendment:

That while the House concurs in the resolution, it is of opinion that this province should expend no further sums in the maintenance of Government House.

Mr. Wood of Hastings seconded the amendment. Both gentlemen made a vigorous attack on the expenses of Government House. Mr. Wood was severe on what he called the tomfooleries of the opening and closing of Parliament. Mr. Mowat and Mr. Fraser said the Lieutenant-Governor could not be abolished, even if the entire House demanded it, because it was created by the British North American Act.

Mr. Fraser moved in amendment to Mr. Marter's motion, that all the words after "that" be struck out and these inserted:

While we heartily concur in the expenditure, we trust that these expenditures may be made with a due regard to economy in the future.

Mr. Fraser was sustained by a vote of 56 to 17. Motions were made to strike out the item of $600 for a private secretary for the Governor, and to strike out the $10,500 for emigration purposes, and lost.

The estimates then passed.

The supplementary estimates, $105,500, were laid on the table by Mr. Mowat. Of this sum $57,000 is for public buildings.

A number of government bills were considered in committee and reported to the House for third readings.

The House will prorogue to-morrow.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

A Woman, While Awaiting a Divorce Decree, is Married Twice.

KINGSTON, N.Y., April 21.—A case was tried the other day, before Judge Parker, that involves the marriage laws of England, Canada and the United States. In 1876 Annie Towers, an English lady, married one Tate in Yorkshire, England, and in 1878 entered an action for divorce on the grounds of adultery. On May 7, 1879, the court ordered that the marriage should be dissolved unless cause should be shown within six months from the time entering of the order. Before the expiration of the date she went to the States and married in July, 1879, one Stewart. Her former marriage was not annulled until January, 1880. Stewart lived with her for two years and hearing of the English suit of divorce the two separated. She then went to Ontario and at Southampton married one Ayes, who is at present living in Stamford and is a wealthy stock raiser there. Stewart brought the action against her on the grounds of adultery with Ayes, and her defence is that as the time when she married her late husband she was not the lawful wife of Stewart on account of the ceremony being performed pending the decision of the English court. The question is whether the first or second order of the court was valid.

AT THE CAPITAL.

CURRAN'S MOTION ON HOME RULE IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

OTTAWA, April 22.—In the House of Commons yesterday the following resolution by Mr. Curran was discussed from 3.30 p.m. till 11.30 last night. The debate will be continued to-day:

That this House desires to repeat the expression of its deep and abiding interest in the prosperity and happiness of all the people of Ireland and its adhesion to the sentiments on the subject of Home Rule for Ireland, enunciated in a joint address to Her Majesty from both Houses of the Canadian Parliament, passed in the session of 18—, and in a resolution adopted by this House in 1886. This House is, however, unable to form or express an opinion as to the merits or demerits of the bill for the amendment of the criminal law with respect to Ireland, now before the Imperial Parliament, in the absence of the measure itself, and the papers on the evidence on which it is based.

The speakers were Mr. Curran, Mr. Mc. Neil of North Bruce, Mr. Kersey of Halifax, Mr. Flynn of Richmond, Mr. O'Brien of Muskoka, and others.

SOCIAL AND OTHER EVENTS AT THE CAPITAL.

OTTAWA, April 21.—The Government have represented to the Imperial Government the necessity of taking steps to protect the rights and liberties of British subjects in the waters of Behring's Sea, and the papers will be brought down in a few days.

A delegation of Montreal storemen waited upon the Minister of Finance to-day and opposed any change being made in the duty on iron. The gentlemen from the west regarding the duty on ash and elm also had their interview and their representations were promised every consideration.

A deputation from Kincardine, consisting of Messrs. Edward Leslie, Mayor; Robert Baird, ex-Mayor; Dr. Martin, Reeve, and L. Wrightmeyer, ann extensive gilt manufacturer, waited upon Sir Hector Langevin this morning to secure a grant to complete the work of harbor improvements. They met with a cordial reception and the Minister promised to give the matter favorable consideration.

The annual report on the inspection of weights and measures has been distributed. The total revenue collected during the year was $33,233 as compared with $31,481 during 1884-85. The expenses were $26,405, as against $25,968 during the previous year.

Mr. Kenny, M.P., will shortly bring before the Government the question of enlarged terminal facilities at Halifax for the Intercolonial.

Nearly half of the Senators have already gone home. In the Senate to-day the Noel and Ash divorce cases were entered. This was the only business done.

The Canadian Shorthanders Association met here to-day and elected George Eyvel president.

The social season is opening out in good style. The state ball at Government House is being looked forward to as one of the events.

This afternoon Mrs. J. D. Edgar gave a very successful tea party at the Russell and to-night Mr. Edgar dined between thirty and forty gentlemen. Among the guests were Messrs. Dawson, Scarth, Patterson of Essex, Amyot, Gigault, Desjardines and Bergeron.

On Tuesday evening Hon. J. A. Chapleau will give a dinner at his private residence. The invited guests include Sir John and Lady Macdonald, Speaker and Madame Ouimet, ex-Speaker and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Judge and Mrs. Gwynne, Hon. Speaker Plumb, Sir William and Lady Ritchie and Mayor and Mrs. Stewart.

On the same evening Mrs. C. Berkely Powell will give a grand ball in the Tennis Court.

The dinners at Rideau Hall to-morrow and Saturday evenings have already been mentioned.

Speaker Ouimet and his charming lady will give the first of a series of parliamentary dinners on Thursday evening next.

Other social events, among them the dinners of Hon. Speaker Plumb, are being talked of. The list of bank shareholders shows that cabinet ministers are not large shareholders. Sir John has $5000 in the Standard Bank, Sir Hector has $10,860 in the Union and $400 in the Quebec Bank, Pope has $24,985 in the Eastern Townships Bank, Hon. F. Smith heads the list with $12,500 in shares and $60,000 in trust in the Dominion Bank.

Lady Smith, who has been seriously ill, is now considered out of danger.

It is stated here that O'Brien is to come direct to Ottawa, and preparations are being made to banquet him.

Dalton McCarthy will on Monday introduce a bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act. He has another bill to amend the Joint Stock Companies' Act.

Hon. Mr. Thompson intends moving in the House in the case of Lavioletta, late Warden of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, who, at the time of the outbreak there, behaved with great intrepidity and was so seriously wounded as to be permanently incapacitated, that he be granted an allowance for life of $2630 per year and $1000 for removal expenses.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

A Former Resident's Frightful Death in California—News Notes.

TORONTO, April 22.

Intelligence has reached here of the frightful death, at Los Angeles, Cal., on April 12, of Mrs. Ernest A. Cox and of injuries to Miss Augusta Winstanley, both well known here. The accident occurred at 5 o'clock in the evening near the Los Angeles and San Gabriel Valley railway depot. A freight train was backing up to the depot when it ran into a carriage containing Mr. and Mrs. Cox and Miss Winstanley, the three being thrown out and the carriage smashed to pieces while the horses escaped unhurt.

Mrs. Cox was instantly killed, her head being crushed and her neck broken. Miss Winstanley received severe internal injuries and had her spine hurt. Mr. Cox escaped with a few bruises.

The deceased lady was 37 years of age and a daughter of the late Hiram Bernard, formerly of Richmond Hill, but who died in Toronto five years ago. A sister is the wife of Mr. Marmaduke M. Matthews, the artist. Mrs. Cox was twice married. Her first husband was Surgeon-Major Arthur H. Hughes, who was a son of the late Mrs. John Monaghan of this city, and who died in 1882 in India, where he was a staff officer in the Imperial service. She returned from India after her husband's death and lived with her husband's family until January, 1886, when she married Mr. Cox, a member of the real estate firm of Russel, Cox & Brandt of Los Angeles.

Miss Winstanley is a daughter of Dr. Winstanley, who lived at Gerrard and Victoria streets until two years ago, when he removed his family to Tulare, Cal. Mr. Charles J. H. Winstanley of the Toronto Postoffice is a brother of the young lady's.

The news was received at the House yesterday that he died in the morning from an inflammation of the lungs, superinduced by cold contracted while attending court as Uxbridge. Deceased has held the shrievalty of Ontario for almost five years. He formerly sat in the Assembly from that county, and was well known in Toronto.

The mortality among the provincial sheriffs during the past few days was a matter of much comment among the members yesterday. Four have died since Saturday night last.

BEFORE NOBLE LORDS

THE LAND BILL HAS THE BENEFIT OF A SHORT DEBATE.

LONDON, April 21.—In the House of Lords to-day Earl Cadogan moved the second reading of the Land Bill.

Baron Dunman moved the rejection of the bill, which, he said, was likely to harry landlord and tenant into litigation.

Earl Spencer said the land question must be settled before Ireland would become peaceful. The interference with rents was unavoidable. He declared that the bankruptcy clauses of the bill would utterly demoralize the Irish people. Earl Carnarvon supported the bill, but said that, in the interests of the landlords, the bankruptcy clauses ought to be reconsidered.

Baron Fitzgerald condemned the bill as too complicated to work with ease and safety.

Lord Ashbourne said the bill, if passed, would prove a great check to evictions.

O'Shea Says it is a Forgery.

LONDON, April 21.—Capt. O'Shea, addressing the Limerick branch of the National League to-night, said he had compared the Times letter with thirty-seven of Mr. Parnell's letters and concluded the Times letter was a forgery, and that the body and signature were written by the same person.

Open for Engagements.

LONDON, April 22.—The News this morning says Major Saunderson has allowed it to become known that he will be at home during certain hours of the day should any one desire to communicate with him in a hostile spirit in respect to the accusations by him against members of the National League.

Mr. Sexton on the Trail.

LONDON, April 21.—Mr. Sexton has received an anonymous letter which it is thought will lead to the identification of the author of the Parnell letter published by the Times.

Back from Ireland.

LONDON, April 21.—Mr. Parnell has arrived here.

THE BRITISH BUDGET.

The Surplus Found to be Much Greater Than Had Been Estimated.

LONDON, April 21.—Mr. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, introduced the budget in the House of Commons this afternoon. From it it appears that during last year the expenses of the Government amounted to £90,000,000, and that the revenues reached the same sum. There has been a saving of £263,000 in the army estimates and of £247,000 in the estimates for the Civil Service. The revenue obtained by taxes on alcoholic liquors had decreased £190,000, while that derived from the beer tax had increased £45,000. The receipts from the wine taxes had fallen off £93,000, and those from the tax on tea had largely increased. Sir William Vernon Harcourt had estimated the surplus for the year would be £250,000, while it really reached £776,000. The budget estimates the revenue for the coming year at £91,155,000 and the expenditure at £90,180,000. It is proposed to raise £100,000 by charging a ten shilling transfer duty on each 100 debentures of stock which has hitherto escaped duty. To clear the budget of local loans it is intended to cancel £37,000,000 of other portions of the public debt and create the same amount of local loan stock, charging the local loan budget with an annuity of £100,000.

It is also proposed to take one penny per pound sterling off the income tax and four pence per pound sterling off the tobacco tax, and to reduce the taxation on marine policies. The budget was a complete surprise to the House of Commons. Many of its proposals, notably those relating to the national debt charges, will be vigorously opposed.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt regretted that nothing had been said about gold coinage. He condemned the proposal to reduce the repayment of the debt, which he thought would establish a reprehensible precedent.

Lord Randolph Churchill also regretted the absence of any reference to gold coinage. He criticised adversely Mr. Goschen's estimates.

Mr. Goschen excused himself for not having touched upon the question of gold coinage on the ground of lack of time to deal thoroughly with the subject. He would be glad if the House should definitely express its wishes with regard to the expenditures for defence. His experience regarding former reductions had been that they were almost always followed by spasmodic increases under the influence of a panic.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL BILL.

If the Measure be Rejected, Bismarck will Resign His Office as Minister of Prussia.

BERLIN, April 21.—Speaking on the Ecclesiastical Bill in the Prussian Diet to-day, Prince Bismarck declared that if the bill was rejected he would abandon his office as President of the Ministry of State for Prussia and devote his entire time to the service of the empire. "As, perhaps," he said, "a hard external and internal struggle against the revolutionary party is imminent, I desire first to settle all unnecessary internal disputes." Herr Richter condemned the bill, because he said the provisions regarding the right of confirmation and protest by the state in ecclesiastical appointments would promote servility. He protested against the action of the Pope in interfering in the elections for membership in the Reichstag. Prof. Virchow opposed the bill as a measure tending to strengthen the Pope's hierarchical power.

Prince Bismarck in reply to this observed that Prof. Virchow opposed him as a matter of principle on all great questions. "I never," said the Prince, "described the May laws as a final institution, but always as laws of combat, as is now the case with the anti-socialist laws. I have solely striven to satisfy the lovers of peace among the Catholics. I never aimed to keep a portion of my fellow citizens under permanent pressure."

Herr Von Gerlach expressed approval of the bill, coupled with a wish that greater independence might be granted the Evangelical Church. The debate was then adjourned until to-morrow.

Arrested for Counterfeiting.

MONTREAL, April 21.—A Mrs. Evelina Bertrand and her son, Joseph Hetin, residing at 121 St. Martin's-street, have been arrested for having in their possession and passing counterfeit dollar bills. Stamps and types exactly matching the impression of the bills were captured by the police. When before the Police Magistrate to-day both mother and son admitted that they had uttered the queer, but claimed that they did not know its nature. They were remanded until April 28. The bills are perfect imitations, only the inking is faulty and gives them a clumsy appearance.

SOPHISTRIES SWEPT AWAY.

No right-thinking person will venture to belittle the importance of sound moral training going hand in hand, with the intellectual culture of the children of Ontario. The value of such training cannot be exaggerated, and it is painful to observe that so vital a matter should be made the subject of political agitation for plainly partizan purposes. During the recent provincial elections, the alleged hostility of the Mowat Administration to giving effect to a demand for religious instruction in schools, was made the rallying cry of the opponents of that Administration, and, in the enforcement of that cry, a most regrettable and intolerant spirit of bigotry was developed. All of a sudden Tory politicians, who, in their every-day life, did anything but credit to the religious principles they feigned to have discovered to be in danger, became the the most zealous champions of Protestantism, utterly regardless of how they trampled upon the essential principles of Protestantism—religious tolerance and freedom of conscience. Undeterred by the manner in which the electors of this Province, on the last occasion on which they had an opportunity of pronouncing an opinion, "snowed under" the "No Popery" cry and all the spurious agitation carried on in connection therewith, the Opposition returned to the fray again in the Local Legislature the other day. Mr. Meredith gratuitously revived the sectarian excitement by introducing verbose amendments to Hon. Mr. Ross' bill respecting the Education Department, and in a spirit of affected tolerance proceeded to criticise the policy of the Administration in respect to its management thereof in the interests of Protestantism. Mr. Meredith and his followers and allies will learn nothing from their lessons of experience, but are determined to get all the political capital possible out of the sectarian cry. That such is his motive, and that he has not always followed this line of fight, is shown by the remarks made in the House on the above bill by Mr. Stratton, the member for West Peterborough:

Mr. Stratton said the leader of the Opposition, Sir John Macdonald and Mr. C. W. Bunting in 1883 prepared a document—"Facts for the Irish Catholic electors"—and yet the Opposition now said that they did not raise the religious cry. Since 1883 the Opposition had swapped horses. In that year they thought they could hoodwink the Roman Catholics, but finding that impossible they turned around and raised the "No Popery" cry. Rev. Dr. Caven, Rev. Mr. Macleod and Rev. Dr. Cochrane approved of the course of the Minister of Education The Opposition wanted the whole Bible and nothing but the Bible, but he believed that many of them could not repeat the Lord's Prayer. (Laughter.) He regarded the course of the Minister as calculated to do justice to all classes of the people. (Applause.)

This expresses the position of the Administration—to do justice to all classes and creeds—a very difficult position, be it remarked, to maintain—less than justice to one is more than justice to another. In striving to maintain this position the Government have been subject to misconstruction and to the attacks of pseudo-zealots. The discussion, however, which has arisen has resulted in their vindication both as to matter of fact and also as to popular approval of their position. They have been accused of excluding the Bible from the public schools. This has been shown not to be the fact. On the other head, they have made the reading of it obligatory. They have been accused of amending the law so as to discriminate against public school supporters. The highest legal authorities do not thus interpret the law for which, however, the Opposition members of the House are equally responsible, for they were consenting parties and raised no objection till they thought such an objection could give point to a religious crusade in the interests of their party. The religious politicians strengthened the hands of the Tory politicians, but Hon. Mr. Ross gave a very effective quietus to their complaints, as voiced by the deputation which waited upon him on Monday, showing conclusively that they were founded on erroneous information. It does not say much for the honesty of the zeal of some of the ministers that they resent as an "impertinence" the regulations of the department, permitting the ministers to give religious instructions in the schools, and also demand that such instruction should be given by the teacher. How can an ennointed minister of the Most High, charged with the highest possible religious responsibility, contemplate the delegation of the awful accountabilities of his sacred trust, to, say, the pupils of Shakespeare, a raw, giddy, irreligious youth whose religious convictions and theological knowledge are not considered a perfect his qualification for his duties. While the zeal of ministers is to be admired, the direction they are fit to give to it, is more or less open to question as to its wisdom. The whole question of the religious and sectarian aspect, which has been imparted to the school question, by a consideration of all the facts, resolves itself into one of political strategy. Politics are at the beginning, middle and end of the controversy, and those who have taken part in it without political object, as many have done, have been taken in by a side draught—they have accepted false premises from partizans and, consequently, their conclusions are equally erroneous. Mr. Meredith "builded better than he knew" when he introduced his amendment last Monday—he presented an opportunity to the Government to vindicate its position on the education question, which, especially Ministers Ross and Fraser, took advantage of to thoroughly sweep away the cobwebs of sophistry in which bigoted partizanship had enveloped it—not out of zeal for the interests of religion or Protestantism, but for petty and selfish political purposes.

AT THE CAPITAL.

Proceedings in the House of Commons Yesterday.

OTTAWA, April 20.—Yesterday was the first field day of the session and a welcome relief to the monotony of the past week. The House was only fairly well filled.

Mr. Desjardines, who has been elected chairman of the Debates Committee, presented their first report, again giving the hashing to A. S. Woodburn of Ottawa. Sir John moved the Library Committee, of which Mr. Cockburn of Centre Toronto is a member.

Mr. Davin's bill to amend the Dominion Land Act was read a first time. In introducing it he delivered a lengthy address regarding the provisions of the bill. The first clause is to provide in the case of those settlers who came in and had been three years settlers in the Northwest by July 1, 1886, but who, while leaving their families on the homesteads, had been at work on the railways and other works, that their families should count as residence for the issue of patents. The second and third clauses provided for a full issue of 160 acres as a homestead in all cases. Fourth, that those entitled to a second homestead may take their pre-emptions as a second homestead. And, finally, that those who have settled on land prior to survey shall not, if it should turn out that they have squatted on school sections, or odd sections, or other sections reserved for any reason whatever, be disturbed, but shall be allowed to enter as if the land was open for homesteading, and the parties that the surveys would show to be entitled to their land shall be compensated out of other lands.

Mr. Peter Mitchell seconded Mr. Charlton's bill to amend the Seduction Bill, which was read a first time. The following bills were also read a first time: Mr. McLelan's, respecting public officers; Mr. Pope's, to amend the Government's railways account; Mr. Davin's, to amend the Territories' Real Property Act, and Sir John Macdonald's act to establish a Department of Trade and Commerce. In introducing the latter bill, Sir John simply said that he would leave the discussion of details to a later date. There would be a bill introduced later to reorganize some of the departments, and he would leave the discussion, organization and reorganization to come up together.

Questions of ministers produced the following results:

The Government will not grant money for a military demonstration in honor of the Queen's jubilee, but any of the corps may demonstrate at their own expense if they so desire; that it is not in the public interest to say whether or not the Government know that the manufacture of whisky is being illegally carried on in Quebec; that the Government does not propose to repair the wharf at West Point, P.E.I., this season, nor the wharf at Cascumpeque; that the fisheries papers will be down on Friday or Monday at the latest; that the salaries of revising officers have not been fixed, but that up to date $44,000 have been paid out on account. About a dozen returns of various kinds, none of particular interest, were asked for and granted.

A long debate followed on a question of privilege. About twenty members spoke.

Hon. John Carling laid the report of the Department of Agriculture on the table this afternoon, which, unlike the majority of the blue books, brings the figures down to December 31 last. It gives many interesting facts relating to immigration, quarantine, patents and statistics. At the outset the report refers to the importation last year of 610 thoroughbred cattle as against 235 in 1885. Reference is made to the outbreak of pleuro-pneumonia at the Point Levis quarantine and to its complete suppression after the slaughter of 200 animals and the destruction of everything with which they had come in contact. This sacrifice prevented the spread of a ruinous disease, and prevented Canada being placed on the black list of other countries. The occurrence caused an unforeseen expenditure of something in the neighborhood of $60,000. The report contains a concise account of the Colonial and Indian Exhibition, the Canadian arrangements for which were on this side of the Atlantic conducted by Mr. Carling's department. There were 2980 patents issued last year, bringing $73,949 in fees, the largest amount on record, 848 copyrights, bringing in fees $6795. During the year 122,588 immigrants arrived in Canada, as against 105,026 in 1885. The number of actual settlers was 69,152. Of the immigrants landed at Quebec 2196 were farmers. Government assistance to immigrants during the year was given only to agricultural laborers and their families and to female domestic servants at rates varying from $10 to $15 per head. The agents of the Government were not able to meet the demand for agricultural laborers and domestic servants. Only a limited number of mechanics arrived. The total expenditure for the year was $300,919 for immigration and $121,156 for quarantine. The value of effects and cash brought in by immigrants was $3,455,679, while the cost to the country for each settler was $4.36 as against $18.83 in 1885.

OTTAWA, April 20.—The iron and steel men had their innings to-day. At ten o'clock this morning they waited upon the Ministers.

At a coercion meeting held here to-night a moderate resolution condemning the Crimes Bill was passed. To-day an official in high office told me that the debate on the Carran resolutions would not be commenced to-morrow, but would be carried over until Monday, for what possible reason deponent sayeth not.

It is announced that during the present month Governor Lansdowne will receive visitors in his offices in the eastern block every day from noon until 2 o'clock. This is probably intended to keep the people off the young scrim at Rideau Hall.

The new Government statistician completed the first part of his official duties to-day. He computes that there are 37 2-3 per cent more bald-headed members in this Parliament than in the last. The number is ninety-seven.

In the Senate to-day Hon. Frank Smith officially announced that a new leader would be appointed before the Senate assembled after vacation.

Oh for a thousand tongues to tell how heap and good KIDD's boots are.

Happy Men.

What a happy world this would be if we were all free from the thraldom of pain, and capable of realizing the full measure of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the machinery of people feel like giving it up discouraged, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symtoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. eodw4

Overworked.

"My husband strained himself with overwork, causing a large swelling in the groin. He suffered great agony, which doctors failed to relieve; he could not eat nor sleep. B. B. B. quickly cured him. He says he never had such quick relief in his life." Extract from a letter from Mrs. George Beak, Cookeville, Ont. 2w17d

An Elephant's Muzzle.

"It is too big for a dog's muzzle," said the blind man, who had been given a bustle to see if he could tell what it was. "It must be to keep an elephant from biting."

A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

What Sadsbur Says.

George Sadsbur, the Scottish sculler, who arrived in New York on Monday last, says: "I have come to this country at the request of my friends, particularly Hamm, with whom I expect to row in a double scull race against James Ten Eyck and Albert Hamm. I don't think there will be any difficulty in arranging the matter, because when I rowed against Ten Eyck in a final heat at Hendon he said that he would be pleased to again try conclusions with me if I should at any time visit America. However, I shall at once commence with Hamm, for to row in Hamm and arrange as many matches as I can get on. I have come out for business and with the firm intention of allowing any one that desires to show their money against mine an opportunity of winning. I don't like to talk much, but I feel like working. I expect a chance to prove this, and I hope particularly that I may not be disappointed in my wish to meet Ten Eyck, George Hosmer and George Lee. I am here to row against any one that I can get a race with. When I have this country I shall visit Australia on the same business."

The Mayflower Will Not Go.

Have You Thought About It?

Pain is one of the sure things of life, and it becomes then a most important question to have at hand the quickest and most efficient remedy. Polson's NERVILINE cannot fail to cure cramps, toothache, neuralgia, headache and all pain, internal or external. Nerviline is the most perfect combination ever offered to the public for the relief of pain. It will not cost you much to try it, for you can buy 25 qty drug store for 10c, a trial bottle, which will convince you of its mighty pain relieving power. 6tw17

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he cannot go into society and he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently, entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best, if not the only real cure for hay fever, rose cold, and catarrh. 4dw17

This is to certify that I have used McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and do honestly say that if it cost me one hundred dollars ($100.00) a bottle I would not be without it, as it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used, and I feel like a new man.—Yours truly, Alex. Steele, Carleton Place, Ont. This medicine is for sale at 30c. and $1.00 per bottle at John McKee's Drug Store. 6dw17

The Vagrant Cow.

Yesterday a cow "rushed the season" by wandering into the Court House Park to see what were the prospects of pasturage. A gentleman living near by called the attention of a professional gentleman, who was driving by, to the trespass of the cow and requested him, when he got down town, to send a policeman to remove the animal to the pound. The professional gentleman gazed at the cow, a look of recognition came over his face; he alighted from his vehicle, tied his horse, and starting out in full pursuit of the animal, drove her away. The gentleman who pointed out the cow paraded himself to account for the professional gentleman's sudden interest in the inoffensive animal, and the strenuous efforts he made to save the policeman trouble, coming finally to the conclusion that vested rights in the vagrant cow accounted for the laborious solicitude exhibited in her welfare.

Sure to Satisfy.

There are many remedies for coughs and colds, but there are few that prove so satisfactory as Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, which is a pleasant and reliable cure for all throat and lung troubles, including bronchitis, asthma, croup, whooping cough and the pulmonary complaints of young or old. 2w17d

Another Dead Baby Found.

A Two Months old Child, Shut up in a Trunk, and Thrown in a Creek—Is it Infanticide?

Yesterday afternoon Mr. J. Stewart, foreman of Dr. Kincaid's stock farm about three miles from town, was startled by the discovery of a dead baby, which happened as follows:—Through the farm there runs a creek, the bed of which, as it passes under the last fence in its onward course through a neighbors premises, is filled with upright stakes to prevent geese and ducks from swimming underneath and making inroads on the carefully preserved soil. This spring the channel became clogged with ice, etc., and the water was forced to find another route. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Stewart began clearing away the jam in order to allow the stream to resume its proper course, and was considerably astonished at fishing out from beneath the debris a small, cheap looking trunk. It was tied around by a woman's skirt. On opening it Mr. Stewart's surprise was increased to consternation on beholding the dead body of a baby, about two months old, and nicely dressed. Its neck was discoloured, but beyond that it bore a perfectly natural look. Mr. Stewart deposited his find on the bank of the stream and hastening to town, informed P.C. Adams and Coroner Bell. They of course had no jurisdiction in the matter, the farm being located in North Monaghan, and Mr. Stewart was advised to notify the township authorities, which he at once set off to do.

Here is a case either of murder or unlawful disposition of a dead body. The infant has either been cruelly and wilfully slaughtered, or its parents have, instead of burying it in the earth, either to save expense or for some other reason, thrown it into the creek, thus hoping to be rid of the body. The former supposition is the more likely one. Let the proper authorities do their utmost to ferret out the true facts of the case.

The Canoe Trade.

A Visit to the Ontario Canoe Factory, Ashburnham—Good Prospects for this Season.

Peterborough is the home of the canoe, and with two factories running full blast, and turning out daily numbers of the light, buoyant craft which are such delightful sailers, the interest in canoeing is scarcely likely to wane in Peterborough. The Ontario Canoe Factory was yesterday visited by the EXAMINER, and everything was found booming along at a brisk and business-like pace. A few marked improvements have been made about the premises lately. The rooms on Elizabeth street have been internally altered, the show room being enlarged by the removal of the partition which set apart the office, the whole having been painted and fixed up a la mode. A portion of the rear work room has been walled off as an office, while a little dark room connected with it is used by Mr. J. Z. Rogers, the manager, for photographing. Mr. Rogers photographs extensively, and has become quite an expert, some of his productions being really artistic. These photographs he places in albums and sends to his agents, who use them in canvassing. In the enlarged show room, which has also been heightened by the removal of the first flooring overhead, canoes can be exhibited thoroughly rigged and fitted for use. This will be a great convenience to buyers, who can see just what they are buying.

In the factory a few alterations have been made. Some new machinery has been placed in this winter, which necessitated a slight change in the internal arrangement. Windows and a skylight have been added to the fourth flat, which was formerly used as a store room, etc., but will now be occupied as a finishing room. A large staff of men are given steady employment upon the orders which have already been received. In fact, they have been working all this season upon orders which have been placed ahead. Not only is Canada supplied by the Ontario Canoe Factory, but many orders come from the United States—Buffalo, Cincinnati, Syracuse, Newburg, and other northern cities. But the trade does not stop here. In February a large consignment of superior canoes was shipped to England, and only two weeks ago a canvas-covered craft was despatched to Alaska for use on an exploring expedition. Mr. Rogers informed the EXAMINER that the prospects this season were very good. When it is known that there are no established agents of the company outside of Canada, it will be seen at once what an excellent and wide-spread reputation the canoes manufactured by the Ontario Canoe Company have gained.

MR. WM. ENGLISH'S

Canoe Factory, on Charlotte street, after nearly twenty-five year's operations, is still booming along under a pressure of orders for canoes of Mr. English's well know and much sought for make, from England, the Northern States, and Canada. Business is too brisk at present to allow of some needed improvements being made in the factory, but in the fall, when work has somewhat slackened, these projected alterations will be made. At present some repairs are being applied to the lumber store room in rear of the factory, which was injured by the recent freshet. Mr. English will this year, as formerly, have canoes to rent from his floating boat-house on Little Lake.

The "Riversides" Re-organize.

An organization meeting of lacrosse players was held at the "Hub" Restaurant Thursday night, at which there was a fair attendance. Mr. F. W. Scott acted as Secretary. It was decided that the name should again be the "Riverside Lacrosse Club"; fee for playing members, 50c.; for non-playing members, $1.00. The following officers were elected:—

HONORARY PRESIDENT.—H. Calcutt.
PRESIDENT.—Ed. Brown.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—Harry Neil.
SECRETARY-TREASURER.—Joseph Phelan.
CAPTAIN.—Edward Rogers.
FIELD CAPTAIN.—M. McDonald.

The appointment of a Managing Committee was left over till the next meeting.

Messrs. Mercier, Rose and Phelan were appointed a committee to canvass the town for subscriptions; and Messrs. H. Calcutt and J. J. Sheehy, delegates to the convention to be held at Toronto to-day, 22nd April. Badges were ordered to be printed, and after those present had enrolled themselves as members, the meeting adjourned till Thursday evening next. It is expected the "Peterborough" club will amalgamate with the Riversides this season, from which union a good club must be the outcome.

Personal.

Mr. Cassels, the Glasgow, Scotland, agent of Messrs. Meldrum & Davidson, was in town yesterday. He reports a big business in the flour exported from Peterborough by this firm.

Mr. L. C. Camp, manager of Phœnix Fire Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., is in town adjusting the loss of Mr. Loudon, on his house in the South Ward, burned about three weeks ago. He is registered at the Oriental.

The Sale at St. Andrew's.

The school room of St. Andrew's Church yesterday afternoon and evening was converted into a lively mart where all sorts of fancy bric-a-brac and ladies' work were offered for sale by the ladies of the church. Among the "workers" who largely contributed to the success of the bazaar by donations and labor are:—Meadames Nicholls, Mercer, McClelland, Stewart, Gallstly, Macfarlane, Stanger, Fitzgerald, Van Every, White, Smith, Douglass, Best, Reynolds (jr. and sr.), McGhee, Bell (Rev.), and Maud. A fancy table was presided over by Miss Mercer, the Misses Brodie, Miss White and Miss Glover. Everything on this table was sold—that is, all the "real" articles; one "sham" there was no demand for—it was a pillow-sham. All the edibles were sold, and nearly all the staple articles. The doll, presented by Mrs. Nicholls, was sold by ticket, and realized $10, the lucky holder being Mr. Robert Tait, who, having no personal use for the article, referred it back to the committee with instructions to sell it by auction, which was done, Mr. Tobias Fitzgerald being the most extravagant bidder. The gross proceeds were $156. The tedium of "business" was relieved by the interposition of several excellent anthems by the choir—"Guide me, O Thou Great Jehovah," "Come Holy Spirit," "I Waited Patiently," "The Earth is the Lord's," etc., closing with the Doxology.

Keene.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The blacksmith at Jermyn, Otonabee, J. H. Pallin, lost a fine cow last Monday by choking on a piece of twining. It got into her throat at 9 a.m. and she died at noon.

A large pile of stones now lies near the old Presbyterian church, got there before the snow, left by the owner Mr. Geo. Read. We understand he intends converting the old sanctuary into two comfortable dwellings, a much needed improvement in our conservative village.

Mr. Archibald Nelson has rented the property belonging to the late Thos O'Keefe and now occupies the same.

The friends of Mrs. John Derris will be pleased to learn that she is rapidly recovering from her late dangerous illness. She is a sister of the late Thos. O'Keefe.

Dr. Harrison's many friends will also be to learn of his return to Keene, much improved in health.

Diptheria has entered the house of Mr. Hamilton Moore of Otonabee. Two daughters have recovered, but a third one is still very low. This case is a markedly severe one.

Mr. James Edwards, who got his ankle injured in R. Hope's sawmill, is doing well.

An Indian from Roseneath named Chubb, on Monday brought into Campbell & McNiel's store, a large otter's skin. He offered it for ten dollars; a great bargain we think as it was a fine one.

Muskrats seem to be plentiful this season.

THE OLDEST and most reliable brands of Cigars in the market,

"Madre E. Hijo," "El Padre, "Cable" and "Mnugo."

It is to the interest of smokers to use only the above-mentioned Brands, manufactured by S. DAVIS & SONS, Toronto and Montreal.

PARLIAMENTARY.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

The Irish Resolutions Carried by a Vote of 50 to 38 in the Assembly.

TORONTO, April 23.

The House sat all night debating the Irish resolutions introduced by the Attorney-General. At 4 o'clock this morning they are carried 54 to 37. The resolutions are as follows:

That the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, representing upwards of two millions of Her Majesty's Canadian subjects, feel deep interest in all that concerns the well-being of every part of the British Empire, of which we rejoice that our province forms part.

That the people of this province are chiefly, though not wholly, of British birth or origin; that a considerable proportion of them are Irish, or the children of Irishmen, and live in the utmost harmony with their fellow-subjects of ever nationality, sharing in the general prosperity which the province enjoys under a constitution granted by the Imperial Parliament at the request of the Canadian people, and securing all the local self-government which at the time was desired.

That we regard with the deepest sorrow the distress and discontent which have long prevailed in Ireland, and which present a marked contrast with the prosperity and contentment of the Irish people in this province and elsewhere.

That, alive from our own experience to the disadvantages of Home Rule, we hailed with joy the introduction last year into the British House of Commons of a measure which recognized the principle of local self-government for Ireland, and we hoped that the Bill, with such improvements in details as discussion should suggest and the wisdom of Parliament devise, might afford a settlement of long existing difficulties, and promote the unity, happiness and prosperity of the Empire.

That we observe with regret that, in the first session of the new Parliament, instead of a measure granting to Ireland the desired boon of local self-government, from which so much good was reasonably to be expected, there has been submitted to the House a stringent Coercion Bill, which further exasperates the great majority of the Irish people everywhere.

That we desire to place on record our profound sympathy with the efforts made to find a remedy for miseries and evils long endured, and to express our earnest hope that such a measure of local self-government may soon be granted as, while preserving the integrity of the Empire and all the just rights of the minority, may at the same time be satisfactory to the Irish people, and permanently remove discontent, and so far as may still be possible, its causes.

The following is the division:

Yeas—Allan, Awrey, Balfour, Ballantyne, Bishop, Bizzard, Blyth, Chamberlain, Chisholm, Clancey, Clarke (Well.), Coomee, Deck, Drury, Dryden (Centre), Ferguson, Field, Fraser, Freeman, Garson, Gibson (Hast.), Gibson (Hur.), Gilmour, Gould, Graham, Guthrie, Harcourt, Hardy, Hilliard, Ingram, Leys, McAndrew, McKay, McLaughlin, Mc Mahon, Mack, Master, Mcleod, Morin, Monat, Murray, Nairn, O'Connor, Pacaud, Pardee, Phelps, Reynolds, Robillard, Ross (Bur.), Ross (Mid.), Smith, Snider, Sprague, Stratton, Waters, Widdifield, Willoughby, Wood (Brant)—59.

Nays—Armstrong, Clarke, E. F. (Tor.), Clarke, H. F. (Tor.), Craig, Creighton, Cruise, Fell, French, Hammell, Hudson, Kerns, Lees, Marter, Meacham Meredith, Miller, Monk, Morgan, Ostrom, Preston, Rorke, Stewart, Tooley, Wilmot, Wood (Hast.), Wylie, Rose—28.

Mr. Fraser called for three cheers for Home Rule, which were given with a tiger.

The House then resumed the adjourned debate on the Bible in the public schools and the regulations thereon. The debate may last till 6 o'clock.

The clause in the University Federation Bill empowering the University of Toronto to confer divinity degrees was withdrawn after a protest from Mr. Meredith. Bishop Hamilton of Niagara, Bishop Baldwin of Huron, Bishop Sullivan of Algoma, and the Bishop of Toronto were present and wanted to speak at the bar of the House against the clause, but the Attorney-General said it was too late in the session.

The House will be prorogued at 3 p.m. today.

When the third reading of the Attorney-General's Bill (No. 127) for further improving the law was called up, Mr. Meredith moved the following amendment:

That this House has adopted the policy with regard to fees of registrars of deeds and clerks of division courts that, in order to prevent the payment of excessive compensation for the services rendered, a proportion of the receipts of these offices, which would leave ample remuneration for the holders of them, shall be returned to the people; that this House recognizing that policy as sound in principle, and is of opinion that it should be extended to the office of sheriff; that by sec. 4 of the said bill it is proposed to divide the office of sheriff of the county of York, the fees of which are admitted to give an excessive income to the occupant of it, and by so doing to give to the holders of the new offices the money which according to the said principle would and ought to be paid into the treasury of the county of York and the city of Toronto; that it is not expedient that the said section should become law, and that the said bill be therefore not now read a third time, but be forthwith referred back to the committee of the whole, with instructions to strike out the said section.

Mr. Meredith said the office was divided to make room for two friends of the Government. He held the principle a sound one, that were the fees of public officers were excessive, as he believed those of the sheriff of York were, that a portion of them should be returned to the people.

The Attorney-General did not agree that the fees, considering the responsibilities of the offices, were excessive. He had never heard such an argument used until it was proposed to divide the office. A division of fees would follow a division of labor. There was no comparison between the responsibilities of sheriffs and registrars; he knew of registrars who give no personal attention whatever to their offices. He did not approve of this, however. Sheriffs, on the contrary, were personally responsible for the fulfilment of their offices, which occupied a great deal of time. He knew of no public officer in the county who filled a more responsible office than a sheriff did.

Mr. Creighton did not believe in paying sheriffs more than judges of the superior courts. The sheriff of York drew more money in fees than the judges were paid salaries.

Mr. Meredith's amendment was defeated 53 to 31. Mr. Garson (Lab.-Lib.) voted with the Opposition. Otherwise the vote was purely a party one.

On the third reading of Bill No. 135, respecting separate school debentures, being called up, Mr. Meredith moved this amendment:

It shall be open to the appellant to contend that any person entered on the assessment roll as a separate school supporter, in respect of whom the appeal has been taken has not given the notice required by sec. 42 of 49 Vic., an act respecting separate schools, and if it shall appear that said notice has not been given the appeal shall be allowed and the name of such person be transferred to the column for public school supporters.

This amendment was voted down, 55 to 30.

The House went into committee on the bill (No. 99) to amend the Ditches and Watercourses Acts, and Mr. Waters moved an amendment declaring that appeals should be heard in the township or municipality in which the action was brought. The amendment was made and the bill read a third time.

In committee on bill No. 71, to amend the Assessment Act (Mr. Gibson, Hamilton), Mr. French moved that sec. 1, increasing exemptions on incomes between $600 and $700, be struck out. He did this in the interests of the workingmen. Mr. E. F. Clarke opposed the amendment, on the ground that the workingmen themselves had flooded the House with petitions asking for the same. The amendment was lost, 49 to 23, and the bill was read a third time.

Mr. Craig moved a reference of bill 121 (Mr. Gibson, Hast.), to amend the Ontario Medical Act, on its third reading being called, back to committee, that a clause might be added requiring all matters relating to medical matriculation examinations and curriculums be submitted to and approved by the lieutenant-governor-in-council. After discussion the amendment was lost on division, 76 to 7. The bill then received its third reading.

In supply the House passed the balance of the estimates.

When the third reading of Bill No. 103, to amend the Municipal Act, was moved by Mr. Hardy, it was assailed with half a dozen amendments, only one of which got through, and that was one by Mr. Hardy restoring the law with regard to 100-foot bridges in townships as it always has been. All the other amendments were in the direction of reducing the property qualification for councillors, reeves, deputies, mayors and aldermen to a minimum, or abolishing it altogether. Some of the divisions were very close. Dr. Widdifield's amendment making the qualification for sheriffs the same as an elector was defeated 39 to 33. The other amendments followed suit. The bill was then read a third time.

Mr. Balfour's libel bill was considered in committee of the whole, cut up considerably and reported back to the House for a third reading.

Mr. Smith's bill to provide that County Court clerks open their books to the public for the purposes of obtaining information of chattel mortgages, etc., passed through committee and stands for third reading. The fees for such inspection were fixed in the bill.

Mr. Commee's bill respecting certain municipal matters in Algoma, Thunder Bay, etc., was passed through committee and reported.

The bills that were read a third time without opposition were:

Last night was by far the liveliest seen around the lobbies this session. While the Irish music was going on in the chamber an Italian string band was furnishing another kind of music in the smoking-room.

Mr. T. F. Brown of Welland is likely to be appointed sheriff of Welland, vacant by the death of Mr. Duncan.

THE LAND BILL AGAIN UNDERGOES A SHORT DISCUSSION.

LONDON, April 22.—The debate on the Irish Land Bill was continued in the House of Lords this evening.

The Duke of Argyll questioned Gen. Buller's ability to judge of the position of the tenants. The word "judicial," he said, was a misnomer as regards rent. The real difficulty in Ireland lay in a few congested districts, and Parliamentary action had prevented landlords from applying for the only legitimate remedy. Land acts had destroyed all ownership by the transfer of the land from one to another, rendering reform impossible. The Gladstonian legislation had stopped all sale of land to capitalists and rendered it impossible for anyone other than the tenant to buy.

Earl Kimberly said the Gladstonians had always held that a satisfactory settlement of the agrarian question must precede the final solution of the Irish problem.

Lord Selborne said the present bill was merely provisional, with regard to a larger land measure promised by the Government.

O'Brien Determined to Visit Canada.

LONDON, April 22.—Wm. O'Brien, editor of United Ireland of Dublin, is in London. In an interview he said: "I shall persist in going to Canada. It is too late now for any one to stop me. I sail on the Aurania from Queenstown for New York on Sunday. Mr. Killbride, who was one of the principal tenants of Lord Lansdowne, and who was evicted, will accompany me. I intend to remain in Canada ten days, and will speak in Montreal, Quebec, Toronto and Kingston. I have received many letters from Canada sympathizing with the purpose of my visit." Mr. O'Brien stated that temporary houses were being built on the priests' grounds at Luggacurran to shelter the tenants who have been evicted from Lord Lansdowne's estates.

The Times Pursues Parnell.

LONDON, April 22.—In the Parnell matter, the Times returns eagerly to the charge, and displays the utmost impatience to bring the matter into the law courts. It is evidently anxious to effect a thorough probing of Parnellite doings ever since the present agitation began. The Times has nine separate documents, signed by Mr. Parnell, which it intends to publish at intervals during the Crimes Bill debate, and until it succeeds in driving the affair to a direct issue.

The approach of the passage of the Crimes Bill, which is now regarded as certain, has had the effect of sending to Paris many faces which were familiar there during the period of the Irish Terrorist agitation two years ago.

The Water Rising.

MONTREAL, April 22.—The water is gradually rising and wending its way through various streets and in its course flooding houses and stores. The water is now about as high as it was during the great flood of last year. In the flooded districts the firemen have good supply of hose ready in boats in case fire should occur. The police have arrested a number of men who were breaking into stores which were inundated.

THE UNHAPPY MAN OF RUSSIA.

Persistent Attempts on His Life Drive Him From St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—The Czar has abandoned his intention of staying several weeks in St. Petersburg and has returned to Gatschina. This alteration of the Czar's plans is said to have been made in consequence of additional arrests made on Easter Sunday on the Newsky-prospect of several persons in addition to those before reported arrested, all of whom, it was ascertained, had taken positions along that thoroughfare for the purpose of making a fresh attempt on the Czar's life. These arrests were made quietly in order to avoid alarm.

Found Dead on the Railway.

AYR, April 22.—The mutilated body of a man was found this morning by the conductor of the morning express going east, about one mile and a half east of this place, lying between the rails face downwards. The body was brought here by section men, who were unable to find anything that might lead to his identification. Every circumstance points to his being a tramp, and it was supposed he was stealing a ride and fell from the train. The coroner deemed an inquest unnecessary.

Funeral of Sheriff Clarke.

SIMCOE, April 22.—The funeral of the late Sheriff Clarke of Thunder Bay took place here this afternoon from the G. B. & L. E. railway station to Oakwood cemetery and was largely attended, the services being conducted by Norfolk Lodge No. 10 A. F. & A. M., Simcoe, of which the deceased was an old and honored member. The stores were closed during the passage of the cortege through the town. Previous to his appointment to the shrievalty of Thunder Bay Dr. Clarke resided in Simcoe. He represented North Norfolk in the Local Legislature for eight years.

ICE JAM AT MONTREAL

THE RIVER RISES AND FLOODS THE LOWER PARTS OF THE CITY.

MONTREAL, April 22.—The residents of Montreal were confident, owing to encouraging assertions of those who were acquainted with the features of the river, that the city would be free from an inundation this spring. Nevertheless the majority of those residing in the low-lying districts who had suffered on previous occasions, although under the belief that the water would not rise, were still prepared for any emergency. The general belief last evening was that the ice would move away quietly without doing any damage and this was the conjecture this morning. However, those who had been watching the river noticed as far as the eye could see a tract of ice coming down toward Victoria Bridge at a rapid rate. This was the lake ice coming down and when it reached the ice at Victoria Bridge a loud, crashing sound announced that a jam had occurred at the bridge. The next moment the water rose with greater rapidity than ever before. The Nuns' Island was completely submerged, and the first flats of the buildings were covered with water in a short space of time. The rise was so sudden that the stablemen and the other employes of the nuns, and even the religieuses themselves were taken wholly by surprise, and not being prepared sufficiently to prevent loss, great damage was done to the furniture. The cattle were found floundering in the water, and many animals were lost, there being no place of safety to which they could be conducted. On this side the ancient stone house was flooded, and all communication cut off. The surrounding fields are one sheet of water, while the St. Cunegonde and St. Henri waterworks are invaded, and the water supply has been cut off. The engines are stopped and great damage done to the machinery. The Grand Trunk Boating Club House is surrounded by over ten feet of water and during the day numerous skiffs and boats of all descriptions were sailing about.

The fields near the Montreal Waterworks are flooded and the water in the jail race is within one and a half feet of the new embankment and is rising steadily. The embankment is seemingly very firm, and if it bears the pressure the parts of the point which were flooded last year by its giving way will be free from water.

The employes of the Grand Trunk shops had not arrived at work when the water commenced to rise, but on reaching the shops at 7 o'clock they found the southern parts all flooded, which necessitated the suspension of work.

The jam is directly at the Victoria Bridge, the ice being piled up around the piers almost reaching the lady of the bridge.

Magdalen, Congregation, Sebastipole and other streets are flooded as the southern end. On St. James-street west the water is rising very rapidly and many of the houses are being invaded. Along the Grand Trunk track the water is rushing along at great speed, and all the houses bordering on the track between the depot and St. Martin-street are flooded. The Grand Trunk yards at the depot are being submerged and Albert-street is one clear sheet of water, which is about three or four feet deep. Kennedy's field and Guy-street, in the vicinity of the track, as well as Lusignan Aqueduct, Mountain, Versailles, Richmond and St. Martin and other intersecting streets are all covered and rafting and boating are being indulged in freely. McGill-street, in the vicinity of the Albion Hotel, was jammed from early morning with carts, carriages, express wagons, boats, etc., and an ever-varying stream of curiosity seekers, and merchants or employes whose places of business were shut up by the muddy waters. All the stores on both sides of the street were badly flooded, but it was learned that the majority of the merchants had taken time by the forelock, and, paying little regard to "old flood prophets" had managed to have their cellars all cleared of valuable stock in anticipation of the rise. Common-street was found packed with large cakes of ice, and it was even impossible to get near Black's Bridge, which at that time was several feet above the height of the water. The water rushed in torrents down William, College, Commissioner, St. Paul and other streets, and great excitement prevailed. The Hay Market was quickly submerged and College-street west. The water then worked its way down, Inspector-street to Chabrollez-square, and before many minutes this part was covered with water from three to four feet. When the water first made its appearance merchants on the square and the other streets buried themselves in moving all perishable goods to a place of safety.

The scenes enacted were pitiable in some instances and comical in others. The streets were crowded with carters and others who owned horses and cows, and during the forenoon all these animals were conveyed to places of safety. Wellington-street, on the eastern side of the bridge to McGill-street and all the intersecting streets from Wellington to William on College, and Notre Dame streets were flooded. The water is at present not quite deep enough on these parts to permit the use of boats, consequently but little help can be rendered to those who are in need. During the morning all the residents in the lower flats of houses in the low-lying districts, even before the water made its appearance near their premises, had moved furniture and household effects to the upper stories of the houses.

In Griffintown, where cattle are plentiful, the loss is great, as many have perished. Owners of horses had great trouble in saving their animals and many pitiable scenes were witnessed during the rise of the water. When the water appeared on the streets communicating with Chabollez-square the proprietors of stores and tenants immediately set about to clear the lower parts of the premises as fast as possible. The sidewalks were secured in order that they might not drift off and everything was arranged so that the loss might be as slight as possible. The fire station is flooded and all the surrounding stores. The water is rising very rapidly in this part and at present intersecting streets leading to St. James and the latter street are submerged to such an extent that traffic is impossible. The water in all parts is rising rapidly, and the flood promises to equal that of last year.

The majority of the citizens seemed to-day to look for the worst, and did so resignedly. They appeared certain that the water would not stop in its course until it had reached its height of last year, and at the hour of going to press everything appears to indicate that their expectations will be fulfilled.

At Back River this afternoon the water was still gradually rising, and no change whatever was noticeable on the river since yesterday.

The Hochelaga Cotton Factory, the St. Ann's Cotton Works, situated at Hochelaga, and the Canadian Rubber Factory had to suspend operations as soon to-day owing to the rising waters.

The river between the city and Lake St. Peter was reported this afternoon as being completely packed with ice, but no sign of a general shove was visible. The water was very high and the low-lying villages situated between the city and Three Rivers were partially flooded.

At a meeting of the City Council this afternoon a relief committee was appointed to supply sufferers with provisions, and a deputation was appointed to wait on the Federal Government with a view of getting them to build a buoy and piers so as to prevent lake ice from coming down.

THE SOUTH VICTORIA ELECTION.

The result of the by-election in South Victoria is no more than might have been expected, under the circumstances. And it is no great matter of surprise that the majority of Mr. Hudspeth was increased slightly over that secured by him at the February election. Apparently the majority of those electors, susceptible to the influence of practical arguments, "staid bought," and the efforts put forth on behalf of the Dominion Government added a considerable number to the list. Then the whole influence of the Dominion Government, by way of patronage and promises of ministers, was concentrated upon the devoted riding, and it is not yet known to what extent the partizan favoritism of the election officials contributed to the result. There is, however, considerable evidence that it was not from want of will, but because they were strictly watched, that they did not do their best to prevent a full and free expression of public opinion. The Post points out that some of the deputy-returning officers, of Tory proclivities, attempted to deprive Liberal electors of their votes by presenting to them the wrong oath—that for use in the Local elections—if the oath was refused, the elector was deprived of his vote. In two or three cases in town, this trick was detected and the mischief prevented, but it is not known to what extent this bit of sharp practice was successfully applied in other parts of the riding, nor to what extent it may have influenced the result. The animus of the returning officer, as pointed out by the Post, is shown by the fact that, though his attention was drawn to the irregularity, he declined to interfere to prevent illegal and corrupt acts on the part of his deputies, who could not plead ignorance as an excuse, for they were experienced at the work. A high-handed piece of Governmental partiality removed the disqualification from Mr. Hudspeth, deprived the Liberal candidate of the seat to which he was entitled, and enabled the white-washed disqualified candidate to again enter the field. If the Government would perpetrate a gross and scandalous stretch of power to bring their candidate into the field, there is no room for thinking that they would not be, by any means, particular as to the means they employed to secure his return. That there was a considerable expenditure of "boodle" on the behalf of the manufactured candidate, does not admit of a doubt. Mr. Needler made a gallant fight against overwhelming odds, and there is no doubt that if the election had been fairly and honestly conducted on the part of his opponents, he would have been elected. The Dominion Government has shown a disposition to stick at nothing that will secure them an advantage. In King's, New Brunswick, the representative was made by the returning-office. In Haldimand a judge elected the member, and in East Bruce and South Victoria the landingwaiter-ships landed the members in the seats to which they have no right. To tricks like these and to the influence of the Gerrymander and the Franchise Act, the Government owe far more than enough morally illegal supporters to make up their present majority.

THE London Spectator admits that Mr. Gladstone made a great speech against the Government Coercion Bill. It declares that in brilliancy and force it shows that, as an orator at least, he has lost nothing of his former power. It exhibits him after 55 years of incessant labor as a public man, at the zenith of his power, and but that his voice is not quite so clear and strong as it used to be, still at the zenith of his Parliamentary effectiveness. The Spectator says that the speech indicates the prominence of the advocate over the statesman. It, however, admits that he never displayed more skill than in this attack on the Government measure.

THE London Advertiser notes as a coincidence the fact that the three pugilists of the last Canadian Parliament, Dr. Orton, Mr. Woodworth and Mr. Landry, are not in the present Parliament. Knocked out, as it were.

We have just opened out a direct shipment of Elwood's London Hats at Fairweather's hat store.

"PITY THE SORROWS OF A POOR OLD MAN."

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

(Written for The Examiner.)

How often, when I was a boy at school, have I read the verses commencing with the above words. I read them without thought or feeling. I was too young to understand their meaning. All I cared for was to get through my lessons as quickly as possible, so as to get out of school and run home and play. Such is child life. The young know but little of the trials and difficulties and troubles of the world. Happily for them their thoughts are centered on present comfort and enjoyment. They will learn their lesson of the world's depravity soon enough. And it is well that they know nothing of the future life that is before them. They do not realise the miseries of poverty, and the sight of the poor, ragged, forsaken creature often excites them to ridicule and laughter. They are not so much to blame for this, although, no doubt, if properly appealed to their laughter would turn into tears and they would be the first to feel compassion and sorrow. Many a person asking charity, has seen better times. And worn and tattered clothes cover many a noble heart. The rich and the well to do often look down upon such people; often look down with contempt. They have no kinds words for them. They have no sympathy or compassion. The poor old man is turned away and driven from the door. He is cold and hungry, but he is ordered away and gets no help. His tears and his sighs are unheeded. He may look back to happier days, to the time when he stood the equal of other men; but through sickness and misfortune he is reduced to beggary and want. He asks for pity and he gets a stone. Few stop to listen to his tale of sorrow, and fewer still hold out the helping hand. Hard indeed is the lot of the infirm and poor. In the darkest hour, in the midst of suffering and distress, when the poor broken heart yearns for encouragement and hope, even one kind word would bring comfort and wipe away many a tear. But the world is too busy and too selfish to think of the helpless and needy, too busy and thoughtless for even one kind word. And so the poor and worthy are left to their fate, left to struggle on, left to their weary wanderings, until death takes them to a better world.

What were life without some one to cheer us
With a word or a smile on our way?
A friend who is faithfully near us,
And heeds not what others may say;
The bravest of spirits have often
Half failed in the race that they ran,
For a kind word life's hardships to soften,
So say a kind word when you can.

Each one of us owns to some failing,
Though some may have more than the rest,
But there's no good in heedlessly railing
'Gainst those who are striving their best;
Remember, a word spoken complaining
May blight every effort and plan,
Which a kind word would help in attaining,
So say a kind word when you can.

Oh, say a kind word, then, whenever
'Twill make the heart cheerful and glad,
But chiefly, forget it oh! never,
To the one who is hopeless and sad;
For there's no word so easy of saying,
So begin, if you have not begun,
And never in life be delaying
To say a kind word when you can.

Many a man to-day is living in comfort and peace who to-morrow may be left ruined and a wreck upon the stormy shore. Many a happy family to-day may to-morrow be crying for bread. No one, no matter how high or how wealthy, is free from the changes and disappointments common to all mankind. Is it not strange, then, that people, especially well-to-do people, do not often think of these things, and do not show more liberality, and charity, and kindness to their fellow-creatures in suffering, and in this way set an example for imitation by others toward themselves when their time of trouble comes? Is it not better to do this than to have to say, when their hour comes, "I never helped the poor in their great need, and to whom can I now look to help me? I may be in sickness and sorrow, my children may be crying for bread, had I given head to the cries of others and done my duty, as a good man ought to have done, I could now look people in the face and say, 'do to me as I have done to others, and give me the hand of encouragement and hope.'" Disappointments, and losses, and suffering are the common lot of all. To the rich and the poor, the young and the old. And whenever these are seen and felt, and when we see the poor, weary wanderer, driven from his once happy home out upon the street, instead of passing him by in silence and neglect, we ought to hold out the helping hand and say a kind word of encouragement and hope. But the sorrows of a poor, old man, who has passed nearly his allotted days, who has toiled and saved, and who once was living in peace and comfort, are a sad sight to see, and if anything can stir up the heart of the stranger and cause him to look with compassion upon the privations and sufferings of others, it is when appealed to by the aged and helpless for succour during their few remaining days on earth. To turn such from the door is a cruel thing. Their journey of life is now short, they are nearing their end, "so pity the sorrows of a poor, old man, whose trembling limbs have borne him to your door, whose days are dwindled to the shortest span, oh, give relief and heaven will bless your store. These tatered clothes my poverty bespeak, these hoary locks proclaim my lengthened years, and many a furrow in my grief worn cheeks has been the channel to a flood of tears." How often do we hear of the loss of property and the loss of home. Of fathers and mothers and little children turned out of doors through no fault of their own. Misfortune in one form or another comes upon them. False friends ruin them. Mistaken liberality and sympathy leave them high and dry upon a rough and rocky shore. At length their day of ruin and despair overtakes them, and then they feel that the loss of home is the loss of friends as well. Unfortunately, in this world, wealth is considered the test of respectability, and as long as it lasts, its possessor is certain of social position and respect. As long as it lasts its possessor will have many pretended friends. But once let misfortune overtake him and as soon as he becomes poor, his pretended friends desert him and leave him to his fate. Be he ever so good and worthy, the moment he becomes poor and helpless he is cast aside and is no longer known. There is no one thus to do him honor or to take him by the hand and help him up again. And he sees not only himself, but his wife and children forsaken and despised. The lot of such a man is indeed a hard one. When a little assistance and encouragement would put him on the road to prosperity again it is refused him. There is no word of friendship or hope. He and his family are thrust out into the darkness of misery and despair. Such is human nature, and what a lesson it teaches of man's wickedness and depravity. Such people call themselves Christians and they go to church and put on sanctimonious appearances, while their hearts are black and full of falsehood and deceit. But their day of retribution will sooner or later come, and if not in this world surely in the next. Then the great lesson will come, and men will wish they had done better. They will think of opportunities for doing good lost. The will remember how often they turned the poor from their door. How often they turned a deaf ear to the cries of the aged and the young. They will think of the poor widow living on a bed of sickness, and her little children wanting food and they refused her aid. Now that it is too late to think, now that their own time of tribulation has come, now that they have no where to look for encouragement or hope, they can look back upon themselves and see their own shortcomings and their own sins. The Great Book is now open and they read their wrongs and their own condemnation. Repentance is now too late. They had wealth and enjoyment and comfort in this world, but these are no more. They are all gone, and in their place there rises up before them now in peace and happiness, the likenesses of those who, while on earth, were poor and forsaken, but who now sit on the right hand of God and sing the songs of the blest for ever and ever. The hungry and the sorrowful will weep no more; they will hunger and thirst no more. Their pathway in this life was hard and full of trouble, but they will henceforth live in the beautiful golden city, where the light of God's countenance shines brighter and brighter, and where their Saviour, who once suffered as they did, welcomes them with thanksgiving and joy. "Pity the sorrows of a poor old man" will be heard no more. His troubles are over. The tears which once furrowed his cheeks are dried and now "the poor old man" is become the rich man, rich not in this world's goods, but rich in God's love and mercy, and rich in Heaven's welcome and joy. His loving Saviour is his friend and he sings the song of the blest for ever and ever.

WILL SURELY CONQUER PAIN!

CONQUERS RHEUMATISM.

Sir Roger Tichborne's Acute Rheumatism Cured.

115 Fourth Ave., New York, N. Y. February 22, 1887.

For the last four months I have suffered from rheumatism, and every time I sat down and got up I suffered the most acute agony, in fact I was not able to move my legs without pain, and when going down stairs the pain was too dreadful to bear. I was recommended to send for a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil and try it. I did so, and to my great surprise and delight I found it an almost instant cure as regards the pain. I have only used one bottle up to the present, but I now can sit down, get up, and walk about without the slightest pain.

R. E. D. TICHBORNE.

Rheumatism 13 Years—Cured.

Mr. James Maloney, Sr., Orillia, Ontario, says: I have been a sufferer with rheumatism for the past thirteen years, and have tried during that time, many of the remedies advertised for it, but all without effect. I was induced to use St. Jacobs Oil. With its use the pain vanished and has not since returned.

Nothing Equals It for Rheumatism.

Capt. Chas. W. Crowley, President of the Canadian Sailors' Union, Princess street, Kingston, says: St. Jacobs Oil is indeed a most remarkable discovery; I think there is nothing equal to it for the cure of rheumatism and like diseases.

King Solomon's Mines

May have contained its dazzling treasures, but even they had nothing so suited to every day life as China Hall. Coloured tea sets at $2.50, and glass sets (6 pieces) at 30 cents.

The Queen's Own.

Col. Rogers is in receipt of a letter from Toronto stating that the invitation to visit Peterborough on the Queen's Birthday will be considered at a meeting of the Queen's Own Rifles next Wednesday evening.

Weddings.

As May is considered an unlucky month for weddings, those contemplating matrimony had better avail themselves of April and tell their friends to patronize China Hall for wedding presents.

Business Booming.

Mr. John Kincaid, (of Kincaid & McWilliams), Peterborough, says the Herald, was in Omemee on Tuesday looking after business. He informed us that his trade in Peterborough is reaching immense dimensions and that the mill is kept in operation to its fullest capacity.

Just Received at Turnbull's, a fresh shipment of Scarce Shades in Dress Goods. Everybody visiting the Dress Goods Department is surprised at the Variety in Shades and more than pleased at the Prices.

Short Nights.

As the days become longer, we can afford to use more artificial light, and reading or sewing by lamp light may become a new pleasure by buying China Hall's famous Coal Oils. Same prices as inferior oils.

Masonic.

The members of Corinthian and Peterborough Lodges, A.F. & A.M., are requested to meet at the Masonic hall Peterborough, to-morrow afternoon (Sunday the 24th inst.), at half-past 2 o'clock for the purpose of attending the funeral of their late Brother Joseph Newbold. By order of the W.M.

Market Items.

The rain storm had a dampening effect in a double sense on the market this morning—it laid the dust, and also prevented a large attendance. Butter, eggs and meat, potatoes, apples, etc., commanded the same prices as last given. Maple syrup sold at $1.25 per gallon. Some green-top onions and lettuce were also sold.

We have just received another lot of Christy's celebrated Zephyr Hats at Fairweather's hat store.

Canadian Lacrosse Association.

The convention held in Toronto yesterday to form a new lacrosse association was a success, and the association was formed with the above title. Representatives were there from twenty-six clubs in Ontario, and the chairman read a telegram from the Riverside Club, Peterborough, expressing their approval of the formation of a new association, and saying "include us in." The association was formed amidst much enthusiasm.

The Power of Printer's Ink.

A prominent merchant of Peterborough and one who advertises extensively, a short while ago undertook to curtail his expenses by cutting off a large proportion of his advertising. It wouldn't do, though. He soon afterwards blazed out with bigger and more startling advertisements than ever, and accounted for his apparent inconsistency by remarking: "The printer can get along without me better than I can without the printer." He was right, and all merchants who have ever advertised have found it so.

Mr. Baptie's Big Bear.

A bear's cub two days old is a curiosity not seen every day. Mr. George Baptie is in possession of one, which has been stuffed and mounted by Mr. Cook. Mr. Baptie while in one of the lumbering shanties back of Lakefield last winter, with some others shot a she-bear in her lair, and on examining their prey, found in the nest two little cubs, about two days old, and no bigger than a squirrel. These they took alive, but the little things died, and Mr. Baptie placed his in the taxidermists hands for preservation. It is a queer little creature, with glossy silken hair and long claws, but so small that one could scarcely imagine its developing into a monster bear.

Bought a Farm.

Mr. Frank Sanderson, of Smith, has purchased the "Parnell" farm of 100 acres in the same township for $6,000.

No. 5. Attention.

The members of No. 5 Co., 57th Batt., are requested to meet at the drill shed, on Monday evening, the 25th inst. at 7.30 sharp, to reorganize for the spring and summer drills. A few good recruits will be accepted.

The New Post Office.

The ways of Governments are strange and still it seems it is undecided where the new post-office shall be. While there is doubt about this fact, there is no doubt that the Town Clock Grocery (W. J. Morrow) is the best place in town to get the finest freshest groceries, freshest eggs, sweetest butter, cheapest teas and sugar. Highest qualities of goods; lowest kinds of prices. call and be convinced.

A Pointer for Terry.

"Where's Terry Smith and his sprinkler?" was the popular question yesterday. The dust rose in blinding clouds, and was whirled by a strong wind at annoying speed, and to the great inconvenience of everyone. The rain this morning saved Terry's "bacon" for the present, but if he wishes to retain the confidence, esteem and distinguished consideration of the public, Terry should not fail to be on hand with his "extinguisher" the next dusty day. The public generally recognize the fact that they must one day return to dust, but they have no aspirations towards having the dust come at them—prematurely.

Well Thought of Where Well Known.

Mr. H. Sheppard, who recently began business in the Opera House block, Peterborough, comes to us enjoying the respect and high esteem of those where he is best known. On the occasion of his departure from Aurora his many friends entertained him at a complimentary supper, which was made the occasion, by his friends, of speaking in complimentary terms of his many excellent qualities, both as a citizen and a pushing, square-dealing business man. The Aurora Borealis remarks: "Now that Mr. Sheppard has left town nothing is heard but general regret. He was essentially by the people and with the people for cheap goods. We trust that his lines among the good people of Peterborough, have been cast in pleasant places, and that he may go on and prosper in his chosen home." This sentiment the EXAMINER heartily endorses and welcomes Mr. Sheppard to a live town where good business capacity, business integrity, push and thrift, are sure of meeting with reward.

The Cricket Boom.

Cricketting is booming in Peterborough this season. There only lacks a heavy rain to settle the grounds to set the club to practising vigorously. As it is, some enthusiasts are already engaged in practice on the outskirts of the grounds. The coming season promises to be a most lively one in cricketing circles. A spirit of enthusiasm pervades all the members, among which are many new men of more than average ability. The Peterborough club will be able to put a very strong first eleven in the field, and arrangements have been effected for a large number of fixtures. These include matches with Toronto teams, and a cricketting tour in August will include the chief towns in East Ontario, and will also, it is expected, include Montreal and several places in New York State. Negotiations are now going on, with every prospect of successful completion, for a match on the home grounds with the celebrated Belmont Club, of Philadelphia, whose eleven includes the well-known Newhalls. Altogether, Peterborough is enjoying a cricket boom, and lovers of the game will be treated to some first-class playing at home, and will, the EXAMINER is sure, not have reason to be ashamed of the record which our eleven will make abroad. It will not be out of place to add that there is no objection to members paying their fees promptly, as the directors will thus feel more confidence in carrying out contemplated arrangements, tending to increase the effectiveness of the club and to promote the interests of the manly and scientific game of games.

Kitchen Garden Schools.

The EXAMINER has been requested to publish the following, relative to "Kitchen Garden" work:—

In recommending Young Women's Christian Temperance Unions to take up the work of Kitchen Gardens, it may be well, briefly, to answer a few questions which will at once arise in the mind with reference to it.

1. What is Kitchen Garden?

It is a school in which girls of from seven to seventeen are taught the principles of good housekeeping. They are trained in setting and clearing the breakfast table; washing the dishes; assorting and washing clothes, hanging them out and preparing them for ironing; scrubbing, sweeping, dusting, waiting on the door; bed making; the very important art of setting a dinner table and waiting, &c. How to choose meats is taught by means of charts. Practical cooking does not enter into this system but may be very advantageously added after the girls are sufficiently well grounded in the first principles.

2. How is this Institution made interesting to Children?

By means of the toy "Occupations" which are in themselves attractive; songs, set to cheerful music, embracing the rules according to which the work is done; marches and games which teach an important lesson while they amuse and enliven.

How does the Kitchen Garden help temperance?

In the most practical way, by teaching girls to make home beautiful, and thus offsetting the attractions of the saloon. Principles of order, cleanliness, comfort, and cheerfulness are inculcated, labor elevated, and made a delight instead of drudging. Fathers, husbands and brothers are thus helped to lead sober and useful lives. Like most of our work, it is one of prevention rather than cure; it is sowing seed which in time must bear fruit. Temperance instruction may also be given in the classes; it may come in very appropriately in the dinner table and other lessons; conversations on cooking, etc. Once a month, or oftener if desired, fifteen or twenty minutes may be entirely devoted to a temperance lesson, similar to that of a Band of Hope; temperance literature may be given to children to take to their homes. The homes should be visited, parents stirred up to take an interest in that which is being taught to their children.

3. Is it possible to learn the system by means of the Manual alone?

In all cases it is best to have a Normal class trained by one who thoroughly understands the system before commencing with the children. Very little idea can be gained by simply studying the manual. The Normal class should consist of from twelve to twenty young ladies, who will all be needed in the work of teaching.

Miss Pearson, Brantford, is in town, and will give twelve lessons. All young ladies are invited. Lessons every night from 7.30, in W. C. T. U. hall, south of Clegg's furniture store.

Anti-Coercion Resolutions.

The resolutions, moved by Mr. Mills, of the Local Legislature on Friday, favoring Home Rule for Ireland, and protesting against the Coercion Bill, after an animated debate, were adopted by a majority of 51—59 to 28. The following is the Globe's condemnation of the speech of Mr. Stratton, representative of West Peterborough, on the subject:

Mr. STRATTON said that the preceding speaker (Mr. F. E. Clarke, Toronto, editor of the Orange Sentinel) had no right to impute the Attorney General the motive of a mere desire for political gains. The member for Toronto had quoted many opinions against Home Rule, but the opinions he quoted were those of a prejudiced class. (Cheers.) The hon. gentleman had spoken as if this were merely a Catholic question. He forgot that nearly all the great leaders in the movement had been Protestants. He had referred to the verdict given by the English people; but he (Mr. Stratton) ventured to say that if an appeal were made to the English people now, that decision would be reversed. They found that those who opposed Home Rule in the British Parliament had virtually closed the mouths not only of the Irish members but of the English members also who favored Home Rule. He asked the hon. member for Toronto how he would like, for any offence he might be alleged to have committed, to go to London to be tried for that offence. Yet that was what this Coercion Bill proposed to do. It would have Irishmen tried in London for offences they might be alleged to have committed in their own country. Was that British fair play? He thought, in conclusion, that the British Government could not do a wiser and and a better thing than to celebrate this jubilee year of Her Majesty Queen Victoria by giving to Ireland that measure of local self-government which would alone make her happy and prosperous. (Applause.)

Police Court.

Saturday, April 23rd.

Chas. Brown, a huckster, was arrested by P. C. Adams this morning for forestalling on the market. Fined $5 and costs.

THE TALE OF A SHIRT.

Walter Kerr, the youth who sells cigars and magnetized tack hammers about town, and rests in the police cells at night, did not make his usual weekly change of under garments last Sunday—he lost his shirt. Walter left a parcel containing two shirts and some other articles in the cell Sunday morning, and at night they were gone. Last night he identified his shirt on the person of a young man named Frank Hamilton who applied for lodging, and who had occupied the cell next him the previous Saturday night. The prisoner of course denied the theft, accounting for the exact sameness between the shirt he wore and the one described by Kerr as his, by remarking that it was a "combination of circumstances." Hamilton was given one month in gaol at hard labor, and Walter got back his shirt.

HE CO-INCIDED.

"Wm Hoosick," said the Majistrate to an old, debilitated man, "you are charged with being a vagrant."

"No, no."

"Guilty or not guilty?"

No answer.

"If you are not a vagrant, what's the matter with you?"

"Well, you see, I've been very poorly for the last two months."

"Have you any home?"

"No."

"Any trade."

"No."

"Any means of employment?"

"No."

"Then, don't you think you had better go to jail for a while to get doctered up a bit?"

"Well, maybe that would be best."

"I think so"—and up he went for two months.

Mr. Bell in St. Andrews, and will be read with interest by the friends of both parties.

Irish vs. English.

Scene—The market, 10 a.m. An English farmer, and an old Irish woman in altercation: "It was the manest trick Oi iver saw. Oi don't care fur the quarther, but it was just a dirty English trick." "Look'e 'ere, now, if you don't go h'away H'ill call a policeman. Hi wasn't 'ere three weeks ago at all.' "Git a polaceman, thin; Oi don't care," and off went the Englishman to look for the "cop." The trouble was this. The old lady accused the farmer of cheating her out of 25 cents three weeks ago, in the purchase of some turnips, but the farmer denied having been on the market that day. In a few seconds the man came back without the brass-buttoned preserver of the peace, and the altercation was resumed, but the old lady, confident in the efficacy of her "plan of campaign," laughed his threats of "coercion" to scorn, and refused to be "evicted" from the "premises" she was "holding." Then the "oppressed Irish" lady took the offensive, and in turn threatened to "league" herself with the policeman to obtain her rights. Here her "home rule" experience did not stand her in good stead, for she left and didn't come back to the scene of the trouble, from which it was inferred that her national antipathy to the blue-coated gentlemen would not allow her to make a sacrifice of her principles on this occasion, even to beat an Englishman.

The Queen's Jubilee.

Old England calls upon her sons
To honor England's Queen,
Her sons respond, and daughters, too,
To keep her memory green:
With loyal hearts and ready hands
The empire's children stand
Prepared to do, prepared to die,
For Queen and native land.

For fifty years our country's flag
Hath borne o'er earth and main,
The name of Empress, Queen beloved,
With neither spot nor stain;
Long may it bear Victoria's name,
Long o'er us may she reign;
And for our Empire, broad and grand
May she new honor gain.

Upon our Queen—our country's flag,
God's blessing ever rest
With peace and plenty everywhere
Her people's homes be blest
God save the Queen, her people pray
From hearts sincere and free
God save our loved Victoria
And crown her jubilee.

Chorus—Victoria! our Queen beloved!
With loyal heart and hand
Thy colonies and fatherland
United by thee stand.

PROROGATION.

JOHN BEVERLEY ROBINSON DELIVERS HIS LAST "SPEECH."

His Honor Governor Robinson went down to the Parliament Buildings Saturday afternoon and prorogued the last Assembly that he will be officially connected with as chief executive officer. The affair was rather tame and uninteresting. Rev. Vicar-General Rooney and Baron von Heintzel were about the only persons of distinction on the floor of the House.

About twenty-five members were present. The House sat till 5.15 Saturday morning and it was a pretty sleepy party of legislators and newspaper men that left the dingy old barracks at that hour; none of whom cared much if they returned or not to take part in the prorogation ceremonies.

The House passed to a third reading a total of 98 bills during the session, the most important public bills being:

An act to further extend the powers of the Consumers' Gas Company of Toronto.
An act to amend the High Schools Act, 1885.
An act respecting Upper Canada College.
An act respecting the guardianship of minors.
An act respecting distress for rent and taxes.
An act to amend the Public Parks Act.
An act to amend the Ontario Medical Act.
An act to make further provisions respecting assignments for the benefit of creditors.
An act to extend the operation of the Land Titles Act.
An act respecting the appointment and proceedings of police magistrates.
An act for further improving the law.
An act to amend the Mechanics Lien Act.
An act respecting the law of libel.
An act respecting the taxation of patented lands in Algoma.
An act respecting the federation of Toronto University and University College with other universities and colleges.
An act with reference to the publicity of certain matters affecting traders.
An act respecting separate school debentures.
An act to extend the Land Titles Act to the outlying districts of the province.
An act to amend the Ontario Factories Act, 1884.
An act to make further provision for the public health.

Amid the booming of cannon His Honor read this "speech from the throne":

Mr. Speaker and Gentleman of the Legislative Assembly:

In relieving you from further attendance upon your legislative duties, I have much pleasure in expressing my cordial appreciation of the readiness and intelligence with which you have applied yourselves to the business brought before the House during the session now about to close.

I was deeply gratified at being afforded the opportunity of transmitting to Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria your loyal congratulations on five having reached the fiftieth year of her reign; on the great progress which she has witnessed in the condition of her subjects during that time; and on the wonderful progress made in every department of human civilization since she ascended the throne.

I am pleased to know that the task of revising the public statutes of the province having been completed, the result of the labor of the commissioners will soon be available for general use.

I have noted with pleasure your continued vigilance with a view to the protection of the public health, and to the amelioration of the condition of the working classes, and I hope that the information secured during this session about the operation of provident and insurance societies will enable you next year to perfect the law which provides compensation for injuries suffered by persons employed in occupations dangerous to life.

The legislation of the session respecting the federation of the University of Toronto with other universities has my hearty approval, and the provision which you made for additional professors and lecturers will enable this institution to take a position to fulfil the expectations of the most earnest advocate of higher education. I am pleased that Upper Canada College is to be retained as a residential school on the same plan as the great proprietary schools of England.

The extension of the operation of the Land Titles Act to such parts of the province as may from time to time be brought under it will, I am sure, meet with general approval; as will the act providing for the appointment of police magistrates for counties.

The improvements made in the municipal law of the province will give increased efficiency to that already excellent code.

I heartily approve of your resolution to bring to an end as soon as practicable the system of letting prison labor by contract, and I trust that there may be substituted some alternative method, less open to objection, which, while securing employment for those confined in our jails, will also provide that salutary discipline which enforces labor.

I congratulate you on how the continuing the consumers' gas company with the [illegible] as Niagara Falls, Sydney [illegible] power before the [illegible] of correspondence [illegible] your attention to the adoption of a measure [illegible] which [illegible] communities the public of Her Most Gracious Majesty [illegible] the same which [illegible] from time to time [illegible] associated with this grandest of natural [illegible]

I congratulate you also on the [illegible] have been [illegible] completed, for the [illegible] public [illegible] on a scale which will [illegible] the province and [illegible] give ample [illegible] for [illegible] perfect as possible in public [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible]

I thank you for the liberal appropriations [illegible] the public service. I [illegible] appropriations which you have been pleased to grant [illegible] proceed with vigilant care and in the [illegible]

The efficient manner in which you have [illegible] your business during this [illegible] session of Parliament, is a guarantee that the [illegible] are in your hands.

The time of opening and prorogating the session has been so unseasonable of late, that I may now have much appointed, I now take my final leave of you as a legislature, and desire to express my earnest desire for your happiness and prosperity in all of you in your several spheres.

The Provincial Secretary then declared the Assembly prorogued, in accordance with His Honor's request.

Let Mr. Riordon Settle.

MONTREAL, April 24.—The French Canadians believe with reason that Mr. Riordon of the Mail is at the bottom of the libel made on the 65th Battalion by the News, a concern into which Mr. Riordon has put a large amount of money. Mr. Riordon also stands in the same relation toward the Mail, another paper which has attacked the French Canadian race. A judgment against the Mail for libelling Hon. Mr. Laflamme still remains unsatisfied, and Mr. Bunting, as director of the Mail, is also a fugitive from the Quebec courts. He dare not go to Montreal or the law would be put in motion against him. If Mr. Sheppard and Mr. Bunting are unable to pay the judgments against them the French Canadians hold that Mr. Riordon ought. If Mr. Riordon would pay the money, or if Mr. Sheppard of the News would apologize in gentlemanly terms the whole matter would end, but as long as they continue to defy the Queen courts, and to insult the French race, they may count on the French Canadians taking retaliatory steps.

Woodrow half stiff, Pinchin Hat for sale at Fairweather's hat store.

MR. BLAKE ON COERCION.

Below will be found the concluding portion of the speech delivered by Mr. Blake in the House on Friday:

Then the hon. gentleman brought up the letter entrusted to Mr. Parnell, and he declared that the circumstance of that letter being produced was the reason why we ought not to act just now. I have no hesitation in saying that from the moment I read that letter, as well from the general circumstances as from the intrinsic evidence, and from all I knew and have learned on the subject, I was convinced that Mr. Parnell never wrote that letter. I do not propose to justify or condemn free from absolute conviction all the causes that Mr. Parnell and his friends may, in past times, have taken; but I have ever believed, and I have some opportunities of forming a judgment, derived from persons very remote from Mr. Parnell himself, but still highly authoritative, I have believed for years that there was no man under the control of the British Throne who felt so deep a wound as Mr. Parnell did upon the occasion of the massacre of those two gentlemen in Phœnix Park. It is perfectly obvious that just at that moment there was a crisis in the sentiment of England as to the Irish affairs, declined, so far as we could see, to be propitious; it is obvious that the aims and objects towards which Mr. Parnell had been tending were apparently approaching some measure of consummation, and when, with thoughtless grain of common sense, could doubt that the effect of that dreadful and horrid murder, that awful tragedy, would be to blight all those fair prospects and to replace them by a fresh and stringent Coercion Act? Who is there who does not know that the obstacle to the remedy and to the relief for Ireland for many years has been the block of public opinion in England and Scotland? And who could not tell such a transaction was the very thing to shock such opinion and render, perhaps, a Coercion Act the only act you could propose to the Imperial Legislature. Therefore, altogether apart from those feelings of heart and heart, which, I am convinced, would have caused Mr. Parnell to shun and deprecate and dread and have nought to do with such a dreadful deed, those who charge him with the slightest complicity in, or favor of, the deed must give him very little credit indeed for the qualities he possesses, in a very common-sense measure, of sure reliance, steadiness, sound judgment, far-sightedness, and a persistent, steady, but not impulsive, determination. Those the whole things I think, were of the great journal in which it appeared, and very much more unworthy to be respected here as a reason why we should stay our hands to seek relief for the Irish people, first another name, after all, is connected then Mr. Parnell's in the effort to stay the hand of the Imperial Parliament in passing this bill—the great name of Gladstone. Therefore, from that point of view, we are to remember that it is not merely the chief of the Irish Parliamentary party who is going, but the chief of the great body of English Liberals, the man whose illustrious life, if it be but prolonged some few years, we may hope will be crowned by a great measure of justice to Ireland. Then the hon. gentleman dragged into the controversy the question of the announced visit of Mr. O'Brien here, to discuss some particular cases of eviction. I do not really see that that has anything to do with the question. I regret, if it be the case, that that particular visit, with that particular purpose, is to take place. I think it would be a mistake on the part of those in Canada who desire, as all true friends of Ireland must desire, to avoid any circumstances which may chill the sympathies of the other classes of the population—I say they would not wisely if they would defer or end that visit. I am not here to enter, I think it would be hardly decent to enter, into the slightest discussion of the transactions concerning the tenantry of the illustrious nobleman, with whose case Mr. O'Brien proposes to deal. He is here in a representative capacity. He is the representative of our Sovereign, and I think that if there be example of evil-dealings on the part of landlords with tenants, those examples which might be presented with the best proof, and with least possible difficulty resulting to the Canadian people would be examples drawn from other estates than those drawn from those of the Governor-General. While I say that, I regretted to hear the observations of the hon. member for Muskoka (Mr. O'Brien). He said, alluding to a statement which I observe in the papers, that the Government of the day has enlisted that Mr. O'Brien will be under police surveillance if he should come here, that he would be more in need of police protection. I do not believe that. If Mr. O'Brien came here, he would require either police surveillance or police protection. I am delighted to be able to say that we have been able to discuss this exciting question in contradistinction in which there is a very great difference of opinion upon it, in the most satisfactory way, without the slightest particle of disturbance. We have had great meetings in the city from which I come on both sides of the question. The views which have been brought forward on each side have been heard without disturbance, without any attempt to prevent the free utterances and expressions of the views of each side. The people have been informed of what the views of each side were, and a great step has been gained in the way of tolerant discussion and proper handling of exciting questions. I have no doubt that, in whatever light we may consider the visit of Mr. O'Brien and his discussion of the affairs of one particular landlord to be, he will have in Canada—I hope so, at any rate—freedom of speech; he will not be, in the first place, under police surveillance, and, in the next place, that he will require no police protection to enable him to say his say, whatever that say may be. I hope that we shall not import anything of that description which is suggested by the hon. gentleman into our dealing with this matter; but it is of a piece with some other suggestions. We are told by the hon. gentleman, dealing with the question of Home Rule, that Home Rule such as is indicated cannot be obtained without civil war. The advocates of peace, of law, of order declare by their spokesmen here that they will not obey a law of the Imperial Parliament [illegible] such a law be passed, and the reason is, forsooth, that the Irish are not a homogeneous people. No, they are not a homogeneous people but a people not homogeneous had lived in peace and amity, in personal, in social, in political relations as one country often before; and although I am not here to deny that the bitterness of this long controversy, complicated as it has been by differences of race, by differences of creed, more and most of all by the land question, and the fact that you have a minority of one race and one creed very largely the possessors of the soil and a majority of another race and another creed who are tenants of theirs under very exceptional circumstances, still we have to trust to the Irish people to manage this matter. I do not speak of the Irish people in the sense of the Irish Roman Catholics—I say the whole Irish people. I regard them as one people after all, and I have no doubt, for my part, that an example of tolerance, of generosity, of magnanimity will be set by the numerical majority, and that their natural measure of ascendency does not in their possessions but to their intelligence, their education and their power, will be awarded with a liberal hand to the minority when the measure of Home Rule takes place. These prophets of civil war said something of the same kind when the church disestablishment question was in vogue. We were told that the waters of the Boyne were to be reddened with blood; but the church was disestablished and there was not a shot fired; all was peace, and I believe the cause of Protestantism and the cause of religion benefited greatly. They say that separation is the goal. You may make separation the goal if you please. It may be that the Irish people may not last decently, as many of them have deported in the past, and that despair may produce the feeling to which hon. gentlemen referred when they spoke of that feeling of hostility. But I say that separation is not now the goal of the mass of the Irish people. They are simply making a demand for those rights which are their due, for a fair share of self-government and a tolerable condition of existence upon the soil upon which they were born, and on which they desire to live. I ask you to listen to the eloquent words in which Mr. Gladstone combatted this argument, because I know it is a plausible and specious one, and I believe that to agree in it would be fatal to the cause it would be designed to serve. If we shrink on this ground, we will be sure to precipitate some effort, abortive it may be, but hardly less calamitous, towards the separation which you dread. Mr. Gladstone says:

So I say that these considerations which do most deeply affect us all, which affect us all, as I pointed out the other day, in our material condition, which affect our own relations to the people sitting on the other side of the House, and especially which ought to be one of the most delicate as long as it can be [illegible] of [illegible] of the Empire to respect the which we are partners in [illegible] and, above all, to [illegible] these considerations do justify, say, I will add that they [illegible] our action now in such and so very further the cause which stands in such a critical position to-day. I be-

Lest that [illegible] which we [illegible] the [illegible] of difficulty and [illegible] of the Irish people and for all of us hardly exhausted [illegible] here will supervene. Let us, then, do our feeble best to avert it. I believe that the sentiments spent for any long period of a measure of Home Rule will make that measure much less valuable for the great and chief purpose for which we hope to see it accomplished, for the restoration of the bonds of affection and concord and amity and friendship between the two islands; and therefore let us do what we can to avert the ill, let us do what in us lies to procure the good.

THE TIMES DOES NOT WEAKEN ITS ATTACK ON PARNELL.

LONDON, April 24.—The Times continues its onslaught on Parnell and those associated with him. It hints that it has in its possession undoubtable proof of Mr. Parnell's connection with the Invincible wing of the Irish party, and is anxious that the accused should carry the case to the courts. It affords every ground for such an action, but as yet no action has been taken. In some quarters it is thought that the paper will fail in fastening the letter upon the accused, but in others it is believed that, considering the habitual cautiousness of English editors in dealing with such a matter, that the journal felt aware of its ground before the letter was made public.

Parnell and the Phœnix Park Murders.

NEW YORK, April 24.—In the Standard Sheehy George efferently stakes over his signature that he was the first to carry the news of the Phœnix Park assassinations to Mr. Parnell. He says he was in London at the time and that early in the morning he was aroused by a telegraph messenger, bringing him a despatch from Dr. Kelly, then of Rutland Square, Dublin, but now of Lexington-avenue, New York, apprising him of the tragedy. Mr. George then goes on to tell that he did as follows: "I immediately made what haste I could to the Westminster Hotel and Parnell, Dillon and Parnell. All three, as well as other members of the Irish party who were subsequently sent for, were deeply pained and grieved at the news. Davitt seemed on each word by it that I really felt for him, but the man who seemed stirred most was Parnell, ordinarily the most undemonstrative of human beings, and on the first impulse he talked of immediately resigning and leaving public life forever. There could be no question of the real feeling of these men, especially Parnell.

"It is not that there was any personal sympathy with Burke, who had made himself thoroughly hated by patriotic Irishmen, but there was a personal sympathy with Lord Cavendish, who had just arrived in Ireland and had done nothing to offend Irish sentiment. His appointment, moreover, to take the place of the justly-hated Forster, accompanied as it was with the release of the Irish members from Kilmainham and of Davitt from Portland, was deemed the holding out of the olive branch by the Gladstone Government, the dawn of a better day, and to this the knives that lurked in Phœnix Park gave terrible answer. At a single unexpected blow Parnell's plans were shattered. To him it was not merely two high officials who were stabbed to death in Phœnix Park, but a great policy and a high hope."

Lord Lansdowne's Tenantry.

DUBLIN, April 24.—The trouble between Lord Lansdowne and his tenants has been settled.

The Dublin Editor Delays His Departure For a Week.

LONDON, April 23.—Mr. O'Brien has postponed his Canadian trip for a week, pending the negotiations for a settlement between Lord Lansdowne's agent and the tenants on his estates.

THE GIFT OF THE ALMIGHTY.

Mr. Chamberlain Says the Land Should be Treated as a Trust.

LONDON, April 23.—Mr. Chamberlain, speaking at Stoneway to-night, said that the land was the gift of the Almighty, and ought to be treated as a trust, not as an absolute possession by private owners. The trust was not fulfilled while the land did not provide substance for the greatest possible number of the people. He saw a gleam of hope from Gladstone's speech before the Eighty Club. Regarding the reunion of the Liberals, Gladstone said that no concession had been made to the Unionists to co-operate. Although they had not been made to them, Chamberlain rejoiced that they had been made at all. He was content to follow in the rear of those who would again fight by Gladstone's side in the prosecution of the Liberal programme, only on the condition that Gladstone either postpone the Irish question this session or meet the Unionist objections to his plans.

The Toronto's Victory.

A Washington correspondent of to-day's New York daily Baseball Gazette says of the Torontos: There seems to have been a large ingredient of poetic justice in the defeat of the National nine by the Canadian team on Thursday since Decker and Crane, to whom the victory of the Torontos was largely due, are discarded members of the Washington team of 1886. Crane has abandoned his extremely swift delivery, and now makes use of a very deceptive drop ball that proved a puzzler to most of the Statesmen, and will keep the International guessing this summer. The best man of the Toronto team is the short stop, Albert, who made some of the most astonishing pick-ups while here, and is wonderfully active and a good batter. The major leagues will do well to keep their eye on him.

TWO DEATHS BY POISON.

Two Women Partake of Parsnips with Fatal Results.

CALEDONIA, Ont., April 21.—On Friday afternoon last Mr. Isaiah Dougherty picked up some parsnips that a farmer had thrown over his fence and brought them home for his wife to eat, as she had frequently asked him to do so. Mrs. Dougherty and her neighbor's daughter, Miss Christina McKay, were down town between 2 and 4 p.m. that day, and after returning home they ate one of the parsnips which immediately made them sick, and Mr. Dougherty, supposing they were poisoned, went for medical assistance, but it was too late. Miss McKay died about 6 p.m. that day, and Mrs. Dougherty died this morning at 2.45.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL BILL.

A Remark Which Greatly Agitated Prince Bismarck.

BERLIN, April 23.—Among the most interesting episodes in the debate in the Untershaus to-day on the Ecclesiastical Bill was Baron Hammerstein's accusation that the Government was imperilling the Protestant church. In concluding his speech he said: "If the prophesy of Cardinal Manning that the fight between the Catholic and Protestant churches will be fought out on the sandy plains of Brandenburg is destined to be fulfilled, and if, therefore, the Protestant church is to succumb in the fight, then the man who deemed an alliance with the Pope as necessary must be held responsible."

The charge thus hurled directly at the Chancellor produced a profound sensation. Prince Bismarck started up to respond. He was much agitated and in a voice quivering with excitement denied that the ascendency of the Protestant Church was endangered. He defended the idea that the protection of the former rights of Catholics would damage the Protestant establishment, and advised the National Liberals and Conservatives to join him in trying to attain the final completion of this establishment. The speech was effective in the sense that it showed that Prince Bismarck was determined to carry the bill in the exact form in which it was presented in the Untershaus and would tolerate no opposition from his own supporters. FRIENDSHIP, LOVE, TRUTH.

Annual Sermon to the Oddfellows of Peterborough.

They Attend Divine Service About 160 Strong—Interesting Sermon by Rev. I. Tovell in the George Street Methodist Church—The Church Crowded With People.

Sunday evening the members of Otonabee and Peterborough lodges of I. O. O. F. marched to the George street Methodist Church, where the following excellent sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. I. Tovell, from the text, Galatians v, 13:

"By love serve one another."

These words are simple, plain words. No scholarly commentator is needed to make them easy to understand. Their practical import flashes over the mind on the first reading. And yet, like a sunbeam, there is more in it than may at first look be imagined. Pass it through the prism of every day life if you would know its full import. Then the rainbow tints of every beautiful feature in character will appear. Patience, long suffering, gentleness, kindness and every grace of the spirit will come out blended together in one beautiful life, while the warmth and brightness of this sunbeam will turn the winter of selfishness and sorrow into summer benevolence and joys.

The apostle uttered these words with a full realization of the needy circumstances of the family of man. Those to whom he wrote were a brotherhood of souls whose toils, struggles, discouragements and zeal make a history of thrilling interest. They were odd-fellows not in the modern sense of that respected term, but in the sense of being a peculiar people. They were peculiar in their belief, and hopes, and works. They had faith in Christ, hopes reaching up to the infinite and the eternal, and their works were with a view to lead others to the Lamb. These caused them to suffer. They were sorely tried. The storms of persecution that burst upon them at times were tremendous, causing some to abandon their new faith, but causing others to root themselves all the more firmly in the love of God. Paul's words were like cement binding the faithful together, and his command, if we may call it such, is the key-note of his practical teaching given to the church, saying, "By love serve one another."

Such words as these are applicable to the great brotherhood represented here to-night, and wider still, they are designed for the whole brotherhood of man. It is a law—this law of love—for the whole family of mankind.

It is true of every man, whether admitted or not, that we are poor and needy, and unless kind services are given, services we never could pay for, services that spring from love, we must be left miserable in this life. Is there any man capable of living unto himself? Is it the man of independent income? Is it the sovereign of a mighty empire? Is it he whose health is perfect and whose cares seem as light as the air? Verily it is a fact that we are all woven together into one great fabric, every thread being essential to the support of every other thread in this great piece of human life. From my cradle to my grave I am for my comfort and success, on others. See! I began with absolute dependence on a mother's love and care. Boyhood came and with it a desire to learn. Then a teacher was needed. Manhood overtook me and my wants were multiplied. I needed a train to carry me to distant points. I needed a telegraph operator to flash my messages to far-off friends, I needed a printer to prepare me the daily news. Then to provide me a little home I needed a mason, a carpenter, a painter, a furniture manufacturer, a carpet merchant, an artist, an architect, a bookmaker, a gardener, a ditch-digger—a coalminer, wood-chopper, a stove dealer, a wheat-grower a wheat-grinder, a breadmaker and others. Riper years are hastening on, old age is coming, but these will not bring independence. The law of dependence runs along parallel with the story of one's life.

This law seems written everywhere. In nature's kingdom it is engraven on the rocks, painted on the clouds and printed on every spreading leaf. How the vegetable leans on the mineral for its nourishment, and how the mineral in turn feeds on the vegetable! How the valleys look to the encircling hills for cooling streams, and how the hills beckon to the billowy seas to supply them with cloud cars loaded with many waters. These refused and the mountain forests would crumble, and the glory of these sovereign heights would vanish away. Even this old earth itself is like a child. It cannot walk unaided. It is held up by gravitation's strong arm. Surround freeze to death but for those robes of sunlight and blankets of summer air that envelop it. It would lose its youthful and beautiful complexion were the spongy clouds not lifted up and suspended by the ocean winds, emptying their cleansing waters on sunny slopes and shadowy groves. So returning to man this fulness of DEPENDENCE OF ONE ANOTHER IS UNIVERSAL.

History's page is rich with the records of great men—men of intellectual power, men of energies, protracted, brilliant in spiritual battle, in prayer almost irresistible, and yet in need of encouragement, sympathy, and aid. Paul was refreshed in spirit by men weaker than himself. Elijah needed bracing up, as he lay under the juniper tree. Even Jesus felt the need of sympathetic watchers as he entered the garden of sorrow. Society is full of such circumstances. Society also has its poor men suffering at the gate of the rich. Society still has its cripples waiting for help to step in when the pool is troubled, and its sorrowing Rachels and broken hearted sisters, its inebriates and lepers, its palsied and penniless ones.

But our text points to mutual help. "By love serve one another." As though the good Book should say, "now you are all poor, but you can help to make each other better off. You are all weak in a way but you can help to make each other strong. You are all in bondage to evil habits but you can assist each other in breaking the evil bonds. Sorrow like a dark storm cloud may gather about your homes but you can gently comfort one another, you can supplant the shadows with Divine sunshine, and turn the night of despondency into a day of joyful hope." "By love serve one another."

I wish in pursuing this study to remind you of the aims to be cherished in this service of love. What may be a legitimate service to render? Should we be careful and thoughtful in regard to one another's temporal welfare? Is it a duty we owe to do what we can to improve the financial conditions of our friends and fellow citizens? Or is this too sordid, and is it a help fraught with danger to the higher interests of men? It is supposed that than wealth and humility; and as humility is one of the finest graces, it is further supposed to be good not to encourage the accumulation of wealth in there who are poor. In harmony with this faith I have heard it said that a Church Official Board finding they had a devoted and humble minded pastor, resolved to keep him in that delightful frame, and so entered into covenant that if the Lord would keep him humble they would look out and keep him poor. Alas that this is tried in other walks of life as well? I believe in doing every legitimate thing possible to multiply and distribute the comforts of life; the industrious man deserves to be rewarded. A prosperous business should mean increased wages for the employes, or donations as a recognition of valuable labor. Landowners of immense wealth should have regard for the legitimate rights of tenants, capital and labor should have no quarrel but each in turn should reward the other. Let wealth be hoarded and combine it with luxuriant living and evil must follow. Water, if lifted from the seas and lakes and rivers, if not poured down again on hill and plain would soon change this fertile world into a bleak and barren globe, so wealth if gotten out of the sea of industry must be used in refreshing the social intellectual and spiritual life of the people else the results must be painful. Apostolic piety was full of good works, that went to cheer the hearts of the poor. Their piety was not that transcendental thing that felt shocked and shuddered when collections were announced. Bread and butter for orphans, clothing for the naked, these things formed a conspicuous element in their Christianity. Was it not a healthy type? Had it not the ring of good cheer about it?

The promotion of each other's temporal welfare, adopting only legitimate means, is a noble service. Then there are the deserving poor to be remembered, whose day of toil may be passed. We cannot be too considerate in ministering to their waste. What delicate and kindly ministrations might have been given by Dives to poor suffering Lazarus lying at his gate. The dogs of earth and angels from heaven thought of the poor man, but Dives was unfeeling as a stone. What a luxury he lost in not helping one of God's little ones. How much sweeter had been the flavor of his sumptuous dinners, had he

FIRST REMEMBERED HIS STARVING BROTHER!

What an inexpensive and beautiful act it would have been to have taken Lazarus into his garden, placed him on an easy chair, beneath a trellised vine, loaded with delicious grapes, within sight of the fountain whose streams were silvered in the sunlight; and then to have caused a table to be spread with delicacies and food to strengthen, open the door of his palace and had the harp and psaltery and the ten stringed instrument played loud to the tune,—"How beautiful when brethren dwell together in unity." Ah Dives, that would have quenched—love like that—would have quenched the fires of hell. Oh, ye rich men, see to it that history, in this case, does not repeat itself.

How energetic the earthly Christians were in their ministrations of love. Reports were made of neglected widows, and orphaned children. The Apostles said that won't do but we must give attention to the ministry of the Word; we cannot attend to the finances. You laymen must do that. Appoint a vigorous committee. It was done. Godly men were chosen—men full of faith and of the Holy Ghost. Collections were taken at once, and distribution made as necessity called for. What a robust type of christianity was theirs! How free from mere sentiment! How it tended to touch the heart! How eminently practical! Bread and butter, shoes and stockings, caps and coats for orphans these were in their creed; that is a sickly piety that feels the chills creep over you when a good strong appeal is made for a collection for the poor. That man's spiritual health is run down who cannot stand the sight of a subscription book for some benevolent purpose.

MEMBERS OF THE ODDFELLOW'S SOCIETY,

I do not intend to praise you unduly, nor am I here to commend your order to the public by any special pleading, but I cannot refrain from referring to your labors of love in relation to the needful cases in the history of your order. I have read the report of your doings with unqualified feelings of wonder and admiration; every hour of the day Oddfellowship pours $300 into the lap of distress. Every day of the week your order gracefully distributes $8000 among the afflicted and sorrowing brothers. In the last year it was your joy and honor to devote $2,600,000 to the relief of those who had a claim on your sympathies and affections. A brotherhood with such a record excites our admiration, and it impresses an outsider, like myself, with this fact that

"Your fears, your hopes, your aims are one,
Your comforts and your cares."

Having dwelt on the duty of not neglecting the temporal welfare of the needy and the deserving, I come now to advocate for a moment the importance of helping one another to obtain the highest good within our reach. The moral enrichment of the brotherhood of man is the more commendable aim to be set before us in life, "Building up yourselves" in sterling qualities of character, what nobler work than this! This supercedes the work of improving the temporal circumstances of man. This we ought to do and not leave the other undone. Putting a fence about our garden is needed but it is a lesser work than planting fruit trees nourishing shrubbery, cultivating flowers, [illegible] and richly fruited trees represent the moral enrichment of the heart and life. Then let us by love help each other. What can we do? Can we rouse up a deeper interest in the higher good of life? Can we nourish in one another those habits that when mastered

GIVE A GRANDEUR TO CHARACTER, FULL-ORBED?

Can we by any means disenchant the tempted mind of those pernicious thoughts that lead down to vice and degradation? Is there power anywhere at command by which we may gird the inebriate with strength and fortitude to overcome? Is there anything more we can do, than is being done, to inculcate in the youth of our day the best principles of life? Can we put any new strength to the great moral reforms of this age, including the temperance cause and the social purity question? Is there no chain that we can break that is being coiled about our neighbor, threatening his ruin? To make society purer, to make it happier, to remove the cause of its sorrows, to up-root its moral evils, to break down its graven images, to hush its sobs, to still its warring passions, to dispel its superstitions, to scatter the shadows of its ignorance, to evoke its intellectual powers, to awaken its moral powers, surely this is a mission worthy the best energies of our being, and the most zealous devotion of our time and influence. To chisel the moral nature into elegant form, to paint the canvas of life with scenes of refinement, to adorn the temple of the soul with carvings of eternal truth, to garland the character with Sharon's unfading rose, such service, by whomsoever given, in the name of Christ, and under the spell of a sacred love, shall have its reward. "Let every one of us please his neighbor for his good to edification."

Having dwelt thus far on the aim, I come to indicate the sphere of service for each one to occupy. Where is the field for us? And just here let me put in a bar against a subtle ambition that often enters the heart, an ambition to do big things on a large scale, and in a public way. The blaze of fame must not be coveted. The quiet nooks and secluded walks where good can be done should prove inviting. Ambition to be great is a snare laid by the cunning hand of the tempter.

AMBITION TO BE GOOD IS A GEM,

cut and polished by the Saviour's hand. Are you called to the ministry of the Word? Let not your zeal wane if you fail to equal Apollos in eloquence, or Peter in clearness and force, or Paul in depth and majesty of thought. Does the spirit of philanthropy glow within you? Let it not become dimmed because you are not a Howard, or a Wilberforce, a Florence Nightingale or Lady Huntingdon. Does your heart burn within you to advocate some grand moral reform. See to it that you do not bury your talent, because it happens to be less brilliant than Wendell Philips, and less versatile than the sainted Gough's. These high eminences are reserved for the few. Quieter places are reserved for the majority. The work is no less productive of good results. It is the work of a trillion dewdrops to revive the drooping grasses, and as they repeat their work night after night they do more for the growth of vegetation than is done by an occasional drenching thunderstorm; so it is the myriad little deeds of humble souls in shady hours, in places where the want is felt that will prove the greater blessing to society.

This brings me to speak of the sphere of service. First of all The Home. A humble

FRIENDSHIP, LOVE, TRUTH.

sphere indeed. Very secluded. Only a few outsiders know where it is. No newspaper reporter ventures to look into its sacred precincts, and yet what a sphere for service! What a sphere for love to tell, and love to watch, and love to pray. It is a conservatory for the cultivation of the choicest plant-lets of virtue. Husbandman, will you neglect it? It is a school for the development of purest manhood and womanhood. Teachers of this fine art, will you pass it by? Home! The dearest spot on earth to some. When pure and sweet, and simple, and inexpensive, and hospitable, and rich in love, and radiant with every moral virtue,

HOW SACRED IS THAT HOME!

What a struggle to preserve such a home. The rude iconoclast would destroy it. The stiff and miserable conventionalities of fashionable society threaten to settle on it, like mildew on a rosebud or a honeysuckle. The wine-drinking usages and gambling games of dissipation are ever waiting at the door to creep in, great serpents to beguile first and then to thrust their deadly sting to the heart of the beguiled; little children are within, they claim protection. Boys and girls are in that house, they demand protection and need training, sons and daughters are in that house. They are growing up to be as oaks in moral strength and as stones polished after the similitude of a palace. At last the children, grown to boyhood and girlhood, the boys and girls grown to manhood and womanhood, clothed with the armour of virtue and knowledge, the result of love-service, they step out and forth to life's battlefield the Daniels and Nazareth and Josephs, the Mary's and Lydias and Dorcases of society. In the home what scope for service in character building spheres! Where and when and how may I help in doing some good. The boarding house? Yes, I can reach out a helping hand there says a one. The school? Oh yes a thousand chances daily there for me says another. In the Association of the Brotherhood represented here to-night? Yes, yes, respond a half a million members, as they remember the widows whom they have assisted, and the

FATHERLESS CHILDREN WHOM THEY HAVE CLOTHED,

and schooled and fed, and the unnumbered times the sick have been cared for and comforted. The fields behold they are legion and are white unto the harvest. Hospital doors are open for willing workers. Temperance Unions are advancing with a welcome ready for energetic helpers. Orphan homes are calling for sympathetic friends. Sabbath schools are ready to give employment to consecrated hearts, while the Church with her great world-wide mission can engage in her services every earnest God fearing man and woman, young or old who yearns to live a useful life.

Mr. Tovell concluded his sermon by addressing himself to the Oddfellows particularly, by stating that although not a member of the Order, it had his greatest respect. Its motto, "Friendship, Love, and Truth," was composed of three golden links to bind them together, and when he took his text, it seemed that he was following along their line of work. Oddfellowship is a noble institution, and as he looked upon the 100 souls before him, bound in a common brotherhood, and united for one purpose, namely, that widows shall not want, that orphans shall be helped, that the naked shall be clothed, that the poor shall be cared for and fed; and when he thought of all their good works, he only did his duty, with no violence to his conscience, when he said, God bless the Society and make it more useful still. The speaker closed by urging the brethern to give themselves unreservedly unto the service of the Lord Jesus Christ, and by love serve one another.

The brethren then returned to the hall of Otonabee Lodge, and a resolution of thanks was moved by Bro. E. K. Henderson, D.D. G.M., and seconded by Bro. A. McFarlane, P.G., for the able and eloquent sermon delivered by Rev. Mr. Tovell. Bros. W. A. Stratton, and T. Workman, N.G., J. L. Hughes, J. J. Hartley, J. C. T. Leary, J. R. Stratton and D. H. Moore spoke briefly in support of the motion, which was carried unanimously.

"Some said, John print it, others said Not so." "Some said It might do good, others said No." If the discoverer of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy had shared the senseless prejudices of a certain class of physicians he would have refused to print the good news, to proclaim to the world the glorious tidings that a infallible remedy for that most loathsome disease, catarrh, had been discovered. But he advertised liberally and the result has justified him in the course he pursued. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy never fails. All druggists. 6dw17

Overwrought.

"My husband strained himself with overwork, causing a large swelling in the groin. He suffered great agony, which doctors failed to relieve; he could not eat nor sleep. B. B. B. quickly cured him. He says he never had such quick relief in his life." Extract from a letter from Mrs. George Bonk, Cookeville, Ont. 2w17

Sister Ellie.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and canyons, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how quick all the gaiety of nature and life seems to flag disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia, and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such sufferers, as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Constipation, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. eodw4

A Severe Attack.

"I never felt better in my life than I have since taking Burdock Blood Bitters. I had a severe bilious attack; I could not eat for several days, and was unable to work. One bottle cured me." John M. Richards, Sr., Tara, Ont. For all bilious troubles use B. B. B. 2w17d

Try a 10 cent sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nerviline, the great, sure, and prompt pain cure. The large bottles are only 25 cents. 6dw17

This is to certify that I have used McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and do honestly say that if it cost me one hundred dollars ($100.00) a bottle I would not be without it, as it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used, and I feel like a new man.—Yours truly, Alex. A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this God-given remedy, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated [illegible] to the public, Dr. Pierce thought [illegible] of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

CONSUMPTION,

Save to Beauty.

There are many remedies for coughs and colds, but there are few that prove so satisfactory as Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, which is a pleasant and reliable cure for all throat and lung troubles, including bronchitis, asthma, croup, whooping cough and the pulmonary complaints of young or old. 2w17d

Police Court.

MONDAY, April 25th.

There was a fairly [illegible] in the police court this morning, and the court room was [illegible] to [illegible] spectators.

Frank Lennox, remanded from last week for [illegible], was discharged on condition of [illegible] [illegible] visited. If the other parties [illegible] can be found, they will [illegible] be [illegible].

[illegible] Kelly raised a rumpus at his own house on Hickory street Saturday night, and was placed in the cells by P. C. McGinty. As his wife, the alleged chief sufferer, did not lay a complaint, he was discharged.

Saturday night some boys told Mr. Alex. Gibson that a man was breaking the windows of his blacksmith shop on Hunter street. In company with Constables Pidgeon and McGinty he went to the shop, and found already inside, stupid with drink, a great Bull of a man named Finnimmore. Seven broken panes of glass told how he got inside. He was sent to gaol for one month.

There are some very bad little boys in town. For three Sundays back Mr. Wainwright's meat shop on George street has been entered, money stolen, and the meat hacked and spoiled. Yesterday Mr. Wainwright watched the place, and about 9 a. m. caught Jimmy Dwyer, 12 years old, in the shop, and Jerry Flaherty, 11 years old, a chum who watched outside. On being taken to the police station they "split" on two boys who they saw had helped them on other occasions—Freddy Shearer, aged 9 and Dan McGinnes, aged 12. These were also arrested. The little fellows were brought up in court this morning, young Dywer, the evident ringleader, and the smallest one, being scarcely able to look over the magistrate's desk. The other three said that Dwyer had told them that he had cut Wainright's shop adrift about a month ago; but Dwyer denied, and said that a youngster named Napoleon Deir and his own brother Bill had told him that they had done it. Jerry Flaherty was discharged, and the other three remanded for three days, until some reliable evidence can be obtained against them with regard to the breaking. They admitted stealing the money and doing other damage.

Remember Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

The Locks Line.

Work was begun to-day on the locks line by Contractor Hendrie, beginning at the bridge, a pier for which has been put down. About twenty-five men are at present employed, and a blacksmith shop has been erected. The stone will be brought via G. J. R. from Foxboro', and a spur run from Ashburnham to the works, the material for which is in place. Mr. Bogue has the contract for the stone work.

The Inquest Adjourned.

An inquest over the child found on Dr. Kincaid's farm Thursday was held Saturday before Coroner Bell. Mr. Stewart, foreman of the farm, testified to finding the child, while Dr. Kincaid pronounced the body to be that of a male infant about one week old, fully developed, and born alive. The inquest was adjourned till 5 o'clock this afternoon to allow of a post mortem examination being held.

Anna Eva Fay.

That indescribable personage, Miss Anna Eva Fay, the world famous medium, appears at the Opera House, to-morrow evening for the first and only time in Peterborough. Miss Fay has just been making an extended tour through the United States, and by request has decided to play a short engagement in Canada. Her performance in Toronto was the talk of the city, and both the public and the press, pronounce it one of the most wonderful spiritualistic performances that had ever been seen there. Miss Fay has been endorsed by the Royal Scientific Society, of London England, and the frank endorsement of Profs. Crooks, Huxley, Tyndall, and others, gave her great popularity while playing a most successful engagement at the Crystal Palace, Sydenham, so much so that at the personal solicitation of Her Majesty, Miss Fay filled the Queen's concert rooms, Hanover Square, for eight consecutive weeks.

Astonishing Success

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 30,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it, sample bottles to try, only 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and dealers in the United States and Canada. eodw4

A Clergyman's Contention.

A Correspondence between Rev. Alex. [illegible] J. B. McWilliams, [illegible] Public Board of the [illegible]

Sir,—In your issue of the 6th inst. you gave a report of the proceedings of the Peterborough School Board in which Mr. J. B. McWilliams, one of the trustees, refers to a minister of the town and makes [illegible] some serious charges against him. Should then the enclosed correspondence passed between Mr. McWilliams and the minister referred to, and I ask as a matter of common justice that you give it as wide a circulation in your columns as you gave to Mr. McWilliam's charges. The reader will see that Mr. McWilliams got an opportunity to explain his charges, but he only repeated them with aggravation. He was then called on either to prove them or withdraw them, but he has failed in all one or other, and has thus placed himself, in a position which, I think, no honorable man would care to occupy.

Mr. McWilliams has within reach, if not already in his hands, every document from which proof must exist, if proof can be got. He heard my address delivered, and in common with others who listened, took notes to all the documents I used. He could easily have found them for himself, if he did not care to see mine, and if he did not already possess them, for dates and places where they could be found were freely and correctly given. He had full four weeks to enquire, compare, and from yet remain where the "darkling" [illegible] and "dishonesty" could be, but when called to prove his libellous statements, he ignominiously fails, and cannot point to a single sentence taken out of its place or misapplied, and cannot quote a single word that will give him the slightest hope of a defence.

Thus unable to prove his statements, and not having moral courage enough to confess his wrong, we see [illegible] him at this moment exhibiting himself to the position of a wilful calumniator striving to hide the meanness of his doings behind veiled impertinence and bluffing insult. A man so utterly lost to a sense of the propriety and the honor that ought to govern one gentleman's conduct while dealing with the reputation of another, has got down to a level too low for me to follow him, and I willingly leave him there to blaster at will—to sing of the sweet supremacy of his own "Bunkum"—to enjoy the rumors of his conscience, and to bluff off, as best he can, the public contempt which his own conduct has earned him.

One mistake I have made in this correspondence, Mr. Editor, and it is only due to myself and Mr. McWilliams that I should confess it. When I began this correspondence, from the fact that Mr. McWilliams has a place on our School Board, and fills an honorable situation under the Government, I verily believed I had a gentleman to deal with, but from evidence now before me in his letters I am compelled to admit that in that belief I was wrong. My blunder arose from my inexperience of what twenty years political campaigning will work on some natures. I was never behind the scenes and so did not know.

Yours, etc.,
ALEXANDER BELL.

Peterborough, 22nd April, 1887.

ST. ANDREW'S MANSE,
April 11th, 1887.

To Mr. J. B. McWilliams, Peterborough:

SIR,—This afternoon my attention was drawn to a copy of the EXAMINER of Wednesday last, in which appears a report of the proceedings of the School Board on the previous evening.

You are there represented as referring to a Church and Minister in town, I presume St. Andrew's is the Church, and myself the minister. Your are also represented as charging me with the very grave offence of garbling documents, and misrepresentation and dishonesty, of a very serious character, and I write this letter respectfully to ask—

1. Whether that report fairly represents your actual statements regarding me or not? And

2. Whether you are still prepared to stand by the statements of that report and to prove the charges therein made against me, of garbling documents, and misrepresentation and dishonesty?

A reply at your earliest convenience will greatly oblige,

Yours very truly,
ALEXANDER BELL.

PETERBOROUGH, 12th April, 1887.

Rev. A. Bell, Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—Your letter of the 11th inst. received, and in reply respectfully state. (1) That St. Andrew's Church is the Church, and that the Minister of that Church is the gentleman referred to; (2) That the report is as fair as usually given by reporters for newspapers; (3) That according to my judgment the said Minister, in reading extracts from the letters of Dr. Nelles and Principal Caven, did garble them and dishonestly endeavored to prove by said letters that those gentlemen were opposed to the use of the Scriptures selections in the schools. His idea and mine may differ as to what garbling is, but as I said that evening, I would consider a man garbling if in reading Romans 3rd chapter and 8th verse he only read, "Let us do evil that good may come," and if the Minister of St. Andrew's Church is not of that opinion, then he may have been honest in reading the extracts he did. When clergymen enter the political arena, and dress their thoughts in words, they may expect their public utterances will be criticised.

Yours very respectfully,
J. B. MCWILLIAMS.

PETERBOROUGH April 14th, 1887.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams, Peterborough:

Sir—yours of the 12th inst., in answer to mine of the 11th received. When I wrote you I hoped to find that, it was in a moment of forgetfulness and without duly considering the effect of your words that you had, at the meeting of the School Board, expressed yourself so freely concerning me. But from your letter now in my hands it is evident that your charges were carefully thought of and deliberately made. You now repeat them offering only as justification, a perfectly gratuitous assumption of your own, namely, that I have entered the "political arena," and should therefore, according to your notion, be prepared to submit to any insult which a political partisan may be pleased to offer me in the name of criticism. Permit me to say that you are as far from the truth in this particular as in your other statements complained of. I have not entered the "political arena" and St. Andrew's pulpit is not a political platform, and whether you like it or no, I claim for myself the utmost freedom to choose my own time and way to instruct my people and to take up and to discuss any questions of public interest that may arise concerning the religious and moral interests of the community, whether politicians are concerned or not. I cannot admit your opinions as a justification of the [illegible] charges [illegible] and I deny that there is any foundation for [illegible] charges of "dishonesty," "garbling documents, and misrepresentation" which you admit you openly preferred against me. And I emphatically repudiate your imputation that I used the letters of Dr. Nelles, Dewart and Caven, for [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

THE ENGLISH BUDGET

MR. GLADSTONE NOT FAVORABLY IMPRESSED WITH IT.

LONDON, April 25.—In the House of Commons to-day in Committee of the Budget, Mr. Gladstone contended that the main proposals of the budget were at variance with sound financial principles. Instead of being the humdrum budget which Mr. Goschen promised, it was one to be remembered in the future for good or for evil. If there was anything good in it the Unionists would have the credit and upon them would rest the responsibility for whatever was objectionable. Regarding the income tax, he said the reduction of a penny per pound would doubtless be a peculiar boon. At the same time the proposal was against sound financial principles because such a reduction should arise from a rigid system of public economy, not at the expense of the sinking fund. The House had been asked to reduce the fund from £7,000,000 to £5,000,000. It was the first time a proposal of this nature had been made in the history of the country, and it was made when the country was becoming richer than ever before. He believed the country was adding about £1,000,000 yearly to its savings, yet they were asked to shrink from the very moderate effort that had hitherto been made to provide a sinking fund in pursuance of a wise, broad policy that was supported by all financial authority. He hoped Mr. Goschen would not reply at once but give the House a chance of hearing his impartial judgment upon the matter apart from political or party issues. [Cheers.]

Mr. Goschen said he would reply later if Mr. Gladstone was present.

Lord Randolph Churchill praised the "weighty remarks" of Mr. Gladstone. Speaking as a true friend of the Government he must condemn the policy of making grants in aid of local taxation. Regarding the appropriation of the sinking fund he could add nothing to what had been said by Mr. Gladstone, in whose general criticism of the budget he fully concurred.

Mr. Goschen, referring to Mr. Gladstone's remarks, said that in taking a penny off the income tax the Government would benefit a class upon whom there was much pecuniary pressure. He adhered to all his former views as to the desirability of reducing the national debt, but he contended that his present proposals to relieve tax-payers and maintain the strength of the army and navy were more rural economies than those suggested by his opponents.

It is generally thought that Mr. Gladstone's attack upon Mr. Goschen's financial plans will cause the Government to modify its local loan proposals and probably its proposals relative to the tobacco duty, but it is believed the main features of the sinking fund and income tax reductions will be maintained.

Sir John Lubbock, Liberal Unionist, and Hugh Childers, Liberal, criticised the budget on the grounds taken by Mr. Gladstone. After further discussion the budget resolutions were agreed to.

The Letter in the Times.

LONDON, April 25.—In the House of Commons Mr. Sexton asked Mr. Broderick, Conservative, whether in a recent speech he had spoken of the "Times forgery" as Mr. Parnell's "letter." Mr. Broderick answered "Yes. In addressing any meeting on the subject I will call the letter Mr. Parnell's in the absence of any action in a court of law to disprove the statement." [Conservative cheers.]

Mr. Sexton asked whether, in view of the fact that Mr. Parnell has described the document as a villainous and barefaced forgery, Mr. Broderick was not committing a breach of privilege in so describing the letter.

Speaker Peel replied that the remarks of Mr. Broderick did not refer to anything done by Mr. Parnell in the House, and therefore the matter did not come within the definition of the breach of privilege. The House then went into committee on the budget.

A Break in the Anticosti Cable.

QUEBEC, April 25.—News has just been received at the signal bureau here that the cable connecting the Island of Anticosti with the mainland has parted. The length of the cable is thirty-eight miles. McHugh, superintendent of the signal service, states that the cable is likely not to be repaired for some time, owing to the large quantities of ice passing outward. The break is thought to be near shore. This accident will cause great inconvenience to the shipping trade, as in the case of wrecks no intelligence can be received, when at this season there is so much danger in the gulf.

THE JESUIT BILL.

Cardinal Taschereau Asks Mr. Mercier to Suspend Action Upon It.

QUEBEC, April 25.—Cardinal Taschereau has pronounced against the adoption of the Jesuit Bill by the Legislature, and His Eminence has written a letter signed by seven other bishops to Prime Minister Mercier requesting that further action on the measure be suspended until the Holy See can be consulted in reference to the matter. The bill has passed the second reading and will come before the Private Bills Committee in a day or two when the Cardinal's reasons will, in all probability, be more explicitly stated and consideration of the measure deferred. The bishops who signed the letter are Langevin of Rimouski, Racine of Chicoutimi, Racine of Sherbrooke, Moreau of St. Hyacinthe, Lafrain of Pontiac, Duhamel of Ottawa and Gravel of Nicolet. Lafleche of Three Rivers and Fabre of Montreal have not signed and are believed to be in favor of the measure.

THE CRUCIFIX BILL DEAD.

The Mover of it Withdraws It in Deference to Protestant Opinion.

QUEBEC, April 25.—In the Legislature this evening when the order for the second reading of Lemieux's bill, providing for the erection of crucifixes in all the courts of the province, was reached, the member for Levis asked leave to withdraw the measure owing to the protests it had evoked from the Protestant population. He hoped, however, to be able to reintroduce it at some future time when public opinion was riper on the subject. He instanced the cases of France, Belgium and Louisiana as countries where the question is found to be beloved in the past.

Premier Mercier and several other members congratulated Mr. Lemieux on his course, adding that in the present state of public feeling it was most unwise to do anything which would tar against the sympathies of the Protestants.

SUDDEN DEATH OF AN M.P.

The Member for Restigouche Found Dead in Bed at Teeswater.

TEESWATER, Ont., April 25.—Robert Moffat, Member of Parliament for Restigouche, who was on a visit to some friends in this vicinity, and was about returning, drove in yesterday and put up at Salyerd's Hotel with the purpose of taking an early train for the east this morning. On being called about 6.30 a.m., and no response being received, his room was opened and he was found dead in his bed. Life had been extinct some time before the discovery was made. He retired in apparently good health.

Deeply Regretted at the Capital.

OTTAWA, April 25.—The news of the terribly sudden death of Robert Moffat, M.P. for Restigouche, N.B., was received here about noon to-day and created a most profound feeling. Mr. Moffat was one of the favorites of the House with members of both political parties, and when the telegram announcing his death was read deep sorrow and regret was expressed on all sides. Deceased was a man in the prime of life, of robust constitution and apparently in good health. A son of the late George Moffat, M.P., he was born in Campbelltown, County of Restigouche, N.B., in 1846. The son of Scotch parents, he was sent home for his education, which was obtained at the Academy, Annan, Dumfriesshire, Scotland. In company with his brother he was largely engaged in marine and lumbering business, and was also one of the chief stockholders in the Restigouche Railway. He was first elected in the general elections of 1882, and again this year. In 1876 he married Margaret, the youngest daughter of David Sadler, crown land surveyor, a well known man in the province. The wife and four children are left. A few days ago the deceased complained of pains in the head, but got some medicine at a drug store, and little was thought of the matter either by himself or his friends. On Friday evening he went west to visit friends at Lucknow and Teeswater. No one could be in better spirits or apparently in better health than he whom he left here. The shock to those who traveled up to Toronto with him on Friday night will not soon be forgotten. No public reference to the sad event was made in the House to-day, but in private the members expressed their feeling freely. No ordinary member of the House will be more missed or more sincerely sorrowed for than the man who died in the darkness of the night in a strange place alone, separated by a thousand miles from those he loved.

Let the Bairnies Play.

Oh! let the bairnies play themsel's;
I like to hear their din,
I like to hear each restless foot
Come trippin' out and in,
I like to see each face sae bright,
And each wee heart sae gay;
They mind me o' my ain young days—
Oh! let the bairnies play!

Oh! dinna chock their sinless mirth,
Or mak' them dull and wae
Wi' gloomy looks or cankered words,
But let the bairnies play.
Auld dusce wise folks should ne'or forget
They ance were young as they,
As fu' o' fun and mischief, too—
Then let the bairnies play.

And never try to set a heid,
Wi' auld age grim and gray,
Upon a wee soft snawy neck—
No! let the bairnies play.
For, oh! there's nony a weary nicht
And many a wauful day
Before them, if God spare their lives—
Sae let the bairnies play.

SAVED FROM SUICIDE.

A Mr. Richardson, of Walkerton, Detained at the Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, April 25.—Friday morning a well-dressed man came here from Buffalo and registered at the Niagara House as J. Q. Richardson of Walkerton, Ont. While at supper he called the proprietor, Mr. J. V. Carr, into the dining room and told him he had lost $6000 in Buffalo and he came to the Falls to commit suicide. Mr. Carr saw at once that his guest was very nervous and tried to talk with him, but he jumped up and ran for the door followed by Carr. In the hall there was a struggle, but Richardson was conquered. A telephone despatch was sent to the police headquarters for an officer and when he came he had a despatch from the Superintendent of Police, Buffalo, to arrest Richardson, who had left his baggage at a hotel there, and said he was going to commit suicide. Mr. Carr did not wish to see the man locked up and offered a room in the house if the officer would say and take care of him. A telegram was sent to the man's friends at Walkerton, and yesterday afternoon Mr. E. Robinson arrived to take care of him. The two left for Buffalo with the intention of going from there to Walkerton. Richardson is evidently insane over loss of money in some speculation in Buffalo, and had it not been for the prompt action of Mr. Carr he would probably have jumped in the rapids.

He wore a dark tweed suit, a dark overcoat, a fur cap, a pair of top boots and a plaid scarf.

Church Fairs Denounced.

At a meeting of the Toronto Clerical Association yesterday morning this resolution, moved by Rev. Septimus Jones, seconded by Rev. J. F. Sweeney, was unanimously carried:

That while this association is not prepared to condemn the principle of utilizing the industry and skill of church members in producing articles to be sold for church objects, yet it is strongly of the opinion that public fairs, sales, bazaars, and such like should be discouraged; and that the proper method of raising money for church purposes is the inculcation of systematic giving, and a direct appeal to church people to contribute of their means "according as God hath prospered them."

Gentlemen of the Council: While in Ottawa His Excellency the Governor-General informed me that it was his intention to come to Toronto next week, and he proposed to remain some weeks here, to make himself better acquainted with our city and its interests. It is fitting that all classes should join in giving him a hearty welcome, and to make his visit as pleasant as we can possibly do, I would recommend that the Reception Committee be requested to take the necessary steps to welcome His Excellency on his arrival here.

On motion of Ald. Baxter the Council decided, on behalf of the citizens at large, and through His Worship the Mayor, to present an address of welcome to His Excellency the Governor-General upon the occasion of his forthcoming visit to this city, and the Reception Committee will do its share to make the welcome a success. A Monopoly in Washing.
From the Winnipeg Free Press.

There is a steam laundry in Winnipeg which does work regularly for parties as far as Edmonton. Collars and cuffs are mailed in tin boxes made for the purpose, and are sent back and forward with great regularity. It costs 36 cents to post a dollar wash, and as Edmonton does not support a laundry certain parties find it necessary to have collars and cuffs laundried over 1000 miles away.

THE INFANTICIDE EPIDEMIC.

The frequency with which, within a recent period, the bodies of murdered or abandoned infants have been discovered under circumstances which indicated a shocking degree of heartless cruelty, suggests the necessity of demanding much greater vigilance on the part of the authorities in the detection and punishment due the perpetrators of such crimes. Within the past fortnight there has been discovered the abandoned bodies of two infants In one of these cases the serious crime of concealment of birth was committed, and in the other, murder. There should be little difficulty, one would think, in a not very populous community, of discovering the guilty parties, and it is imperatively necessary that they should be unearthed. We have a presumably efficient police force, and the public will, in this connection, expect that the members thereof will show some reason for their retaining their positions. They have a little plain work before them, and if they fail to do the work, which is in the interests of justice, and of the good name of the town, necessary to be done, they cannot complain if public opinion insist that they give place to men who know their duties and will do them.

CANALS AND CANALS.

The proposal of the Dominion Government to build the Sault Ste. Marie Canal is not, in some respects, objectionable, but the circumstances connected with their mode of dealing with the project is after their usual mode and does not evince an intention on the Government's part to proceed with the work in a business-like manner, so much as for political effect. In the first place the amount proposed to be expended is insufficient—about one-fourth less than the Washington Government have appropriated for a somewhat similar canal on the American side of the Sault, but much less expensive of construction. The manner of beginning is strongly suggestive of the Government's mode of procedure in connection with the construction of the Trent Valley Canal, which has been made a political shuttle-cock—for the past half-dozen years, especially. In 1882 the Trent Valley Canal got an especial coddle under the Government's wing—Sir Charles Tupper going over the line of the proposed route, pronouncing the project feasible and officially pledging the Government to a vigorous prosecution of the enterprise. We all know how that promise has been kept, how the scheme has been used as a political lever for "boosting" several Government supporters into their Parliamentary seats. The Trent Valley Canal is as important, in a commercial sense, as the proposed Sault Ste. Marie Canal. In fact, it is a most important complement of the western portion of the C. P. R. system, and of any system of water route from Port Arthur to the seaboard. The opening of the Sault Ste. Marie Canal will not quicken the transit of North-west grain by water to Montreal, whereas the completion of the Trent Valley Canal would make the water route much shorter. By way of the great lakes and the Welland Canal the distance to tide-water from Port Arthur is several hundred miles longer—nearly the combined lengths of Lakes Erie and Ontario—than the distance between the same points by way of the Trent Valley Canal would be. The greater the facilities for placing the grain products of the North-west on the market, the more rapid will be the development of that country. The development of the North-west means prosperity for the older parts of Canada, which will find there a market for its manufactured products, which will warrant their expansion to a degree compared to which their present extent is but infancy. In every way the Trent Valley Canal is a great national enterprise and the persistent neglect it receives at the hands of the Government is a shameful disregard of the national nature of the policy which it is claimed characterizes the Conservative party. Of the $48,201,300 spent upon the canals of Canada, in the past, not a thousandth part of that sum has been spent on the canal in which this district, as well as the whole Dominion, is so directly interested. At the Opera House during the recent visit of Dominion ministers the Trent Valley canal was one of the public enterprises which the government (before the election) was to prosecute with its peculiar national policy spirit, yet we find the government pledging to spend millions on a new canal enterprise, not commercially so urgent as the one which they have so persistently neglected.

THE President of the Ottawa Conservative Association last year obtained over $12,000 from the Dominion Government for "legal services," Talk about "fat sheriffships" after that. That is an amount of boodle, in excess of the total amount of the election fund of the Liberal party at the last general election. It is no wonder that the Conservatives can command such princely election funds—when the faithful are papped so prodigally, that a small percentage of their boodle makes a formidable showing.

A Clerico-Lay Contention.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams' Rejoinder.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner.

DEAR SIR,

The Rev. Mr. Bell, Pastor of St. Andrew's Church, not satisfied with prostituting the pulpit of that church by delivering political addresses on the Sabbath, garbling public documents, and misrepresenting the acts of the leading clergymen of the Protestant denominations, now rushes into print and attacks me in a most unchristian spirit for having the courage to expose him. Had he acted under the advice given in one of my letters to him, he would have pursued a different course. Mr. Bell says I am no gentleman because I refused to withdraw the statement I made at the School Board. I believed then, and do now believe, every statement made by me to be true, and for that reason refused to say what was untrue either at the request or dictation of the Pastor of St. Andrew's Church. I am rather pleased to known that Mr. Bell does not consider me a gentleman, for our opinions are just as different on what constitutes a gentleman as they are on the subject under discussion. If after passing through the Universities of the Mother Land, and being polished up by so many learned Professors, he considers it a gentlemanly act to publish private correspondence without asking permission of the writer, then what a rough specimen of humanity he must have been when in his crude state. Mr. Bell also accuses me of being lacking in courage; that is one thing my bitterest enemies will not say against me. What troubles his Lordship is that I had the courage to show him up in his true colours. In my first letter did I not answer him in such plain English that there could be no doubt of my meaning, and I reiterate every word I have said, and if that is not satisfactory, and he will suggest any plainer or stronger language, I will accommodate him by using it. In my second letter did I not refuse to withdraw the statements made, and tell him to shape his course as he thought best, and could any man ask more advantage than that. If he has chosen the newspaper, then I hope he is satisfied, if so he is easily pleased. Mr. Bell says that I have libelled him, if so, he knows where to ask for redress. He has chosen one battle-ground. I have no objection to giving him a second choice and if his honor is not satisfied then, will not object to giving him a third. Mr. Bell says I have or could have got all the documents in connection with this discussion. Yes, I had all the documents, and it was because I had carefully studied them that I was able to detect him in his garbling. No man in this country would resist the encroachments of the Church of Rome, or any other Church, on our public institutions more determinedly than I would, but at the same time I would not deny my Roman Catholic countrymen any privilege I enjoy; I wish Canada to be the freest country in the world and have all men placed on an equal footing, no matter how they may see fit to worship their God. Why did not Mr. Bell tell his hearers that the school law gave the clergymen of all denominations time each week to give religious instruction to the children in the schools, and that, although his residence is only a few hundred yards from any of the schools in Peterborough, yet he does not avail himself of that privilege. It cannot be that his duties are so great in visiting the families in connection with his small congregation that it is impossible for him to spare the time. Compare his actions with that of the Minister of Education, with whom he finds so much fault. Notwithstanding all his duties as the head of the most important department in the Ontario Government, he goes to Strathroy every week to teach his Bible class. Look at the consistency of this gentleman in attacking the Scripture Selections. Did he not for a long period prepare selections for the Peterborough schools, and it is not likely we would ever have heard a word about Scripture Selections had he been chosen a member of the committee that prepared them.

What a pitiful sight it is to see a gentleman of Mr. Bell's ability and education, and pastor of a church, floundering in the manner he is doing in endeavoring to extricate himself from the humiliating position he placed himself in, on account of his belief that party exigencies demanded the delivering of a political address on the Sabbath. Mr. Bell claims that he has not been behind the scenes and leaves the impression that politicians cannot be honest. Well I hold a different view, I think a politician can be as good a Christian as a Clergyman, and I am willing he should consider me a politician of twenty years, standing and himself a Clergyman of twenty years and then leave the public to judge by the correspondence which has passed between us, which has shown the most Christian spirit; the politician or the pastor of St. Andrew's church.

Yours truly,
J. B. McWILLIAMS.

Oregon Weather.

A Former Peterborughian Heard From.

The following extract from a private letter received from Mr. Nicholas Steele, late of Douro, now of Polk County, Oregon, was written under date of April 1st, and the state of things then obtaining, as to crops and weather is in somewhat a sharp contrast to the weather prevailing in this vicinity:

"We are having lovely spring weather. Our spring wheat is about 3 inches high. I am busy sowing oats and ploughing summer-fallow. The fruit trees are in full bloom—peaches, cherries, plumbs, and such like. My fall wheat that I pastured all winter with 300 sheep and 40 hogs has grown very rank, and I believe will be too rank. I have 160 acres of it. I am sending you a paper and inclosed in it you will find wild strawberry blossoms, wild flowers, cherry, &c. If it is not too much trouble, would you show them to Mr. Roper, Mr. A. Hall, and Mr. Stratton, M.P.P."

HOME RULE DEBATE.

THE CURRAN RESOLUTIONS WILL PROBABLY BE ADOPTED.

OTTAWA, April 24.—Yesterday and to-day the Capital has been comparatively deserted. Most of the Senators have gone home on their three weeks' holiday, while as many of the faithful Commons as could conveniently go and return in three days left by the late trains on Friday night or by the early trains Saturday. Of these latter all will be back to-morrow. There are few members of the Commons who will care to miss the Home Rule vote.

A conversation I had with a prominent member opposed to the Curran resolutions seemed to me to place the matter in a nutshell. I asked if in a modified form, with objectionable words eliminated, Mr. Curran's resolutions would not be satisfactory, he said emphatically, "No. This matter of interference with the Imperial Government is not only dangerous but it has come to stay. We have had Home Rule resolutions in the past, we have them before us now, we will have them again next year and the year after and the year after that. The question has to be faced and I propose to record a vote against any pronunciation whatever upon any subject outside our own immediate jurisdiction."

So think scores of M.P.'s, though many will, perhaps, not have the courage to record their votes in accordance with their convictions, but will accept any compromise that will relieve them of present embarrassment. On the other hand the Home Rulers cling to the position so forcibly enunciated by Mr. Blake, that Canada being an integral portion of the Empire, what concerns any portion of that Empire concerns all, and is a proper subject, not only of debate, but for the expression of an opinion on the part of any legislative body in any part of the Empire—in other words that the people of any portion of the Empire have the undoubted right through their representatives, in a constitutional way, to take the action indicated. These latter are at present undoubtedly in the majority.

The vote will probably be reached to-morrow. There is little doubt but that Mr. Blake's suggestion of a modification of the resolutions first introduced will be adopted, in fact Mr. Curran has privately already expressed himself favorable to such a course. So amended the resolutions will carry by a large majority, but there may be a split in the ranks on the question of whom they are to be sent to. It is possible that Mr. McNeill may withdraw his amendment in favor of that submitted by Mr. McCarthy, though of this there is no certainty.

The member for Centre Toronto is carrying around in his pocket an amendment which he evinces a disposition to submit. It endorses the principle of Home Rule, demands legislative freedom for all the peoples of the earth, calls attention to the wrongs of the inhabitants of Alsace and Lorraine, protests against their continued political disability, and winds up by resolving to transmit the amendment to Lord Salisbury with a request that he forward a copy of the same to Prince Bismarck. The receipt of such a document by the irascible German chancellor would surely form a spectacle for gods and men. It is not at all likely, however, that that chance will be afforded.

The Home Rule debate has so far, as probably will be the case to the end, been remarkable by the fact that the weight of debate has been largely with those who oppose the resolutions. Remarkable at least, when compared with the unanimity with which somewhat similar resolutions were voted a year ago. It is true that Mr. Blake's deliverance was all that his warmest admirer could desire. It was eloquent, argumentative, forcible and practical. He made out the best case there was to be made and created a strong impression

JAKE SHARP TO BE TRIED.

The Prince of the New York Boodlers to be Called to the Bar.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Jake Sharp will be called to the bar of the Court of Oyer and Terminer at 11 o'clock Monday morning and a motion will be made by District Attorney Martine that an early day be fixed for the trial of the chief of the indicted bribe-givers. The trial will probably begin a week from Monday before Justice Barrett. Preparations for this trial have been long continued on the part of the District Attorney and his assistants. Ex-Ald. Chas. H. Waite and other persons who are familiar with some of the corrupt schemes of the promoters of the Broadway "cable" have been carefully examined as to facts to which they could testify and the case has been thoroughly considered so that the prosecution may be prepared to meet any possible line of defense which may develop at the trial. Startling testimony is expected on both sides.

"Some said, John print it, others said Not so." "Some said it might do good, others said No." If the discoverer of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy had shared the senseless prejudices of a certain class of physicians he would have refused to print the good news, to proclaim to the world the glorious tidings that a infallible remedy for that most loathesome disease, catarrh, had been discovered. But he advertised liberally and the result has justified him in the course he pursued. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy never fails. All druggists. 6dw17

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Constipation, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symtoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. eodw4

From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. PIERCE thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

DEAR SIR,—I am pleased to be able to state to you that I am now free from Catarrh. It is almost incredible that in so short a time I could have been cured of Catarrh, which has affected my health for years. A little over two months ago I took treatment from you, and to-day the Catarrh is entirely cured. Your treatment is simply a marvel. I will heartily recommend any of my friends personally, and would suggest to all thus troubled the advisability, of consulting you immediately. Accept my most thanks.

Yours etc.,

Wilful Murder.

The inquest over the infant found last week was continued last night, and the jury returned as verdict of "wilful murder" against parties whose names are at the request of the Coroner, and in the interests of justice, for the present withheld.

Weddings.

As May is considered an unlucky month for weddings, those contemplating matrimony had better avail themselves of April and tell their friends to patronize China Hall for wedding presents.

Locked a Quorum.

The following members of the Town Council put in an appearance for the meeting called for last night: Messrs. Cahill, Davidson, McNaughton, McNeil, Stenson, Moore and Douglass. There being no quorum, the meeting could not be held.

Legal Intelligence.

The following appears in Saturday's record of business at Osgoode Hall, Toronto:—

The Prize Article.

Mr. Alexander Cooper has been awarded by the judges, Rev. Messrs. Torrance and Wallace, the $5 gold piece offered by the W. C. T. U. for the best essay on "Temperance" by a pupil of the Collegiate Institute.

A Diver at Work.

Mr. Robert Scriver, a professional diver from Peterborough, says the Fenelon Falls Gazette, arrived at the Falls last Monday, and has since been at work, more or less every day, under water, making preparations for the erection of the lock gates. In his diving suit he is frightful enough to walk in perfect safety through the loneliest churchyard at midnight, for any prowling ghost that met him would inevitably be scared into fits.

The Midland Railway.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Midland Railway Company was held at the station here this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The following gentlemen, all of whom were present except Messrs. Hickson and Dwight, were elected officers and directors:—

PRESIDENT.—J. Hickson.
FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT.—Geo. A. Cox.
SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT.—W. Gooderham.
DIRECTORS.—Messrs. R. Jaffray, J. M. Ferris, J. R. Dundas, F. W. Hendshaw, E. S. Vindin, H. P. Dwight and W. Wainwright.

Remembering Old Friends.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Walkey, Water street, who recently removed to town from Baillieboro', were surprised upon receiving through Mr. W. A. Sanderson, jeweler, from whom it was purchased, a handsome block mantle clock, bearing this inscription: "Presented to Mr. and Mrs. Walkey on leaving Baillieboro', by the congregation of Christ Church; April, 1887." The gift was also accompanied by the following address:

"Please accept the accompanying timepiece as a slight token of the esteem in which you were held in Christ Church, Baillieboro', with sincerest wishes for your future prosperity. Signed on behalf of the congregation.—C. FAIR, A. C. MAYCOCK."

Miss Anna Fay.

"The Grand Opera house was crowded with people on Saturday evening to see illustrations given by Miss Anna Fay, the spirit medium. Miss Fay's manager, before the commencement of the programme, announced that in order to prevent any difficulty Miss Fay would not claim that anything done on the stage was accomplished through the agency of spirits and neither would she deny it, and that no discussion between the audience and the stage would be permitted. Mr. Thomas McGaw and Mr. W. R. Meredith acted as a vigilance committee on behalf of the audience. The small boys in the gallery, by a number of judicious questions as to the whereabouts of certain articles on the stage, caused the Leader of the Opposition to fly around in ludicrous and most undignified positions. On the whole Miss Fay created quite a furore, and her future success in Canada is beyond question." The above is what the Toronto Globe has to say about Miss Fay's seance which she gives at the Opera House to-night.

The Club's Emblem.

At a meeting of the Otonabee Canoe Club held last evening about 30 new members were admitted, and other business transacted, probably the most important of which was the selection of an emblem for the club, which looks a good deal like this:—

The above cut is supposed to represent a rampant feline mouser, not Bill Nye's either but the sole copyrighted, patented property of this club.

Evangelistic Services.

Evangelistic services are being held at the South Ward Mission School by Mr. Rich, an evangelist who has been labouring in this vicinity for some time and with success. On Thursday evening last he spoke to a large company from the text "Come thou and all thy House into the Ark." He made a powerful appeal to the unconverted to come to Jesus and at the close, one penitent came forward and testified to the power of the gospel message. On Friday evening his address was directed mainly to building up Christian character and exhorting them to work in the Lord's vineyard. Sunday afternoon at half-past 2 o'clock he held another service which was earnestly listened to and deep impressions were made. At 7 o'clock he took for his text "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul." He warned young men against the card and billiard tables, and strong drink, etc. He gave some striking examples of the sad end of those that were addicted to these vices and closed a service lasting over two hours with an earnest invitation to seekers after salvation to come forward and to continue in prayer until they found rest. His address was listened to by a large audience who are in deep sympathy with him. Monday night he spoke from the subject "Jesus at Lazarus grave." He gave a pathetic and beautiful description of the home and life of that family, and after a two hours service concluded with a powerful appeal to all those present to labor on in the cause. A Mid-day Blaze.

A Fire in Porter Bros. Carriage Factory —The Loss pulmonarily Covered by Insurance.

About 12.30 to day smoke was seen issuing from the top windows of north-eastern corner of Porter Bros. fine carriage factory on the corner of Aylmer and Charlotte streets, and the alarm was at once given. In a few minutes the firemen had three good streams of water playing on the flames, which, though having a good start, were in less than half an hour totally subdued, but not before the building was pretty well gutted. The fire is is supposed to have started from the stove in the paint shop. A considerable portion of the contents of the warerooms in the lower storey was saved, but the contents of the second and attic storeys were pretty well destroyed. In the latter was stored, in finished state, ready to be put together for delivery, a large portion of the ordered work, which has been under construction for the past year, bodies, gears, wheels, etc., and in addition to the actual loss of material and finished work, there will be the added loss of derangement and stoppage of business. But the enterprise of the firm will reduce this to a minimum for before an hour from the begining of the fire, the skating rink had been secured to be converted into paint shops and store rooms. The actual loss of Messrs. Porter Bros. is difficult to arrive at, but it is supposed to be covered by an insurance of $2,500—$500 in the Western, $1,000 in the Fire Insurance Association, and $1,000 in the Royal. The building, owned by Mr. Fitzgerald, which is pretty well gutted, was protected by $1,500 in the Phenix of Brooklyn, and $1,000 in another company.

Mr. M. O'Brien, whose meat shop was in the north-east corner of the building, suffered a small loss from water and the removal of stock.

No finer gent's goods to be had in Canada than Dack & Son's. Leave your order at KIDD'S.

Rifle Association Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Rifle Association, was held in the drill shed on Friday last, 22nd inst., when a large number of members was present. After usual routine business, the Secy.-Treas. presented his report, shewing the Association to be in a flourishing condition. The financial statement was reported correct by the auditors, showing a small balance on hand after an expenditure of over six hundred dollars in prizes &c., for the year. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

PRESIDENT.—Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers, re-elected.

VICE-PRESIDENTS.—Rev. V. Clementi, Lt.-Col. J. Z. Rogers, re-elected.

SECY-TREAS.—Major R. W. Bell re-elected.

COUNCIL.—W. H. Hill, D. Cameron, W. A. Mason.

It was decided to again affiliate with the Ontario Rifle Association, also to have a series of monthly matches on the first Thursdays in June, July, August and September, for the O. R. A. medal and prizes of ammunition. Extra prizes to be provided for the August match. The annual matches to take place as usual in the fall. The secretary was instructed to apply to the Government for the use of ten Martini-Henry rifles for practice. A marker will be on the range every Thursday afternoon during the season, commencing with first Thursday in May.

Personal.

W. A. Hurley, who has been in Mr. John Garvey's employ during the past two years, returned from London last evening, to take charge of the business here, owing to the resignation of the late manager, Mr. P. J. Quinn, because of ill-health. This promotion speaks well for Mr. Hurley's abilities, and we wish him continued success.

LATEST SPORTING GOSSIP.

SCRANTON, Pa., April 25. The Torontos of the International League played fine ball with the Scrantons of the Pennsylvania State League this afternoon. Only one fielding error was charged against them, and that was made by Gilman in the fifth inning, when he allowed a run to come in on an over-throw to second base.

Davis' pitching was very effective, only six hits being secured off him, while Trafley supported him in a first-class manner. Two passed balls charged against the latter were not of serious consequence, as the Scrantonians only secured bases off them. The score was 13 to 4 in Toronto's favor, Slattery making four of the runs. His home run in the fourth inning was secured by a single and through two bad fielding errors of the home team. The visitors stole bases in the boldest manner, while it was almost impossible for the home players to do so with Davis in the box. In the first inning the Torontos obtained a big lead by securing six runs, four of which were earned. Including bases on balls, Torontos had thirteen base hits and the home club twelve. Score:

	R.
Scranton	0 1 0 0 2 0 1 0 0—4
Toronto	6 1 0 3 1 1 1 0 *—13

Batteries—Scranton, Dix and Burke; Toronto, Davis and Trafley. Earned runs—Scranton 2, Toronto 6. Two base hit—Dailey. Home run—Slattery. Stolen bases—Scranton 6, Toronto 14. Base on balls—Scranton 6, Toronto 4. Struck out—Scranton 2, Toronto 1. Left on bases—Scranton 6, Toronto 8. Hit by pitcher—Dix, Fratz 2. Time 1 hour 50 minutes. Umpire—Wm. Hoover.

Baseball Yesterday.

BUFFALO, April 25.—At Brooklyn the Baltimores were defeated by 16 to 10 in a six-innings game to-day. Darkness at the end of the sixth put a stop to further play. Knouff started in to pitch for Baltimore, but was wild and easily found on good balls, and after five innings was relieved by Somers, who was not more successful. Except for slugging on both sides the game was tame. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	0 5 1 3 1 5—16	16	2
Baltimore	0 2 1 2 4 1—10	13	3

Batteries: Brooklyn, Henderson, and O'Brien; Baltimore, Knouff and Somers and Daniels.

At Philadelphia the Athletics had a soft snap with the Mets and the Staten Island representatives were daubed with whitewash laid on thick, due to the ineffective work of their pitcher, Shafer, and the splendid work of Seward for the Athletics. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Athletics	1 8 7 0 0 0 2 0 0—13	19	3

Pitchers: Seward for Athletic, Shafer for the Mets.

At New York the league Giants defeated the Jaspers, a crack local nine, by six to nothing. Rusch pitched a good game for the Giants.

At Boston the league club defeated the Haverhills by 29 to 10. Boston made 19 runs in the first three innings off Pitcher Schumaker, who was then relieved by Lally, and the game proceeded on even terms. Conway's work for Boston did not receive much commendation from the spectators.

A Montreal Opinion of the C. L. A.

The Montreal Gazette, the organ of the National Amateur Lacrosse Association, has considerable to say about the new Canadian Lacrosse Association. It cannot congratulate the C.L.A., which it considers is built on a basis of antagonism to the N.A.L.A., although it expresses a wish for its success in the hope that the national game will be promoted. The Gazette doesn't believe the Toronto Club to be honest in alleging that it was ill-treated by the N.A.L.A.; but it believes that the Torontos, "to gain a first class club (the Ontarios), have evidently given terms to a taskmaster than A. Rose), who will make them do a very lively dance before they are rid of him." It further thinks that the new association has not the material it should have to be successful, and that it was cheeky to call it the "Canadian" Association and "ape the work of the N.A.L.A." Then it says: "The new president, Major R. R. Hamilton, is a man against whom no one can say a word, and if the management of the new association were all like him its future might be looked forward to with confidence. But are they?"

But where the Gazette gets in its work in the line of abuse is in its reference to Mr. Rose who, it says, "used the Ontarios' standing as a first-class club to play fast and loose, or in other words make terms with the Torontos," for the reason that he wanted his club to leave the N.A.L.A., which will now be put to the expense of another convention because of the Ontarios' sudden withdrawal. The election of F.H. Gerry as Secretary-Treasurer of the C.L.A. is terribly riling to the Gazette. In winding up its notice of Mr. Rose the organ says: "The truth of the matter is that Dan A. Rose is out of the N.A.L.A. for its benefit. . . . Dan A. Rose may publicly hear as many plain truths as he was privately told when down in Montreal."

FROM
J. J. SHEEHY.
I beg to say that contrary to announcements which appeared in the Peterborough papers for the past two months, I do not intend to remove to T. Dolan & Co's Dry Goods Store, nor have I any connections whatever with that establishment. The final arrangements not being satisfactory to me, I withdraw from the projected change, and intend carrying on the Dry Goods business in my usual stand next to Loch's Hat Store.
It is my intention in the future as in the past to show at all seasons nothing but new and fresh goods in the various lines of Dry Goods and Gents' furnishings; and by doing so, hope to retain that confidence, which, I am proud to say, I have enjoyed from the public since commencing business two years ago. d&w

OTTAWA NEWS.
OTTAWA, April 26.

It is rumored about the lobbies to-day that Sir John Rose is about to be raised to the Peerage. This will be interesting and gratifying intelligence to Canadians, among whom he lived for so long a time. Sir John was married a few months since to the dowager Marchioness of Tweedale.

It is not believed here that Mr. Dewdney will be reappointed to the Lieutenant-Governorship of the Northwest. It is expected that the same interdiction rule which prevented Lieutenant-Governor Robinson from being reappointed in Ontario will apply to Mr. Dewdney.

Mr. A. P. Macdonald of Toronto is in the city seeking a land grant for the projected railway with which he is connected—the Winnipeg and Northern Pacific Road. He wants 6400 acres a mile from Winnipeg to Lac La Biche, 10,000 acres a mile from there to Peace River and 12,-000 acres a mile from Peace River to Fort Simpson. If he is successful 100 miles will be constructed this summer.

The Clemow syndicate are getting ready for action on the Northwest Central Road. The head of the company told me to-day that they would have 500 men at work at Brandon in ten days.

The budget speech need not be looked for this week. The Finance Minister has received scores of deputations. Their views have to be considered, reconciled and the necessary changes decided upon and the necessary arrangements made. As soon as this can be done the budget will come down, but it will take a little time.

The Debates papers are not ready yet. On Saturday 680 pages extra came in, adding immensely to the job. Work is going on, however, day and night, and there is hope that they may be got ready to-morrow.

A great crowd of the members who went out of town on Friday night came back to-day, but still there were many vacant seats in the House. Of the Western members nearly all returned except Dalton McCarthy, who was detained on legal business, but is coming down to-night. Mr. Rykert, who has been absent through illness, is here again.

Secretary Hill of the Industrial Exhibition Association was here to day in connection with the Dominion grant to the exhibition this year. He saw Mr. Carling with regard to the grant, Mr. Pope with regard to railway matters, Mr. McLelan with reference to postoffice arrangements, Mr. Howell regarding custom matters and started back home on the evening train, grieving that he could not see Mr. Thompson and get the legal right to keep barrels of beer on the ground.

Representatives of Bryan, Gibson & Co., wholesale pickers, and Moses Denny, manufacturer of blacking, Hamilton, interviewed the Finance Minister to-day with reference to the tariff on their goods.

Mr. Patterson, representative of Miller & Richard, type founders in Toronto, is here with an eye to the new Government printing office.

MEXICAN DEPRAVITY.

The Horrible Deed of Three Policemen of Paincourt.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 21.—A despatch from the City of Mexico gives an account of a horrible affair committed in the city of Patzcuaro last Wednesday night. The wife of Juan Ramierez was the belle of the town, and a great favorite. Three policemen entered into a plot to outrage her, and on the night mentioned went to Ramierez's house, which is in the suburbs, entered his bedroom and butchered him. The spouting blood deluged the wife as she lay beside her husband and she fainted. After Ramierez was dead they restored the wife to consciousness and then carried out their hellish plot, leaving the poor woman almost dead. The men fled to the interior on horseback, but two of them were captured and the third will be, as the whole country was aroused and intense excitement prevailed.

Again There are Rumors of War.

BERLIN, April 21.—The activity shown in military circles during the past few days, and the fact that large numbers of soldiers have traveled over the railways en route to join their respective regiments, have given rise to fresh war rumors, and caused much uneasiness. It is semi-officially explained, however, that all this activity is due solely to the fact that the reserves have been called out for the usual spring drill.

A Montreal Opinion of the C. L. A.

The Montreal Gazette, the organ of the National Amateur Lacrosse Association, has considerable to say about the new Canadian Lacrosse Association. It cannot congratulate the C.L.A., which it considers is built on a basis of antagonism to the N.A.L.A., although it expresses a wish for its success in the hope that the national game will be promoted. The Gazette doesn't believe the Toronto Club to be honest in alleging that it was ill-treated by the N.A.L.A.; but it believes that the Torontos, "to gain a first class club (the Ontarios), have evidently given terms to a taskmaster (Dan A. Rose), who will make them do a very lively dance before they are rid of him." It further thinks that the new association has not the material it should have to be successful, and that it was cheeky to call it the "Canadian" Association and "ape the work of the N.A.L.A." Then it says: "The new president, Major H. B. Hamilton, is a man against whom no one can say a word, and if the management of the new association were all like him its future might be looked forward to with confidence. But are they?"

But where the Gazette gets in its work in the line of abuse is in its reference to Mr. Rose who, it says, "used the Ontarios' standing as a first-class club to play fast and loose, or in other words make terms with the Tuscaloras," for the reason that he wanted his club to leave the N.A.L.A., which will now be put to the expense of another convention because of the Ontarios' sudden withdrawal. The election of E.H. Gerry as Secretary-Treasurer of the C.L.A. is terribly riling to the Gazette. In winding up its notice of Mr. Rose the organ says: "The truth of the matter is that Dan A. Rose is out of the N.A.L.A. for its benefit. . . . Dan A. Rose may publicly bear as many plain truths as he was privately told when down in Montreal."

COMMERCIAL UNION.

A Letter from Professor Goldwin Smith on the Subject.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Prof. Goldwin Smith has written a letter, which appears in the New York Times this morning, on the attitude of Great Britain in regard to the question of a possible commercial union between the United States and Canada, as foreshadowed in the Butterworth Bill. The letter is in response to a question put to the Professor by Erastus Wiman. It is as follows:

APRIL 19, 1887.

MY DEAR WIMAN,—The question is naturally asked, as you say, whether the consent of Great Britain could be obtained to a measure of complete reciprocity which would involve an assimilation of tariffs between Canada and the United States. Certainly the Canadians, as loyal Colonists, who have every reason to feel grateful and attached to their Mother Country, would not act in defiance of her wishes. For my own part, being British to the core, I would never vote for anything which I thought in the least degree at variance with the interest or honor of Great Britain. But Canada has already been taken, formally as well as practically, out of the commercial unity of the Empire by Sir John Macdonald, who has declared that he is for fiscal home rule to the hilt. Fiscal independence was formally conceded to the Colonies some time ago, when the Imperial Government determined not to interfere with the adoption by an Australian colony of a protective tariff. Canada already levies duties, avowedly protective, on British goods, and her adoption of the American scale would make no great difference, as it appears to me, either practically or in point of principle. It is not a matter, I imagine, about which the commercial classes of England, who took the change in the Canadian tariff coolly enough, would feel very strongly, or call loudly on their Government to interfere. That the one great interest of England on this side of the Atlantic is the friendship of the English-speaking community of this continent has been my firm belief, and though I, of course, speak with no authority, I feel a sanguine expectation that this argument, pressed by those whose attachment to Great Britain cannot be questioned, will prevail with British statesmen, and that the consent of the Imperial Government to free trade between Canada and the United States will be obtained. The voice of Canada in the councils of her own continent is really the best support which she can ever lend to England, either on commercial questions or on questions of any other kind.

FELL THROUGH A BRIDGE.

A Freight Train Smashed to Atoms Near Morrisburg.

MORRISBURG, Ont., April 22.—A terrible railway accident occurred one mile east of here this morning, about 4 o'clock. Nash's Creek, now a foaming stream, is here spanned by an iron bridge, resting on two stone piers. A freight train going west went through the bridge, carrying the engineer and fireman to instant death. A brakeman was thrown into the creek, but was rescued nearly dead. Thirteen loaded cars were piled into the gorge and smashed to atoms. The driver's name is Stewart. It is said that the bridge was inspected last week and pronounced safe. The supposition is that the stone piers had been undermined by frost. The loss will be very heavy. Express trains had crossed the bridge only an hour before, and the morning express from Toronto was to pass the unfortunate train here.

The Cause a Mystery.

MORRISBURG, April 22.—The piers of the bridge at which the freight train was wrecked this morning have been examined and found sound. The cause of the collapse of the bridge is a mystery.

AN ATTEMPT TO MURDER.

A Farm Laborer Assails His Employer With an Axe.

OTTAWA, April 22.—A young man named Robert McIver, who made a murderous attack on Farmer John Hunt near Duncanville yesterday, was captured last evening and brought to the city to-day. He will be removed to L'Orignal this evening. McIver was employed as a servant by Hunt. Yesterday morning about 8 o'clock he was engaged in cutting wood with an axe. As Hunt was passing into the house McIver struck him with the axe on the shoulders, cutting clean down to the lung, inflicting a most horrible wound. Hunt sank under the blow and McIver stood over him with the axe and aimed another blow as he rose, but Hunt, dodging his assailant, slipped and fell, and he escaped into the house. McIver, who is only about 19 years of age, came from Liverpool, England, two years ago.

WHERE THE PHAT CAME IN.

Competitors on a French Paper at Montreal Charged With Swindling.

MONTREAL, April 20.—A sensation was caused to-day in journalistic circles when it became known that the foreman and six compositors of a French contemporary had been discharged for being implicated in a wholesale boodling combine against the proprietors of the paper. For months past the compositors in question made fraudulent returns of the amount of their composition during the week, which were knowingly accepted by the foreman and entered in his weekly composition account. By this means the paper was defrauded out of at least $60 a week. The fraud was discovered by means of an anonymous letter to the manager of the paper. All six were taken before the Police Magistrate, but at his request sentence was suspended. It is said the fraud will entail a loss of over $1000.

A ROYAL TOURIST.

The Queen of Hawaii on Her Way to Take Part in Victoria's Jubilee.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Queen Kapiolani of the Hawaiian kingdom arrived here this morning from Honolulu. She was accompanied by Princess Lilliuokalani and a number of high officials of the Hawaiian Government. The principal object of the Queen's voyage, is to be present at Queen Victoria's Jubilee celebration in London in June next. The royal party remain here about a week, when they leave for Washington to pay their respects to President and Mrs. Cleveland. After a short stay at the Capital they proceed to New York and thence to London. Before returning the Queen will also visit the principal cities of the world. She has never before been outside of her native kingdom.

Fleeing From a Troubled Land.

LIVERPOOL, April 21.—The arrival of emigrants en route to the United States have attained such unusual magnitude that many extra steamers are to be employed to transport them hence, the capacity of regular liners being entirely inadequate.

Making a Tour of the World.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Prince Leopold Frederick of Prussia, a nephew of Emperor William, and Prince Esterhazy of Austria, and their suites, arrived here to-day from Japan on the steamer City of Japan. They are making a tour of the world.

The Socialists to Coalesce.

CHICAGO, April 22.—It is asserted that the three socialistic organizations of the United States are about to coalesce. The three, it is said, will join forces and form one body with a general executive board, and, as a unit, will take part in all political fights—municipal, state and national.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

A Budget of News from the Queen City—Shooting Affray—Anniversary Services.

TORONTO, April 25.

The Trades and Labor Council held a special meeting Saturday night to select a lecturer to go to England and persuade mechanics not to come to Canada. Nothing was done, as the representative bodies had not reported funds for the undertaking. A committee was appointed to bring the matter before workingmen, and the meeting adjourned until Friday night.

Mr. William Davidson returned on Saturday morning from a very pleasant trip to British Columbia, where he spent nearly three months. He speaks highly of the C.P.R., its cars and its treatment of its patrons. He is particularly enthusiastic about the treatment because he was enjoyed in for thirteen days near Donald on the return trip, and every passenger, whether first or second-class, was served with the best of everything that could be procured.

Mr. Davidson says that the British Columbians do not speak in anything like a fraternal spirit of their fellow countrymen eastwards. In fact they do not consider themselves Canadians, but speak of us people in this part of the Dominion as "The Canadians."

At high mass at St. Michael's Cathedral yesterday morning His Grace the Archbishop referred to O'Brien's proposed visit. He said that a man was coming to this country to lecture against the Governor-general, a proceeding which would only cause bad feeling and trouble. His Grace did not want to see this take place and he had cabled to Archbishop Walsh of Dublin asking him to use his influence to prevent O'Brien's coming.

Allan Hardwick an engineer, aged about 45, lies at his home, 19 Tate-street with a bullet in the side of his head, and George Dowe, a gardener, once a bartender, is in jail awaiting his trial on the charge of shooting him. The affair occurred at about 11 o'clock on Friday night outside Dowe's house at 12 Maple-street. Dowe's wife, it seems, formerly lived with Hardwick as his wife. Hardwick had been drinking on Friday night and went up to Dowe's house, where he commenced raising a row by smashing the windows. He would not go away when told to, so Dowe fired shots at him, one striking him on the cheek-bone and lodging somewhere in the side of the head.

Hardwick went to the house of Dr. Doolittle, 237 Front-street east, where the wound was attended to but the bullet could not be traced. Sergeant Gregory was notified and took Hardwick home. Hardwick says that the shooting took place on Wilton-avenue near Sherbourne-street, but this is not believed. Last night the bullet was still in his head and he was in a rather serious condition.

The Independent Order of Oddfellows celebrated their sixty-eighth anniversary yesterday by walking in procession to Berkeley-street Methodist Church at 3.30, where Rev. J. E. Starr preached them one of his excellent sermons from the text, "Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfil the law of Christ." The building was crowded and many were unable to gain admittance. A special musical service was rendered by the choir and Mrs. Bradley. The collection was in aid of the Hospital for Sick Children, and over $123 was contributed.

Yesterday was the fifteenth anniversary of the opening of the Metropolitan Church, and the event was commemorated by the Rev. Mark Guy Pearce of London, England, preaching at both the services.

Henry George has been engaged to lecture in this city on May 16, and will probabably be invited to speak in Hamilton on the following night.

Mr. A. J. Mackay reached Toronto from Ottawa last Saturday. He reports that the Chinook Belt and Peace River Railroad project is progressing more than favorably.

Force of Habit.

From the Burlington Free Press.

Mrs. Blobson was mixing some medicine for Mr. Blobson, who was sick, when she was astonished to see her husband wink at her in a very emphatic manner. "What do you mean by winking at me in that way, Mr. Blobson?" she demanded. "I—force of habit," stammered Mr. Blobson; "no, no, I don't mean that! I mean that I have got something in my eye." "Well, I haven't," responded Mrs. B. with asperity.

SOCIAL DISCONTENT.

A recent United States quarterly has a very interesting article on the above topic from the pen of Dr. MacVicar, of Montreal.

The writer first notices the prevalence of social discontent in all civilized countries, then mentions the plans which have been proposed as remedies, refers to the circumstances which tend to aggravate existing troubles and lastly proceeds to enquire into the underlying causes of the present deplorable state of affairs. His knowledge has evidently been gathered, not from study only, but from careful observation and he writes with rigid impartiality and in a tone of kindness which does honour alike to his head and heart.

If we study the condition of almost every European country we shall find traces of discontent and unrest in every class and grade of society. At fitful periods, like the action of some slumbering volcano, this evil makes its presence felt in various ways and the civilized world is not unfrequently shocked at its terrible outbursts. The country south of us might, on account of its democratic tendencies and the freedom of its institutions, be supposed to offer no resting place for that social unrest which burrows in older communities and finds its most congenial work in the attempt to overthrow every semblance of authority and aristocracy. But as a matter of fact the United States offers a home for the most active and reckless agitators and the American working men are rapidly becoming imbued with communistic ideas themselves. Large cities, like Chicago and New York, afford ample scope, by the influx of population, by the social conditions of their inhabitants, and by the evils which flow from indolence, improvidence and intemperance, for the agitator and propagandist of discontent to work untold mischief.

Dr. MacVicar traces the warfare existing among various classes to its original source in human selfishness and inordinate ambition. But he also admits it is no less due to the concentration of wealth and power in the hands of a few, or in the hands of great corporations.

Another fruitful source is the great disparity in the distribution of profits between employer and employe. If it were the custom with large establishments to treat the working man as Wanamaker of Philadelphia does, by giving each faithful clerk and salesman or worker at the bench an interest in the profits, proportionate to his zeal, faithfulness and length of service, we should hear far less of social discontent and communism.

The writer of the article to which we here refer sums up his ideas of the causes of discontent by saying it is due to the unsatisfactory nature and results of secular and religious education. What he chiefly finds fault with is that it is not sufficiently Christian in tone and spirit. He says "the time and effort devoted to the development of the intellect is wholly out of proportion to the care given to moral and religious culture." Text books and lessons of elementary schools are colored with the doctrines of evolution as well as the elaborate articles of the Encyclopædia Brittanica. And Materialism, Agnosticism, and Atheism in its many forms, are hostile to social order and human progress. Men are discontented with their surroundings, but they would be less unhappy if intemperate, improvident and lazy habits were not common among the lower classes. Those who talk loudly of equality ought to know it is an absolute impossibility. Personal property could never be abolished utterly. Organizations, strikes, labor unions, boycotting and such like plans for benefitting the poor, or the working classes, cannot operate so as to bring immediate relief. The laws may be so rendered as to check monopoly and so distribute wealth more equally by preventing this gigantic evil whose power we see exhibited in the rapidity with which some railroad kings have made fortunes. The poorer inhabitants of large cities may be drafted to lands where labor would return a sure reward for toil, and thereby the prosperity of the nation be enhanced. The church may be roused from her neglect and supineness, and instead of being tolerant of garnished vice and glorying in her liberal and tolerant spirit, may become more like her Master in zeal and activity, and love for the poor, in spreading the great truths of the Gospel and exemplifying them in every relation of life. This, after all, is the true remedy. When the church comes down to the lapsed masses and makes her presence and power felt among them, social discontent, as we now see it, will exist no more, and the golden age of prosperity and happiness shall return to gladden and bless the earth.

The Home Rule Resolutions.

Speech of the Member for West Peterboro on the The Home Rule and Anti-Coercion resolutions of Hon. Mr. Mowat, in the Ontario Legislature.

On Friday night last the following resolutions, moved by the Honorable the Attorney-General, were submitted to the House:

That the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, representing upwards of two millions of Her Majesty's Canadian subjects, feel deep interest in all that concerns the well-being of every part of the British Empire, of which we rejoice that our province forms part.

That the people of this province are chiefly, though not wholly, of British birth or origin; that a considerable proportion of them are Irish, or the children of Irishmen, and live in the utmost harmony with their fellow-subjects of ever nationality, sharing in the general prosperity which the province enjoys under a constitution granted by the Imperial Parliament at the request of the Canadian people, and securing all the local self-government which at the time was desired.

That we regard with the deepest sorrow the distress and discontent which have long prevailed in Ireland, and which present a marked contrast with the prosperity and contentment of the Irish people in this province and elsewhere.

That, alive from our own experience to the disadvantages of Home Rule, we hailed with joy the introduction some years since into the Imperial Parliament of a measure which recognized the principle of local self-government for Ireland, and we hoped that the Bill, with such improvements in details as discussion should suggest and the wisdom of Parliament devise, might afford a settlement of long existing difficulties, and promote the unity, happiness and prosperity of the Empire.

That we observe with regret that, in the first session of the new Parliament, instead of a measure granting to Ireland the desired boon of local self-government, from which so much good was reasonably to be expected, there has been submitted to the House a stringent Coercion Bill, which further exasperates the great majority of the Irish people everywhere.

That we desire to place on record our profound sympathy with the efforts made to find a remedy for miseries and evils long endured, and to express our earnest hope that such a measure of local self-government may soon be granted as, while preserving the integrity of the Empire and all the just rights of the minority, may at the same time be satisfactory to the Irish people, and permanently remove discontent, and so far as may still be possible, its causes.

During the debate on the above resolutions,

Mr. STRATTON said:—Mr. Speaker, I cannot refrain from characterising as unfair the attempt of the hon. member for Toronto, in endeavouring to impute to the Hon. Mr. Mowat the desire to make political capital out of the presentation of these resolutions—the elections are all over, there is no hope of immediate or prospective political advantage, and it is inconsistent to say that there is any other desire than that of promoting the principles of equal justice which was characteristic of the aims of Liberalism. The hon. member has quoted many opinions against Home Rule, but they are interested opinions, opinions of the privileged classes whose personal interests are in direct conflict with those of the masses. (Cheers.) He has also persisted in alluding to this as a Catholic question, but I can inform him that it is not by any means an entirely Roman Catholic agitation nor one of recent origin. It was a subject of agitation dating from a time long before Parnell appeared on the scene. It originated before the Fenian movement of 1856, it originated before the "Young Ireland" movement of 1848; it was in existence, even before the United Irishmen's movement of 1798. Omitting all reference to Irish History from the conquest of the country by England in the 12th century to its re-conquest by Great Britain at the close of the 17th century; omitting all reference to the wars of the Stuarts and Cromwell, we may fairly assume that the Home Rule movement in Ireland from the time of the efforts of the British Parliament to crush out Irish manufactures—in the latter part of the 17th century and the beginning of the 18th. (Applause). Reference need only to be made to the gross breach of faith implied in the Penal laws, (hear hear), with all their terrible and undue discrimination against Roman Catholics, to show that this class of the subjects of the Crown in Ireland were not treated with equal justice, and if the treaty of Limerick, which concluded the conflict between James II. and William, Prince of Orange, had been fairly carried out, there would have been no Irish question like that of the present day. This treaty stipulated that the Roman Catholic adherents of James should not be made to suffer for their fidelity to his person and claims, but the British Parliament unjustly violated this compact, and visited upon the Irish people the most rigorous penalties which were, it may be pointed out not finally repealed until as late as 1829. Is it any wonder that under the burden of the penal laws of cruel severity, under laws which in effect, if not in direct intent,

DATED ITS COMMENCEMENT

DESTROYED IRISH INDUSTRIES,

the Irish people were not contented and submissive subjects, tamely submitting to injustice and oppression of the powers that be. (Hear hear). Was it to be expected that such a course of conduct would not alienate the people of Ireland from England? The present condition of affairs in Ireland is a

LEGITIMATE AND NATURAL RESULT

of the present system of governing that country. If nations sow the wind they must expect to reap the whirlwind. I have spoken of the comparative antiquity of the beginning of the Home Rule movement. This movement found its first advocate in Molyneux, a member of the Corporation of Trinity College, Dublin, a gentleman, and moreover, a Protestant. His earnest protest against the wrongs inflicted by a practically foreign governing body, was followed up by Jonathan Swift a clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal church. The next prominent Irish patriot was Henry Flood, another Protestant. He was a son of the Chief Justice of the King's Bench and a scholar of Oxford University. He was a member of the Irish Parliament from 1759 to 1790,—ten years before the so-called Union of Ireland and Great Britain. He was a persistent and earnest advocate of Home Rule for Ireland. Next we name Henry Grattan also a Protestant and a scholar of Oxford University. He entered the Irish Parliament in 1775 and after seven years—in 1782, he in co-operation with Flood and other Protestant Irish patriots succeeded in securing the legislative independence which marked the parliamentary body known as "Grattan's Parliament—which had an existence of eighteen years or until the Union in 1800. The circumstances under which the union was consummated were of such a character as make it impossible for Irishmen, possessed of self-respect, to accept the union. The union was carried by Pitt and Castlereagh by the most abominable corruption—and so iniquitous were the means employed to deprive Ireland of that the distinguished criminals connected therewith destroyed the official records of their official crime. The "United Irishmen," under the leadership of Wolf Tone, had risen in insurrection, and the only remedy that suggested itself to Pitt was annexation of the country—the extinction of the last spark of Irish liberty. The interval between 1800 and 1840 was largely characterized by the prevalence of the repeal agitation of O'Connel, who, by the way, I may remark, was the first prominent Roman Catholic Irish leader in the more modern Home Rule movement. A Protestant, Smith O'Brien, was the leader of the young Ireland uprising, and the Fenian agitation of 1865 acknowledged the leadership of James Stephens, another Protestant Irishman. In later days the leadership of the Home Rule movement was represented by a Protestant, Dr. Isaac Butt, and in these days the figure of Charles Stewart Parnell stands at the head of the patriotic party, by whose persistent efforts the Home Rule question has become a practical one in the domain of British politics. These names of

EVERY SEMBLANCE OF SELF-GOVERNMENT,

for Home Rule, who have been Protestants, which I have mentioned, effectually destroy, I submit, the contention of the hon. member for Toronto that the movement for Home Rule for Ireland has been, and is, a distinctly Roman Catholic agitation, and show that the grievances of that country appealed strongly to patriotic Protestants, and enlisted their most energetic exertions to remove the disabilities and injustices under which Ireland has labored and still labors. The Home Rule movement was never a Roman Catholic agitation, pure and simple, except during the existence of the agitation for the repeal of the penal laws against Irishmen of that religious faith, when the circumstances prevented the agitation from assuming any other character, and the injustice of these laws can be in no way more strongly emphasized than by the fact that they were repealed by that good old Tory the Duke of Wellington, whose Toryism was not proof against the glaring injustice of the penal laws. Now, in reference to the union of 1800, that union has never been accepted by the Irish people. They resented,

RESENT NOW, AND EVER WILL RESENT,

continue to resent the circumstances and means under and by which it was effected. Any doubt upon this point is removed by the consideration of the fact that within eighty-seven years there have been eighty-seven coercion Acts. This is the answer made by the British Parliament to the demands of Ireland, to have extended to her the measure of Home Rule, enjoyed by the meanest of her colonies. We all naturally regret the embittered feeling which exists between the North and South of Ireland, which is becoming more and more pronounced every year, and since restrictive and oppressive measures have so signally failed to foster a better state of mutual feeling, it seems to me eminently right and proper that milder measures should be tried—measures involving the justice of self government. We all know by what means we in Canada secured the legislative freedom we enjoy. It was not a free concession of the British Parliament, but was granted only after persistent petition emphasied by a resort to more forcible argument. And shall it be said, that a Canadian representative body, shall refuse to show its sympathy with a portion of the empire, which is struggling for the same boon of self government which we enjoy and prize so highly?

The people of Ireland will never, without protest accept this Union until its acceptance is made possible by the granting of

SOME MEASURE OF SELF GOVERNMENT.

The great merit of Gladstone consists in his having seen and recognized this truth, and in his having the courage and ability to act upon it. (Hear, hear.) Parnell has at length, and I sincerely trust for ever, transferred the battle for justice to Ireland, from the field of insurrection to the floor of Parliament. He has availed himself of the powers he possesses as a representative of the people in Parliament to force the consideration of the Irish question upon the attention of Parliament, and the only means for stifling free discussion is the application of the cloture, not only to Irish representatives, but to English representatives. Englishmen will not consent to sit muzzled for the sake of closing the mouths of those who are striving to bring the blessing of freedom and peace to their native land. The Coercion Bill under consideration is unprecedented in its intense severity, especially the clause requiring the removal of trials for certain offences to—not Scotland or Wales—but London, the only city in the United Kingdom that has declared through its franchise, its opposition to Ireland and Home Rule. What would Canadians, and especially the hon. member from Toronto, think if they were compelled to submit to trial in London for offences committed in Ontario. The high-handed injustice of this and other acts have aroused Irishmen in all parts of the world, to resent with all possible warmth the invasion of the rights and the continued denial of the justice due to Ireland. I may be permitted to suggest that it was a year ago this month that the grand old man had declared and though he has received a temporary check, the cause he so eloquently advocates, is one that will triumph in the end. Already some of those who supported Salisbury, have gone back on him on the Coercion Bill. It is impossible in this nineteenth century to bulldoze an enlightened people successfully. And the advocates of the cause of Home Rule may draw comfort from the fact that the darkest hour is just before the dawn. The Coercion Bill will have the effect of hastening on the day of Home Rule. Everything points to the correctness of the position that the true remedies for the unhappy state of Ireland are Home Rule and the settlement of the Land Question, and if the application of some such measures of simple justice will effect so much, pacify Ireland, and solidify the union between her and the mother country, I contend that this House is acting quite within its province and right, when it proposes to express regret that the British Parliament has failed to settle affairs of so grave import by so simple and easily applied expedients. What could be a wiser and better way of celebrating the Jubilee year of Her Majesty's reign, than by giving to Ireland that measure of local self-government which it is claimed by the best statesmen, will alone make her happy and prosperous, and the principle of which was so heartily approved of by the liberty-loving and loyal subjects of Scotland, who would be the last, either by voice or vote, to do anything which might be operate against the interests of the Empire. (Applause.)

IN FAVOUR OF HOME RULE,

A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

This is to certify that I have used McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and do honestly say that if it cost me one hundred dollars ($100.00) a bottle I would not be without it, as it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used, and I feel like a new man.—Yours truly, Alex. Steele, Carleton Place, Ont. This medicine is for sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at John McKee's Drug Store. eodw17

PARLIAMENTARY.

The Debate on the Carron Resolutions Adjourned—Sir F. B. McKinnon, Q.C., of Kingston, Appointed to Fill the Vacancy in the Northwest Supreme Court.

OTTAWA, April 26.—At 4.20 this afternoon Mr. Davin resumed the debate on the Home Rule resolutions and spoke for an hour. Sunday's rest had refreshed the untamed orator from the wild and woolly west, and what at the start had promised to be but a few remarks developed into a discursive flight that invaded the realms of fancy, sipped the bloom of passing poetic thought, bestowed an endearing touch on psychology, soared away into the domain of ancient history, touched lightly upon ethnological differentiation, argumentatively grasped the subject of legislative possibilities and eulogized the great names that have blazoned with glory the pages of British history, while the House sat in silent astonishment that one bald head could contain so much knowledge.

Mr. Freeman commenced speaking at 5.45 and had proceeded about a minute when a surprise was sprung.

Mr. John quietly asked the attention of the House, and said that as a good many members had not yet returned, and as it was desirable to have a full House when the vote was taken, he would suggest that the debate be adjourned until to-morrow, and moved accordingly.

Mr. Blake looked surprise for a moment and then expressed it. It was unaccountably delaying the work of the session.

The motion carried all the same, and, if Mr. Blake only knew it, it will give Mr. Mills, who has many great preparations, a chance to speak. Had the debate gone on he would have been at Rideau Hall when the division took place.

To-day Mr. Thompson introduced his bill to amend the law respecting procedure in criminal cases. This is an important measure in that among other things it provides that respecting appeals in criminal cases there shall be no appeal to the Privy Council from the highest tribunal in this country. He also introduced an act respecting public stores, the object being to mark all public stores and make the possession of such marked stores by other than a Government officer prima facie evidence of theft. This course is rendered necessary by the larceny of articles, especially railway stores, but it is thought well to apply it to all the departments.

Mr. Charlton introduced a measure to have the Dominion law correspond with the law of Ontario in making it a crime to have connection with an inmate of an insane asylum.

Ministers in answer to question stated that there is no intention of building a wharf at Kamouraska this year; that no seizures have yet been made of oleomargarine, butterine or other substitute for butter, and that the sum charged to capital account on account of the Intercolonial Railway is $44,197,451.

A number of returns were granted to-day. Mr. Mulock's was for the names of the persons appointed on the Railway Commission. Mr. Gordon's will show the number of Chinese who have arrived in the country from January 1, 1886, to March 31, 1887. Mr. Miller will give elaborate details of the votes cast at the recent general elections. The others were of a less important character.

The labor organizations are making a dead set on Parliament this year. A number of petitions for legislation in their interests have been presented already. To-day there was a whole batch. Messrs. Dowison and Cockburn of Toronto, McKay and Brown of Hamilton, Smith of South Ontario, Madill of North Ontario and Shakespeare of British Columbia all presented petitions from different bodies of organized workingmen. The legislation asked for is a workshop regulation act, the prohibition of Chinese immigration, an employer liability act, an act regulating the grievances that may arise between employer and employe, and manhood suffrage.

The papers in the Queen's County case have arrived and were laid on the table by the clerk of the Crown in Chancery to-day. They comprise all documents, including the ballot papers used in the election, so that it would appear that Mr. Blake's fear that they had been destroyed was groundless.

Mr. Carling laid the blue book containing the criminal statistics for the Dominion for the year 1886 on the table to-day. There were last year 3618 persons charged with indictable offences, and of these 2797 were convicted and received sentences of varying degrees. There were 841 convictions for offences against the person, 722 for offences against property with violence, 239 for offences against property without violence, 44 for malicious offences against property, 43 for forgery and offences against the currency. There were 10 convictions for murder, 3 for attempted murder, 17 for manslaughter, 87 for shooting, stabbing and wounding, 18 for common assault, 4 for bigamy, 3 for indecency, 131 for aggravated assault and inflicting bodily harm, 46 for indecent assault, and 203 for assault and battery. The death sentence was commuted in four cases.

Mr. Thompson laid the insurance blue book on the table to-day. It shows that the net cash premiums received by Canadian companies during 1886 for fire policies was $1,107,740; the amount of the policies taken during the year, $114,343,826; the amount at risk on December 31 last was $142,685,115, and the losses paid during the year $738,381. The net cash premiums received by British companies was $3,120,012; amount of policies taken during the year, $296,-100,117; the amount at risk $331,103,345, and losses paid $2,338,161. The net cash premiums received by American companies were $385,613; amount of policies taken during the year, $42,-660,941; amount of risk $36,021,537, and losses paid $227,932. The totals for the year of the three classes of companies are:

Net cash received for premiums	$ 4,503,365
Amount of policies taken	453,752,884
Amount at risk at end of last year	508,757,021
Losses paid	3,304,376

There is a considerable increase in all but in the amount at risk at the end of the year, which is 225,021,000 less than the previous year.

The life insurance statistics show that the premiums of the year for all companies doing business in Canada amounted to $3,214,691; the amount of policies new and taken up was $35,-171,348; the net amount in force at the end of the year was $171,350,660, and the claims paid amounted to $1,823,704. The increase in the amount of new policies over the previous year was $4,650,000, and of the net amount in force $21,300,000.

In addition to the old liners, the assessment societies make returns for the first time. These show that the amount paid by members was $268,686; that the net amount in force was $21,-193,338, and that the claims paid amounted to $141,763. It thus appears that the total life insurance in force in Canada at the end of last year was $192,308,998.

In the matter of accident business the premiums of the year were $163,384; the net amount in force at the end of the year was $71,-687,846, and losses $60,702.

In the guarantee business the premiums paid were $90,188, the net amount in force $6,629,500, and the losses incurred during the year $33,898.

The most important item of news to-day is the appointment to fill the existing vacancy in the Supreme Court of the Northwest, of F. H. McGuire of Kingston gets the position. He is a Queen's Counsel and an Irish Catholic, the only one on the Supreme Court bench. He is an able lawyer, a learned jurist and a popular man. His appointment will give general satisfaction.

The prospects of a local voluntary insurrection this year are of the brightest. There will be no appearance of any.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us a panoramic view of mountain, plain and stream, and thousands of scenes of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symtoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. sodwt

Breaking It Gently.

A Friend (to Robinson)—I've just heard that Mrs. Robinson met with a runaway accident this morning, but didn't learn the particulars. Anybody injured? Robinson (cheerfully)—Nobody but the fellow who ran away with her.

"Some said, John print it, others said Not so." "Some said it might do good, others said No." If the discoverer of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy had shared the senseless prejudices of a certain class of physicians he would have refused to print the good news, to proclaim to the world the glorious tidings that a infallible remedy for that most loathsome disease, catarrh, had been discovered. But he advertised liberally and the result has justified him in the course he pursued. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy never fails. All druggists. 6dw17

Before and After Taking.

The "sweets of matrimony" doubtless consist of honeyed words for the first month and of candid expressions for the rest of life.

A Severe Attack.

"I never felt better in my life than I have since taking Burdock Blood Bitters. I had a severe bilious attack; I could not eat for several days, and was unable to work. One bottle cured me." John M. Richards, Sr., Tara, Ont. For all bilious troubles use B. B. B. 2w17d

Keeping the Consequences.

"Hello, Jack, where are you going with that basket?" "To a trout brook, if I can hear of one." "Poor man, and your wife begins housecleaning as early as this."

Always Prompt in Action.

This is just what every sufferer wants—prompt action, and rapid relief from pain. The grandest discovery of the age, the great pain cure, is Polson's Nerviline—prompt, powerful, pleasant to the taste, and yet so pure that it may be given to the smallest infant. Try a 10 cents sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nerviline, the great, sure, and prompt pain cure. The large bottles are only 25 cents. 6dw17

Matrimonial Duplication.

A sailor being asked how he liked his bride, is reported to have remarked; "Why, d'ye see, I took her to be only one half of me, as the parson says, but dash my buttons if she isn't twice as much as I; for I'm only a tar and she's a tartar."

Overworked.

"My husband strained himself with overwork, causing a large swelling in the groin. He suffered great agony, which doctors failed to relieve; he could not eat nor sleep. B. B. B. quickly cured him. He says he never had such quick relief in his life." Extract from a letter from Mrs. George Book, Cookeville, Ont. 2w17

Irregular Habits.

"How is Smith getting along? Is he as regular in his habits as he used to be?" "No; he was sober twice last week."

Personal.

George Legault, of Tayside, Ont., says he can heartily recommend Yellow Oil as the best reliever of rheumatic pain, his father and mother having suffered for years with rheumatism, and all remedies failed except Yellow Oil. 2w17d

Mothers Take Notice.—West's Cough Syrup contains no opiates, opium or any minerals, and can be given to the youngest and most delicate child with perfect safety. It is an infallible cure for croup and whooping cough. A bottle should always be kept convenient, as it is always a certain cure for coughs, colds, consumption in its early stages, bronchitis, asthma, and all throat and lung troubles. 25c., 50c. and $1 per bottle. All druggists. dwd

Many persons in Pittston are using Ely's Cream Balm, a Catarrh remedy, with most satisfactory results. A lady is recovering the sense of smell which she not enjoyed for fifteen years. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr. Barber has used it in his family and recommends it very highly. A Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness.—Pittston, Pa., Gazette eodw17

From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

Charged with Murder.

Minnie Holbrook and Her Brother Edward Arrested—To be Tried at the Spring Assizes, May 9th.

Monday afternoon's inquest over the dead body found on Dr. Kincaid's farm last week, resulted in the following verdict from the jury:—

That the said male child, being born of one Mary Holbrook, on the 16th day of December, 1886, came to its death on Saturday, 18th December, 1886, at the house of George Dobbin, in the township of North Monaghan, in the said county of Peterborough, and that the said Mary Holbrook, and Edward Holbrook, her brother, did feloniously, wilfully and of malice aforethought kill and murder the said male child.

On the strength of this verdict Coroner Bell Monday evening issued a warrant for the arrest of the parties named and placed in the hands of P. C. Adams, who has conducted the case throughout. The next morning they were arrested at Port Hope by Chief Douglass, who had received a telegram from Peterborough, it having been learned that the girl, who has been working in town, had got wind of the affair and gone to join her brother, then in Port Hope. The pair were stopping at the Royal Hotel. Constable Adams brought them up on the 5.15 train, and they were at once lodged in gaol. The girl is about 22 years old, short, thickset, with chubby cheeks, and an uncompromising scowl on her pale face. She was nicely dressed. The brother is also short, and does not possess a very intelligent countenance. They will likely be tried at the Spring Assizes, which open here on the 9th of May.

The following is a condensed report of the evidence given at the inquest, which was suppressed at the time in the interest of justice:—

GEORGE DOBBIN, farmer, North Monaghan, testified that on December 16th last one Mary Holbrook, a servant, was confined at his house, but he never saw the child. She remained a week after the confinement, and he did not know where she now was. The child lived two days, and the girl's brother in the evening took it away in a box. Edward Holbrook, whose home is in Haliburton, was also employed by Mr. Dobbin, but left with his sister, and he could not tell where he was at present. Mr. Dobbin knew nothing as to the cause of the death of the child or of how Edward Holbrook had disposed of it. The birth was a surprise to them, and they were so disgusted with the girl that they for a time refused to have anything to do with her.

Dr. KINCAID reported the result of his post mortem examination, which disclosed no marks of violence, but he could account for the death of an otherwise healthy, male child in no other way than by the fact that some culpable negligence must have taken place after its birth. There were no symptoms of death from drowning. It most likely was frozen, and may have been so for several months. The Doctor judged that the infant came to its death from foul play of some kind. Dr. Kincaid also testified to having attended Mary Holbrook after confinement, and had left the child and mother all right. A few days afterwards Holbrook told him the child was dead, and he wanted it buried, but he (the doctor) had no recollection of giving him a certificate of burial. He had no suspicions of foul play at the time. It was possible, though not probable, that a child in perfectly sound health would within two hours die without foul play or showing traces of the trouble causing death. The child he had examined was discoloured, which he assigned to exposure for several months, after which time he could not distinguish death from suffocation.

Dr. A. E. YELLAND, who assisted Dr. Kincaid in the examination, gave corroborative evidence.

CECELIA LYTLE, who lives near Mr. Dobbin's house, remembered the birth of Mary Holbrook's child, which appeared stronger and healthier than the average. She was at the house about 9 o'clock Friday night, and found everything all right. The next day on the the market, she met Edward Holbrook, who told her the baby had died at 11 o'clock. He told her that they had fed the child, laid it down on the bed, and shortly afterwards on looking at it, it was dead. Mrs. Lytle and some other ladies, that afternoon, prepared the body for burial, and placed it in a small trunk, which she believed to be the same as the one in court. Edward Holbrook then took it away, saying he had arranged to have it buried in the cemetery, and was going to take it there. The trunk had been used because a coffin would cost $2. To the coroner Mrs. Lytle stated that she had heard Edward Holbrook saying, about nine o'clock on the morning the child died, that "if he could only get rid of it, he would soon fix her," meaning, she supposed, to get his sister away.

JANE BURNEY testified to having seen Mary Halbrook and her child on Friday, Dec. 17th, and found them in good condition. She understood the birth had taken place the evening previous. The mother did not nurse it to her knowledge, Mrs. Burney herself feeling it with biscuit, sugar and water. The next day at 3 o'clock, the girl's brother called and said the baby was dead. Mrs. Burney went over to the house and looked at the corpse, which was very dark colored in the face, also the neck, feet and hands. She asked the mother the cause of it, and was told that it took a kind of choking. Mrs. Burney assisted in placing the child in the trunk, which she believed to be the same as the one produced.

THOMAS LYTLE knew Edward Holbrook slightly after he came to work at Dobbin's, and remembered about the birth of the child. He had said to Mr. Holbrook that it was a bad job for his sister if she had no home, to go travelling about the country with a child. Holbrook replied—"if he could only get rid of the child he would soon fix her; he would take her out of that." He saw Holbrook on the market, Saturday morning, and was told that the child had died. On asking the cause, Holbrook said he had heard it making a fuss in bed and knew it was dying, but did not want to tell Minn (his sister) as it would excite her. He said he then left the room, and in returning in a few minutes it was dead.

Sure to Satisfy.

There are many remedies for coughs and colds, but there are few that prove so satisfactory as Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, which is a pleasant and reliable cure for all throat and lung troubles, including bronchitis, asthma, croup, whooping cough and the pulmonary complaints of young or old. 2w17d

Oddfellow Entertainment.

Celebrating the Sixty-sixth Anniversary of Oddfellowship—The Entertainment in Otonabee Lodge Room.

In addition to the annual sermon, the members of Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows celebrated the 66th anniversary of the establishment of the Order in America, on Tuesday evening.

A large number assembled in the handsome rooms of Otonabee Lodge, Mr. Thos. Workman in the chair. Dr. Bell was unfortunately absent and his opening address was not given. However, a very pleasant programme was rendered opening with a piano solo by Mr. Jaques, "La Rustic de Portico," followed by a well sung song "The Golden Threshold" by Mrs. R. A. Hamilton, who, in the second part, accompanied by Miss Kerregan, played a violin solo, "Swinging Waltz," so pleasingly that she was recalled. The contribution of Mr. R. M. Roy & Son to the entertainment was decidedly unique and diverting. His "Rhodian Mystery," "The Decapitated Head" and "Materalized Spirits" were excellent illusions presented with a success not often attained by professors of the black art. Miss Grace Stevens sang with very pleasing success "A Bird on the Wing," and joining Miss Johnston in a duet, "Whispering Hope," the two contributed a charming number to the programme. Mr. J. Hendry gave an excellent recitation, "Heart's Charity," in a most happy manner. Mr. Jaques' baritone song, "Sailing Across the Sea," was done so well that a repeat was insisted on, and he responded by making a second voyage to sea in "They All Love Jack"; Well-merited applause followed Miss Johnston's solo song, "The Gates of the West." The vocal quartette, "Come Where the Lilies Bloom" received full justice from Misses Johnston and Stevens and Messrs. Stevens and Hill. Mr. W. A. Dixon, owing to a severe cold, was unable to give his exposition of ventriloquism. "God Save the Queen" brought an excellent programme and a very enjoyable evening to a close—in the latter sense, however, to the elders only, for Mr. Workman generously placed the hall at the disposal of the young people, who spent a delightful and quiet hour or two in the bewitching pleasures of the dance.

Married at Auburn.

Last evening Mr. David Deyell and Miss Katie Queen were married by Rev. E. F. Torrance at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. George Queen, Auburn. The bride was the recipient of a large number of presents. Mr. Deyell, who has for the past four or five years, been employed in Belleghem's furniture factory, was presented by his fellow-employees the cabinet-makers with a beautiful clock; by the upholsterers and finishers with a large hanging lamp, and by the apprentice cabinet-makers, with a set of silver knives and forks. Mr. and Mrs. Belleghem gave him a pair of handsome oil paintings, and the children with a cut-glass photo holder and a pair of vases. Mr. Wm. Belleghem's children added a pair of napkin rings and set of salt castors, while Master Bertie presented him with a riding whip. All these presents testified to the high esteem in which Mr. Deyell was held by all his friends.

A Jubilee Concert.

Mr. Seward, the able and indefatigable musician, has conceived the idea of having a Grand Jubilee Children's Concert on the 21st of June, in the Curling and Skating Rink. On hearing of this plan the following gentlemen most readily and willingly became patrons of the affair, viz.: Judge Dennistoun, F. J. Lewis, Judge Weller, Dr. Boucher, R. W. Muncaster, Jas. Stevenson, M.P., W. G. Ferguson, Geo. A. Cox, W. Clexton, John Burnham, J. H. Roper, and J. R. Stratton, M.P.P. The proposal has met with a reception flattering to even this vigorous town. It now remains for the public and the children to put themselves at Mr. Seward's disposal, and a really grand entertainment, at a trivial cost will be the result. The programme will be made up of national songs such as "God Save the Queen," "Wacht am Rhein," the Russian Anthem, Austrian Hymn, Scotch and Irish Patriotic songs, the American National Hymn, etc.

The Choir Entertained.

On Tuesday night a very enjoyable evening was spent by the members of St. Andrew's church choir at the residence of Wm. Loch, Esq. The host, hostess, and all the members of the family, vied with each other in ministering to the entertainment of their guests. Music, games, and social converse made the time pass pleasantly, after which the inner man was not neglected, but was regaled with a sumptuous refreshment. The happy party broke up at a seasonable hour, all feeling delighted with their evening's enjoyment. Such kindness to the choir as manifested by Mr. and Mrs. Loch and family has a tendency to encourage them in their endeavours to perfect themselved in the praises of Zion, much more than carping criticism.

Heighten the Tower.

There is something radically wrong about the design of the new post office building, and it should be righted before the clock is put in. If allowed to remain as at present, the lower half of the dial, viewed from Dolan's corner, will be shut off by one of the cornices, so that from three o'clock until nine the western face of the clock will be of little use to pedestrians passing across Hunter street on George. This defect should be remedied before the clock is placed in position.

JAKE SHARP TO BE TRIED.

The Prince of the New York Boodlers to be Called to the Bar.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Jake Sharp will be called to the bar of the Court of Oyer and Terminer at 11 o'clock Monday morning and a motion will be made by District Attorney Martine that an early day be fixed for the trial of the chief of the indicted briberyers. The trial will probable begin a week from Monday before Justice Barrett. Preparations for this trial have been long continued on the part of the District Attorney and his assistants. Ex-Ald. Chas. H. Waite and other persons who are familiar with some of the coming schemes of the promoters of the Broadways "steal" have been carefully examined as to facts to which they could testify and the case has been thoroughly considered so that the prosecution may be prepared to meet any possible line of defense which may develop at the trial. Startling testimony is expected on both sides.

HAMILTON NEWS.

A Few Brief Paragraphs From the Ambitious Town.

HAMILTON, April 23.—The first accident on the bay this year occurred yesterday afternoon. While William Lemon and Pete Hempstead were out navigating in a skiff they got swamped, and after battling in the water for about an hour and a half they were brought to shore by James McCowan and Henry Hempstead.

A large audience gathered at the Centenary Church, Main-street, last night to hear Sir Arthur Sullivan's oratorio, "The Prodigal Son," as well as an excellent sermon upon the same subject by Rev. Mr. Hunter. The choir was composed of some of the leading soloists of the different churches of the city. Senator Sanford, having come to spend Sabbath with his family, acted as one of the ushers.

While Mr. Christopher Loney was out walking yesterday afternoon he fell and broke his leg.

There will be a regular meeting of the City Council this evening.

Robert Trumble, who was put in jail for being intoxicated to-day, made the statement that he was attacked by two men and robbed of $3.75. He, however, had no more recollection of where and when.

There will be a meeting of the Building Committee of the Y.M.C.A. this evening.

Nearly Murdered by a Hired Man.

RUSSELL, Ont., April 21.—An attempt at murder was made this morning on the person of a farmer named John Hunt, who resides near this place, by his hired man, an immigrant, who attacked him with an ax, striking him on the head and shoulder. The wound is supposed to be dangerous. The would-be assassin escaped.

Salisbury's "Generous" Offer.

LONDON, April 21.—The Times says that Lord Salisbury's offer to the United States Government, looking to a settlement of the fisheries question, contained in his despatch of March 24, is generous and almost Quixotic. "To do more," says the Times, "would be weakness, and we are slow to believe that America will refuse to take advantage of what will cost her nothing to accept."

The Trade of Aden.

From the Foreign Trade Gazette.

In a recent report to the British Government on the trade of Aden, with special reference to that of the Somali coast, on the east side of Africa, Captain Snell of the Trade Registration Department at Aden says that gray American shirtings are the foreign fabrics most largely imported into Aden, and that these fabrics are much appreciated, not only by the Arabs of Yemen but by the Somalis. The imitation so-called "Country American" goods, produced in the Bombay mills, have been rejected as very unequal in finish and durability to the real article. Captain Snell gives details as to the length, breadth, prices, mode of packing, and so on, of the American goods referred to. During the year 1885-6 5,249,612 yards were imported, against 6,552,625 yards in 1884-5, so that the trade is evidently an increasing one. To the east coast of Africa in 1885-6 2,744,335 yards were exported from Aden, against 1,991,367 in 1884-5.

OTTAWA NEWS.

OTTAWA, April 27.

To-day some real practical work was done. A matter of very considerable importance came up on a resolution by Mr. Charlton. Heretofore it has been the custom to keep back all Blue Books until the meeting of Parliament, when they are sent to the tables of the House by the Governor-General in accordance with the provisions of the British North America Act. Our fiscal year ends on June 30, and consequently the departmental reports are not given to the public until six months later. For instance, the reports down to July 1 of last year were only given to the public last week. The question is raised whether it will not be better to make the documents public at once without waiting for Parliament to meet. Mr. Charlton also suggested that at the end of each month there should be issued a report of the financial transactions for the month, also of the imports and exports, customs and immigration returns, etc.

The Government will discuss the matter of the latter suggestions, and as to the former Sir John asked it to stand for a day or two till he could look up authorities and see whether a bill for the purpose be necessary. It is likely that all the suggestions will be adopted, which will effect a great change in many respects.

To-day Mr. Mulock introduced his Railway Bill of last year. It has principally to do with freight rates.

Mr. McMullen also introduced a bill regarding mortgages. The main provision is that the person holding a first mortgage must give the holder of a second mortgage thirty days' notice of a foreclosure, which the second mortgagee can prevent by payment, within the thirty days, of the principal and interest of the first mortgage.

Some of the replies by ministers to questions by members were to the following effect: That the surveys had not extended to a sufficient degree to enable the Government to come to a conclusion as to whether to construct the Prince Edward Island subway or not; that M. F. O'Donohue had been temporarily in the service of the Inland Revenue Department, for which he had been paid $168.11, being at the rate of $600 per year salary; that distillers are not allowed to import corn in bond; that the Government are not this year going to construct a harbor of refuge at Father Point; that the appointment of a junior judge for Elgin is still under consideration.

The returns granted were numerous and on all sorts of subjects. One that may prove interesting was for the cost of painting the vestibule of the Commons building. The painting is something new in the way of decoration. It is held by some to be artistic and pleasing and by others to be the very reverse. The mover, Mr. Holton, also charges that several coats of paint had been put on and scraped off, and that the whole thing was a reward for political services, having been let without contract.

Mr. Langevin pointed out that the practice had always been to let this work without tender, and said the return would show that only a fair price had been paid. The fact that five marble pillars have been painted and sanded, and the same may be said of beautifully carved stonework, is held by some, however, not to be in accordance with the true rules of art.

Another return asked for was by Mr. Welsh of Prince Edward Island relative to dredging in the harbor of Pinette. Mr. Welsh proceeded to talk, worked his way down the aisle to the floor, got from dredging to whisky, and from whisky to general politics, finally winding up with an elaborate bow that convulsed the House and made Black Rod sitting up in the gallery grind his teeth. Mr. Welsh got the order for his return.

Another return asked for and granted is the commission appointing Sir Alexander Campbell as representative of Canada at the Colonial Conference in London and of any instructions given him in such capacity.

A dozen other returns were granted that were not of general public interest.

The following bills were read a second time and referred to the proper committees: Ontario and Sault Ste. Marie Railway Company, St. Catharines and Niagara Central Railway Company, St. Gabriel Lovee and Railway Company, Grand Trunk Railway Company, Collingwood Hospital, and the Imperial Trust Company.

A message from the Governor-General, acknowledging the address from the House, was read and the House adjourned at 6 o'clock.

The Government contract with the British American Bank Note Company has been renewed for a term of five years conditional upon their removal to Ottawa from Montreal within twelve months. The price is 15 per cent. below the former contract. The tender of another firm was considered, but was not found satisfactory.

It is probable that during the present session the Government will introduce a measure to amend the law respecting the inspection of flour in accordance with the representation of the Dominion Millers' Association.

The disallowance question very nearly came to the surface to-day. Mr. Watson had a resolution on the subject on the order paper, but at the last moment decided to leave it stand until Wednesday next, in order to allow the Winnipeg delegation on the subject time to interview the Government. This will be one of the vexed questions of the session.

The other day Pat Purcell of Glengarry walked into the House with his hat on and was called to order so lustily that he has not yet recovered. Now he walks up from his hotel to the House with his hat off, no matter what the weather may be, in order that there may be no mistake as to his entering the Chamber with proper respect.

To-morrow may prove one of the eventful days of the session, in all probability will be so. The Queen's County case will come up on the motion of Mr. Skinner that Mr. Bairds name as the representative be struck out and that of Mr. King, the Reform candidate, be inserted instead. This is certain to raise a hot debate, as the Government will insist upon the matter going to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

To-morrow may see the first party division, which will be good news to the hundreds who have bets upon the result.

The fisheries papers may possibly be ready to-morrow. They will make a book of several hundred pages with a precise index and arranged in a handy form, the credit of which is due to Major Tilton, Deputy Minister of Fisheries.

An influential deputation from the County of Prescott waited upon Sir John Macdonald this afternoon at 3 o'clock and asked for a substantial bonus for the projected Vaudreuil and Prescott Railway. It included the following gentlemen: Lieut.-Col. Higginson and Messrs. Felix Routhier, ex Mayor M. McCuaig, P. J. Paquette, D. McLeod, John Hunter, E. Z. Beaudry and N. Matte, Vaudreuil Hill, E. A. Johnston, F. O'Brien and John Fraser, L'Original; T. W. Wymas Hayes, J. Higginson and E. Rochon, of Hawkesbury, and Mr. D. McCusker, of Alfred. The deputies were accompanied by Messrs. P. Labrosse, M.P., Prescott's representative, and Mr. McMillan, M.P., Vaudreuil, who acted as spokesman.

NOVA SCOTIA REPEAL.

THEY CARRY THEIR MOTION WITH ONLY EIGHT OPPOSING VOTES.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 27.—In the House of Assembly this afternoon Dr. McKay (Conservative) introduced the following amendment to the Government's repeal resolutions:

That in the opinion of this House a continuance of such agitation is inexpedient, impolitic and unwise and should not, therefore, be persisted in.

That this House strongly affirms the right of the province by legitimate constitutional means, through its representatives in the Local as well as in the Dominion Legislature, to claim and press at any time when occasion may demand for an amelioration of its financial condition on fair and equitable terms. That the expenditure of the revenues of this province should be strictly confined to those provincial services for which the federal subsidies were granted and should not be extended to purposes of the public service for which the Dominion Parliament is bound to provide.

The House divided at a late hour on the repeal resolutions. Dr. McKay's Opposition amendment was defeated, only five voting in its support and the original motion was carried with eight votes cast against it.

THE ATTACK ON PARNELL.

Mr. Gladstone Defends the Irish Leader and His Followers.

LONDON, April 27.—It has transpired that Mr. Gladstone, in his speech at the dinner given by the Labor members of Parliament last night, declared his entire disbelief in the accusations made against the Irish leaders. Mr. Gladstone said that in May, 1882, immediately after the assassination of Lord Frederick Cavendish and Under-Secretary Burke in Phœnix Park, Mr. Parnell wrote him a letter with reference to that crime. The contents of the letter, which had obviously been written under great mental distress, threw considerable light upon the topic of the present hour, and was strong evidence in favor of the contention that the Times letter was a base and malicious forgery. Mr. Parnell, apparently foreseeing that in the public mind he would be associated with the crime, offered to place himself without reserve in Mr. Gladstone's hands. He wrote that he regarded the murders with the utmost abhorence, and he offered to resign the leadership of the Irish party and retire altogether from political life if Mr. Gladstone considered such a step advisable in the interests of Ireland. Mr. Gladstone said he would refrain from saying what reply he made, adding that it was only a short time since he obtained Mr. Parnell's assent to his mentioning the matter. Alluding to the advice tendered Mr. Parnell from certain quarters that he bring an action against the Times, Mr. Gladstone said that many years ago, when he was Commissioner to the Ionian Islands, the Times bitterly attacked him, accusing him of treason. On returning to England, he consulted a famous lawyer, with the view of bringing an action, but was dissuaded from taking legal steps, the lawyer expressing the conviction that even if Mr. Gladstone proved his case, no jury, in the then state of the public mind, would be likely to convict the Times. Mr. Gladstone's statement has caused an absorbing sensation in the clubs, but has not yet appeared in the press. The Conservatives talk of challenging the production of the letters.

The debate in the House of Commons to-night on the Coercion Bill was featureless. Mr. Gladstone will not speak on the motion to go into committee on the bill.

Mr. Parnell and Mr. Healy, the latter for the first time since his suspension, will appear in the House to-morrow.

THE LANSDOWNE TENANTS.

Settlement With Them Having Failed, O'Brien Says He Will go to Canada.

DUBLIN, April 27.—The Marquis of Lansdowne has declined to accept the provisional arrangement made last week by the mediators engaged in the task of adjusting the dispute between him and the dissatisfied tenants on his Luggacurran estate.

William O'Brien, whose proposed tour to Canada to stump the country against the Marquis of Lansdowne, was postponed on receipt of the intelligence that the Luggacurran difficulty was about to be settled by the above mentioned mediation, stigmatizes the agent's present affair as a flagrant repudiation of every term of the agreement which the public was led to believe had been accepted. Mr. O'Brien announces that he will no longer delay proceeding to Canada to expose Lansdowne's conduct towards his Irish tenantry.

Wanted on a Serious Charge.

MONTREAL, April 27.—A communication was received yesterday morning by Chief Paradis from the Chief of Police of Coventry, England, asking for the arrest of Walter William Neale, solicitor, and captain in the Royal Warwickshire volunteers, who is wanted on extensive charges of forgery, fraud, embezzlement, etc. He absconded on March 24. He is described as 42 years of age; 5 feet 3 inches in height; sallow complexion; light brown fine hair (rather thin on top of head); no whiskers or beard, but light moustache; very round head; forehead slightly receding, on which is a small white scar; broad, flat, flabby, common face; flat nose, slightly indented; stout and thick set; dimple in chin; short, thick neck and fat hands.

The Haughty to be Sued.

MONTREAL, April 27.—Henry Thomas, manager of the Academy of Music, intends taking out an action for $2000 damages against Mrs. Langtry for breach of contract. She was engaged to play here the five three nights of this week, but cancelled the engagement on the ground that she wanted to get a rest, but is, however, playing in New York. R. D. McGibbon, counsel for Mr. Thomas, has instructed Mr. Bracken, of New York, to take out proceedings there.

Italy and the Holy See.

ROME, April 27.—It is stated that a reconciliation between the Vatican and the Quirinal is imminent. The basis of the agreement is said to be as follows: Catholics are to be admitted to elections; a guarantee will be given that the laws will be more effectually carried out, and the Pope will be officially invited to resume the former splendid ceremonies at St. Peter's, and to reside some times at Gandolfo. In short, Italy will claim the privilege of protecting the Holy See, and the Pope will support Italy's foreign and colonial policy. Many of the Cardinals, it is said, oppose the scheme on the ground that Italy wants the Pope, who is able to do without Italy.

The Mayoralty Contest in Halifax.

HALIFAX, April 27.—Ald. Patrick O'Mullin, brewer and wholesale liquor dealer, was elected Mayor of Halifax to-day by a majority of 485 over Ald. Alex. Stephen and Ald. W. F. Worrall. There was no straight temperance candidate, but the different temperance organizations had adopted resolutions to support Stephen. The vote was by far the largest ever polled in a civic election and the campaign was probably the warmest ever known here.

The Dynamite Scare Begun.

LONDON, April 27.—Customs officers throughout Great Britain and Ireland have received stringent orders to search all vessels arriving from America, China and the East, the Government having been warned that explosives have been sent from San Francisco to ports in the East, to be transhipped to England.

France and the Vatican.

ROME, April 27.—It is semi-officially stated that the Vatican, being informed that France is desirous of resuming good relations with the Pope, will appoint a commission of leading ecclesiastics to study the questions at issue and to draft proposals for a settlement.

In Memory of General Grant.

PITTSBURG, April 27.—The banquet of the American Club of Pittsburg, commemorating the sixty-fifth anniversary of the birth of General Grant, was held at the Monongahela House this evening. Before the regular program of the evening had been commenced an informal reception was given to the distinguished guests who were present.

THE MARITIME BANK FAILURE.

The Suspension Caused by Large Credits Given to Certain Firms.

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 27.—The affairs of the Maritime Bank, as revealed at the shareholders' meeting to-day, created much excitement in the city and nothing else is talked of on the street.

President MacLellan in his statement said that he assumed all the blame, but censured the Stewarts for deceiving him, and said that George McLeod had not kept faith with the bank, making his time and another bank preference creditors when he had promised to make the Maritime such. The president was so overcome several times during the reading of his statement that he almost broke down. In closing he said "It is a miserable story. It costs me my good name in this community where I have lived for a quarter of a century and which I had expected would be my permanent home. It has blotted out my home and the home of those who bear my name. It has caused grief and loss to my friends and it has spread suffering among those who had a right to expect from me better things. I have little hope now of ever being able to repair the disaster in any degree, but all that I can do to aid the liquidators in their onerous work I shall be ready and willing to do. For the rest I can only cast myself on the generosity of those who have suffered through me."

The information promised by the provisional liquidator is not so full as many desired, but for various reasons a complete statement of the bank's affairs at present was not possible. The parts played by the Stewarts is pretty fully set forth in the president's statement, which justifies the prevailing belief that the bank's suspension was in a great measure due to the large credits given to the Stewarts to Guy, Bevan & Co., George McLeod and other large concerns.

President MacLellan acknowledged that some of the stockholders only gave notes for their stock, and that some of these notes remained unpaid at the time of suspension. The directors did not make any statement. The following were nominated as liquidators, and the result of the vote will be reported to the Chief Justice, who is to make the appointment: J. A. Van Wart, H. L. Sturdee, W. E. Collier, John Russell, William Lamont, R. Whiteside, A. C. Smith, W. F. Butt, K. McLeod, James S. Tuid, O. H. Lee, the Bank of Nova Scotia and J. G. Taylor of the Halifax Banking Company. The most votes were cast for Sturdee, Collier and Van Wart. Messrs. Blair and MacLellan's stock was ruled out from voting.

A DANGEROUS ORGANIZATION.

Sir Matthew Cameron's Opinion of the Knights of Labor.

HAMILTON, April 27.—In the course of his remarks to the jury in a case at the Assizes this morning Sir Matthew Cameron said:

"In one of the letters put in in this case it was said that the Knights of Labor were taking up this matter. Whether that be so or not I do not know. Speaking for myself individually, I do not think there is a more dangerous organization in the community than the Knights of Labor; not because the people who are concerned in it are not respectable people, but the principle promulgated by the order is an interference with individual liberty, and the greatest blessing a people can enjoy is that each man is at liberty to do just as he pleases as long as he does not interfere with the rights of anybody else. I think that mechanics and laboring men who adopt that principle will find that they will always be rewarded for their trouble, and that organizations of that kind are injurious to themselves and drive away capital. This is the view I take, and I hope I feel as kindly in my heart towards the honest workingmen of this country as any other man living."

His Lordship spoke very impressively and his remarks created quite a sensation in the court room.

THE MONTREAL FLOOD.

The Worst is Over and Business is Being Resumed.

MONTREAL, April 27.—The worst being now over the merchants, storekeepers and others affected by the flood have set about getting things into working order. The streets that two days ago were covered with water present a pitiable sight, being covered with mud, debris, etc. Many sidewalks have been lifted by force of water and the damage done cannot yet be estimated.

The Dresden Murderer Arrested.

CHATHAM, Ont., April 27.—J. W. Murray, Government detective, brought from Dresden James Moore, the murderer of Thos. Willoughby and three unwilling witnesses. The four have been committed to jail and Moore will probably be arraigned at the Assizes now going on.

GOUGH, The Terror to High-Priced Clothiers, George Street, Peterborough.

The Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, APRIL 28, 1887.

MR. DRAYTON HOLCOMB, who sheltered the great Canadian Patriot, Wm. Lyon Mackenzie, and conducted him to the frontier at the time he made his escape from the country, and when he was confronted with the temptation presented by a standing reward of $20,000 for his apprehension, died at his home in Pelham, Welland county, on the 24th of March last at the age of 95 years. Times have changed since those days In those days both the patriot Mackenzie and the patriot Holcomb were held as rebels, which technically, no doubt they were. But they both played the part of patriots, and it was left to posthumous generations to vindicate the sincerity of their zeal for the welfare of Canada. We in Canada are now enjoying the benefits of their and others' course, in the way of political liberty and, consequently, material prosperity. Few indeed there are in these days who do not recognize the honesty and patriotism of the aims of Mackenzie and his political associates of the troublesome times of the half century ago, though the methods by which he wrought are not the subjects of unanimity of opinion. They braved the risk of life and limb and bore the contumely of being called "rebels" for the sake of their country, and theirs was a patriotism more lofty and unselfish than all facile lip loyalty of the flesh-pot patriots, whose fealty was bound up in their own advancement, irrespective of how much the interests of the "common people" and the country suffered in the process.

THERE is great propriety in duly recognizing fidelity to duty and exceptional bravery under trying circumstances, but there is a possibility of being unduly generous at other persons' expense. For instance Hon. Mr. Thompson, Dominion Minister of Justice, proposes to give to Godefroi Laviolette, the Warden of St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary, in recognition of the energy and bravery he displayed on the occasion of a revolt of the convicts, a pension of $2,000, per annum. Mr. Laviolette no doubt acted a part as brave and noble as that of any French man of the Old Guard, but the reward is certainly out of all proportion to the services rendered. The $2,000 a year represents the annual interest at 5 per cent. on the capitilized sum of $40,000. If this is given the brave warden, he can tell the penitentiary to be hanged, and live a gentleman's life on an income of nearly nine dollars a day, while thousands of railway brakemen risk their lives the year round for something like ninety cents per day. We have no objection to Mr. Thompson reasonably rewarding merit, but making a penitentiary warden a capitalist at the expense of hard working tax payers, is a stretch of munificence amounting to hero-worship.

The New Hierarchy.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

SIR,—I believe that, according to the contention of the political sectaries, it has been generally sought to be made a subject of belief, that the political church of Peterborough, was situated at the head of Hunter street, but according to recent developments, there has been an ecclesiastical land-slide and the political church is now located at the head of Brock street. I gather this from a perusal of the correspondence, headed "A Clerico-Lay Contention" published in the EXAMINER of Monday and from the political pulpit-pounding of recent Sundays, which gave rise to it. Not only, it seems to me, has the last referred-to church usurped the alleged political supremacy of the former, but the pastor has also usurped the lofty tone of pastoral authority, which he has so often denounced in the priesthood of the Church of Rome, Note in Mr. Bell's last letter to Mr. McWilliams, in said correspondence, the lofty tone of sacerdotal superiority and self-sufficiency he assumes—"I claim for myself the utmost freedom to choose my own time and way to instruct MY PEOPLE." With all due respect to the ecclesiastical dignitaries concerned, I can assert that I never remember having seen in any Papal Bull language more expressive of ecclesiastical superiority, and spiritual irresponsibility to clerical or lay authority, more self-contained and autocratic, than that expressed in the extract I have quoted from the latest bull (in more ways than one) of the new Protestant pope, Alexander I. O, religion, what things are done in thy name!

Yours truly,
BACK PEW LAYMAN.

Peterborough, April 27th, 1887.

Oddfellow Information.

The following was, from lack of space in yesterday's issue, committed from the report of the Oddfellow entertainment in Otonabee lodge rooms. It was a fitting complement of a report of an entertainment in celebration of the establishment of the Order on this continent, which took place in the manner referred to below.

It was on April 26th, in the year 1819, in what was called the "Seven Stars" in Baltimore, Maryland. Thomas Wildey got a few friends together and opened the first lodge. It bore the title "Washington Lodge." Its membership was limited to five men. In the year of its infancy the lodge included such men as John Boyd, a Scotchman of great financial ability; John Parron Entwistle, a scholar of rare attainments; Augustus Matholt, a distinguished man, and Richard Marley. These men were the founders of American Odd Fellowship and it expanded wonderfully under their fostering care. Matholt was instrumental in banishing ardent spirits from the lodge room, it being the custom to drink ale during the sessions prior to the adoption of this measure. The change was denounced also "Maryland Reform" and responded to the growth of the order. The society has continued to grow steadily, but especially since the close of the American war, at which time it seemed to take a new life. In 1864, where there were less then 10,000 Odd Fellows in New England and Lower Canada, there are 65,000 now. Massachusetts had 5,000 at the close of the war; to-day she contains 34,000. All told, the order numbered in 1864, 137,623 members, 39 grand lodges, 29 encampments, 2, 118 lodges, 466 encampments, and the total revenue $1,161,828.65; this has grown until there are 535,000 members, 58 grand lodges, 47, grand encampments, 8, 240 lodges, 2, 017 encampments, and a revenue that exceeds $6,000,000. Twenty-two years ago but one foreign jurisdiction existed, now the order flourishes in the Sandwich Islands, Australasia, Germany, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Denmark, Sweeden, Chili, Mexico, Peru and Cuba. Nine-tenths of its strength, however, lies in the United States. Pennsylvania leads among the States, its membership of 85,000 being about one-sixth the aggregate strength. Ohio comes next with 51,000; New York follows with 47,000; Illinois, 35,000; Massachusetts, 34,000; Indiana, 27,000; California. 27,000; Iowa. 24,000; Michigan, 19,000; Missouri, 18,000; New Jersey, 18,000; Wisconsin, 17,000; Maine, 15,000; Maryland, 11,000. The Province of Ontario has 16,000 members. The growth of the order has no parallel in history and at no time was its expansion as great as now, when the society disburses in relief $6,000 per day and its annual additions to membership, number fifty thousand.

Spring Work and Duties.

Tennyson tells us, in the melodious metre of his palmy poetic days:—"In the spring a brighter iris gathers on the burnished dove; in the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love." And we all know without his telling, that in the spring a woman's fancy (not lightly, but) sternly turns to thoughts of soap—house cleaning and general repair. The house must be overturned after the most orthodox domestic revolutionary manner. Every thing that the purse can stand must be renewed—new carpets—new furniture, etc. By the way, the best means to get the latter, is to take a small amount of ready cash—it doesn't take much to buy a good deal—and hie away to Belleghem's where, from a vast and varied stock of superb furniture, the most exacting housewife can select just what she wants and at prices which satisfy the closest buyers. Belleghem's is the place for furniture or upholstering or general repairs to furniture

Overworked.

"My husband strained himself with overwork, causing a large swelling in the groin. He suffered great agony, which doctors failed to relieve; he could not eat nor sleep. B. B. B. quickly cured him. He says he never had such quick relief in his life." Extract from a letter from Mrs. George Book, Cookeville, Ont. 2w17

The Spring Show.

The spring stallion and bull show of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society will be held at the Exhibition grounds on Saturday next. Everything has been done to ensure its success, and prospects are encouraging. It is said this show will eclipse all former ones, especially in horses, in which line the exhibits will be unusually fine and extensive. For information see the posters, or apply to the secretary, Mr. Galletly.

Continued This Week.

Evangelistic services are being carried on with unabated interest in the Mission School. Tuesday night Mr. Rich took for his subject "The Ten Virgins." He described this parable forcibly, and by beautiful allegory and touching incidents kept his audience in rapt attention for over two hours. His touching description of the death-bed scene of his mother and of her triumphant death, deeply moved his audience and many were melted to tears. He concluded by an earnest appeal to seekers after salvation to be earnest in their efforts until they found peace. The meetings continue this week.

Thanks for the Firemen.

Everybody was more than pleased with the heroic and persevering efforts of the firemen last Tuesday in subduing the fire in Porter Bros.' carriage factory, and on general principles they have the thanks of citizens, as well as those more closely interested in the catastrophe, for their hard work. The brave laddies faced fire and water fearlessly—their clothes were torn, tattered and watersoaked, and in fact in many instances almost totally ruined. For the information not only of the deserving firemen but the public at large, it may not be out of place to call attention to the fact that gough, the george street king of clothiers, keeps the largest, best and cheapest stock of ready-made clothes in town, besides collars, ties, over coats, rubber coats, caps, etc., and everything that gentlemen usually wear. We don't see how he can do it, but he does, and how he does it is his own business, and if any man knows his business it is Gough. He is up to everything short of absolutely giving away clothes. His latest munificence is his offer on wheels—to pay railroad fare within a radius of 100 miles to every person coming to Peterborough and purchasing $10 worth of clothing from him. Go to gough and he will tog you out so your grandmother won't know you; cheaper than anyone else. Remember the place—the quadriple dudes, george street, Peterborough.

"Some said, John print it, others said Not so." "Some said it might do good, others said No." If the discoverer of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy had shared the senseless prejudices of a certain class of physicians he would have refused to print the good news, to proclaim to the world the glorious tidings that a infallible remedy for that most loathsome disease, catarrh, had been discovered. But he advertised liberally and the result has justified him in the course he pursued. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy never fails. All druggists. 6dw17

A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Agnes, third daughter of Mr. Hamilton Moore, Otonabee, whom we mentioned in our last week's items as dangerously ill with diphtheria, passed away last Monday and was buried on Tuesday in the Woodville cemetery. The deceased was an amiable, kindly and sensible girl of fifteen years past, and just such a one whose absence will be long and sorely felt by the sorrowing household. There seems to be no other cases of diphtheria in the neighborhood. It is strange why it should have broken out at Mr. Moore's, where everything is and out is tidy and comfortable; and they are not aware of having been exposed to contagion at any time.

Inspector Brown paid our school a visit on Tuesday. We do not yet know his opinion of our educational status, but one thing we do know, and that is that we have no school trustees here that have made simpletons of themselves by kicking up a rumpus over our excellent selection of Scripture Readings. There are cranks in all walks of life, and in all matters.

Astonishing Success

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 50,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it, sample bottles to try, only 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada. eodw4

All diseases of the Skin, Scrofula, or Blood Taint, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, White Swellings, Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and sound sense of constitution, will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this God-given remedy, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. PIERCE thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

In many cases only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal.

THURSDAY, APRIL 28, 1887.

LOCAL NEWS.

(For Additional Local matter see 3rd page.)

Explanation.

J. J. Sheehy's card to the public appears in this edition of the EXAMINER on the first page.

Piano Tuning.

S. R. Huffman is in town, all orders left at Mr. Hartleys or McClellan's Jewelry Store, will be attended to.

All the New Cuts in Boys Clothing made up in Good Tweeds and Serges, now on sale at Turnbull's.

Short Nights.

As the days become longer, we can afford to use more artificial light, and reading or sewing by lamp light may become a new pleasure by buying China Hall's famous Coal Oils. Same prices as inferior oils.

The Town's Suit.

Osgoode Hall proceedings, Monday, 25th inst.:—"Town of Peterborough vs. Midland and G. T. R. Ry Co.—Judgment. Order made striking out the defence. Costs to plaintiff in any event. G. H. Watson for the plaintiffs. Aylesworth for defendants.

Oh for a thousand tongues to tell how cheap and good KIDD's boots are.

Straw-cutter vs. Fingers.

Yesterday morning Mr. Robert Leary, North Monaghan, was operating a straw-cutter, when the fingers of his left hand were caught in the knives, the third finger being completely severed, while the next one had the flesh torn from the bone. The wounds bled profusely, and were very painful.

Knights of Labour.

At the regular assembly of the Knights of Labour, No. 6952, held on Wednesday evening it was decided to suspend the usual weekly public meetings, and to hold them, instead, once a month during the warm weather. The first of these monthly meetings will be held on the last Thursday in May. All working men are cordially invited to attend and take part in the discussions, if they so desire.

We have just received another lot of Christy's celebrated Zephyr Hats at Fairweather's hat store.

Imperial Federation.

The first regular meeting of the members of the Peterborough branch of the Imperial Federation League will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Foresters' hall, George street (opposite the Golden Lion). Notices of the meeting have been sent to all members. It is hoped, however, that many who have not already joined will avail themselves of the opportunity of doing so by attending the meeting. The membership already is fifty-six.

A Gallant Rescue.

Wednesday morning Mr. Wm. Kennedy of the Kennedy House, while on the market gallantly saved a human life at the risk of his own, or, at least, at the risk of broken limbs. A Dummer farmer, was selling maple syrup, and was standing on the ground while his wife remained in the wagon. While the farmer was at a little distance, the horses, young, strong and spirited, took fright and dashed off. Mr. Kennedy sprang to the rescue, and caught one of the horses by the bridle. A descending hoof struck him on the leg, badly bruising it, the caulk tearing the pants to tatters, but he brought the horses to a stand still. Mr. Kennedy's prompt action doubtless saved the woman's life, for if the horses had once got under way, the probability is she would not have escaped without fatal injuries. The farmer got into the wagon and drove off without a word of thanks to the gentleman who had risked broken bones to save his property and his wife. Whether the omission was due to excitement, or the farmer's indifference and want of appreciation of the value of his wife's life, is not known.

$1.45 for men's long boots at KIDD's.

The Cannibal Crop.

Superstition is grafted deeply on the human race, and the canvassing one which preoccupies May as unlucky month for marriages still holds sway. Last night a tale of maiden ladies, toying with their tea cups, fell to discussing the disgusting degeneracy of the age, and to clench their contentions, counted up on their maiden digits thirty marriages that had taken place in Peterborough during the month of April—"a pack of fools," said one "to think that in such a business as matrimony there should be lucky and unlucky months—say more for marriage than for murder or suicide." The figures, however, are about correct with perhaps several more to add before the coming monthly matrimonial vacation begins.

Gospel Services.

Wednesday evenings services were well attended, and Mr. Rich's description of the prodigal son was illustrated by scenes of every day like. He described the boy leaving home, full of hope and pride, his wanderings, his sufferings, and finally, his resolution to return to his father's house. He draw a vivid picture of the wandering boy, and gave an account of his own conversion, exhorting professing Christians to bestir themselves and bring sinners to the cross. The speaker closed a two hours' service by an earnest appeal to the unconverted. Meetings will be held every night this week in the Mission School.

Order of Chosen Friends.

A Council of the above Order will be opened in Peterborough Friday (to-morrow) evening, 29th inst. Mr. C. P. Lennox, the Deputy Supreme Councillor for Canada, will address an open meeting at 8 o'clock, explaining the nature, objects and aims of the Society. Persons wishing information respecting this fraternal, benefit society are invited to attend. Place of meeting will be announced to-morrow.

Jet All-over Lace; Jet Fronts; Jet Pannels; Jet Collars and Cuffs, what everybody who wants New and Stylish Goods is looking after; now in Stock at Turnbull's.

Improved Their Store.

Some improvements have recently been made in Messrs. Foot & McWhinnie's boot and shoe store on George street which give the interior a neat and business-like aspect. Paint, paper, new shelves, etc., have improved the appearance of the shop very much, and Messrs. Foot & McWhinnie will be in still better position than ever to meet the wants of customers.

Remembered by His Companions.

In addition to the presents mentioned in yesterday's issue as made to Mr. David Deyell by his bachelor associates upon his entering the married state, might be mentioned a handsome silver dinner cruet, from his fellow-boarders on Chambers street, and a silver cake basket from Mr. James Ruth, his room-mate.

Woodrow half-stiff, Flexible Hat for sale at Fairweather's hat store.

Evangelistic Services.

Mr. Alexander Marshall, the evangelist, will conduct a series of meetings, to-night, Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and on Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Gospel Hall (over China Hall), known as the Mission Rooms. All are cordially invited.

The Q. O. R. Not Coming.

At a meeting of the Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, Wednesday night, it was decided that the Queen's Birthday should be spent in Napanee. Peterborough will accordingly have to celebrate without the crack corps of Toronto.

Turnbull is now showing a Beautiful Range of Light Prints. Everybody admires them. The Colors are Warranted Fast. See them.

Weddings.

As May is considered an unlucky month for weddings, those contemplating matrimony had better avail themselves of April and tell their friends to patronize China Hall for wedding presents.

The Show To-day.

The third annual spring stallion and bull show of the Baillieboro Agricultural Society was held to-day.

Gent's Tweed Hats made to order on the premises at Fairweather's hat store.

Police Court.

WEDNESDAY, April 27th.

H. Marshall and Geo. Wilson, for creating a disturbance at the corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets Sunday night, staggering, swearing and jostling passers-by, were each fined $5.

T. Theobald was fined $2 for allowing his cow to run at large.

THURSDAY, April 28th.

P. C. McGinty captured a cow belonging to Mr. Andrew Allison on the Barnardo Home property yesterday, and the delinquent owner paid $2 into the town treasury this morning.

T. Cavanagh admitted a second offence against the Scott Act and was fined $100 and costs.

The four boys remanded from Monday for damaging Mr. Wainright's butcher shop on Sunday, were again arraigned in court. Three of them, McGuinness, Shearer and Flaherty, were dismissed with warnings from the magistrate. Little Jimmy Dwyer, though but nine years old, has already become an adept in crime. His father declared that the lad was beyond control, wandering about and continually getting into mischief, and sleeping out nights he knew not where. In fact, Jimmy's evil habits were shown up in such strong light that he was committed to the Reformatory for boys for a term not exceeding five years; if he becomes a better boy he will be released earlier.

Cupid's Conquests.

Two Joyful Occasions—"All Went Merry as a Marriage Bell."

Last evening Mr. Samuel Clegg and Miss Hattie S. Dean, were united in holy wedlock by Rev. J. W. R. Beck at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. S. Dean, Bridgenorth. Miss Minnie Dean supported the bride and Mr. Geo. Stevenson the groom. About forty relatives of the contracting parties were present, who partook of the sumptuous dejeuner and gave tangible proofs of their esteem and best wishes for the young couple, henceforth one. The large list of valuable presents to the fair bride, included a complete silver tea service of seven pieces; china breakfast set, china tea set (from the fire department), a handsome clock and hanging lamp; carving knife and fork, with steel, in morocco case, nut crackers and accessories in morocco case; three silver dinner cruets and as many cake baskets, with pickle and breakfast cruets; silver card receiver and many other useful and valuable articles too numerous to mention. May Mr. and Mrs. Clegg experience many years of combined happiness and prosperity in the affairs of this life.

BROWNSCOMBE-BORLAND.

Weller street was yesterday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock the scene of joy and happiness. About fifty friends and relatives of the two young people whose hearts beat as one, assembled at the residence of Mr. Wm. Borland to witness the marriage of his daughter, Caroline, to Mr. Felix Brownscombe. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. E. F. Torrance, the bride being supported by Miss Borland, her cousin, and the groom by Mr. Wm. Adamson, after which the newly wedded couple were legally competent to receive the heartiest congratulations of their friends. Both young people are well known in Peterborough—the groom for his genial and manly spirit, his strict integrity and morality, and the numerous good qualities that go to make a man in the true sense of the word; while the bride is known to be possessed, in a high degree, of those feminine graces which hold captive the heart, and brighten the home. The bride was the recipient of an unusually large and varied list of valuable presents, and the groom was also remembered by his male friends and companions in business. Outside the circle of relatives the gifts included a silver tea service from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Cox, a china set from Mr. Brownscomb's fellow-employees in Mr. Cox's office, and a set of china dishes from four other young friends; the young ladies on the millinery and dressmaking staff of Mr. Jas. Alexander's store presented the bride with a handsome silver fruit dish and salt stands. That Felix and his bride may live a life of unalloyed happiness, is the sincere wish of a host of friends.

Oddfellows' Grand Lodge.

A Circular Setting Forth the Merits of Our Town, and its Attractions During the Celebration.

In connection with the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows in Peterborough this August, the local brethren purpose holding a grand demonstration, in which they invite the participation of all Oddfellows. The following circular has been sent to the various lodges throughout Ontario, and the prospects are assuring—nay, certain—for the success of this undertaking:—

It is proposed to make it an Oddfellows, Jubilee Celebration, to do honor to the lady whom we all revere and admire. As Oddfellows, we have learned to regard her as the grandest woman among women,—because she combines in her person all the elements which give to woman her noblest characteristics; she is to us the concentration of all the honor end glory of our nation.

Exceptionally low railroad rates have been promised by the railway companies, and it is expected that a very large number of Patriarchs Militant will pay us a visit, to enter into the competitive drill, for which suitable prizes will be offered for competition.

The Jubilee Songs have arrived, and will be sung in the Horticultural Park by 500 voices with band accompaniment. The Driving Park and Athletic Grounds have been secured, and will be utilized for Trotting Races, Athletic Sports, Lacrosse and Cricket Matches, Fireworks, &c., &c.

We will take a personal delight in conducting you through all our manufacturing establishments, consisting of Lock Works, Stove and Furnace Works, Furniture and Canoe Factories, Agricultural and Carriage Works, Roller, Planing and Woolen Mills, Pork Packing House, Breweries, Foundries, Machine Shops, &c., &c. We boast of fine Churches and Public Buildings,—these will also be open for your inspection. We will be pleased to show you our Electric Light and Water Works System, Fire Brigade, &c., Little Lake Cemetery, Horticultural, Riverside and Central Parks.

Should you desire a pleasant day's outing, the Northern Division of the American Canoe Association, will be in session holding their Annual Meet on Stoney Lake, 20 miles distant from Peterborough, from the 1st to the 12th of August, you can take the train to Lakefield, 9 miles distant, which is the foot of the Northern chain of Lakes, where connection can be made with several small steamers plying on these waters, and landing visitors on any island they may select. The sail is a delightful one. The shores are bold, rocky and picturesque, indented with a multitude of bays and fringed with countless small islands. Stoney Lake is a lake of magnificent proportions, and during that month the shores and islands will be dotted with innumerable white tents, making a scene of unique and entrancing beauty. Locks are at present being built on this lake in connection with the Trent Navigation, which will, when completed, extend from the Bay of Quinte to Georgian Bay. Another pleasant trip can be made by taking the Union Bus Line to Chemong Park and Bridgenorth, connecting with Bottum's and Crandall's lines of Steamers for Bobcaygeon, Sturgeon Point, Fenelon Falls, and other noteworthy summer resorts. There are several other equally entertaining spots down the River Otonabee, which can be reached via Calcutt's line of Steamers.

Visitors can rest assured that nothing will be left undone to ensure the enjoyment of all. We have every reason to believe that the Governor General will accept the invitation that has been extended to him to visit Peterborough on August 10th, which day will be our Civic Holiday, and the committee desire that an effort be made by all Lodges to get their Civic Holiday, appointed for that date. You will find a people eager to welcome you as Brethren and true friends.

Personal.

At the recent examinations at Queen's College, Kingston, Mr. Orr Bennett, of Peterborough, took a scholarship in theology; and Mr. T. A. Cosgrove, Millbrook, the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Mr. Harry Reid, formerly Secretary-Treasurer of the Midland Railway here, was in town attending the meeting of the shareholders of the company on Tuesday, and took occasion to call upon a number of his old Peterborough friends, who were pleased to see him looking so well.

True and False.

"What are the last teeth that come" asked a teacher of her class in physiology. "False teeth, mum," replied a boy who had just wakened up on the back seat.

OTTAWA NEWS.

THE FIRST PARTY DIVISION IN THE OTTAWA HOUSE.

OTTAWA, April 28.—The seat of George F. Baird, M.P. for Queen's county, New Brunswick, in the Commons of Canada was vacant this afternoon and evening, and George F. Baird occupied a prominent position in the Senators' gallery, having on his right a gray-haired Senator from New Brunswick and Speaker Pugsley of the New Brunswick Legislature on the left, waiting for such time as the House should declare whether or not the seat allotted to him in the Commons chamber was his or the property in fee simple of George G. King, also of Queen's county, N.B. The case is important and interesting from the fact that it is the first of the kind, being unique in style and peculiar to the country. In the late contest George G. King was the Reform candidate in Queen's, N.B., and George F. Baird the Conservative standard bearer. The result of the poll showed that Mr. King had secured 1191 and Baird 1130 votes. But counsel for Mr. Baird objected that the election deposit of Mr. King had been made by a person other than that named in the law. The returning officer sustained the objection, ruled out all the votes cast for Mr. King, and declared Mr. Baird elected by 9 to 0, as the baseball reports say.

The afternoon sun mellowed by the stained glass windows played gently over the harsh lines with which nature has endowed the countenance of Mr. Skinner, the junior member for St. John, as he addressed the House in support of his motion that Mr. Baird be incontinently ejected from the building and his place be given to Mr. King.

The debate was continued by several prominent members speaking for and against the resolution.

At 12.30 o'clock the question was called and the division bell rung. There was a good deal of excitement as to what the result of the division would be, and there was a feverish feeling about the lobbies all through the night. This was succeeded, as the supreme moment approached which was to effectually decide as to the Government's majority, by a feeling of impatience to have the thing over and the whips were cheered when they marched in through the door announcing that the last man available was in. Assistant Clerk Rolleau rose to call the names for the yeas and nays and a dead silence fell on the House. The galleries, late as was the hour, were fairly well filled, and so intense was the feeling that half the gallery were on their feet.

The following is the division list:—

Yeas—Andet, Bain (Soulanges), Barron, Bergin, Bowell, Boyle, Brown, Bryson, Burns, Cameron, Campbell (Inghy), Carling, Carpenter, Casgrain, Chapleau, Chisholm, Cockburn, Colby, Costigan, Coudlis, Coulombe, Couture, Curran, Daly, Davin, Dawson, Denison, Desjardins, Dessaint, Dewdney, Dickey, Dodd, Dodet, Dupont, Edgar, Ellis, Fleet, Fisher, Flynn, Gauthier, Geoffrion, Gigault, Gillmor, Godbout, Gray, Hale, Holton, Innes, Jones, Kirk, Langelier, Lang, Laurier, Lavergne, Lister, Livingston, Lovitt, Macdonald (Huron), McIntyre, McMillan, (Huron), McMillan, (Mallory, Mills, Bothwell), Mitchell, Molock, Paterson, (Brant), Patterson, (Essex), Perry, Platt, Rinfret, Robertson, (Kings, P.E.I.), Robertson, (Shelburne), Ste. THE COERCION BILL.

MR. REID'S AMENDMENT TO THE CRIMES BILL REJECTED.

LONDON, April 28.—In the House of Commons to-night the motion offered on April 26 by Robt. T. Reid, Liberal, that the House decline to proceed with any measure directed against tenants combining for relief, until a full measure for their relief from excessive rents was presented in Parliament, was rejected by a vote of 341 to 240.

A motion that the House go into committee on the Crimes Bill was then adopted.

In the debate before the vote on Mr. Reid's motion Thomas Power O'Connor said it was the duty of the Parnellites to delay the Crimes Bill as a bastage for satisfactory remedial measures. He accused Mr. Balfour, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, of gross ignorance respecting the state of that country, and contended that if he himself dealt with crime in England on the basis on which Ministers favoring coercion dealt with crime in Ireland he could show a state of things that was truly appalling.

Mr. Morley said the effect of the bill would be, not to prevent the withdrawal of capital from Ireland, but to drive out the labor that supported capital. The Government had its own weak case to thank for the prolonging of the discussion, the Opposition being compelled to extract information piecemeal. First the Government had said the bill was directed to suppress crimes, then that it was directed against combinations; now the Government said the measure was not aimed at combinations.

Bright Thinks Coercion Necessary.

LONDON, April 28.—Mr. Bright has written a letter in which he says: "No Government, Liberal or Conservative, is likely to promote a measure like that before Parliament except under a strong sense of its necessity. Such measures bring the Government much difficulty, rendering it unpopular and interfering with other measures with which the ministers are anxious to proceed. In 1881-2 I consented to measures of repression for the sake of law and order. I was then a member of the Government. What I thought needful then I think needful now, and I will not condemn the present bill because it is introduced by Conservatives."

Mr. Parnell Ill.

LONDON, April 28.—Mr. Parnell, who was expected to return to London to-day, is suffering from a cold and is confined to his house at Arvandale, Ireland.

A Protest Against Non-Intercourse.

DULUTH, Minn., April 28.—The Board of Trade to-day took action on the fisheries question, unanimously adopting a memorial to the President, calling attention to the large amount of traffic between Duluth and Canadian ports and urging that freedom of trade and transportation between the Northwestern States and Territories, and Canada should not be restricted. The object is to secure the exemption of the Northwest from any general proclamation putting in force the retaliatory measures. It is said like action will be taken in other cities of the Northwest.

Murdered by a Saloonkeeper.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, April 28.—Dr. W. I. Northrup, a prominent physician at Haverhill, was murdered yesterday by Thos. McCoy, a saloonkeeper. Dr. Northrup had incurred the displeasure of the McCoy party by being active in favor of local option.

The Leaguer's Scheme.

QUEENSTOWN, April 28.—Mr. White, the agent of the Irish Woollen Manufacturing and Exporting Company, recently organized by Mr. Parnell, Mr. Davitt and other National Leaguers for the promotion of Irish industry, sailed to-day for New York on the steamer Adriatic.

A Fire in New York.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Early this evening fire was discovered in the large factory building, No. 223 to 237 Canal-street. The fire is still burning fiercely. Six or eight firms occupied the building. The largest was a fresco and wall paper manufactory. The loss is estimated at $230,000.

One Hundred and Fifty Lives Lost.

LONDON, April 28.—A despatch from Cooktown, Australia, announces that the steamer Benton, of Singapore, was sunk in a collision with a bark off the Island of Formosa, and that 160 persons were drowned. No Europeans were lost.

After Thirty Years' Retirement.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 28.—Mrs. W. G. Nosh, the eminent tragic actress, who retired from the stage over thirty years ago, to-day at the age of 79 years appeared at the Elks' benefit as Lady Macbeth and received a great ovation. It was necessary to assist her on and off the stage.

Drowned in a Cellar.

MONTREAL, April 28.—Mrs. Rafferty, mother of Mr. Rafferty, grocer, corner Murray and Ottawa-streets, fell through a trap door in the store when going to serve a customer and was drowned in five feet of water. The water in the cellar was due to the flood. The deceased lady was about 70 years of age and much respected.

TRAIN ROBBERS AT WORK.

A Band of Armed Men Rifle an Express Car of $3000 and Get Clear Away.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—One of the most audacious, desperate and successful train robberies ever recorded occurred yesterday on the west bound train on the Southern Pacific Railway near Tucson, Arizona. A special to the Evening Bulletin from Tucson gives details of the affair as follows: "The western bound express, due here at 10.20 last evening, was stopped and robbed at Papago Station, eighteen miles east of here, about 9.30. The number of men engaged in the robbery is variously estimated from five to eight. Col. Harper, the engineer, when approaching Papago, was signalled by a red lantern to stop. He slowed down and as he approached the light he noticed obstructions on the track so placed that in case he failed to stop, the engine would spread the track and derail itself. Immediately on stopping a dozen or more shots were fired into the express car, and a man with a pistol in each hand boarded the locomotive and commanded Harper not to get down. The other robbers had in the meantime been prying open the express car, and failing to get it open they placed a stick of giant powder under it and compelled Harper to light the fuse attached. This he was obliged to do, but to avoid being blown up the messenger opened the car and the robbers took possession. They then took charge of the car, uncoupled the engine, baggage and express car from the remainder of the train and made Harper get on the engine and pull ahead two lengths. This being done, Harper was again put off and the robbers took charge of the engine and pulled six miles towards Tucson. Here they killed the engine and left it. During the run the robbers went through the mail and express cars, but did not get more than $3000. Nothing was known here of the affair until late last night, when a telegram was received from Potosone, a Mexican having walked back eight miles to that station. None of the passengers were molested.

F. Malloy, Cobourg; John Craig, Woodstock; A. W. Smith, Simcoe; H. A. Nixon, St. George; F. Ruddell, Georgeton; J. C. Dance, Kingsmill; V. E. Fuller, Thomas Shaw, Bearbrook; M. W. Cook, Cookville; S. J. Pearson, Meadowville. Mr. Awrey, M.P.P. for South Wentworth, and Mr. Archibald Blue, Assistant-Commissioner of Agriculture were also present.

Mr. V. E. Fuller was called to the chair, and Mr. Thomas Shaw of Hamilton was appointed Secretary. The object of the meeting was explained by the Chairman to be the discussion of various subjects and the organization of a body that would tend to give farmers the rights which the respective classes of the community owe them.

Mr. Awrey addressed the meeting with reference to the importance of the agricultural interest and the lack of attention which it received at the hands of public men. He urged the advisability of producing a class of stock that would lead Britain to Canada for her regular supplies, and so in reference to the butter industry and various other interests. He urged immediate action.

Mr. Thomas Shaw then read a carefully prepared paper on extension of Farmers' Institutes, and how they might be made more beneficial to the farmers of Ontario; after which, on motion of D. J. Hunter, seconded by T. Kells, it was decided to proceed at once with the organization of a central farmers' institute for the Province of Ontario.

A discussion on the best means of improving the butter industry resulted in the adoption of this resolution:

That this meeting desires to place on record their opinion that the butter industry of Canada can be best raised to the position it ought to occupy by the establishment of creameries in Canada, and that every encouragement is due to the Ontario Creameries Association in their efforts to improve and establish creameries throughout Canada.

At the evening session it was decided to call the organization "The Permanent Canadian Farmer's Institute of Ontario," and these officers were elected: President, V. E. Fuller of Hamilton; Vice-President, J. Dryden, M.PP., Brooklyn; Secretary-Treasurer, F. T. Shaw, Hamilton; Executive Committee, James Murdoch, Yeovil; M. D. Willard, Morrisburg; T. Kosmack, Northcote; Thos. Crowe, Chatham; D. Campbell, Nelson, A. H. Pettit, Grimsby; J. H. Wodley, Simcoe; J. Legge, Gananoque; James Cochrane, Kilsythe; D. M. McPherson, Glengarry.

The most important business of the session was taken up about 8.30. It was the consideration of the trade relations existing between the Dominion and the United States, and the farmers in discussing the question showed a lively appreciation of the matter in so far as it affected their interests. As the resolution adopted will show they are unanimously in favor of a broader trade policy with the United States. The debate was introduced by Messrs. Thomas Conant and Andrew Annis of Oshawa moving the following resolution:

That this Central Farmers' Institute unanimously and individually feel the great want of a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Canada, and that this Institute will at all times urge the Dominion Government to obtain such reciprocity for us at the earliest possible moment.

The following amendment was put in by D. J. Hunter of Laurel, seconded by D. E. Ellis of Kimberly.

That in the opinion of this Institute a removal of all restrictions on trade between the Dominion of Canada and the United States is desirable, either by reciprocity treaty or otherwise, as may be agreed upon by the Governments of the respective countries, and that the officers of the Institute are hereby authorized to take such action in the premises as shall best promote the object of this resolution.

Mr. James McEwan, of Drayton, heartily endorsed the resolution, believing that with reciprocity times would be greatly improved. This feeling was widespread among farmers.

Col. Campbell thought the time was at hand when the farmers of this country should call upon the Government to take measures for the carrying out of more amicable trade relations with the United States. Some might accuse him of disloyalty for holding such views, but it it came to a question of Queen and country, his position would soon be ascertained.

Chairman Fuller called upon Mr. Anderson to take the chair while he spoke on the question. He referred to Mr. Wiman's message to him, which he had answered as a private individual, and he thought the executive officers should be empowered to carry the matter further. His business was carried on mostly with the United States, and if those opposed to reciprocity knew the amount of trade which might be carried on if commercial restrictions were withdrawn, there would not be one dissenter. A cry was made that the measure would be death to Canadian manufactures. If the Canadian manufacturers did not have the pluck and energy to hold their own against American competitors, all he could say was that they deserved to succumb. It was not the manufacturing so much as the agricultural interests that were at stake.

Mr. Joshua Legge of Gananoque said he lived in a manufacturing village and the manufacturers there would only be too glad to have the markets of the United States open to their goods.

Mr. James Cochrane of Owen Sound thought that it would be better to take another move and ask the Government of Great Britain for commercial union in food supplies.

Mr. D. E. Ellis thought that every farmer in Canada would throw up his hat if reciprocity were obtained.

Mr. Thos. Kells of Vandebur thought that the resolutions were premature. He had a little too much British blood in him to throw himself at the feet of Congress, and he would not support the resolution. He had advocated Canadian manufacturing interests in the past, but he believed that these interests now take care of themselves. The consideration of the matter was premature.

Mr. D. E. Ellis thought that now was the proper time. [Cries of hear, hear]

Mr. James Cochrane submitted the following addition to the amendment:

That in the event of failure to obtain reciprocity between the United States and the Dominion Government, the Imperial Parliament be asked for such trade relations as would admit colonial goods free of duty and place a heavy tax on foreign food supplies.

The amendment of Mr. Hunter, with the above addition was unanimously carried.

The following resolution on the railway tariff, by Joshua Legge, was carried after some discussion:

That in the opinion of this meeting the tariffs and classification of the railroads as they now exist are prejudicial to the interests of the farmers of this country; and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the secretary of the Railway Commission.

HOME RULE RESOLUTIONS.

The various divisions on the anti-Coercion resolutions proposed in the House of Commons, by Mr. Curran, of Montreal, afford instructive matter for reflection. The one important point brought out was that the spirit of Liberalism is largely predominant in Canada, many representatives in casting their votes choosing to forget their political alliances for the moment—for all the opposition to the resolution came from the Tory benches—rather than run counter to the current of popular sentiment. It goes without saying that every one of the Liberal members of the House solidly ranged themselves on the side of liberty and freedom, and in condemnation of the application of opposing principles to Ireland by British statesmen. It also goes without saying that the Tories in large numbers trimmed and shuffled on the question. After striving to win two elections on the race and creed cry, they dare not, many of them, carry out on the floor of the House the policy they were willing to avail themselves of last February. The personal attitude of several members on the question, presents an entertaining subject for reflection.

Mr. Dalton McCarthy, Sir John's Ontario lieutenant in Dominion matters, was, at least consistent. He maintained on the floor of the House the same principles he did on the stump. He insisted on upholding, as far as Canadian expression of parliamentary opinion could do, the divine right of British statesmen to club Irishmen.

Sir John was inconsistent with his general record. He took a decided position. Reflecting no doubt, that the elections were over and that he would not have soon again, if ever, to appeal to the Irish vote, he became animated with the spirit of his declared sentiment that he "has no confidence in the breed." He voted in favour of Coercion for Ireland and consequently he voted against Home Rule, the antithesis of Coercion, according to the present complexion of British politics.

Mr. Nicholas Flood Davin, the new member for Regina, has shown himself to be of that class of Irishmen who have been the curse of Ireland—willing to cringe to his superiors and barter his patriotism for personal rewards. He has posed as an Irishman first and last and has used that fact as one of the levers of his advancement. Now, when Ireland needs the help of only his vote he refuses it, and crouches at the feet of Sir John to do the dirty work of trying to prevent the Parliament of Canada from sympathising with Ireland in her struggle to secure that measure of self government, which Irishmen in Canada and every other colony of the Empire, enjoy. Well might Mr. Davin apply to himself the spirit of Tom Moore's caustic lines:—

O for a tongue to curse the slave,
Whose treason, like a deadly blight
Comes over the councils of the brave,
And blasts them in their hour of might.

Last but not least, the member of West Peterborough, Mr. Stevenson, comes out as a convert. The air of Ottawa seems to have had an expanding effect on his soul. He voted for the Anti-Coercion resolutions, though he could not refrain from a little characteristic trimming by voting for the amendments intended to destroy them. A great change has come over him since he conducted, with his little corner race-and-creed crusade at Baillieboro' during the elections. The member for West Peterborough, in voting to condemn coercion and in favor of Home Rule, has set at rest the minds of some who were in doubt as to his position on these questions, judging from his double-sided speech, when he presided as chairman of the Justin McCarthy meeting in the Opera House here last fall.

The position taken on the Irish question resolutions by Liberals, both in Toronto and Ottawa, is perfectly consistent. Liberals believe in the justice of giving Ireland self-government because it is a cardinal principle of their political faith, that every British subject has a right, subject, of course, to constitutional modes, to the privilege of self-government. The principle of Toryism is to deny to Ireland that right, while they tolerate it in every colony of the empire—but only because they can't help it. And when the time shall come, as come it will, when Ireland is to have self-government, Toryism will yield and claim credit for its generosity—which it has shown by centuries of oppression and invasion of Irish rights.

The controversy between Rev. Alex. Bell and Mr. J. B. McWilliams, arising from the former's dealing, from the pulpit, with a political matter, brings the local Conservative organ to the rescue and defence of the clerical disputant in the case. That action establishes, beyond cavil, the fact that the sermon referred to was a political one, and designed to produce a political effect, otherwise we should not have had the local organ taking up the cudgels on behalf of a gentleman who is able to take care of himself, and who has hitherto carried on his correspondence without journalistic assistance, nor would we find it meddling with a matter which would not yield political capital. The contention between the two principal parties is chiefly a personal one, and if it have no other effect it will doubtless have this—Rev. Mr. Bell will be more careful in the future how he attempts to mix in his pulpit religion and politics, that is, if he desires to come out of the resulting tussle with credit to himself, which he can hardly be said to have done in this case, either as a controversialist or a Christian minister.

The August Canoe Meet.

Big Time for the Canoeists—Prospects Good—The 1887 Meet Will Eclipse that of 1883.

The Executive Committee of the Northern Division of the American Canoe Association are using every effort towards rendering the meet at Stoney Lake in August, from the 1st to the 13th, an unqualified success. A good programme is being prepared by the Regatta Committee, which will be published when completed. In addition to the division officers published some time ago, the following Regatta Committee has been appointed:—Messrs. R. C. Strickland, Lakefield; W. H. McKendrick, Toronto; J. G. Edwards, Lindsay. Regarding the excellency of the camping ground selected, the first draft of the programme says:—

The camping ground selected is that on Juniper Island, which was similarly occupied by the A. C. A. in 1883. As members from the different canoe clubs in the Northern Division were probably present on that occasion, there is no necessity for a detailed description. It will be sufficient to say that there is ample space for sailing and paddling races, combined with protection from heavy winds, commodious and extensive camping ground, beautiful scenery amid which to make excursions, and ease of access. Stoney Lake being part of a magnificent chain of waters, members wishing to do so can cruise to or from it part of the way. As in 1883, every possible arrangement is being prepared for the convenience and comfort of the members.

As soon as favourable arrangements can be concluded with the different railway and steamboat lines regarding fares and transportation, a circular programme will be printed and distributed among the many canoe clubs who will be asked to participate in the meet.

For information the purser, Mr. J. D. Collins, may be applied to. The membership fee is $2, with an entrance fee of $1, but the latter will be remitted from any who were former members of the A.C.A. Following are the officers:—

AMERICAN CANOE ASSOCIATION:—Commodore—R. J. Wilkin, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Sec-Treas—W. M. Carter, Trenton, N. J.

NORTHERN DIVISION:—Vice-Commodors—Col. H. C. Rogers, Peterborough; Rear Commodore—Col. S. T. Fairtough, R.M.C., Kingston; Purser—J. D. Collins, Peterborough; Executive Committee—B. D. Jacques, Toronto; A. F. D. Macgahen, Lindsay; Dr. Douglas, V. C., Lakefield; Colin Fraser, Ubique C.C., Galt; F. S. Rathbun, Deseronto; F. Miuns, Bobcaygeon.

The officers and committee will, upon the opening of navigation, convene at Peterborough and take a trib out to Stoney Lake from Lakefield on Mr. Strickland's little yacht. Besides enjoying a few days outing, arrangements will be furthered for the grand meet in August.

The Funniest Out.

"One of the largest houses that ever greeted any actor in Atlanta was out to hear Charles Davis last night. The play is one of the best every seen here, in fact nearly everyone says it is the finest of its kind. From the beginning to the end the house was kept laughing, and each and every one was high in their praise of the play and of Davis. Chas. Davis, as Alvin Joslin, is a typical countryman, and in the role has no superior, if any equal. He plays the role for all it is worth and this explains his success. Miss Howard, as the wife of the old countryman, was very good. The orchestra is the finest ever seen with a private company. E. E. Nickerson, the cornet soloist, and the xylophone soloist, received rounds of applause. All in all the play is above the average."—Atlanta Daily Capitol, Feb. 18 1886. The Alvin Joslin Company appear at Bradburn's Opera House Tuesday next, May 3rd.

Cheap Railway Rates.

At a meeting of the Reception Committee of the Oddfellows Wednesday night, the railway rates proposed by the G. T. R. and C. P. R. were accepted. Uniformed camps all over Canada, same as excursion rates; bands, half excursion rates. Tickets will be issued on August 9th and 10th, good to return on the 12th.

The New Post Office.

The ways of Governments are strange and still it seems it is undecided where the new post-office shall be. While there is doubt about this fact, there is no doubt that the Town Clock Grocery (W. J. Always Prompt in Action.

This is just what every sufferer wants—prompt action, and rapid relief from pain. The grandest discovery of the age, the great pain cure, is Polson's NERVILINE—prompt, powerful, pleasant to the taste, and yet so pure that it may be given to the smallest infant. Try a 10 cent sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nerviline, the great, sure, and prompt pain cure. The large bottles are only 25 cents. 6dw17

The Chief Trouble.

It is very difficult for a lady to enter or leave a carriage properly. It requires practice and a carriage. The carriage is the hardest part to acquire.

Many persons in Pittston are using Ely's Cream Balm, a Catarrh remedy, with most satisfactory results. A lady is recovering the sense of smell which she not njoyed for fifteen years. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr. Barber has used it in his family and reccomends it very highly. A Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness.—Pittston, Pa., Gazette eodw17

A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

LATEST SPORTING GOSSIP.

BUFFALO, April 28.—There were but two league games to-day, rain at Pittsburg and Washington preventing the opening games in those cities. At New York the Quaker City representatives opened for a defeat, due to the fact that in the seventh inning the Giants gauged Daily and batted for three runs, which gave them the lead and the game, as at the conclusion of the eighth play was stopped owing to darkness. Keefe was batted only for scattered hits. Score:

	R. H. E.
New York	0 0 0 1 0 0 3 0 x— 4 11 2
Philadelphia	0 1 0 0 0 1 1 0 x— 3 8 4

At Indianapolis the home club opened its career in the league to-day by a splendid game against the Detroits. The contest was really an old time pitcher's game, which, under the new rules, was rather an unexpected feature. The home club went to the bat and scored the first run. Detroit did not score till the third and helped again in the fourth. At the fifth opening the home club again tied the score and in the seventh Detroit was again one ahead. Neither scored in the eighth, but when the home club put in a single in the first half of the ninth and tied the score again. Indianapolis stock went up. The Michigan sluggers, however, rallied around and scored the winning run without difficulty. Both clubs had in their strongest batteries, Boyle pitching and Myers catching for the home team and Baldwin pitching and Bennet catching for the visitors. Score:

	R. H. E.
Indianapolis	1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1— 3 7 6
Detroit	0 0 1 1 0 0 1 0 1— 4 8 8

Association Games.

BUFFALO, April 28.—The association was not more lucky than the league, as only two of its games were played to a conclusion. One, the Brooklyn-Athletic game at Philadelphia, was stopped after two innings' play in which the Athletics had scored a run and the Brooklyns were blanked. The Baltimore-Metropolitan schedule at Baltimore was not filled. At St. Louis there was another slugging match with Cleveland, in which the Champions had a decided advantage early, but came near missing the game owing to a terrific batting streak which the Babies developed later on. King pitched for the home club and Crowell for Cleveland. Score:

	R. H. E.
St. Louis	1 1 3 3 0 0 4 6 0—19 22 4
Cleveland	0 0 1 0 0 0 6 2 3—11 17 5

At Louisville Hecker went in the box for the home club and his excellent work inspired the home players with confidence. On the other hand the Cincinnatis put Smith in, and he was the nicest kind of a pie for Louisville. They not only batted him hard, but his erratic style of delivery gave them ample opportunity to run up their score:

	R. H. E.
Louisville	4 1 0 0 3 2 0 1 1—12 19 3
Cincinnati	0 1 0 0 0 2 0 2 0— 5 10 3

NIAGARA FALLS, April 28.—A man supposed to be a stone-cutter named Carruthers, a recent arrival from England, employed in the Queenstown quarries, was killed by the cars in the Grand Trunk Railway yard here to-day. Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, plains and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symtoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. eodw4

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying and invigorating medicine. Great Boils, Tumors and Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, Runnings and Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, White Swellings, Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a treatise on Scrofulous Affections. "THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE." Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution, will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this God-given remedy, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. PIERCE thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, and bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE

Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills, alternating with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy borebodings, irregular appetite, and coated tongue, you are suffering from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Consumption, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. Send ten cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's book on Consumption. Sold by Druggists.

A Card of Thanks.

$1.45 for men's long boots at KIDD'S.

A Cutting Affair.

It happened yesterday—and is happening every day—at R. Fair's store on George street, sign of the golden lion. The EXAMINER strolled into the carpet room and was engaged to see the immense assortment of carpets in all the latest colors and patterns. Orders were being cut up for consumers. The carpet department of this Golden Lion has expanded, more than commensurate proportions with the steadily increasing all-round trade in dry goods, millinery, etc., of this firm.

A Joke on the Judges.

To-day two gentlemen were employed to appraise the damage done by the fire of Tuesday to Mr. T. Fitzgerald's carriage factory building, Charlotte street. After they had looked over the ruins, they chose a clean spot, sat down, lighted their cigars and proceeded to make their calculations. This completed, they retired, but before they had left the premises, fire had broken out in two places from their lighted cigar ends. The fire was nipped in the bud. It is an open question whether the abstractness of their calculations had made them absent-minded, or whether they had made their figures too high and wished to bring the damage up to their figures rather than revise their work. None laughs more heartily over the joke than the proprietor of the buildings himself.

Meeting of the "Riversides."

A meeting of the Riverside Lacrosse Club was held at the "Hub" last night, at which the attendance was larger than the previous meeting. Messrs. Ross, Rogers, McDonald and Bagley were appointed a Committee of Management, and the Subscription Committee reported having secured about $25 subscriptions for the week. A challenge was read from the Millbrook Lacrosse Club for a match at that village on May 24th, but as the "Hubs" owe the Riversides a return match from last season, the challenge was declined, and the secretary instructed to correspond with the Hastings "Ironclads" re a contest on that date. Practice will be began by the Riversides next Monday evening on Burnham's Point, which will be used until the flood leaves the park. The officers of the Riverside Lacrosse Club desire to thank those who have so kindly contributed to the club fund.

Fighting Fire.

Messrs. Portor Bros., in spite of the fire in their factory, are again in full running order. They have with their accustomed enterprise, secured temporary premises, and are carrying on their work as usual, in all departments. The public are hereby informed that Porter Bros. are prepared to execute any ordered work desired, and to promptly do all repairs. The fire was a serious interruption to their business, but energy and push have overcome it, and they are now running again in full blast. Mr. Charles Porter has just returned from a business trip in western Canada, as far as Sarnia and Windsor. He met with good success in selling the carriage tops of the firm and the "O.B and S" road cart, the speciality of Porter Bros. An idea of the briskness of the business in the latter is is afforded by the fact that Mr. Porter sold fifty of these carts in one day.

Our Town Solicitor Abroad.

Col. H. C. Rogers has received a letter from Mr. E. B. Edwards announcing his safe arrival in England. Mr. Edwards also states that while at New York, en-route to England, some of his A. C. A. friends, learning of his intended trip to the old country, cabled across the ocean and entered him in the annual Royal Canoe Meet on the river Thames, on or about May 24th. An order was at once despatched to the Ontario Canoe factory here for a light cedar racing canoe, to be forwarded to London in time if possible for the race. The order is being filled with all haste and it is hoped the canoe will reach him in time, when a victory for Mr. Edwards may be expected. He will, however, have completed his business and returned to Peterborough before the meet of the Northern Division of the A. C. A. at Stoney Lake in August.

They're Going Ahead.

After a year's operations the Lindsay-Seldon Furniture Co. may boast of almost phenomenal success. Their business has increased so steadily and persistently in the past that it is only a matter of a month or so before something definite will be done in the way of providing increased accommodation—either by enlarging the present premises or erecting a new factory. The present staff of 25 men is working over-time on the orders which pour in. In their special line of business—walnut chamber work—the Lindsay-Seldon Co. do the largest trade in Canada. Their Jubilee suits too are attracting orders for 150 suits of which are already booked. Large shipments are being made, particularly to Toronto and the West, every day, and new machinery placed in wherever room can be found. With proper facilities this company could run a staff of 100 men. Such success is gratifying not only to the proprietors but to the citizens of Peterborough in general.

Honor to Bishop Dowling.

Rev. Father Dowling, Bishop-elect of Peterborough, who will be consecrated to his work in St. Mary's Cathedral, Hamilton, on Sunday, was entertained to a grand banquet by his friends in Paris the other evening. The Town Hall, where the event took place, was crowded. It was decorated in the most artistic manner with evergreens, flags, mottoes "Welcome," "God Save the Queen," and others. The Bishop-elect occupied the place of honor. On the right were W. B. Wood, M. P. P., and Dr. Burt. On the left he was supported by Mayor Stroud and Father Keough, Chancellor of the Diocese. The blessing was asked by the Bishop and the delicacies of the season partaken of. The Mayor read letters of regret from the following gentlemen, who had been invited, but were unable to be present, viz.: Hon. Arthur S. Hardy, Toronto; Wm. Paterson, M.P.; Ottawa; Jeffrey Hale, Brantford R. Henry, Brantford; J. W. Acres, Paris. The Mayor in a few well chosen remarks congratulated the ladies on their success in providing such a banquet and also the Bishop-elect on his elevation to the high and responsible position which he was about to occupy in the Church. While the Paris congregation were losing a beloved pastor, Paris was losing a good citizen. What was our loss would be another's gain. He called upon Mr. T. O'Neal to come forward and present the address, which was replete with laudation of the many excellent qualities of the rev. gentlemen and congratulations on his preferment to a higher office. A young lady then presented Father Dowling with a well filled purse, and addresses from the Society were also read. The Bishop-elect made a feeling reply. Other speeches followed, and there was music and a good time generally.

A Timely Rescue.

Mr. C. B. Routley's daughter May Rescued From Drowning by Passers-by.

Yesterday afternoon Willie Routley, son of Mr. C. B. Routley, and May Hutchison, daughter of Mr. Charles Hutchison, four-year-old children, were playing on the banks of the creek near their homes, just above the bridge which crosses it on Dalhousie street, the little folks having been allowed the more freedom because the households to which they belonged were busied with setting a spring residence and house cleaning respectively. The youngsters were amusing at the water's edge enjoying themselves by drinking water out of nutshells, when, by some mishap, the little girl fell into the water. The little boy at once ran home, and gave his father the information that "May was swimming on the water!" Mr. Routley at once grasped the danger of the situation, and reasoning that the swift current, swollen with the spring freshets, would carry the child rapidly down stream, ran along the banks of the creek towards the C. P. R. station, near which the little girl had been swept down stream several hundred feet. At the bridge for the spar line Mr. Routley got a glimpse of little May's red dress as it was hurried along with the current. Mr. Routley, at the risk of being himself swept away by the rapid stream, at once plunged in, and being a good swimmer, he saved the little girl from certain death. Upon reaching her he grasped her firmly in one hand and, thus encumbered, struggled back to shore with his unconscious burden, completely exhausted. Mr. Darke, of the C. P. R., station and some ladies of the neighborough who had assembled, at once began the work of resuscitation, lending every effort with untiring zeal until the arrival of Doctors Kincaid, King and Collins, who rendered all the professional services in their power. After long continued exertion and the application of proper remedies, life returned slowly to the little patient, who is at present considered free from all danger arising from her accident. The little girl had a hairbreadth escape, and all the parties concerned, particularly Mr. Routley for his gallant rescue, are deserving of every praise for their noble efforts in preserving a human life.

Personal.

Mr. A. N. Brown, late of the Lock Works, left yesterday for Chicago. He will remain in that vicinity for some time and then proceed to California, where it is hoped not only that his health will improve under the genial influences of "that glorious climate," but that he will be entirely successful and prosperous in the business of life. Mr. Brown's many Peterborough friends wish him God speed.

Mr. Wm. Gilbert of Chicago is renewing old associations among his many friends in town.

Mrs. Chas. Scrim of Ottawa is spending a few days in town visiting friends.

Imperial Federation League.

At a meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the Imperial Federation League, held in the Foresters' Hall last evening, there was a fair attendance. On motion Hon. R. Hamilton was called to the chair, and Mr. F. E. Bell acted as Secretary pro tem. Mr. J. H. Long by request addressed the assembly and stated the object of the meeting. Rev. Mr. Bradshaw made a very brief address, after which the Secretary read letters to Mr. W. Brundette from Messrs. G. H. Douglass, of Chatham; J. H. Bowes, of Toronto, and J. C. Hopkins, of Ingersoll, expressing interest in the movement, and in the formation of the local branch. After Mr. J. H. Long had read a set of rules, and a list of proposed members, the election of officers was proceeded with, resulting as follows:—

CHAIRMAN—J. H. Long.

VICE-CHAIRMEN—Hon. R. Hamilton, and Rev. W. C. Bradshaw.

SECRETARY—F. E. Bell.

TREASURER—W. Brundette.

COMMITTEE—Messrs. T. A. Hay, J. Kerfoot, R. Brodie, E. J. Toker, W. J. Moore, J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Dr. Burnham, Jas. Stevenson, M.P., L. Seward, J. H. Roper, and F. Mitchell.

Messrs. J. H. Long, W. Brundrette and Rev. Mr. Bradshaw were appointed a committee to draft by-laws. Motions to adopt the principles of the League, that the name of this branch be the "Peterborough Branch," and that application be made for affiliation with the League, were adopted. It was decided to hold the next meeting in the Foresters' Hall on May 20th, and after a number of subscriptions had been received, the meeting adjourned.

Evangelistic Work.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather there was a good attendance at last night's evangelistic services in the Mission School. Mr. Rich described the career of the Egyptian King in a forcible manner, applying the lessons taught him by God, showing the love and mercy displayed in His dealings with Pharoah. He depicted the wreck of the "Peruvian" steamer near Liverpool (of which he was a passenger) and showed how when in trouble people will be anxious, but when the danger is over they seem to forget the author of their deliverance. He closed a service lasting over two hours with a strong appeal to the unconverted to come to Jesus, urging Christians to be united, to show a good example, and to visit in their homes those who had no means of grace. The meetings will be continued this week. There will be a service on Sunday afternoon at half-past two o'clock and at 7 o'clock in the evening. An invitation is extended to all.

OTTAWA NEWS.

FIGURING ON THE RESULT OF THE PREVIOUS NIGHT'S DIVISION.

OTTAWA, April 29.—There was not enough fight left in the House to-day to make it worth while holding a session. Everybody wanted to talk about the division of last night and most of the representatives were sleepy and tired. Sir John had such a bad cold that he could scarcely speak and Mr. Davin had his hair parted ambidextrously and did not care to speak at all, while when Mr. Welsh of Prince Edward Island rose to the surface he was promptly snuffed out. Mr. Blake was absent, having left for Toronto along with Mr. Denison, Mr. Brown of Hamilton and a lot of others by the noon train. The House was half empty, the galleries almost entirely so.

Some private bills were introduced: To incorporate the Berlin and Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and the New Westminster and Southern Railway Company, respecting the Regina and Wood Mountain Railway Company, and to amend the act incorporating the Hamilton, Guelph and Buffalo Railway, and to change the name of the Hamilton Central.

Then, it being Government day, Government bills were taken up. Sir John introduced his bill respecting the Department of Customs and the Department of Inland Revenue, and with a cold to talk much, Sir John explained that the two departments mentioned were to a great extent administrative, only it was intended in time to have them become part of the Department of Trade and Commerce.

Mr. Jamieson's bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act, in order to make it apply to British Columbia and to other unorganized districts, brought Mr. Mills to his feet. He charged the Government with shirking their duty in giving this bill to a private member, taunted them with having no policy on this great question directly affecting the revenue of the country, excoriated Mr. Foster for being, as he said, afraid to act up to the principles he held before going into the Government and in general thrashed around quite lively for so dull a day. However, nobody had energy enough to reply and the motion passed.

Hon. Mr. Thompson introduced his bill to make provision for the appointment of a Solicitor-General. In speaking to the motion he explained that the effect would be not only to establish that officer, but to provide that he shall do counsel work and such other duties as the Governor-General-in-Council might allot him; that he will be eligible to a seat in either House, that a new department would not be created and that the Solicitor-General need not necessarily be a member of the Cabinet.

Hon. Mr. McLelan moved the second reading of the bill to amend the act respecting public officers. It simply provides that in addition to the security that may now be accepted for the faithful performance of duty, the Government can take an assignment of all moneys standing to the credit of the person concerned in the Postoffice Savings Bank. As there was nothing in this to fight about it was allowed to pass, but the Opposition policy of attacking everything could stand the strain no longer.

Sir John Macdonald moved the second reading of the bill creating the Department of Trade and Commerce.

Sir Richard Cartwright took the floor. He held that there should be less ministers of the first rank and more under-secretaries, after the English system.

Mr. Mills said they were making the system of government unwieldy. He took the opposite view from Sir Richard Cartwright, and advocated the Italian system.

Sir John said they might reconcile their differences as best they could, and in the meantime, as they did not propose to amend the British North America Act, they might go on with the bill. Carried.

Hon. Mr. Pope's bill to amend the Government Railways Act created only a slight discussion. The object is to facilitate the crossing of other lines of railway for long distance trains, which is to be done by a system of interlocking switches now successfully operated on several lines of railway in the United States, by which the train goes through without stopping. Mr. Pope explained that if the system was found to be dangerous it would be dropped at once. The present bill applies only to Government railways, but another measure will be introduced applying it to all through lines.

Next came the Banff National Park Bill and the flood gates of eloquence were let loose for the first time this session.

Hon. Peter Mitchell agreed with the Government and made a neat little speech in support of the bill.

Fired Up After 25 Years.
From the Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

Twenty-five years ago Albert Ellis, of Winslow, filled up a clay pipe for a good smoke. He used only half of its contents, for on the next day he went to war. He survived and came home, but did not finish that smoke until a few days ago, when he happened to find the old pipe, partly empty, just as he had left it.

DRESDEN MURDER.

PARTICULARS OF THE KILLING OF THOMAS WILLOUGHBY.

TORONTO, April 29.

Government Detective John Murray happened to be in Chatham when Jim Moore, the colored bargeman, shot and killed Thomas Willoughby at Dresden, and within a short time he was upon the trail of the murderer. The Government officer's appearance on the scene so speedily caused quite a sensation among the colored people of Dresden, and their belief that it bodied no good to the fugitive will probably be borne out. Had it not been for Mr. Murray's promptitude in driving from Chatham to Dresden immediately upon hearing of the occurrence, the murderer might have escaped, while it is almost certain that the three witnesses of the shooting would have been spirited away.

Jim Moore and Thomas Willoughby, both colored, were deck hands on board the barge Gondola, which plies between Dresden and Detroit, carrying lumber and wood. Moore's father being captain of the craft. A bad feeling had existed between Moore and Willoughby for some time on account of a colored girl whose favors they both sought. Three weeks ago last Sunday the two men met on the road in Dresden, Moore being in company of a man named Bradley. After exchanging some angry words both Moore and Willoughby drew the African's favorite weapon, a razor, and commenced slashing at each other, Moore inflicting a cut on Willoughby's hand. Bradley, who had been an excited on-looker, managed to separate the two, and they went their different ways. On Monday last, the night before the murder, the men had another dispute, this time regarding the possession of a trunk on the barge, and the quarrel was renewed at breakfast on Tuesday. Willoughby arose from the table first and on going out of the cabin to the deck took up Moore's mitts. Moore ordered him to put them down, which he refused to do, and asked Moore what he was going to do about it. Moore said "I'll show you." There is a shelf in the cabin of the barge and from this shelf Moore took a revolver, stepped to the cabin door and fired. The bullet passed through Willoughby's heart and he fell dead. Moore turned to the crew of the barge, three in number, who were terrified spectators of the shooting, and said, "Boys, I have shot Tom." He went into the cabin, changed his clothes and fled. One of the crew went for Dr. Tweedle, who is also coroner at Dresden, and he, seeing the man was dead, telegraphed the particulars to County Attorney Douglas at Chatham. Mr. Douglas notified Mr. Murray, who had a case in court at that town, and he immediately got a team and drove to Dresden. Arriving there he formed two search parties to pursue Moore, who had gone up the river. That night Moore returned to his father's house, presumably to secure means of getting to the States, and was captured. The three members of the barge crew who witnessed the murder were reluctant to testify, in fact, tried to shield the prisoner, so Mr. Murray took them before the magistrate at Dresden, Mr. Chapple, and had them committed as material witnesses. Their names are Sandford Washington, Oswald Thurman and Abraham Warren, all colored. They, with the accused Moore, were at once removed to Chatham Jail. On Thursday Moore was indicted by the Chatham Grand Jury, then in session, and a true bill against him was returned. The witnesses being unable to furnish bail, will be detained in jail until the trial.

Two years ago, it is said, Moore shot a Dresden colored girl in the leg because she repelled his advances.

THE CANADIAN RESOLUTIONS.

The London Papers Have Something to Say Regarding Them.

LONDON, April 29.—Nearly all of yesterday's papers alluded to the resolutions adopted in the Canadian Parliament protesting against the passage of the Crimes Act for Ireland.

The Globe blames Mr. Blake for taking part in a meddlesome proceeding, from which he and other Canadian Liberals should have held themselves aloof. As it is, they have greatly discredited themselves.

St. James' Gazette asks what the Canadians would say if the Imperial House of Commons passed a resolution approving of the repeal agitation in Nova Scotia. The Gazette thinks that the Canadian Parliament should have let the matter alone.

The Evening News refers to the resolutions as "aimless," and of the "school debating society" order.

The Pall Mall Gazette says the Irish vote is a permanent factor in colonial politics. The Gazette approves of the resolutions.

The Plot to Kill the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 29.—The trials of the prisoners implicated in the plot to kill the Czar has commenced. The courts are strongly guarded. A Russian general is present to report the proceedings for the Czar. A painful impression was produced on the spectators in the outer hall as the accused entered the court, their youth and high-bred intelligent air eliciting much sympathy. Among the prisoners is a maiden of striking beauty. It is reported that a short account of the trial will be published in the Official Gazette on the morning of the executions.

THE PACIFIC MAIL SERVICE.

The Proposed Line of Steamers Between Vancouver and China.

LONDON, April 29.—In the House of Lords to-night the Earl of Harrowley asked for information regarding the decision of the Government on the proposal of the Canadian Government to establish a line of mail steamers between Vancouver and China.

The Earl of Onslow, Parliamentary Secretary of the Colonial Office, replied that the committee to whom the matter was referred had declined to recommend a subsidy of $250,000 for the proposed service of a steamer every three weeks, but was considering the advisability of granting a subsidy of $300,000 for a monthly service, Canada to contribute also.

Lord Carnarvon urged that a subsidy be granted. He said that if England did not assist the enterprise the advantage of the route would pass into the hands of another power.

THE JESUIT BILL.

With a Few Alterations It Passes Through Committee.

QUEBEC, April 29.—The Jesuit Bill came up in Private Bills Committee this morning. The room was crowded with ecclesiastics and others, among whom were Rev. Mr. Turgeon, Superior, Vicar-General Hamel, Mr. Pagnuelo, Q.C., and Mr. Lamothe of Montreal.

Mr. Mercier introduced the bill, eulogizing the order and enlarging on their great services in exploration and education. He also cited a number of other societies which had applied for and obtained similar incorporation.

Vicar-General Hamel said there was no opposition to the principle of the measure nor any desire to deprive the order of its civil rights, but it was the wish of the cardinal and seven bishops that the bill should be delayed until such time as it had been submitted to the Vatican.

The Superior of the order suggested that the matter might be for the present arranged by the provisions of the bill only applying to the three dioceses of Montreal, Ottawa and Three Rivers.

This having been agreed on the committee proceeded to consider the details of the bill.

Mr. Mercier said that the only opposition so far had come from the Protestant Ministerial Association of Montreal, and he did not see what that had to do with the matter at all.

The preamble was amended by striking out the words which referred to the society as a religious community, "and have founded in it several establishments of public utility," and that the head of the Roman Catholic Church has recognized all the rights and privileges of the order, both the old and the new, and simply asserts that it is "expedient to constitute such community a body politic and corporate, like the other religious communities of the province." The clause "Teaching in the first, second and third degree, including primary instruction, as well as all works connected with the above or relating thereto" was struck out, also the words "shall in this province enjoy the privileges granted by the Holy See to the superiors, professors and students of the Society of Jesus."

The other amendments were unimportant and the bill was reported. It will come up in Assembly in a few days and will undoubtedly become law.

Toronto Public Library had a narrow escape from destruction at 4 o'clock this morning. A fire broke out in the rear of 22 Adelaide-street east, occupied by a furniture dealer named Jenkins. The room was filled with boards, chairs, frames, etc., and the place would have made a rousing bonfire if the brigade had not arrived promptly on the scene. Only a thin brick wall divided the building from the Public Library, and it is easy to conceive that if occasion had been found to turn on the water in there over 40,000 books would have been destroyed. As it is about $300 will cover the damage.

CLASS ANTIPATHY.

Chief Justice Cameron, has once more used the bench, from which to deliver a denunciation of the Knights of Labour—that is the honest working men of Ontario, organised for protection of their own interests, as in this free country they have a perfect right to be. Hon. Mr. Cameron is not to blame, in one sense. He can't help it; he belongs to a political school—the Tory school—which holds the workingmen and the "lower classes," as they are sneeringly called, as the dust under the feet of the privileged classes. Chief Justice Cameron is the appointee of the Dominion Government and he would not be doing justice to his political patrons if he did not carry out the principles of domineering Toryism which that government represents. Justice Cameron declared that the Knights of Labour are a specially dangerous class "because the principle promulgated by the Order is an interference with individual liberty." Suppose the principles of the Order do "interfere with individual liberty," what wrong is there in that so long as that interference is in accordance with the law of the land? When Judge Cameron sentences a criminal to imprisonment, he "interferes with individual liberty," but he acts according to the laws and is, therefore, blameless. When the Knights of Labour assist an associate to get his rights before the law, they are not transgressing any law but are acting within the right of every humane man to do what he can to assist a neighbour in distress. Just ice Cameron did not denounce organised labour personally nor officially, it was simply the spirit of Toryism speaking through him. By this time the workingmen should know what the spirit of Toryism is, and when they are approached with gifts by politicians of that class they should know that any offer of kindness made to working men is not made for love, but for the purpose of using them as tools to accomplish political ends.

Hon. Mr. Mowat has arranged for the termination of the system of letting prison labor by contract, which may compete with honest labor, and the contention of his opponents, seeking to convey an impression that he is, or has been, opposed to the principle involved, is quite misleading. It is urged that Mr. Meredith has long favored the abolition of the contract system. In this respect he can claim no superiority over Mr. Mowat. The latter has some responsibility resting upon him, and he has had to consider the question of an advisable time for putting his opinions upon the subject into practice. Mr. Meredith had no responsibility but held his opinions, it is fair to infer, simply as, to him, profitable material for securing a party advantage. Hon. Mr. Mowat, as we have before pointed out, in legislative and administrative matters, is not wont to pluck the pear before it is ripe. He does not make important changes till circumstances point to the wisdom of so doing, and to this fact is to be attributed the success of his Administration. He acts from principle and not from motives of party expediency. He is not prone to make changes for the mere sake of change; but, when the public interests require them, and when they can be made in the public interest, he is always ready and willing to recognise his duty and to do it.

There is some childish complaint made by Conservative journals respecting the expenditure for immigration by the Ontario Government. It is, however, an expenditure which cannot be avoided so long as Ontario has free grant lands to offer to settlers. It is not like the expenditure on immigration made by the Dominion government. A large portion of it does not go in the shape of pap to reward partizan journals with printing "jobs;" not one cent of it is devoted to assisting mechanics and skilled artizans to come to Canada to compete with home labour. It is spent on absolutely necessary services—to disseminate information respecting the lands in Ontario, available for settlement, to direct immigrants when they come in the country. Not one cent is devoted to giving assisted passages. The class of immigrants sought by the Ontario Government is that composed of the tenant farmers of the Old Country, men with some little capital, who at once become productive citizens, and at once create a demand for the products of skilled labour, and are therefore a benefit, not a detriment, to the native Canadian workingmen. What Ontario needs is population, and just of that kind, encouraged by the Ontario Government; and to rail against the immigration expenditure is to oppose the interest of the workingmen and the country at large.

PRIDE AND ARROGANCE OF PROFESSING CHRISTIANS.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

(Written for The Examiner.)

There is no doubt but there are some true, sincere Christians in the world, but the number is very small. But there is equally no doubt that there are plenty of pretended Christians. It is so much easier to profess than to practice true religion. The strangest thing about this pretended religion is that its professors seem to think they can cheat God. They may, and often do, cheat the world, but they cannot deceive God. But they would cheat him too if they could. With all their loud prayers and long austere faces they cannot do that. And when their day of reckoning comes, they will, to their sorrow, find out their mistake. These deceivers embrace all classes and conditions of people, from the highest to the lowest, from the learned to the unlearned, from the minister inclusive to the common layman. Worldly ambition and worldly success are the ruling principles of this life. If a man can only acquire riches, if he can only acquire influence and favor, if he can but gratify his ambitious desires, so that he can lord it over others, he is content. He likes to think that he is better than any one else. He likes to have others come to him for favors. He likes to be talked about by his fellow men. And he does not look beyond that. He does not think of the future, of the day of reckoning when all his riches, and all his influence, and all his worldly pride, will go for nothing. He does not think of his sick bed, of his lying there racked with pain of which his wealth and favor will not relieve him. And when he will be forced to look at things as they are, to look at his past miserable and unsubstantial life. He may be surrounded with all manner of luxuries. May be living in a fine house and waited upon by servants ready to do his bidding, but all these will not avail him anything. They will not soothe his pain. They will not bring peace to his conscience, will not smoothe his way to the better land. He may look out of his window and see the bright warm sun shining down upon and lighting up the earth. He may listen to the song of the birds. He may hear the stars sing, and he may offer to give up all his worldly treasures. But all these will not open the way to future peace and happiness. Will not give him the smiles and favour of the Saviour. Will not still his mental troubles and still his weary anxious soul. Now is the time when he is forced by an inexorable law to look back upon himself, to think over all his past life, and, in the stillness and darkness of the night he sees himself as he is, and he goes to God for pardon from his many sins. He is willing to give up the world and all its allurements, though he does so, not from absolute conviction, but from necessity. He finds it hard to break off from his old habits. It was once easy to be a pretended Christian, professing that which he did not practice, but he finds himself face to face with his Creator now—face to face with an angry God. He has soon to cross the river, and he wonders whether it shall be the river of eternal life or the river of eternal death. The water looks dark and cold. It looks as though it were about to receive a victim to be borne on in its resistless fury to endless misery. He would, if he could, tell others to avoid his fate, and now he is gone and is seen no more. Such is the end of the pretended Christian. And as he looks upon the turbid waters he sees them full of those who have dared their Maker and lived to the world alone, crying out and struggling against their fate. And where shall such people go for direction and consolation outside of heaven? Their spiritual, or assumed spiritual, guides, with some few exceptions, are no better than themselves. And they cannot impart to others that which they do not possess. They may scold and tell them they must repent, but they bring no sunshine or warmth into the sick room. They are draped in purple and fine linen, and if they offer up a prayer it is cold and formal and brings with it no comfort or hope. Pride and arrogance and good living are their distinguishing characteristics. They seem to imagine that the office of a minister of the Gospel confers upon him a superiority over other men, and a right to dictate to and control them. And they, the professed followers of the lowly Jesus, are better than all others, and must be looked up to with veneration and fear. And if they can only manage to get the degrees of some little cheap college tacked onto their name, there is none so mighty as they. Of course, there are many noble, good men in the ministry, and men, too, who preach the Gospel for the Gospel's sake. These men are easily known, and they bring credit to the practice which they so worthily fill. They are humble and kind-hearted men, and they are not ashamed to visit the abodes of the poor and lowly, and their presence brings comfort to the sick and worn, who feel grateful for their manliness and their kindness. But take the world all through, and take people as we find them, and what do we see? We see plenty of men who make great professions of religion, who would have you believe that they are true disciples of their Lord, and who honour His commands and live soberly, honestly and well. When the truth is that they only make religion a cloak to hide their evil deeds, and in order, through their professions of piety, that they may the more easily impose upon their fellows and cheat and rob others of their last dollar. These are the kind of professing Christians who rob banks and other institutions of money, because, being such seemingly pious men, they are believed to be such and are trusted accordingly. And they are always liberal in their donations to the church, because they knew that their liberality would be published and praised, although they would, at the same time, refuse help to the deserving poor, and would drive all such from their doors. A man of this kind was one cold, spring night going to a church meeting. And as he walked along the almost deserted street he came upon a poor little waif lying and dying in the snow. He scarcely deigned to look at the poor little fellow, and he went on his way. At the meeting he made great professions of religion and he headed the list of subscriptions with his cheek for a thousand dollars. And great was the praise he received for his liberality and he was held up by the church as worthy of all praise. Shortly after he passed by to the meeting a policeman came along and seeing something half buried in the snow he approached it and found the poor homeless child dead. Verily the time will come when, like the rich man and Lazarus, this pretended Christian will cry to this little boy, now in the arms of the loving Saviour, for one drop of water to cool his burning lips.

She sat alone and starved on Christmas night,
Upon the door-step of the rich man's house,
Felt the north wind prop him quilted hat
Cold
Around her and above, and thro'
Far the sky, with all its stars, was bright;
Saw she the glowing of the holly boughs,
Heard she the sounds of wassail and carouse,
Fell any word from those ripe lips, thin and white.

At last, one passing, sees her, but too late.
No cry comes back to him who by her stands,
She has passed on beyond death's awful gate.
Alas! can any there be in Christian lands
On Christmas night do any starved souls wait
Outside its door, the house not made with hands?

Read the following, and then mend you wonder that there is so much indifference toward the churches, and so few really true Christians?

"His dress consisted of a loose fitting habit, made of white brocade, girded at the waist by a white sash, made of the same material. On his head he wore his tiara, a cylindrical head-dress, pointed at the top and surrounded with three crowns, which he wore as a symbol of his sovereignity. The insignia of his office, the pedum, rectum, or straight crook, he carried in his hand."

Now look at the other side of the picture. "There sits our Saviour, barefooted, and thirsty, and weary. He has come off a long journey. He has travelled and ministered to the poor and lowly. He asks for a cup of water. His feet are sore, and Mary washes them with her hair. He goes into the humble abode and eats bread and drinks some water as he goes round doing good. And at length he exclaims, 'The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has not where to lay His head.'" Verily, the people and the ways of this world are hard to understand. Pride and arrogance have taken the place of the once pure, simple religion, have thrown aside the teachings and examples of their Lord and Master, and have entirely given themselves over to the world, a world that will be a poor resource in their great time of need.

FIGHTING THE CRIMES BILL.

The Parnellites Resolved to be Constant in Attendance.

LONDON, April 29.—The House of Commons this afternoon went into committee on the Irish Crimes Act Amendment Bill.

Mr. T. M. Healy proposed that the word offence in the act should be changed to the word "crime."

Mr. Dillon and Mr. Bradlaugh supported the proposal.

Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, declined, on behalf of the Government, to accept the change.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt said it was evident that the bill was not intended to punish crime in Ireland but designed for applying penalties by the resident magistrates to new offences created by the bill.

Mr. Gladstone advised the Government to conclude Mr. Healy's amendment. The word offence could not be held to be strictly synonymous with the word "crime" in the bill. If the Government desired a strictly legal use of the measure they would accept accurate definitions. A division was taken and the amendment was defeated by a vote of 157 to 120.

A Meeting of Liberal-Unionists.

LONDON, April 29.—The Marquis of Harrington will preside over a meeting of Liberal-Unionists called to assemble here to-morrow to consider certain proposed amendments to the Irish Crimes Act Amendment Bill, the principal among which is one doing away with or greatly modifying the clause permitting the Crown to change the venue to England in a certain class of Irish cases.

Swinburnean Treatment.

LONDON, April 29.—Algernon Charles Swinburne publishes a hundred-line poem denouncing Mr. Gladstone's Irish policy. Referring to Mr. Gladstone, he says:

The heavy henchman of the gang
Lifts hands that never dew nor rain
May cleanse from Gordon's blood again.
Grand helmsman of the clamorous crew,
The good grey recreant quakes and weeps
To think that crime no longer creeps
Safe towards its end; that murderers too
May die when mercy sleeps.

The Violent Parnellites.

LONDON, April 29.—At a meeting of Parnellite members of Parliament to-day it was decided to cancel all engagements likely to interfere with Parliamentary work in order that the members may devote their exclusive attention to their legislative duties.

Cheering Mr. Balfour with Slander.

DUBLIN, April 29.—In the Exchequer Court to-day a nurse named Dillon applied for the issue of a writ beyond the court's jurisdiction against Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, for slander in having complained alleged, stated against her professionally that she had refused to nurse the wife of a man employed by a person under the boycott. The court refused to grant the writ.

A Crisis in Servia.

BELGRADE, April 29.—There is a crisis in the Servian Cabinet, the ministers being divided over the question of Servia's foreign policy. M. Garashavine, the Premier, has resigned and King Milan has accepted the resignation.

The Source of Solari's Fortune.

From the Pittsburg Despatch.

The estate of a man who shrewdly observed high society's ways turns out to be $200,000 in amount. His name was Emmanuele Solari, and twenty-five years ago he was a common waiter in Delmonico's restaurant. At that time and long after Delmonico's was the only really exquisite eating house in town. There are now a dozen as favored, and several that are even higher priced. Solari did the waiting in two or three of the private supper rooms up-stairs, and he observed that the guests resented the positive rule of the house that no doors be fastened, and that the waiters drop in on every party at intervals of not more than five minutes. It wasn't so much that they were wicked as that they disliked to be watched like school children. Solari thought it all over and over, in his heavy Swiss way, and he decided to open a restaurant where seclusion should be accorded to those who desired to dine or sup in private. He carried out his scheme. Solari thereafter occupied a unique position in fashionable regard. It was not a big establishment, but its fare was first rate, and after once serving the meal as ordered, the waiter entered the room again only in response to the tap of the bell. The price of this kindly matteintion was added to the regular charges, though not specifically, and so Solari died worth a vast fortune. His restaurant was reputable, and yet a visit by a not seriously chaperoned party was in the nature of an adventure. That gave zest to many an innocent but peckish supper indulged in by wealth and fashion.

"Some said, John print it, others said Not so." "Some said It might do good, others said No." If the discoverer of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy had shared the senseless prejudices of a certain class of physicians he would have refused to print the good news, to proclaim to the world the glorious tidings that a infallible remedy for that most loathsome disease, catarrh, had been discovered. But he advertised liberally and the result has justified him in the course he pursued. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy never fails. All druggists. 6dw17

Many persons in Pittston are using Ely's Cream Balm, a Catarrh remedy, with most satisfactory results. A lady is recovering the sense of smell which she had enjoyed for fifteen years. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr. Barber has used it in his family and recommends it very highly. A Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness.—Pittston, Pa., Gazette. eodw17

Testimonial.

George Legault, of Tyndale, Ont., says he can heartily recommend Yellow Oil as the best reliever of rheumatic pain, his father and mother having suffered for years with rheumatism, and the remedies failed except Yellow Oil. 2w17d

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try the bottle, as 50,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it, sample bottles to try, only 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada. eodw4

A Severe Attack.

"I never felt better in my life than I have since taking Burdock Blood Bitters. I had a severe bilious attack; I could not eat for several days, and was unable to work. One bottle cured me." John M. Richards, Sr., Tara, Ont. For all bilious troubles use B. B. B. 2w17d

An Extended Experience.

Writes a well-known chemist, permits me to say that Putnam's painless Corn Extractor never fails. It makes no sore spots in the flesh, and consequently is painless. Don't you forget to get Putnam's Corn Extractor, now for sale by medicine dealers everywhere. 6dw17

Sure to Satisfy.

There are many remedies for coughs and colds, but there are few that prove so satisfactory as Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, which is a pleasant and reliable cure for all throat and lung troubles, including bronchitis, asthma, croup, whooping cough and the pulmonary complaints of young or old. 2w17d

Always Prompt in Action.

This is just what every sufferer wants—prompt action, and rapid relief from pain. The grandest discovery of the age, the great pain cure, is Polson's NERVILINE—prompt, powerful, pleasant to the taste, and yet so pure that it may be given to the smallest infant. Try a 10 cent sample bottle, which you can purchase at any drug store. Nerviline, the great, sure, and prompt pain cure. The large bottles are only 25 cents. 6dw17

A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this God-given remedy, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

N. WASHINGTON, M. D., Throat and Lung Surgeon, Toronto.

DEAR SIR.—I am pleased to be able to state to you that I am now free from Catarrh. The New Post Office.

The ways of Governments are strange and still it seems it is undecided where the new post-office shall be. While there is doubt about this fact, there is no doubt that the Town Clock Grocery (W. J. Morrow) is the best place in town to get the finest freshest groceries, freshest eggs, sweetest butter, cheapest teas and sugar. Highest qualities of goods; lowest kinds of prices. call and be convinced.

An "Independent" Opinion.

The following is clipped from the last issue of the Bobcaygeon Independent:—

Peterborough is being amused over a newspaper tilt between Rev. A. Bell, and J. B. McWilliams. The Reverend gave a sermon on the Scripture Selection question, which Mr. McWilliams characterised as the worst buncombe he had heard yet on that question. The Rev. is a man saturated through and through with self-conceit, and the marvel is how he can absorb a spirit of Christianity, which is the natural repellant of selfishness. The tilt has made it patent that the layman and politician is the gentleman and to some extent the Christian, whilst the reverend has yet to be awakened to a self application of the teachings of his Master, and the amenities of even unprofessing men.

"Alvin Joslin" in Toronto.

The Toronto Opera House was packed so full in every part last evening that it would have been difficult to squeeze even an extra small boy into it. Every inch of standing room was occupied, the window-sills were all filled, and a large number were turned away without being able to gain admission at all. The occasion was the appearance of Chas. L. Davis and his company in "Alvin Joslin." The play, which is after the model of "Joah Whitcombe," is so well-known to Toronto theatre-goers that it needs no description, and it is sufficient to say of it that it highly amused last evening's immense audience. Perhaps the best part of the evening's entertainment was that contributed by the fine orchestra which Mr. Davis brings with him. Between the acts Messrs. W. P. Chambers and Nathan Carl gave several solos on the cornet and the slide trombone in splendid style, and were rewarded with enthusiastic encores. A xylophone solo was also remarkably well done. The same bill will be presented this evening, and at both performances to-morrow.—Mail, April 29th. The Alvin Joslin Company play in Bradburn's Opera House Tuesday evening next, May 3rd. Prices: 75, 50 and 35c.; reserved seats at Hartley's.

Peterboro' Business College.

Exercises of the First Quarterly Closing of the Peterborough Business College.

At 8 o'clock last night the students and their friends assembled to witness the closing exercises of the 5th quarter of the Peterborough Business College. Professor Sawyer, the Principal, occupied the chair. The Lecture Hall was brilliantly lighted up and during the first half hour the "Glee Club" rendered several jolly college songs. The gong struck and the exercises began by singing "The Festal Day." Then the members of the graduating class (5 in number) read essays on "Success in Business." Mr. Sawyer and Mr. Hamel were appointed to report the best essay. After some difficulty in deciding, Mr. W. C. Moore, of Bobcaygeon, was awarded the prize (John Bright: his life, with selections from his writings); Mr. H. Fitzwilliam Clarke, of Peterborough, being a close second. To Mr. John Breckenridge, of Indian River, was awarded a small silver pin for the best specimen of penmanship. After singing "The Merry Chink," the certificates were awarded, as follows:—

	Grade.	Marks.	Per Cent.
John Breckenridge	"A"	1373	92
Malcolm Reid	"A"	1360	91
W. C. Moore	"B"	1212	81
H. F. Clarke	"C"	1089	73
Silas Carter	"C"	1085	73

Prof. Sawyer then addressed the graduates, mentioning, in the course of his remarks, vocation, qualifications, location, sign, window displays, advertising, industry, integrity and honesty. As the National Anthem was about to be sung, Mr. John Breckenridge stepped forward and read the following resolution, which had been adopted by the "Graduating Class."

RESOLUTIONS.

It is the expressed wish of the students of the Peterborough Business College, to make known to our principal D. J. Randall Sawyer, our high regard for him as a business educator and for his College as an institution of business training, and we desire to congratulate him on this the scene of another graduation for his energy and perseverance in pushing the institution with which his name has been so favorably connected to the front rank of educational institutions of its kind.

Resolved, that we have found the principal and faculty courteous painstaking instructors and the course of instruction systematic, comprehensive and practical, and we believe just such as will thoroughly qualify any young man for immediate usefulness in the commercial world.

Resolved, that we heartily endorse the course of study and the original methods of instruction and that we recommend the institution to the favor of an intelligent public.

Resolved, that we present to Mrs. Sawyer our most sincere and hearty thanks for the unremitting attention she has shown to us during our course.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be engrossed and presented to Mr. Sawyer and that we heartily co-operate with the former students of the College in expressing our deep sense of gratitude. Signed on behalf of the pupils.

John Breckenridge.
Wm. C. Moore.
M. Reid.
H. F. Clarke.
Silas Carter.

Prof. Sawyer replied briefly, referring to the heartfelt interest both Mrs. Sawyer and he felt in the students' welfare, and stated that one of the greatest pleasures they had now was hearing of the success that attended the graduates of the College. Animo et Fide, the motto of the College, he advised them to adopt. A pleasant evening was concluded by singing "God Save the Queen."

The Spring Show.

Annual Stallion and Bull Show of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society.

There was a large attendance of visitors at the exhibition grounds this afternoon and the number of entries was in proportion. In horses the exhibit was unusually fine. The weather was delightful and the show proved successful in every way. Up to two o'clock the following entries had been made, a number being made after that hour;—

Correction.

The Examiner is requested to ask the readers of the Globe in town to notice that the challenge printed on page 16 of Saturday's Globe, in reference to "water tube hot water boilers," should be signed George Boulton, not "Bottard," as printed there.

Woodrow half-stiff, Flexible Hat for sale at Fairweather's hat store.

Explanatory.

The attention of the Examiner has been called to the incorrectness of the statement in an article on "The Home Rule Resolutions" in yesterday's issue, that Mr. Stevenson presided at Justin McCarthy's lecture. We stand corrected; and by withdrawing the statement, which was inadvertently, not designedly, made, do our best to neutralize whatever injury Mr. Stevenson may have sustained by being accidentally placed in a wrong position.

How Peterborough Lost Another Business House.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Some three weeks ago I arrived in Peterborough, fully prepared to open a Dry Goods store in your enterprising town, but, after looking the field over, I was convinced that it would be suicidal for me to embark in trade in a place where there is a business house so disgustingly aggressive and so lost to the interests of other houses as one you have located in your town. It is with surprise and chagrin that I notice that this particular house is steadily increasing its number of customers day after day, by employing methods that would make it very uncomfortable for me, if I were in business here, just as it does now for competing establishments who are striving to combat the evil.

I refer to J. C. Turnbull, George and Simcoe streets, who sells a good Black Worsted, or a Scotch Tweed suit for $10, worth $20 in any other town or city. Fine unlaundried white shirts, from 25c to 50c., worth from 50c to 75c. All-Wool Tweeds at 40c, worth 50c. Fine Prints 9½c, worth 12½c. This is no place for me.

Yours in sorrow,
H. I. Price.

BISHOP OF PETERBOROUGH.

Consecration of Vicar-General Dowling.

A Grand Ceremonial Makes Him the Lamented Bishop Jamot's Successor—Archbishop Lynch Performs the Ceremony—Sketch of the new Prelate.

HAMILTON, May 1.—In St. Mary's Cathedral to-day, and with all the pomp and splendor which in the Roman Catholic Church attends such ceremonies, the Reverend Thomas Joseph Dowling, for twenty-three years parish priest at Paris, Ont., was consecrated Bishop of Peterborough, in succession to the late Bishop Jamot, who died on May 4 of last year. An Archbishop, four Bishops, forty priests, a score of altar boys, a strong choir, a congregation that included visitors from the new Bishop's former parish and his future see town, contributed to make it a brilliant and memorable occasion.

THE CONSECRATION CEREMONY.

The consecration ceremony was extremely solemn and interesting. In chairs placed in front of the altar railing were a great number of visiting clergy. In the organ gallery nearly one hundred nuns watched the unusual sight. The ceremonies were elaborate and protracted. Soon after eleven o'clock the procession of clergy came forth from the sacristy making its way to the sanctuary. After the archiepiscopal cross-bearer, cassocked acolytes and sanctuary boys and clergy, the first prelate was Bishop O'Mahoney, of Toronto, with his chaplains, Very Rev. Father Laurent, V.G., and the Rev. Father Conway, of Peterborough. The bishop-elect was attended by Bishop Walsh, of London, with his chaplains, who was followed by Dr. Carbery, Bishop of Hamilton. Last came Archbishop Lynch of Toronto, with his deacons, Father Lamont, of Toronto, Rev. Dean Harris, of Toronto, Very Rev. Father Cushing, of St. Michael's College, and Rev. Father Halm, of Hamilton, and assistant chaplains Rev. P. Lennon, of Brantford, and Rev. B. J. O'Connell, of Galt.

AFTER HAVING BEEN ROBED

Bishop-elect Dowling was led by the assistant bishops to the presence of Archbishop Lynch. Bishop Walsh, senior assistant, having demanded that the archbishop proceed with the consecration of the elect, the archbishop commanded the reading of the apostolic letters, which was done by Rev. Father Kloepfer, notarius of the archbishop. The examination of the elect having been completed, the solemn ceremony of consecration was begun, Archbishop Lynch being the consecrator. The choir sung Gregorian music, and during the mass the Gloria and Credo from Mozart's 12th Mass. The sermon was preached by the bishop of Kingston, and was a most eloquent discourse upon the status and spiritual functions of the bishops of the Church and the duty of the people towards them. The ceremony concluded with the Te Deum, after which the new bishop, attended by Bishops Walsh and Carbery, walked through the cathedral bestowing his blessing upon the people.

After the service had been ended the clergy dined at St. Joseph's convent, and there Bishop Dowling replied to the address presented to him yesterday by the clergy of this diocese.

Among the many from a distance who attended the consecration the following gentlemen from Peterborough were present:—Messrs. Thomas Kelly, John Hackett, E. D. Gough and John O'Meara.

BRIEF SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

Twenty-three years ago a bright-eyed, curly-headed young man was ordained priest in Hamilton. It was he who was to-day consecrated Bishop of Peterborough, and the eye is as bright as twenty years ago. Bishop Dowling was born in Limerick County, Ireland, on Feb. 28, 1841, and came to Canada with his parents when 10 years of age, the family settling in Hamilton. He entered St. Michael's College, Toronto, in 1855, where he remained seven years, at the end of which time he was appointed professor of classics and taught one year, afterwards going to the Grand Seminary at Montreal, where he remained two years and finished his theological course. He returned to Hamilton, and there he was ordained priest on Aug. 7, 1864. He took charge of the Paris mission the following October. Paris mission at that time was composed of the Town of Paris, the Townships of South Dumfries and Burford, the Villages of Galt, Hespeler, Ayr, Glenmorris, and for a time Preston.

In 1877 he accompanied the Canadian Pilgrimage as a delegate of the Diocese of Hamilton and had an interview with Pope Pius IX. on the occasion of his Golden Jubilee. His first duty on taking charge of the Mission was to pay off the debt of the Paris Church, about $3,000. For that purpose he received generous aid from the congregation and parishioners. He went on a collecting tour to Chicago and Pennsylvania and received material assistance in aid of the building fund. In 1881 he commenced to rebuild the Paris Church and to build a $7,000 church in Galt. In the former year he was appointed Vicar General by the late Bishop Crimon of Hamilton. On Bishop Crimon's decease in 1[illegible] Dowling was elected Administ[illegible] the diocese. In 1[illegible] he was re[illegible] Vicar-General by Bishop Carberry, [illegible] appointed a member of the Bishop's [illegible] and diocesan examiner in theology.

by Pope Leo 13th on the recommendation of the Canadian hierarchy of the Province of Ontario, with the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

[illegible] the young priest took charge of the [illegible]ion, he found a congregation with [illegible] and a debt of $3,000. [illegible] the money has remained in the [illegible] of a fine church, the erection of a [illegible] presbytery and a good separate [illegible], the foundation of a cemetery, [illegible] which make the parish one of the finest parishes in the Province. Du[illegible] these years Father Dowling is [illegible] and industrious [illegible] good works. He established the Ladies' Altar Society, a Father Mathew Temperance Society and Circulating Library, a Young Ladies' Society, a Temperance and Literary Society, and a branch of the Catholic Mutual Benevolent Association.

Bishop Dowling was one of the founders of the St. Michael's College Literary Association, in connection with which he has donated a silver medal given annually for [illegible] in literature. He had always been ready and willing to give lectures in aid of charitable or educational objects.

ORCHIDS AT HOME.

Beautiful as are the ground orchids of Europe and America, it is only in the tropics that the plants of this order reach their highest development. In the great primeval forests near the equator the orchids generally cease growing in the earth, and exist in the greatest profusion high up among the branches of the tree.

One of the earliest of generic names for epiphytal orchids was Epidendrum, in allusion to their tree-dwelling habits, and it is self-evident that the later name of Dendrobium is of similar derivation and meaning. Tree trunks in a Bornean forest rise straight and tall all around you, lianas and rattans stretch from bough to bough, or sweep upward from the ground in curves as graceful as those of a ship's rigging. You are on the floor of nature's cathedral, and the giant boles rise pillar-like all around, but where, you ask, are the orchids, since nothing but a few ferns and aroid leaves grow on the ground at your feet. The truth is that the orchids and the birds, the insects, and even the snakes and the monkeys, are on the tree-tops far above you, and you feel ridiculously small and helpless as you try to catch a glimpse of the flowers so far out of your reach. Above you is a whole world of flower life basking in the sunshine, and you envy the monkeys as they swing themselves rapidly out of sight among the leafy branches overhead. Some species are very anomalous in their mode of growth. For example, the Mexican Cattleya citrina naturally hangs head downward, and but rarely succeeds in our hot-houses except so grown. At least two epiphytal species, viz., Angæcum fusale and Aerides lanale, are absolutely leafless, all the usual leaf-work being carried on by the chlorophyl which exists in their band or throng like roots. Adaptive as all vegetation is now known to be under various local or climatic surroundings, we have but few examples of adaptability more striking than are these two leafless orchids. Low's "Moth Orchid" (Phalænopsis), which naturally exists on exposed limestone rocks in Moulmein, constantly loses its leaves during the dry monsoon every year, and even other leafy species of this genus are remarkable for the extreme vitality which exists in their fleshy roots. One of the most recent horticultural discoveries, indeed, is that, under certain conditions, the exposed roots of these "Moth Orchids" may develop adventitous buds, which in their turn produce young plants.

Remembering that the majority of tropical orchids are "tree-dwellers," or true epiphytes, the question why they are so naturally arises. In tropical countries, where heat and moisture are excessive, tree growth is rapid, and most of the trees themselves are both umbrageous and evergreen, hence it follows that all low-growing plants which mainly depend on sunshine for life and strength to reproduce themselves must do one of two things, i. e., either adapt themselves to the shade below, or climb to the tree-tops. Many palms, figs, and aroids actually do this by lengthening their slender stems. In cold countries the honeysuckle, or ledge-clematis, in fact, all climbing and trail-plants, act in the same way; but the orchids, ferns, and bromeliads seldom adopt this mode of growth. True, one curious Burmese orchid (Erythrorchis scandens) grows up trees to a height of fifty to one hundred feet, as do its relatives, the "Vanilla" orchids; but these few exceptions only prove the rule that most orchids are comparatively dwarf and tufted in habit, and owe their elevated position to the fact that their seeds are light and easily carried upward among the branches and into the light and sunshine, where they vegetate freely, while those which fall to the ground below are lost. The orchid-hunter abroad must face many difficulties, and often carries his life in his hand, so to speak. However successful he may be, he also runs peculiar risks which those at home can scarcely realise. In order to discover new species he must often venture where no white man's foot has been before, and must consider himself fortunate if hunger and thirst or bodily fatigue are the only difficulties he meets with. At one time drenched to the skin, at another scorched by a tropic sun, bitten by mosquitoes and jungle leeches, or stricken by fever, he must never relinquish his object. Dangerous routes must be traversed, often with the most faithless natives as guides, swollen rivers must be crossed, and all the risks from climate and wild animals and reptiles be taken as a mere matter of course, and sometimes a long and tedious journey is made only to find that a rival has been before you. As an illustration of disappointments of this kind, a collector in Borneo told me the following story:

"I was on the track of a rare Cattleya, and stopped that night at a little roadside posada, and for once in South America I fell among people who were the reverse of thieves. At sunrise I was awakened by a sturdy old rooster, and soon found my way outside the hut. A few minutes' walk through the little compound brought me to the forest I had ridden so far to explore. I followed a little path evidently used by the residents, and soon reached a water-fall tumbling over a mossy rock. On a little low tree before me I suddenly saw a sight I shall never forget—a Cattleya of the most lovely flesh tints flashing and fluttering in the early sunlight. The gnarled old dwarf of a tree was completely covered with plants of all sizes, and nearly all were in bloom. The plants were in all positions, firmly held by great thong-like roots to the rough bark. My first resolve was to go back and bring assistance to cut down the tree and secure the plants. What an act of sacrilege it seemed! No; I would go back to breakfast first. A morning's walk in a New Granadian forest alive with birds and insects, when every twig and leaf is dripping with dew, is an experience no pen could describe. Elated by my good fortune, and invigorated by the fresh air, I made short work of my breakfast. I congratulated myself on being the only collector who had ever seen this part of the country, when, chancing to turn my head, I was surprised to see a straight-limbed European with a troop of native followers entering the forest. 'Who is that?' said I to my man Pedro. 'Gentleman look for tree plant, sir.' Alas, it was too true; while I flattered myself that I was the only collector within a hundred leagues, here was a man who had lived for a whole week on the spot, and hearing of my arrival, he (as he afterward told me) only waited for the sun to lick up the dew a little ere he went to fetch in the Cattleya plants off the little tree which I fancied I had discovered this morning, but which he had really seen and purchased from a native a week ago. The plant was Cattleya gigas, and I often wonder under whose glass roof those identical plants are living now."—F. W. Burbridge, in Harper's Magazine for August.

Electricity and the Piano Plague.

It is no secret, says a continental contemporary, that a private scholar is a ruined man if next door to his residence on the same floor a maiden practices on the piano from 8 o'clock to 12 in the morning, and in the afternoon, again from 3 to 7, besides giving performances to friends in the evening. Knocking against the wall, whistling, bombarding the wall with boots, is all of no avail against piano-mania. There has, indeed, hitherto been no remedy, and we are still waiting for a piano tax. Lately, however, a Berlin electrician has helped a tortured friend by means of a piano killer. Miss Else fled to her loved piano on a lovely spring day; her delight at touching the keys could be felt through the wall, when suddenly—oh, heavens!—the whole piano went out of tune, and not a single sound was correct. The girl trembled with fear, and the operators next door heard through the wall how she began to weep, which softened the heart of the electrician, who was, however, furiously attacked by his friend when attempting to restore its music to the instrument, the enraged savant swearing that the tortures which he had endured from the piano were not to be atoned for so easily. The case of Else's piano became widely known, chiefly because now and then the old clear music returned to the keys. The greatest musicians and pianist doctors came in flocks to examine the strange case, but no one could solve the riddle, which was finally explained as follows: A large electro magnet was put into the room of the tortured savant, and its pole was put close to the wall, against which stood the piano in the next house. An electro battery was connected with the electro-magnet. Whenever a strong stream of electricity was turned on its effect could easily be felt through the wall by the horizontal steel springs in the piano, and although the electricity was not very powerfully felt it was quite powerful enough to put the piano out of tune. Whenever the electric stream was stopped, which occurred as often as the victim of the piano plague went out, the mystical influence stopped, and Miss Else could play. —Pall Mall Gazette.

How to Address Foreigners.

Our language is nothing if not irregular and receptive. It takes words from all quarters and incorporates them into itself with a result which is in most cases most beneficial. I have recently joined in the protest uttered by Mr. F. Harrison against those who would stultify and degrade it by mixing with written and spoken English every form of foreign orthography so far as regards proper names. I venture to append to this a second protest against the manner in which we speak of living foreigners. In this, as in other matters, the French are logical. If I visit Paris I am introduced by the Frenchman to his friends as "Monsieur Urban." A Swiss, a Spaniard, a Turk, a Russian, an Asiatic, a negro even, is similarly treated. Monsieur is the generic term of courteous address or description. With our assumed cosmopolitanism we try to be polyglot, and we give a man, when possible, the prefix common in his nation. It is "Monsieur A.," "Herr B.," "Signor C.," "Senor D." This is all very well so far as it goes; but all languages, even in their alphabets, are not known to us. In the case of a Dutchman a few may be able to say Mynheer. How about a Dane, however, a Pole, a Servian, a Russ, a Turk? With a ridiculous assumption of geographical knowledge, the residents on the banks of the Danube are probably classified as German. With the Russ, or the Turk, or the Greek we are, however, absolutely at fault, and we probably fall back, not upon our own language, but upon the French. To us the foreigner who has no other handle is monsieur. It would surely be more convenient, more expedient, easier, and less pedantic to call every stranger Mr., as we call ourselves. I am not very sanguine that this plan will be adopted, but I am at least content to point out the absurdity of which we are guilty, leaving to time and some better advocate the task of reform.—Gentleman's Magazine.

His Troth.

The Rev. Dr. Brown was recently called upon to marry an out-of-town couple at the guild-house. In the course of the Episcopal service the bridegroom is required to use the expression, "plight my troth." The husband expectant followed the good rector of St. Paul's through the service without hesitation until these words were reached, when he sharply inquired:

"What's that?"

Dr. Brown was somewhat nonplussed by the unexpected question, but, adapting himself to the exigency, explained that troth means fealty or fidelity.

"O, well," said the cautious candidate for conjugal honors, "if that's all, plight my troth. The only kind of a troth I know anything about is the one we feed the pigs out of, and I thought maybe you meant to insinuate we are going to live in a hog-pen."—Buffalo Courier.

From Georgia comes the story that a man in Campbell County had thirty-six boys old enough to fight in the late War, and twenty-three of them were killed. He has been married nine times.

THE TORONTO SHRIEVALTY.

The important position of the shrievalty of Toronto, made vacant by the death of Sheriff Jarvis, has been filled by the appointment to the position of Mr. Frederick Mowat, son of Hon. O. Mowat. It is hardly necessary to say that this appointment was not made without the almost solidly united concurrence of the Reform party of Ontario, as voiced by the elected representatives. The general practice of making government appointments, is for the member of the constituency to nominate a candidate. In this case the member of Toronto, Mr. Leys, not only nominated Mr. Fred. Mowat, but his nomination was strengthened by a very large deputation embracing the prominent Liberal gentlemen of Toronto, which urged upon the Attorney-General the appointment, assuring him that the unanimous desire of the Reform members of the Legislature was that the Government should give effect to the nomination of Mr. Leys, by appointing Mr. Frederick Mowat to the position. In this there is nothing out of the usual course. Hon. Mr. Mowat has, during the past fifteen years, made great sacrifices for the benefit of this Province, and at the present time on account of the large outlay required to sustain his position, is not flourishing financial circumstances. He has, to serve the Province, abandoned, at great pecuniary loss, the practice of a lucrative profession, which would secure him a much larger financial return than his present official position, and he has made other great sacrifices for the benefit of his Province, which entitle him to the recognition implied in the appointment of his son, well qualified in every respect, to a position of emolument and trust. The appointment is one which the Government could not very well avoid making. It would be impossible for any government to resist the strong pressure brought to bear upon them in this case, they would not do so in case of any other nominee, and why the united wishes of the party in this case should be disregarded does not appear. The appointment is a good one, it has been made on the urgent representations of life long Reformers, whose own claim they have generously waived that they might urge a recognition of the protracted and great services Hon. Mr. Mowat has rendered the country. In any case a Liberal administration would appoint a member of the party supporting its policy, and we see no reason why the unanimous desire of the representative members of the Reform party should in appointing the Sheriff of Toronto, be disregarded.

A Temperance Essay.

The Use of Intoxicating Liquor, and its Effect on Man, Mentally, Physically and Morally.

Below is published, by request of the W. C. T. U., the prize essay by Mr. Alexander Cooper, of the Collegiate Institute, entitled "The Use of Intoxicating Liquor, and its effect on Man, Mentally, Physically and Morally:"

Proverbs xxiii, 29—31—"Who hath woe? Who hath sorrow? Who hath contentions? Who hath babbling? Who hath wounds without cause? Who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine. Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."

This is what Solomon said nearly three thousand years ago. It is more. The Bible is the writings of inspired men, therefore, these are the words of Him by whose power all things were created. And yet a vast portion of mankind, in the pride of their hearts, dare to disregard this warning, but they only increase the multitude of instances that go to prove its verity.

The first that we hear about intoxicating liquor is when Noah got drunk, shortly after the flood, and ever since that time the history of alcohol is the history of misery, sin and crime of all descriptions. The small, red, trickling stream of four thousand years ago has swollen to a mighty, surging torrent, sweeping thousands and thousands of human beings over the rapids, and dashing them against the rocks below.

Until about two centuries ago the use of intoxicating liquor was not considered to be a national vice to the English speaking people in the sense that it is now, but in the 17th century distillation came into use, and after that the evil increased rapidly, for, as is well known, the effects of distillation are vastly greater than those produced by fermented liquor. As is often the case with individuals, the nation did not seem to get her eyes open until the evil had spread to an alarming extent, and had sent its roots deep into the soil with an all but unconquerable tenacity. Then began the battle with it. Still the principle of total abstinence could not raise its voice above a whisper until the latter part of last century, but ever since that time the war between temperance and intemperance has gone on, and is still waxing better, while the temperance cause continues to gain ground.

Let us first consider the effect that intoxicating liquor has on man's physical organism. There is hardly an ill to which these bodies of ours are subject, but what may, directly or indirectly, be caused by the use of alcoholic liquors. When alcohol is taken into the system, nature is put to the expense of an artificial fever. For a time the blood is made hotter, and the action of the heart being accelerated, it is sent more quickly through the veins, but a reaction takes place, and the blood becomes colder than before. This is the reason why the people who go to the Arctic regions, where the cold is very intense, dare not take alcoholic liquors to warm them as some people pretend to do in less severe climates.

The so-called strength which alcohol imparts to a man is of the same nature as the power transmitted to a horse by the application of a whip. It is not strength but only stimulus. This unnatural excitement is borrowed from the future, and affords a sad instance of the truth of the old saying, "He that goes a-borrowing goes a-sorrowing," for the drunkard has to pay a fearful rate of interest on the loan. I may as well explain here that when I speak of a drunkard I mean anyone who drinks intoxicating liquor, no matter to what extent. There are no moderate drinkers of alcohol, for it is intemperate in its very nature, and a man drinks to excess, and, therefore, becomes a drunkard the very moment he drinks any intoxicating liquor as a beverage.

After the stimulus has spent itself the man's spirits sink as far below their nominal level as they had before been raised above it, and he must needs return to the bottle for a fresh supply of energy, which likewise leaves him in a worse condition than before he took it. So it goes on, each glass helping on the work of ruin, until he becomes a physical wreck, with trembling hand and bloated countenance, his nerves all unstrung, an object pitiful to look upon, his once manly form an unwieldly mass of corruption, or racked by that fearful disease, delirium tremens. What constitution could long withstand the continual strain without giving way?

When a liquid is taken into the stomach it very soon finds its way to the liver, and from thence into the blood-vessels. Thus the effect of spirits is felt very soon after they are swallowed. Alcohol is not digested in the stomach, but goes into the blood and is carried off principally by the breath, through the lungs. When alcohol enters the capillaries, (those minute vessels which join the arteries to the veins, and through the coats of which the blood goes to feed the different parts of our bodies) it gradually thickens their delicate coats, and in a great measure hinders the blood from passing through them to build up the wasted tissues, and the old worn out materials from returning into the capillaries and through the veins to the heart and the lungs to be cleansed. Therefore there are a great many men who are in the habit of taking a large amount of spirits, who are fat and fleshy looking, and would appear to a casual observer to be stout and healthy, but they are not so in reality, for their flesh is not good, but loaded with dead tissues that ought to have been discharged from the system long ago. This explains the reason why when a man of this discription receives a slight flesh cut the wound very often will not heal, and it sometimes causes his death in a few hours.

People addicted to drinking spirits are liable to dyspepsia, and no wonder for the alcohol dries up the gastric juice in the stomach, and hardens the albumen in the food which they eat. Alcohol also hardens the liver and renders it unable to do its duty, and when a man's liver is out of order his whole body must suffer. Drunkards are often troubled with kidney and kindred diseases. Intoxicating liquor overworks the heart, makes the blood inflamed, fizzy, and unfit for circulation. This state of the blood acts on the lungs and other organs, and so paves the way for consumption. There are very few habitual drinkers that are entirely free from disease. A man may be suffering from the use of alcohol, and not be aware that it is the cause of his trouble, but he is punished for his sin all the same. When one breaks nature's laws, he must suffer the consequences, for the laws of nature are the laws of God, and no one may violate them with impunity. A man acquires the habit of drinking spirits. He becomes dyspeptic. Possibly he may not know that the trouble arises from this evil habit, but is sinning against the light of his conscience when he is drinking of the accursed draught. Thus he goes on, and knowing not that it is his own hand that is smiting him.

Even although a drunkard may escape what is called a violent death, yet he is committing a slow suicide, and does not live out his alloted time on the earth. Oh, there are many paths which lead to a drunkard's grave! How often do we hear of people dying of liver complaint, dyspepsia, heart disease, dropsy, brain fever, paralysis, apoplexy, and a host of other maladies, when if the truth were told, they died from the effect of drinking intoxicating liquor? Drunkards so weaken their constitutions with repeated excesses that they fall victims to diseases which otherwise would not have assailed them, or which they easily could have overcome. When one organ becomes diseased another must do its work, and consequently it gets overwrought, and in its turn extends the chain of destruction to its neighbour.

Sir William Gull, a celebrated physician, says: "All alcohol and things of an alcoholic nature, injure the nerve tissues, pro tempore, if not altogether." He also states that he hardly knows of any more potent cause of disease than alcohol. Some people believe in taking alcohol as a medicine when they feel unwell but it is a remarkable fact that those people, as a rule, have a wonderful faculty of feeling indisposed. It is worthy of note that as doctors are becoming more enlightened they are giving less alcohol as medicine.

But while we lament the results of the use of alcohol on our bodies, the effects on our mental natures are far more deplorable. It would make comparatively little difference what became of the husk if the kernel was unhurt.

Man is an intelligent being. He has reason to guide him. He has a capacity for knowledge and enjoyment which is withheld from mere animals. But altogether man's mental nature is of so much more importance than his physical, they are so closely linked together, and in such full sympathy with each other, that one cannot suffer alone.

Alcohol has a very destructive effect on the mind. We have but to look around us to see proofs of this assertion. The world is full of them. We say that the tendency of water is to run downward because that is its invariable course, no person ever saw water run up a hill. Just as truly we say that the use of intoxicating liquor drags the mind of man downward, because it is demonstrated continually before our eyes, and no one has ever gone with an exception. It has been ascertained that the brain of a man who has been in the habit of drinking alcoholic beverages is of a darker color than the brain of a total abstainer.

They are now only men of moderate ability who fall victims to this curse, but men of the highest genius. In fact the more a man's mind predominates over his body, the more dangerous it is for him to tamper with intoxicating liquor. There have been thousands of men who in the early morning of their lives have shown signs of more than ordinary talent, who have had a quickness of perception and brightness of intellect that bade fair to carry them to front ranks among the great men of their day, but in an evil hour they yielded to the temptation of a glass of liquor, and where are they now? Some of them are in drunkard's graves, some are still eking out a miserable existence of drunkenness and debauchery, with their fair prospects in life blasted, and their mental vigor smothered in sensuality. Some are gazing with wild demon-like stare through the bars of a lunatic asylum, or struggling in the throes of delirium tremens, which is perhaps as much or more a disease of the mind as of the body.

Another proof of the baneful effects of intoxicating liquor on the mind is the fact that among those who were once in the very gutter of drunkenness and degradation, but who were enabled to throw the wine cup away forever, and take a determined stand on the side of temperance, many have reached eminence, and some pre-eminence. A notable instance of this kind was J. B. Gough, and he, after 40 years of very active life during which time he had mingled with all classes of society, of different countries, says that ninety-nine out of every hundred men who are ruined, are ruined by strong drink.

Alcohol is no respecter of persons, the high or the low, rich or poor, of whatever age or sex, all are subject to its withering influence. It is of so delusive a nature that men are drawn into its clutches before they are aware. "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." What is so seductive as this demon drink? If a child gets burned at the stove, or falls into the river and is almost drowned, it would henceforth avoid coming into contact with them, but this drink is like a serpent that charms but to destroy, and yet men will hug to their bosoms the reptile that stung them. It is like the maelstrom of the coast of Norway, that gradually draws the boat out of its course, and as it moves around slowly but surely brings it nearer and near the centre, quickening its pace and increasing its power as it goes, until at last the boat is carried round with an irresistible force and dashed into the vortex below.

LATEST SPORTING GOSSIP.

BUFFALO, April 23.—At Washington to-day the opening of the league season was marked by much unpleasantness in the latter part of the game. Radbourne was injured and wanted to retire, but the Washington people wouldn't permit it, and a lengthy wrangle ensued, ending finally in Radbourne going off and Stemmyer coming on, and, after much delay, the game proceeded; but it was finally terminated after the sixth innings owing to darkness, the visitors having in that time completely outbatted and outplayed the Senators. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Washington	0	2	0
Boston	0	0	2

Pitchers, Radbourne and Stemmyer for Boston and Whitney for Washington.

At New York the Giants won their second victory from the Philadelphias by better batting and superior fielding, although the game was closely contested up to the very last inning and neither club could secure a decided advantage. Casey carved with his old-time skill, but was at times somewhat erratic, while Welch did not find the new rules hamper him very greatly. Score:

Philadelphia	0	2	0

Batteries—Welch and Beasley, Casey and McGuire.

At Indianapolis Detroit had a hard tussle to win against the home club and only succeeded in attaining honors through costly errors in the seventh innings. Both teams batted steadily, but the weather was such as to prevent any specially good field work. Weidman and Briody did good battery work for the Detroits, while Kirby pitched a good game, well supported by Hackett, for the home team. Score:

Detroit	0	2	0

There was no game at Pittsburg. The grounds were too wet and rain in the afternoon makes it improbable they will be in a condition to be used to-morrow. There was no game at Philadelphia, rain preventing.

At Baltimore Phenomenal Smith was too much for the Metropolitans and the Orioles just batted Sanfloor (who pitched for the Mets) as they pleased. The game was very much a one-sided affair, Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Baltimore	5	0	3

The International Season.

BUFFALO, April 29.—Advices from international cities are of a gloomy tendency as regards favorable weather for the opening games of the season. The most interest seems to be given to the games at Syracuse and Jersey City, the quiet names having to all appearances dismissed all doubt as to the result of other games.

The One Thousand Guineas.

LONDON, April 29.—There were twelve starters in the race for the 1,000 guineas stakes for three-year-old fillies at Newmarket to-day. The Duke of Beaufort's Reve D'Or won, Perkins' Porcelain was second, and the Duke of Westminster's Freedom third.

Bust from the Diamond.

The International League season opens today with these games: Toronto at Syracuse, Hamilton at Oswego, Buffalo at Newark, Rochester at Jersey City, and Binghamton at Utica. Newark, Hamilton and Utica are the only sure winners on paper, and even in this estimate the tables may be turned. Jersey City will probably get away with Rochester, and Toronto, according to Manager Cushman, is certain to down Syracuse. It is a hard combination to pick out.

The Daily Baseball Gazette, after a fortnight's existence, ceased publication on Thursday. O. P. Caylor puts it thus: "If we have had a brief existence, it has been hilarious and rich."

"Tip" O'Neill's batting under the new rules so far is not up to his splendid work of last season.

President E. S. Cox, Toronto Baseball Association, left yesterday afternoon for Syracuse to witness the Toronto-Syracuse opening match.

Schnaebeles to Be Released.

PARIS, April 29.—Premier Goblet has received a dispatch from M. Herbette stating that Prince Bismarck has ordered the release of M. Schnaebele.

An Irishman's Ball.

We are surrounded by difficulties and dangers, said Pat, from the cradle to the grave, and the only wonder is that we ever live long enough after having the one to reach the other. The greatest danger lies in allowing the seeds of disease to be sown in our system. If you feel dull and drowsy, have frequent headaches, bad taste in mouth coated tongue, poor appetite, you are suffering from a torpid liver. Take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" if you would destroy those seeds and avoid reaping a harvest of suffering and death. 6dw18

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, plains and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no excuse for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symtems. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. eodw4

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands of despairing patients can testify. On this point a trustworthy medical writer say: "Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most of the remedies in general use by physicians afford but temporary benefit. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders douches and washes. Ely's Cream Balm is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action specific curative power with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. eodw18

A Severe Attack.

"I never felt better in my life than I have since taking Burdock Blood Bitters. I had a severe bilious attack; I could not eat for several days, and was unable to work. One bottle cured me." John M. Richards, Sr., Tara, Ont. For all bilious troubles use B. B. B. 2w17d

This is to certify that I have used McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and do honestly say that if it cost me one hundred dollars ($100.00) a bottle I would not be without it, as it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used, and I feel like a new man.—Yours truly, Alex. Steele, Carleton Place, Ont. This medicine is for sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at John McKee's Drug Store. eodw17

LOCAL NEWS.

Explanation.

J. J. Sheehy's card to the public appears in this edition of the EXAMINER on the first page.

What They Are Saying.

Regular meeting of the Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows this evening. Very important business.

Average Attendance.

The average attendance at the Collegiate Institute for April was 161.

Piano Tuning.

S. R. Huffman is in town, all orders left at Mr. Hartleys or McClellan's Jewelry Store, will be attended to.

Vital Statistics.

During April there were 22 births, 5 marriages, and 11 deaths registered at the town clerk's office.

Gent's Tweed Hats made to order on the premises at Fairweather's hat store.

Short Nights.

As the days become longer, we can afford to use more artificial light, and reading or sewing by lamp light may become a new pleasure by buying China Hall's famous Coal Oils. Same prices as inferior oils.

Oh for a thousand tongues to tell how cheap and good KIDD's boots are.

King Solomon's Mines

May have contained its dazzling treasures, but even they had nothing so suited to every da ...life as China Hall. Coloured tea sets at $2.50, and glass sets (6 pieces) at 30 cents.

Special Meeting.

A special meeting of the Town Council has been called for this evening.

Canoe Meeting.

All members are requested to attend the meeting of the Peterborough Canoe Club Tuesday evening, for the election of officers and other important business.

Thanks.

Mr. Charles Huffman publicly desires to thank Mr. C. B. Routley, Mr. Hugh Darke, and the other ladies and gentlemen who assisted in preserving the life of his little daughter, who so narrowly escaped drowning Thursday last.

A Good Throw and a Better Catch.

The other day a young man climbed to the top of the tall chimney connected with the idle brickworks at the lower end of George street, and while sitting with his feet dangling over the side, caught a large stone which a companion on the ground below threw up. The chimney is 130 feet high.

An Attempt at House-breaking.

Saturday evening Mrs. (Dr.) King noticed a man standing on the roof of the kitchen of Miss Dugan's house on Stewart street, and trying to pry up the windows. She watched him for a few moments while he unsuccessfully operated on a couple of the windows and then shouted at him. The fellow decamped hurriedly and was seen no more.

We have just received another lot of Christy's celebrated Zephyr Hats at Fairweather's hat store.

Hits and Misses.

A Peterborough policeman's life these days is a series of "hits and misses"—mostly misses. The crusade against unlicensed dogs began to-day, and four canines "bit the dust" this forenoon. P. C. McGinty claims the honor of drawing first blood, though P. C. Pidgeon has so far made the greatest number of successful hits.

Is Life Worth Living.

Mr. Joseph Gibeon's address on the subject of temperance in the Opera House Sunday night was listened to attentively by a hall full of people. Mr. Gibson is an earnest speaker with a forcible and eloquent utterance that convinced with the soundness of his arguments, cannot fail to convince the hearer. Mr. Gibson explains the manner of enforcing the Scott Act in the Opera House to-night. Silver collection at the door.

Woodrow half-stiff, Flexible Hat for sale at Fairweather's hat store.

The New Post Office.

The ways of Governments are strange and still it seems it is undecided where the new post-office shall be. While there is doubt about this fact, there is no doubt that the Town Clock Grocery (W. J. Morrow) is the best place in town to get the finest freshest groceries, freshest eggs, sweetest butter, cheapest teas and sugar. Highest qualities of goods; lowest kinds of prices, call and be convinced.

Neat, Novel, Nobby.

A copy of the bill of fare used by the Lindsay Canoe Club for their annual dinner, held last week, has been sent us. It is a very neat and interesting programme, and has an illustrated title page. The menu and toast list is appropriately interspersed with lively mottoes, selected by some adept at the business; and the letter-press and printing, which is the work of the Post office, is neat and nobby.

No finer goat's goods to be had in Canada than Dack & Son's. Leave your order at KIDD'S.

Bishop Dowling's Reception.

Programme of Proceedings.

Rt. Rev. T. J. Dowling, second bishop of the Diocese of Peterborough, whose consecration took place at Hamilton on Sunday with imposing ceremonies, will arrive in Peterborough to-morrow. He will be accosted by the clergy and people of his diocese a fitting ... and he will be finally installed in his cathedral ceremonies at which two Archbishops four Bishops, three Vicars-General and a large array of clergy will assist.

The episcopal party will arrive at the G. T. R. station by the noon train.

Here they will be met by the clergy and people and proceed to the palace where processions will be formed to the church when the installation ceremonies will take place.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies, the distinguished ecclesiastical party will repair to the library of the Murray street Separate School where a banquet will be partaken of.

In the evening a reception will be held at the Convent of the Congregation de Notre Dame.

Capt. W. H. Cooper has signified his intention of resigning his position as Chief of Police, at the council meeting this evening.

Weddings.

As May is considered an unlucky month for weddings, those contemplating matrimony had better avail themselves of April and tell their friends to patronize China Hall for wedding presents.

A New Machine.

Saturday afternoon a large machine for breaking drain tile, weighing two tons, manufactured by Close & Sons, Woodstock, was taken through town to Mark Curtis & Sons' factory, in Douro. The machine makes from 2 to 8 inch tile, and has a capacity of 10,000 small tile per day. Farmers and others may rely upon getting the very best material upon short-est notice from Curtis & Sons.

The Locks Loop Line.

Mr. J. Mendrie, the contractor for the new G. T. R., Locks Loop Line is vigorously prosecuting work on the line, which was begun on the Downer's Corner's end on Monday of last week. This week additional gangs will be put on. Work on the bridge at the locks is begun, and a considerable amount of plant and material is laid down. The contract, it is understood, calls for the line in July, and the indications are that this limit of time will not be long overstepped.

Evangelistic Services.

Friday evening last, although raining, a good company assembled at the Mission School. Mr. Rich took for his text, "Him that commeth unto Me I will in no wise cast out." He described the various conditions of people in this world and drew vivid pictures of those who were seeking wealth at the expense of loosing their souls he pointed them to the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world, and concluded a two hours service with a stirring and tender appeal, and at its close one penitent came forward and accepted Salvation and found peace.

Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society.

A meeting of the directors of the Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society was held in the Town Hall, Lakefield, on Monday last. Present—Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald, in the chair, Messrs. H. C. Garbatt, Chris. Quinn, E. Fitzgerald, T. E. Bell, Wm. Abbott, J. H. McWilliams, R. C. Strickland, G. J. Galvin, and Dr. Caldwell. After routine a verbal report of the Committee appointed to secure information with a view to purchasing suitable grounds for the Society, was made by Mr. Galvin, from which it appears they had seen a lot belonging to Messrs. Ross & Co., on the Nelson estate, and one belonging to Mr. R. Graham. The Committee did not recommend the purchase of any of these lots, but on motion the directors adjourned to view a lot next the skating rink, offered by Mr. Geo. Strickland for $400. After returning, on motion it was resolved to call a regular meeting of the members of the Society and ask for incorporation. The President and Mr. Galvin were appointed a committee to secure the refusal of the Strickland lot. Messrs. R. C. Strickland, J. H. McWilliams, and J. C. Sherin were appointed a committee to collect a subscription in the village, and the President, and Mr. Ned Fitzgerald, and Mr. T. G. Bell for the country. A meeting of the members of the Society will be held in the Town Hall on Monday May 9th.—Chronicle.

The Queen's Jubilee.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

I see by your paper that Mr. Seward and others are interesting themselves in getting up a concert to take place in the rink on the occasion of Her Majesty's Jubilee. While admitting that a concert is a very desirable adjunct to the day's celebration, I cannot fall in with the scheme advocated by Mr. Seward and the gentlemen connected with him. I am sorry that the suggestions advanced by Mr. Miller, in a recent communication, were not taken up in the spirit in which they were offered, for which I offer the following reasons: First,—the occasion is one which all loyal subjects of Her Majesty should feel in duty bound to celebrate without being influenced by mercenary motives. Secondly,—that in this prosperous town of ours there are a large number of poor people, who would be debarred from enjoying the privilege of attending the concert should an admission fee be charged. Third,—knowing that the concert was being conducted for the benefit of the public, and that no one would reap any benefit from it pecuniary, it would infuse an enthusiasm into the performers commensurate with the importance of the event we celebrate.

Now, Mr. Editor, the Fire Brigade Band have already signified their willingness to render their services, and I have no doubt that the different musical organizations in the town will cordially co-operate in the scheme suggested by Prof. Miller, viz., to have a Jubilee concert worthy of the name and day, and, what I contend to be the most important point, to have it absolutely free. It is true there might be a very small expense incurred in procuring sufficient music for the large number who would take part which could be easily covered by voluntary contributions. If the leaders of all the musical organizations would meet together, all actuated by a common purpose, laying aside for the time all professional jealousies, we would have a jubilee concert which would be a credit to our town, and worthy of the illustrious lady in whose honor it is held. Cannot some of our influential citizens give their views on the subject? We have the talent; there is no better place than our beautiful park, and all that is wanted to make a grand success is the encouragement and sympathy of the public.

J. FRASER.

How Peterborough Lost Another Business House.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Some three weeks ago I arrived in Peterborough, fully prepared to open a Dry Goods store in your enterprising town, but, after looking the field over, I was convinced that it would be suicidal for me to embark in trade in a place where there is a business house so disgustingly aggressive and so lost to the interests of other houses as one you have located in your town. It is with surprise and chagrin that I notice that this particular house is steadily increasing its number of customers day after day, by employing methods that would make it very uncomfortable for me, if I were in business here, just as it does now for competing establishments who are striving to combat the evil.

I refer to J. C. Turnbull, George and Simcoe streets, who sells a good Black Worsted, or a Scotch Tweed suit for $16, worth $20 in any other town or city. Fine unlaundried white shirts, from 35c to 50c., worth from 50c to 75c. All-Wool Tweeds at 40c, worth 50c. Fine Prints 9½c, worth 12½c. This is no place for me.

Yours in sorrow,
H. I. PRICE.

Walkey, Bailieboro', who has been teacher in School Section No. 1, South Monaghan, for eight years, has taken up his residence in town, having accepted the agency of the North America Life Assurance Company, with his office in Salisbury's bookstore. To show how highly Mr. Walkey is esteemed where he is best known, it may be stated that a short time previous to his departure from his late residence, he was entertained by the citizens of Bailieboro' and vicinity, the leading citizens joining in honoring a citizen who has won the respect of the entire community. Mr. Walkey possesses the qualification and force of character which will win him as many friends in his new sphere, in which the EXAMINER wishes him the highest success.

TUESDAY, MAY 3, 1887.

AFFAIRS AT OTTAWA.

THE SIX NATION'S CLAIM FOR 480 SQUARE MILES OF LAND.

OTTAWA, May 2.—Gray clothes are coming fashion down here. A good many of the members are getting new suits, having drawn their mileage and they are getting either gray or a light brown check. Sir Adolphe Caron leads the Browns and Mr. Perley of Assiniboia the Grays and the Grays are getting the best of it. A green leaf or a sprig of cedar is worn in the button hole instead of flowers.

The great event of to-day was the arrival of the disallowance agitation in bulk from the Northwest. It arrived in charge of Mayor Jones, J. H. Brock, J. H. Ashdown, G. F. Galt, N. F. Boyd, and F. Beverley Robinson, and as they marched up the street headed by a brass band and old G. H. Ham they were more terrible than an army with banners. The present effete and corrupt ministry never felt a real old-fashioned quake until to-day, when Winnipeg in all her might bore down on them, her cohorts gleaming in flannel shirts and buffalo dollars and all the paraphernalia of war. To-night there are several streaks of blood across the face of the moon, while the Cabinet shows a disposition to hunt its cave, but the Winnipeggers are mighty men and will hunt the question of disallowance to its lair or burst a suspender.

The House got through with a lot of miscellaneous work to-day. The most interesting subject that came up was the motion of Mr. Paterson of Brant for a special committee to report upon the claim of the Six Nation Indians. It appears that in 1784 Sir Frederick Haldimand gave a charter to the Six Nation Indians granting them the lands on the Grand River from Lake Erie to the sources of the river six miles on each side. At later periods all of these lands from the mouth of the river to the north line of the township of Nichol in Wellington County, except the lands they now occupy, were disposed of by them in various ways, but the land from the north line of the township of Nichol to the sources of the river in the township of Melanethan, a distance of forty miles, they claim has never been given away, nor have they been compensated in any way for the loss of the land. In effect they claim a strip of land forty miles long and twelve miles wide right in the heart of Wellington and Grey counties.

Sir John pointed out that this was a question of very great difficulty. It was a very old question and a legal one, and he could not well see how a committee could pronounce on a question of title, for that after all was what the case narrowed down to. The question of compensation—for the lands in dispute were no longer the property of the Government—was a very large one, and if the Indians had been wrongly deprived of their lands it was a question whether the compensation should come from the Dominion. The two old united provinces, or the old province of Upper Canada alone. The matter would have to be brought before the Supreme Court in some way. He would suggest that the resolution be changed to a motion to bring down all the papers when the matter of going before the Supreme Court could be decided upon.

To this proposition Mr. Paterson acceded and it was so ordered. The question is a big one. The Indians claim some 480 square miles of land which, at a dollar an acre with compound interest, will amount to millions.

Bills to incorporate the Niagara River Bridge Company, respecting the Canada Atlantic Railway Company and to further amend the Canadian Pacific Railway Act were introduced.

Mr. Edgar introduced a bill to amend the Dominion Elections Act. He proposes to provide for the greater secrecy of the ballot by compelling a certain thickness of paper for the ballots and a smooth hard surface for them to be marked on, and to put all doubts as to the right of deputies and poll clerks to vote at rest. His bill declares that they have a right to vote, prevents the improper use of certificates, and limits the number to two at each polling booth for each candidate, and to give the deputy returning officer a vote. Provision is made that he may take the oath as to the accuracy of the proceedings before the poll clerk if he has not a justice of the peace handy in the house.

The acts to incorporate the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers and to incorporate the Emerson and Northwestern Railways were read a second time. A lot of other bills up for second readings had to stand over because they were not printed in French.

Questions by members produced the following results: The whole subject of the prohibition of cattle importation from England is under consideration but the Government has not yet arrived at a conclusion; that an additional sum of money has not yet been placed to the credit of the Government of Prince Edward Island but that it is the intention to ask Parliament to increase the subsidy to that province $30,000 annually; no claim for further compensation has been prepared by any of the commissioners appointed to consolidate the statutes of Canada; the question of regulating the weight of a barrel of salt is under consideration.

Mr. Mills asked whether any member of the Ministry had any conversation, correspondence or communication of any kind with the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery on the subject of gazetting members elected to this House; if so, which member of the Government and what was the nature of such correspondence, conversation or suggestions.

Sir John sweetly answered that if the papers were asked for and any existed they would be brought down, but that the Government declined to be cross-examined about its conversations with anybody, wherever the Grits loudly exulted.

Mr. De St. Georges asked whether the Government intended to repeal the Franchise Act.

Sir John: "No."

Mr. Mulock: "It is the intention of the Government to pay the cost and expense of the election contest in Queen's, N.B., (other than those of an election by acclamation) in case it should be determined that the returning officer was right in returning G. F. Baird as elected by acclamation."

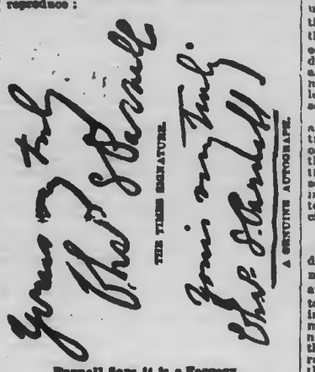
Sir John (still very sweetly): When the case arises mentioned in the question it will be quite time enough to answer it.

[illegible]

ALLEGED SIGNATURE

THE TIMES SIGNATURE AND A GENUINE AUTOGRAPH.

The London Times came to hand yesterday with a fac-simile of the letter which it alleges Parnell signed, endorsing the Phœnix Park murders. A genuine signature of Parnell, in the possession of the New York Herald, we also reproduce:



Parnell Says it is a Forgery.

The morning after the Times came out Mr. Parnell pointed out that, although at first sight some of the letters composing the signature to the fac-simile letter published in the Times this morning appeared to resemble those which he habitually formed in writing his autograph, a close inspection and comparison of the forgery with his genuine signature showed a decided and striking difference in many important points.

"In the first place," said Mr. Parnell, "the writing of the forgery slopes upward, while the genuine signature slopes downward. Then there are other points of difference which are to be readily perceived. For instance, I invariably place a full stop after the initial letter 'S,' which you will observe is omitted from the forgery, and the 'r' in 'Parnell' and the 'C' beginning the abbreviation 'Chas.' are totally different from anything that I ever wrote in penning my name to anything. Moreover, the 'Ch' in 'Chas.' is abnormally long and the formation quite different from my own style of forming the character. The initial letters 'S.' and 'P.' are the only ones at all resembling the genuine.

"In the forged signature the pen was evidently taken off the paper at the beginning of the letter 'n' in 'Chas.,' whereas the genuine signature is always written without a break. The forgery is the work of a person accustomed to permanship, the writing being that of a free, flowing hand, while the genuine is invariably written in a cramped style.

"The letter and signature are impudent and clumsy forgeries."

The Times Still Means Business.

LONDON, May 2.—The Times returning to the charges against Parnell says: "Our articles on 'Parnellism and crime,' and the Parnell letter have sunk deep into the public mind and have produced a conviction that nothing will shake, save evidence of a kind that Mr. Parnell cannot produce." The Times also publishes a long article of the style of the articles on "Parnellism and crime" purporting to show that John Dillon in his defence in the House of Commons of the Parnellite party against the charges that they had had relations with Dynamitter Sheridan either offered to parliament a tissue of fictions which he had never taken the trouble to examine or reached a still lower depth of dishonesty.

O'BRIEN'S SWELLED HEAD.

He Says Liberty-Loving Canadians Will Not Permit Lord Lansdowne to Govern Them.

LONDON, May 2.—Replying to an address at Thurles yesterday William O'Brien, who is now on route to Canada, said: "The addresses and this magnificent welcome prove that I do not go alone on my mission, but that I carry the hearty good wishes and full approval of the Irish priests and people. Nothing has been undone by the people to effect an amicable settlement with the Marquis of Lansdowne, but the tenantry and those acting for them have been treated most shamefully, and it only remains for me to place the whole case before the bar of public opinion in Canada and the United States. I feel assured that when the liberty-loving Canadians have heard a true account of Lord Lansdowne's cruelty to the tenantry they will not permit themselves to be governed by such a man."

The Dublin corporation has adopted a resolution calling upon the Canadians to give Mr. O'Brien an enthusiastic welcome in order to mark their disapproval of the Marquis of Lansdowne's conduct. Copies of the resolution are to be sent to the members of all the Canadian legislatures and municipalities.

THE PREMIER AND THE CARDINAL.

Mr. Mercier Favors the Jesuit Bill in Spite of Protests from His Eminence of Quebec.

QUEBEC, May 2.—The Jesuit Bill was discussed in the afternoon and evening and practically passed. Premier Mercier moved that the House go into committee on the bill and then T. Chase Casgrain (Member for Quebec county) moved the six months hoist owing to Cardinal Taschereau and a majority of the bishops of the province having expressed a wish that confederation of the measure be deferred till Rome had given a decision on the matter.

A long debate lasting half a dozen hours ensued.

Mr. Mercier said, although he had the greatest respect for the Cardinal, the bill was not a religious one at all, and should receive the same treatment as every other private measure. He eulogized the services of the Jesuits in the early history of Canada and in the present day. Mr. Faucher De St. Maurice, the well known literateur, although an admirer of the Jesuits, proferred to obey the Cardinal.

Mr. Lafontaine, Rouge member for Napierville, made a bitter onslaught on Mr. Mercier for acting against the Cardinal's wishes, and declared his intention of voting for the amendment.

Hon. Mr. Lynch, generally regarded as the leader of the English-speaking representatives of the House, came out squarely in favor of the bill, stating that notwithstanding what might be thought in certain quarters there was nothing in the bill alarming in character.

Provincial Secretary Gagnon was opposed to the position of the leader of the Government and would vote for the amendment, believing the best course to be to obey the Cardinal's wishes.

Ex-Treasurer Robertson, English representative of Sherbrooke, declared his opposition to the bill, as it would be disrespectful to the Cardinal to pass the bill.

Hon. Mr. Flynn, after remarks in favor of the bill, moved an adjournment, which was lost by 34 to 16.

Mr. Casgrain's amendment was then put and lost, 16 voting for and 34 against. The English-speaking members were divided, McIntosh (Compton), Owens (Argenteuil), Robertson (Sherbrooke) and Spencer (Missisquoi) voting for the amendment, and the remainder against.

Killed by a Cave In.

HAMILTON, May 2.—John McFarlane aged 22, a teamster, was buried to his waist by a cave in in a sand pit in the West End this afternoon. He was immediately taken out by his comrades and driven to the City Hospital where he expired in twenty minutes. He leaves a wife and two children.

"Answer Yes or No," Said She.
From the London Globe.

The story goes that a young man in Allahabad proposed to a young lady in Calcutta by telegraph, adding: "Answer yes or no at my expense." She sent him over 600 words of explanations without coming to any conclusion.

LABOR TROUBLES.

A GENERAL SHAKING UP BETWEEN EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYED.

TORONTO, May 3.

The stonemasons to the number of about 100 went out on strike yesterday, in accordance with the action taken at their meeting on Saturday night. During the afternoon the union held a lengthy meeting, when the situation was discussed. It was said that some thirty masons were receiving the scale demanded by the men from non-union bosses. The men declare they will adhere to the demands made, and are confident the bosses will eventually meet their wishes. One mason said he intended leaving the city, as work was plentiful in other sections of the country.

The new Parliament Buildings, Court House and other proposed large buildings have attracted to the city, so it is averred, a number of masons who, however, were not aware that their construction will only be proceeded with this season on a small scale. Ninety-nine masons answered the roll call at the Union meeting yesterday, and committees were appointed to take charge of the various sections of the city.

The Bosses Will Not Yield.

The Builders' and Contractors' Association discussed the masons' strike at a three hours meeting last night. There was a large attendance of members. It was unanimously decided to remain firm with reference to their position in refusing to grant the rate demanded by the masons. President Lionel York said there was not the least possibility of a settlement unless the masons go back to work at the old rate. This statement was furnished of the names of bosses and the number of masons affected by yesterday's strike: John Harris 2, Lionel Yorke 7, Wright & Livingston 3, Henry Lucas 7, Robt. Crabb 8, Joseph Blain 4, James Crang 7, Henry Ashfield 3, William Woods 6, William Slattery 3, Walter Page 6, R. A. Graydon 4, W. J. Hill 4, White & Stocks 2, Hughes & Sons 6, John Mattson 4, James Williams 4, Dancy Bros. 8, D. Carlyle 4. Total 90.

Carpenters on Strike at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, May 2.—The Ralston shooting case was called in the Police Court this forenoon, Mrs. Robert Ralston being charged with shooting her husband with intent to kill. An adjournment was made on account of the prosecution not being ready to proceed.

The customs duties collected here during April amounted to $67,420, an increase of $12,200 over April last year. The Inland Revenue receipts were $35,572.

The Builders' Association, not having replied to the communication sent by the secretary of the Union carpenters demanding an increase of 2½ cents per hour from May 1, a number of the carpenters went out on strike this morning. The strike does not appear to be general, as in several shops and buildings this morning carpenters were at work—some of them having received the advance and others working at the old rates.

Bricklayers and Carpenters Out at London.

LONDON, May 2.—The long expected strike of bricklayers, carpenters and bricklayers' laborers for an increase of wages commenced this morning. The number of men out altogether is over 200, comprising about 80 bricklayers, 75 carpenters and 80 laborers. The bricklayers are prepared for the longest fight of all, and say they will remain on strike all summer if necessary. The laborers may, it is said, possibly give in within a day or two.

900 Cotton Hands Out at Merritton.

ST. CATHARINES, May 2.—The employes of the Merritton Cotton Mills are out on strike this morning owing to a reduction of wages in the carding-room. About a month ago the employers voluntarily adopted a scale of wages and last week they announced that the wages would be cut down. The carders struck against this reduction and 175 or 200 employes are locked out in consequence. The strikers demand the prices adopted by the company.

Carters and Hod Carriers at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 2.—The officers of the Hod Carriers' Union claim that only 1,800 struck today, the others having received what they demanded. Less than 200 wood carvers went out to-day on the threatened general strike. Most of them were successful in obtaining the desired promise of ten hours' pay for nine hours' work. A majority of the carvers were given the advance without striking.

A Coke Strike at Connellsville.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 2.—A general strike of the coke workers of the Connellsville region is regarded certain. Fully one-half of the men refused to go to work to-day and the others it is thought will strike after to-morrow's conventions. The operators issued their ultimatum this afternoon in which they refused to make any concession.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, May 3.

The license question is still a popular topic about town, and the interest taken in the matter is just as live as it was a week ago when it was not certain who would get licenses. The kickers are still a-kicking, the party workers have renewed their wire-pulling, and the poor commissioners are being pestered anew by disappointed license-seekers and their friends.

There is, however, a hope for those would-be liquor vendors whose licenses have been cut off. The Fleming by-laws as passed in Council on Feb. 14 provide that the number of licenses to be issued for the year commencing May 1, 1887, shall be not less than 180 and the number of shop licenses not less than 50. But neither of these bylaws, according to the opinion of a leading Toronto lawyer who has been consulted, contain what is said to be a highly essential point, viz: that these shall be granted in the City of Toronto. The bylaws read as if they were made to the whole universe and it is said that upon proper application they may be declared ultra vires and quashed. Whether this will be taken advantage of or not is still to be learned, but at any rate it is certain that Toronto has not yet heard the end of this year's license business.

At 7.20 last night, while a clerk was lighting the gas in the corner window of the dry goods store of Duffet, Michael & Co., at Yonge-street and Wilton-avenue, a quantity of lace curtains caught fire and so quickly did the flames spread that within half an hour the firm's entire stock was destroyed. In the hope of preventing the fire from spreading the firemen introduced a branch from the rear, but between the water and the flames the whole stock was ruined. The loss is about $10,000, wholly covered by insurance in the Western and Phœnix companies.

A serious accident befell a man named Bennsworth employed in M. McConnell's saloon, about 7 o'clock last night. Under the impression that the elevator was in position on the top floor, he stepped from the landing and fell to the bottom a distance of forty feet. He was badly injured, one arm, a rib and a leg being broken. Bennsworth had a few minutes before gone to the top floor in the elevator, and supposed that it had not been removed in his absence. Dr. Wagner of Gerard-street attended the injured man, whose condition at an early hour this morning was serious.

Lord Lansdowne has ordered from Cleadining, the Toronto boat-builder, a 36-foot cedar boat, with seats for a four-oared crew, a centre-swain and two passengers. He intends, along with his private secretary and two aides-de-camp, to practice rowing down at Ottawa, on the Rideau, and will no doubt go into active training when he returns there from Toronto. The boat will have no fancy trimmings but is plainly and strongly built, and is meant for use not for show.

Early Sunday morning a quantity of goods was stolen from Ivers & Company's dry goods store at 1043 Queen-street. Sub-Inspector Armstrong of No. 6 Division went on the warpath and arrested five boys named Wm. Johnston, Louis Ackroyd, Geo. Goulding, Charles Maynard, and Jos. Good as the culprits. Ackroyd got away from police headquarters yesterday but was recaptured at West Toronto Junction.

All the ferry boats took out their licenses in due form yesterday. They are not bound in any way as to the points to which they shall run. The question of building a city wharf at Hanlan's Point has not yet been decided by the Council.

ECCE SACERDOS MAGNUS!

Installation of His Lordship, Bishop Dowling.

Arrival of the Episcopal Dignitaries—The Progress to the Palace—The Procession to the Cathedral Church—Installation Ceremonies—The Act of Fealty—The Kiss of Peace—Dutiful Addresses of Clergy and People.

Tuesday, May 3rd, was a day of the brightest of weather of the month of Mary, and to be "marked with a white stone" by the clergy and people of the diocese of Peterborough, because it witnessed, under the most auspicious circumstances, the installation, in his episcopal seat, of Rt. Rev. Thomas Joseph Dowling, D.D., second bishop of Peterborough. The Cathedral Church of St. Peter in vinculis never witnessed a brighter day nor a more imposingly successful ceremony than that which placed the new bishop upon the throne.

THE ADVENT, of the ecclesiastical party was eagerly awaited by a throng of people, whose anxiety was not rewarded till about twenty minutes after twelve o'clock, when the train drew slowly into the station amidst the profound silence of expectation. A parlor car attached to the rear of the train contained the Bishop and the visiting prelates. In a few moments Archbishop Lynch appeared on the platform, holding by the hand Bishop Dowling, attired in flowing purple robes, about his neck the magnificent gold chain presented him by the clergy at his consecration in Hamilton on Sunday, whom he introduced with the words, "This is your new Bishop."

BISHOP DOWLING.

Three lusty cheers were given, after which Bishop Dowling stretched out his hands and blessed the children of the church there assembled. Then the ecclesiastical party was taken in hand by a general committee, composed of the following gentlemen:

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, Chairman; Mr. John Carbery, Secretary; Messrs. John Hackett, Edward Phelan, Thos. Kelly, Thos. Cahill, Robt. White, John C. Sullivan, B. Morrow, John Delaney, John Lynch, F. J. Daley, E. D. Gough, R. W. Muncaster, J. J. Sheehy, John O'Meara, L. M. Hayes, Jos. Hayes, H. LeBrun, J. McAleer, Dr. Brennan, T. Dolan, and J. McIlmoyle.

The committee had made every arrangement for the reception, etc., and had provided carriages for the distinguished visitors. Bishop Dowling, who was accompanied by his aged mother and two sisters, was conducted to the first carriage with Archbishop Lynch, the other Clergy filling up the remaining vehicles as follows:—

Archbishop Lynch, Toronto; Bishop Cleary, Kingston; Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Mahoney, Toronto; Rt. Rev. Bishop Carbery, Hamilton.

Very Rev. Vicars-General Heenan, of Hamilton, Laurent, of Lindsay, and Laurent of Toronto.

Chancellor Kehoe, of Hamilton; Fathers Fleming and O'Brien, of Kingston diocese.

Rev. Fathers Conway, Fayelle, O'Brien and Redkins, of Peterborough; Browne, Port Hope; Kelly, Kaintaure; O'Connell, South Dorro; Murray, Cobourg; Quirk, Hastings; Caillet, Gaelen River; O'Connell, Brighton; McVay, Fenelon Falls; McCloskey, Victoria Road; Larkin, Grafton; Connolly, Downeyville; Campbellford; Brotherton, Bracebridge; Bloom, North Bay; Sweeney, Burnley; there were besides some other clerical visitors from neighbouring dioceses.

Order of procession was formed, Bishop Dowling at the head, the route being from the station grounds to Aylmer, and then Hunter street.

The interior of the church was, previous to the arrival of the party, packed with expectant people, among which was a generous sprinkling of Protestants.

The decorations of the church, while not profuse, were in good taste and appropriate to the occasion. In the overhead space between the galleries were stretched decorative festoons of bunting, and evergreens were disposed here and there with good effect. Over the church entrance from the porch was a crimson banner, veiling the stained glass coat of arms of the late Bishop Jamot, and bearing the words "God Bless Our Bishop." The railing of the choir, facing the altar, was lined with a streamer "Bienvenue à Notre Pasteur."; In the right hand angle of the gallery rail was placed a banner having the inscription "Welcome", and at the opposite angle was a banner on which appeared the legend "Vivat Pastor Bonus." At the altar end of the gallery a banner bearing the words "Erin Go Bragh," and on the opposite side was a banner of the Blessed Virgin, bearing the words, "Magnificat anima mea Dominum." Over the high altar upon the wall were the words "Benedictus Qui Venit in Nomine Domini." and underneath that a banner on which was read "All hail! Heaven sent Pastor, all hail!" The altar was flanked on the epistle side with a banner of the Blessed Virgin, "Monstra te esse Matrem," and on the gospel side with another banner bearing the motto "Regina coeli Lætare." Over the Blessed Virgin's altar, a banner hung inscribed with "May Angels Guide Thee." The transept gallery also held a banner with the inscription, "Welcome Beloved Pastor." Over the sacristy door on the epistle side was a moral scroll bearing the legend "Quid Retribuam Domino," and a similar one on the gospel side was blazoned with the expressive salutation, "Ecce Sacerdos Magnus." The episcopal throne, a splendidly substantial seat, rich with carvings and resplendent, was placed inside the altar rail on the gospel side of the altar.

The carriages drew up at the northern entrance of the Convent, and the occupants, entering the building, shortly after emerged in procession, the cross bearer preceding, followed by the acolytes, minor clergy, clergy, Vicars-General, Bishops and Archbishop, His Lordship Bishop Dowling, supported on either side by Rev. Father Conway, chancellor of the diocese, and Rev. Father Brown, of Port Hope. At the church gates the procession passed under an evergreen arch on which was the triple blazon, "Welcome." On entering the porch of the church, Very Rev. Vicar-General Laurent presented a crucifix which the bishop reverently kissed. He then took the asperges, sprinkling himself and those about him. Next he filled the censor, which Very Rev. Father Laurent used upon him. The procession advanced up the central aisle, the clergy, assisted by the choir, intoning the Ecce Sacerdos Magnus, and the bishops and priests took their stations inside and about the sanctuary.

The occasion at this point was a splendid and solemn one. The high altar was a blaze of light and flowers. The spotless robes of the acolytes, and minor clergy, were relieved by the violet robes of the higher church dignitaries, and the gorgeous robes of the Bishops and Archbishops.

After Bishop Dowling had knelt in prayer His Grace Archbishop Lynch ascended the altar and briefly addressed the clergy and people.

He said he rejoiced in God that he could present to the clergy and people of the Diocese of Peterborough, on behalf of His Holiness, Rev. Father Dowling as Bishop of Peterborough.

He held in his hand the bull of His Holiness which he would pass to the late Administrator of the Diocese. He rejoiced in the Lord, that he could present a worthy successor to Bishop Jamot, and a selection had been made of one worthy in zeal, piety, and learning, to follow in the footsteps of their late lamented Bishop.

After appropriate prayers the Te Deum was chanted, the choir and people taking alternative parts. Rev. Father Conway, the newly appointed Chancellor of the diocese, placed the mitre upon his lordship's head, and the crozier was placed in his hand and he was escorted to the episcopal throne by Archbishop Lynch and Bishop Cleary and received the kiss of peace. The clergy then performed the act of fealty and profession of obedience to the new bishop, by kneeling and kissing the episcopal ring.

At the conclusion of this ceremony his lordship gave his blessing to the people.

Then followed the reading by Very Rev. Vicar-General Laurent, of Lindsay of an ADDRESS FROM THE CLERGY,

as follows:—

Address of the Clergy of the Diocese of Peterborough, to the Right Rev. Thomas Joseph Dowling, D.D., Bishop of Peterborough:

May it Please Your Lordship:

We, the priests of the Diocese of Peterborough, have assembled on this solemn occasion to extend to your Lordship a kindly greeting to your Episcopal See. The official announcement that a Bishop had been appointed to the vacant See of Peterborough, brought joy to the hearts and homes of us all, both priests and people.

Our widowed diocese now lays aside her robes of mourning and rejoices with a double joy in welcoming and receiving as her spiritual head a Bishop whom we all unite in honoring.

We welcome you, my Lord, to your Episcopal city. We recognize in Your Lordship the possession of all those noble qualities and virtues which serve to adorn a Bishop in God's Holy Church.

It is with sentiments of the highest regard and sincerest esteem that we welcome as our Bishop, you, my Lord, whose name has come to us laden with the sweet odor of good deeds, whose eloquence and priestly virtues have endeared you to the faithful among whom you ministered, whose kindly disposition and noble qualities of head and heart, have ever been the admiration of your fellow priests; whose administrative ability has received the commendation of the Bishop of the province; whose labor for many years in the vineyard of the Lord has now received a fitting reward.

In your Lordship's appointment by our Holy Father to the high and onerous office of Bishop of Peterborough, you bring, my Lord, to your new duties great ability, profound knowledge, and well tried experience. You know full well the many wants of this new and growing country. We feel assured that all shall find in Your Lordship, a true shepherd, and faithful guardian of the flock entrusted to your care.

You come, my Lord, to a diocese but lately established. Five years ago the late lamented Bishop Jamot was appointed first Bishop of Peterborough. With great zeal and energy, he laid the foundation on which you, my Lord, are now called to build.

As a friend of education you will be pleased to know that the Christian training of the youths in this diocese has not been neglected. Under Your Lordship's fostering care we are assured that the Catholic educational advantages of the diocese of Peterborough, will be increased and multiplied.

We shall ever feel a religious pride in assisting Your Lordship with our humble services. We shall endeavor, by our fidelity to duty, and our fealty to Your Lordship, to show the sincerity of our welcome, the depth of our love, and the greatness of our esteem for Your Lordship's personal and episcopal character.

Through you, my Lord, we wish to express to the Very Rev. Father Laurent, our appreciation at his kind, just, and able administration of the Diocese during the past year. We wish also to thank the Most Reverend, [illegible] for the long distinguished [illegible] for the welfare of the diocese of Peterborough.

We are moreover deeply thankful to our Holy Father, Pope Leo XIII, for appointing Your Lordship to rule over this diocese. We feel, my Lord, that in honoring you, His Holiness has honored the priesthood of the whole province.

Again, my Lord, we welcome you amidst scenes. Humbly asking Your Lordship's blessing, we remain Your Lordship's faithful and devoted priests.

His Lordship, in reply, thanked the priests for their cordial reception. He was pleased to know that the appointment of His Holiness was satisfactory, and spoke of the great power, the great responsibility of the office, and his unfitness for an office which he had not sought, but which had sought him. He was cumbered by the thought of walking in the footsteps of a holy apostolic man, the late Bishop Jamot. He rejoiced in having the assurance of the help of the clergy of the Diocese of Peterborough, and would strive to carry out the will of the Holy Father, in extending the blessing of education. He asked the prayers of his priests and people, and he would always remember them at the altar.

Then a number of gentlemen whose names are signed to the address printed below, advanced and grasped about His Lordship. Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald read the following address:—

To the Right Rev. Thomas Joseph Dowling, D.D., Bishop of Peterborough:

May it please Your Lordship:

On behalf of the congregation of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, we humbly beg to congratulate you on your elevation to the episcopate, and to tender to you as our Bishop our welcome and homage.

We beg also to extend to the distinguished prelates and priests, who have accompanied your Lordship, our appreciation of the honor conferred on us, by their presence on this auspicious occasion.

The joyous feelings with which we greet your Lordship's arrival amongst us, are you will permit us to say, tempered with sorrow, remembering, as we do, that to-morrow the anniversary of the death of Your Lordship's sainted predecessor Bishop Jamot, to whose memory is due from us, that veneration and respect, which the recollection of his many Christian virtues cannot fail to call forth.

In giving expression to these sentiments of attachment and duty, to the memory of the illustrious bishop, whose place you have been chosen to fill, and, we feel, to adorn, we cannot omit to testify our recognition of the devotion, scrupulous exactitude, and perfect discipline, with which the affairs of the diocese have been temporarily administered by the Very Reverend, the Vicar-General Laurent, nor can we refrain from offering a tribute of praise to our own zealous and beloved pastor the Reverend, Father Conway, who in conjunction with his able coadjutors the Reverend Fathers Fayolle O'Brien and Redkins, has since assuming charge of this cathedral parish, worked so earnestly and successfully for the advancement of our interests, and who, while administering faithfully to our spiritual requirements, has also toiled unwearyingly for the progress of the temporalities of the church, as is amply evidenced by the large sum which he has during the past year, through a constant and rigid system of economy, saved and applied to the reduction of the parochial debt.

But while recognizing the faithful performance of duty in these respects, we are not strangers to Your Lordship's unwearied efforts in the cause of God, and of our Holy Church, nor are we unmindful of the enduring services you have rendered to your late congregation, how by untiring industry and energy, from an humble foundation you have achieved great results, and replaced the little church of former days by a beautiful edifice which would do credit to any of our cities.

We are aware, too, that when a few years ago it pleased Almighty God to relieve from his labors in this life, the late Bishop Crinnon, of Hamilton, Your Lordship was, by the unanimous voice of the priesthood, selected to discharge the duties of Administrator of that important diocese.

How faithfully and satisfactorily you performed these, and all other duties appertaining to your holy office, is proved by your elevation to the important and exalted position which you now occupy in the Church of God.

And while we would, as obedient children of the church and in duty bound, humbly bow to the appointment by our Holy Father of any bishop to rule over us, it is, nevertheless, to us a source of gratification to know that we have, in Your Lordship, an ecclesiastic of great distinction and literary culture, and possessing high administrative and executive abilities.

We thank Almighty God for this signal blessing conferred upon us and upon this diocese.

We thank our Holy Father, Pope Leo XIII, under whose glorious pontificate the mother church of Christendom, at the close of this nineteenth century, continues beautiful, fresh and vigorous, the bulwark of faith and morals and social order, as authoritative and infallible as on the day when she received from her divine founder the mandate to teach and spread throughout all nations the everlasting truths of the Catholic faith, for the honor he has conferred upon us by appointing as our diocesan-head, a prelate so eminent and distinguished as Your Lordship.

In the spirit of loving and obedient children of our Holy Church, we therefore offer to Your Lordship, as our Bishop, our unreserved submission, and respectfully request your Apostolic benediction, and we pray that God may long spare you to preside over this diocese.

Signed on behalf of the congregation,

J. W. FITZGERALD, L. M. HAYES,
R. W. MUNCASTER, J. O'MEARA,
J. D. MCILMOYLE, T. CAHILL.

Peterborough, May 3rd, 1887.

Then Dr. E. C. Crevier stepped out and read the following:—

An Irishman's Ball.

We are surrounded by difficulties and dangers, said Pat, from the cradle to the grave, and the only wonder is that we ever live long enough after having the use to reach the other. The greatest danger lies in allowing the seeds of disease to be sown in our system. If you feel dull and drowsy, have frequent headaches, bad taste in mouth coated tongue, poor appetite, you are suffering from a torpid liver. Take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" if you would destroy those seeds and avoid reaping a harvest of suffering and death. 6dw18

A Good Life Preserver.

T. Milburn & Co., March 16th, 1886.

I was completely relieved from that dreadful disease [illegible] by one bottle of that [illegible] and I take pleasure in recommending it to all such sufferers. P. Devaney, Merrickville, Ont. 2w17d

Happy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symtoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. eodw4 aujourdhui nos sentiments les plus respectueux.

Sample and large bottles at any drug store. Try Polson's Nerviline. 6dw18

C'est pourquoi, Monseigneur, les Canadiens-Français de Peterborough, sont heureux de vous voir au milieu d'eux. Ils sont heureux de se joindre au clergé de ce diocese a la congregation irlandaise pour repeter a votre Grandeur—"Honi soit celui qui vient au nom du Seigneur."

Avec notre pasteur, que nous aimons tous et qui n'a qu'une ambition au monde, le salut de nos ames. Qu'il nous soit permis Monseigneur de vous reiterer notre plus profond respect, notre plus entiere soumission et notre plus filial amour.

Que Dieu, Monseigneur, verse sur votre grandeur l'abondance de ses graces, ses dons les plus grands qu' Il vous accorde longue vie, sainteté et bonheur. Tel est le plus ardent desir de nos coeurs. Qu'il nous soit permis en terminant, Monseigneur, de vous demander votre paternelle benediction.

Signe pour les Canadiens-Français,

E. C. Crevier, H. LeBrun,
N. T. Laflante, A. Letellier.
Jos. Picard, L. Potvin,
S. Barrette.

Bishop Dowling conferred his blessing upon the representatives of the English and French portions of the congregation, after which he replied to the last address in the French tongue, thanking them for the loyal sentiments contained therein. He was pleased to know that there were so many French-Canadians in Peterborough, and had heard of their fealty to the late Bishop Jamot. He hoped they would give him the same loyal service as had been accorded his predecessor. Replying to the congregational address, he expressed the gratification he felt on this occasion in receiving from the chief church of the diocese these sentiments. He rejoiced that the memory of the late Bishop Jamot was very dear. One of the ways the children of the church could show their respect and love for their deceased master was for them to extend to his successor that sympathy and assistance they always extended him. It gave him great pleasure to know that religion was flourishing in this city, and he rejoiced to hear of the success of Father Laurent and Father Conway here. He took that occasion of informing the people that his first official act would be to appoint Father Laurent his Vicar-General, and Rev. Father Conway, Chancellor of the Diocese. He prayed the blessing of God might rest upon the Diocese, and upon them and their families, and concluded by asking their prayers.

The addresses of the clergy and congregation were engrossed and illuminated by Mr. R. W. Muncaster, in a beautiful and artistic manner.

The ceremony of installation over, the procession was re-formed and passed out of the church to the music of Gounod's Pontifical March, performed by Prof Denys, to the convent, where, after disrobing the bishops and priests, adjourned to the library of the Murray street Separate School, where they partook of an excellent dinner, prepared, with his wonted good taste, by Mr. Harry Long.

Before the audience had dispersed, Rev. Father Conway announced that a solemn requiem High Mass would be celebrated in the church to-morrow morning at 12 m., on the occasion of the anniversary of the death of the late Bishop Jamot.

This evening, at 7 o'clock, a reception will be held in the Convent of the Congregation de Notre Dame.

Midnight Mechanics.

Friday last about midnight some members of the family of Mr. W. Cluxton, Stewart street, were awakened by the noise of men endeavoring to force an entrance into the house from the roof of a shed by means of a window. The alarm was given and the midnight mechanics departed unsuccessful.

The adjourned meeting for organization, election and installation of officers of the above Order will be held on Thursday evening in the parlors of the C. P. R. Hotel at 8 o'clock, instead of this evening as improperly announced.

Scott Act Enforcement.

There was a small audience in the Opera House Monday evening, to listen to the address of Mr. Joseph Gibson, Postmaster of Ingersoll, upon the subject of "Scott Act Enforcement." The Rev. F. H. Wallace, B. D., occupied the chair. The speaker pointed out the failure of the license system in dealing with the evil of intemperance. The principle of the evil of the licence system was that it implied the operation of a law to make wrong right. He went in to show that the principle of prohibition was in accord with the spirit of our constitution and that the Crooks Act, as far as it went was a prohibitory measure from Saturday night to Monday morning. The underlying principle of all law was that individual rights must yield to the general good. He combatted the idea that those who voted for the Scott Act should enforce it. It was the duty of the authorities to enforce all laws. It was the duty of the police to enforce all law. The speaker claimed that the Scott Act was being enforced, and quoted the large number that had been and were being fined, as a proof of his contention. He had been three days in Peterborough and had not seen a drunken man, and when he went away he would give this town a good name. (Applause.) The Scott Act could be enforced, and it was being enforced. There had been fines to the extent of $5,400 imposed in Peterborough. It was the fault of temperance people that they expected too much. As things went their was good ground for encouragement. The speaker concluded by giving some wholesome advice to working men, to be saving and prudent and avoid drink. The benediction by Mr. Wallace brought the meeting to a close.

Evangelistic Services.

The Sabbath afternoon meeting was well attended. Mr. Rich took for his text, "For with God all things are possible," and illustrated his subject with anecdotes, showing special deliverances by the power of God. He urged his hearers to be earnest in prayer, and wrestle with God to obtain the blessing. In the evening he spoke on the marriage feast, and showed the hollowness of the excuses made by the invited guests. He said the last one was the worst of them all, viz., "I have married a wife and cannot come. I pray thee have me excused." He said if this person had loved and respected his wife as he should have done, he would have accepted the invitation to the feast and brought her with him, but he stayed away himself and kept her back also. The speaker pointed out in a forcible and striking manner that people might deceive men by their professions and excuses, but they cannot deceive God; he exhorted them to be sincere in their actions. Monday evening he chose for his subject "The Rich Man and the Beggar," and painted in glowing colors all the grandeur, wealth and pleasures of the rich man, showing how he spent his life in the service of the world, and ministering to the pleasures of this life to the loss of his soul. He held up in contrast the happy life and death of the poor beggar, who was borne by angels to Abraham's bosom, while the rich man went to spend an endless eternity with the lost. He closed a service which for fervent exhortation and earnest appeals surpassed any of his previous efforts, and two seekers after salvation came forward and testified that they were trusting in Jesus. The work is prospering, and Mr. Rich is making personal visits from house to house. He is doing all he can in this good work.—Com.

A Repeal of the Scott Act.

The Town Council Passes a Memorial Asking for a Repeal—The Bridges Not to be Built Just Yet.

Mayor Stevenson and Councillors Mearies, Douglass, Moore, McNeil, McNaughton, Kelly, Cahill and Davidson attended the special meeting of the Town Council Monday night.

Communications were read from Chief of Police Cooper, resigning his position; from R. E. Wood, C.C.A., in reference to the suit of the Queen vs. the Midland Railway Company, regarding the imperfect levelling of the rails with the road-bed on Bethune street—referred to the Mayor and the chairman of the Finance Committee; from John Carnegie, stating that the Lock Works and Central Iron Bridge Works needed larger premises, and as it was proposed that the Bridge Works be removed to the Romaine Brick Works on George street, owned by the writer, it was asked that the Council grant a portion of Water street, lying between Sherbrooke and Dalhousie streets, for enlarged premises for the works, offering in exchange the gravel lying between said streets—referred to the Finance Committee; from David Breeze and six others, Wm. Whitehair and 30 others, Irwin Marks, and Richard Hall, asking for street improvements, and from James Judge, asking time to pay his taxes.—Referred to the Streets and Bridges Committee.

ACCOUNTS.

M. McFadden	$30 00
H. H. Green, charity orders	11 00
McAndrew & Noble, fitting up fire station	77 10
James Best	8 70
W. H. Wrighton, charity	27 19
J. Cochrane, "	23 00
W. H. Roberts, alterations in stable	37 85
Terence Smith, drawing wood	1 00

All the accounts were referred to the Finance Committee, except that of Terence Smith, which was paid.

The Mayor announced that he expected in a few days an answer to the town's memorial re the Scott Act fines; that in reference to the scheme of dredging Little Lake and filling in Spaldings Bay with the refuse, the government were willing to undertake the work if the town would guarantee to prevent the running of sawdust from the mills into the river; in reference to the Jamieson Bill now before the government, which allows Scott Act informers half of the fines imposed when they prosecuted, the other half going to the county, and the inspectors the whole fines when they were the prosecutors, he (the Mayor) had not taken a favorable view, but he wanted the councillors to pass their opinion on it.

Councillor Moore introduced a by-law providing for the issuing of debentures, for the building of bridges over Brock, Simcoe, and Charlotte streets, and at the Locks, and for the cribbing of Crescent street. The council went into committee of the whole, Mr. Douglass in the chair, but upon motion of Mr. Cahill, who urged that in view of the successful termination of negotiations for the removal of a large industry from Uxbridge to Peterborough, whereby it would be necessary to grant a bonus, or in some other way aid it, one by-law could be made to do for both, the committee rose and asked leave to sit again.

Councillor Moore brought in a memorial to be presented to the Governor-General, asking that Little Lake be dredged by the government vessels. It was passed.

Mr. Moore introduced another memorial praying the government to discountenance the Jameson Bill (referred to elsewhere), and continue in force the present law relating to Scott Act fines; also to amend the Act so as to give towns of 7,000 inhabitants and over, the same privileges in reference to the Scott Act as cities. The memorial was passed and signed.

Mr. Moore brought up another matter. Owing to the building of the Missing Link railway line, the creek, near Stewart street, had been changed from its course, the water being thrown against the north shore, thus causing troublesome floods in the spring. He moved, seconded by Mr. Douglass, that a crib work be placed on the north side of the creek, at or near where it crosses Stewart street, that the earth taken from Murray street in reducing it to the grade struck, be used for filling in, and that the Street Inspector proceed with the work at once. After some little discussion the motion was referred to the Street and Bridges Committee to report.

A motion to authorize the Street Inspector to put down crossings on Reid street, opposite Mr. Fanning's; on Macdonnel street, opposite Stewart, and on London street, opposite Division, was referred to the Streets and Bridges Committee with power to act.

Mr. McNeil moved, seconded by Mr. Kelly, that the Street Inspector build a temporary bridge on Simcoe street—carried; also, that the clerk prepare a by-law to grant aid to the Mechanics' Institute.—Carried.

Mr. Davidson moved, seconded by Mr. McNeil, that the chairman of the Streets and Bridges Committee be instructed to plant willow trees along that part of Crescent street which has been cribbed.—Carried.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that a waggon be bought for corporation use.—Carried.

Mr. Cahill moved the first reading of a memorial to the Governor-General praying for a repeal of the Scott Act, on the ground that it has failed in its intentions of promoting temperance, and that it has been the means of increasing perjury and the number of low "shebeens" and grog shops throughout the town. The memorial received its three readings and was passed without a dissenting voice.

On motion of Mr. Moore, the resignation of Chief Cooper was accepted and the sum of $100 was granted beyond his salary.

A motion by Mr. McNeil, that P. C. Adams be Acting Chief until one is finally appointed, was carried.

The Council then adjourned.

I beg to say that contrary to announcements which appeared in the Peterborough papers for the past two months, I do not intend to remove to T. It is my intention in the future as in the past to show at all seasons nothing but new and fresh goods in the various lines of Dry Goods and Gents' furnishings; and by doing so, hope to retain that confidence, which, I am proud to say, I have enjoyed from the public since commencing business two years ago. d&w

FROM
J. J. SHEEHY.
I beg to say that contrary to announcements which appeared in the Peterborough papers for the past two months, I do not intend to remove to T. Dolan & Co's Dry Goods Store, nor have I any connections whatever with that establishment. The final arrangements not being satisfactory to me, I withdraw from the projected change, and intend carrying on the Dry Goods business in my usual stand next to Loch's Hat Store.
It is my intention in the future as in the past to show at all seasons nothing but new and fresh goods in the various lines of Dry Goods and Gents' furnishings; and by doing so, hope to retain that confidence, which, I am proud to say, I have enjoyed from the public since commencing business two years ago. d&w

COURTING ENQUIRY.

THE PARNELLITES DEFY THE TIMES TO PROVE ITS CHARGES.

LONDON, May 3.—Charles Edward Lewis, Conservative member for North Antrim, in the House of Commons this afternoon called attention to the breach of privilege committed by the London Times in an article charging John Dillon with having told a falsehood when he denied the paper's allegations that he was an accomplice of Sheridan, the Invincible. In this article the Times declares that "Mr. Dillon in his denial had either presented to Parliament a tissue of fictions he had never taken the trouble to examine or had reached a yet lower depth of dishonesty. Sheridan was simultaneously the organizer of murderous associations and the close companion of the leaders of the constitutional agitation."

"Mr. Dillon," the Times article continues, "however convenient his memory, can hardly have succeeded in entirely forgetting their personal relations. Mr. Dillon has been called the Chevalier Bayard of the Irish National League. He has been supposed to stand apart in public esteem from the rank and file of his party. What confidence can now be reposed in his disclaimers, which show the best of the Parnellite party to be destitute of that quality which Englishmen rightly prize above all other as an indispensable foundation of character."

Mr. Lewis concluded as follows: "These wholesale charges of lying against Mr. Dillon constitute a distinct breach of privilege. I move that the House take notice of them."

Philip Albert Muntz, another Conservative, seconded Mr. Lewis' motion.

Speaker Peel, in answer to Mr. Dillon, said if the House decided that the article quoted by Mr. Lewis was a breach of privilege, a motion could be made calling the offenders to the bar of the House to answer for their conduct in committing the breach.

W. H. Smith, First Lord of the Treasury, on behalf of the Government, moved that the House adjourn in order that questions of fact might be argued.

Mr. Dillon said he desired to have the question brought to an issue right off. He denied the right of Mr. Lewis to take a course putting him on the defensive until his accuser was brought to the bar of the House. When the publisher of the Times stood at the bar he (Dillon) would prove him as base and cowardly a liar as ever existed. [Parnellite cheers.]

Mr. Sexton said the Irish party had been challenged much lately and been taunted with not taking up the challenge. Now they took it up, and insisted upon an inquiry by the House. [Cheers.] Mr. Sexton, continuing, said it was for an assembly of English gentlemen to say whether for the future its Irish members should be exposed to the attack of every ruffian calling himself the editor of a newspaper. The House should let the assailed members have an inquiry by committee. "Then," said Mr. Sexton, "let the Times bring forward its battalions of forgers and liars. The Irish members will prove that they have been subjected to a system of moral assassination. They will be able fully to justify themselves." [Cheers.]

Mr. Bradlaugh opposed Mr. Smith's motion to adjourn, and charged the Government with conniving at the coming of Mr. Lewis' motion, and that the debate was a concerted plan to place in the hands of the Conservatives a weapon to assist them in the passage of the odious Coercion Bill.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt said that, though ostensibly Mr. Lewis' motion was against the Times, it was in reality raised for the purpose of attacking Mr. Dillon, and was a covert method of accusation by one section of the members of the House against another. Yet when the Irish members asked for an instant opportunity of meeting the charges it was sought by the Government to adjourn the House.

Mr. Holmes, Attorney-General for Ireland, denied that the motion was made with the connivance of the Government. He had never heard of the motion until it was made. On behalf of the Government he disclaimed any intention of postponing the debate for party purposes. If the publisher of the Times was at once called to the bar of the House, the House would be unable to hear evidence in support of the charges, and would be required to decide the question off-hand. In the absence of the publisher or other responsible persons, a motion to adjourn for enquiry was the best way to arrive at the truth. [Cheers.]

Mr. Gladstone opposed the motion to adjourn. He said Mr. Dillon had been charged with having stated a deliberate falsehood while addressing the House. If anything constituted a breach of privilege this was a breach. The parties accused demanded immediate trial. It was impossible that the House could resist. It had always been the custom for the House itself to proceed to deal without delay with a motion relating to a breach of privilege, afterwards, in special cases, appointing a select committee of inquiry. A division was then taken on the motion to adjourn, resulting in a vote of 213 in favor of the motion and 174 against it.

Mr. Smith moved that on Thursday the House resume consideration of the question.

Mr. Sexton moved that it be taken up to-morrow.

Mr. Dillon demanded to know whether the editor of the Times would be brought to the bar of the House.

Mr. Smith could only say that the usual course would be followed. It was then agreed to take the question up again to-morrow.

In Doubt as to the Result.

LONDON, May 3.—The close of to-night's debate in the House of Commons on a question of breach of privilege left all sides in doubt as to to-morrow's developments. Mr. Lewis brought forward the question against the advice of the Conservative whips who warned him that it might lead to great delay in the progress of the Crimes Bill. The Ministerialists would like to have a committee of captiory appointed, but fearing that a debate over the formation of such a committee would block the Crimes Bill they are ready to let the whole question drop if the Opposition permit. The Ministers had a conference to-night with Attorney-General Webster and Solicitor-General Charles on the question whether the Government would declare to-morrow that there had been no breach of privilege, and that the matter therefore was at an end. If Mr. Smith should announce that no breach of privilege has occurred, Mr. Gladstone is expected to appeal to the Speaker of the House to decide to the contrary and order that the publisher of the Times must avow his error and apologize. Whatever happens the Parnellites feel confident of scoring a triumph.

Organizing the Agitation.

LONDON, May 3.—The Home Rule agitation has been organized throughout the West of England. The Earl of Rosebery is announced to speak at Plymouth on May 20 in favor of the movement, Hon. James Stansfield, ex-President of the Local Government Board, will make a Home Rule speech at Newton-Abbotts, on June 4 and Baron Wolverton and Mr. Sexton will address a meeting in favor of Gladstone's policy at Exeter on June 1.

Parnell's Choice.

DUBLIN, May 3.—Mr. Parnell has selected Wm. O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, as the Home Rule candidate for Northeast Cork, to fill the vacancy in the House caused by the resignation of Mr. Leamy, Home Ruler.

MR. O'BRIEN'S VISIT.

A Message to Montreal Asking for Fair Play for the Agitator.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 3.—The following message was sent to the Montreal branch of the Irish National League this morning:

William O'Brien pleads for justice from man to man against the bitter hereditary spleister of rack rents and injustice. Ireland looks with confidence to Canadian freemen of every class and creed to support her in the struggle for fair play for the toiler of the soil, for protection against evictions, which Gladstone truly describes as sentences of death executed on the Irish people. This is not a question of creed or politics, but one of justice and humanity—a question of the rights of honest labor, of the masses against the classes.
JOHN FITZGERALD, President.

A Military Forger.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., May 2.—Julius Fauerbach, Sergeant of Company C, Twelfth United States Infantry, stationed at Madison Barracks, Sackett's Harbor, has swindled the Jefferson County National Bank of this city, out of over $2,000 by a number of clever forgeries. Fauerbach was the trusted clerk of Lieut. W. W. Witherspoon, quartermaster at Madison barracks, and, while in that capacity, abstracted checks made out in favor of Geo. Hall & Co., in payment for coal, to which he forged Hall's signature. It is believed that Fauerbach has sailed for Europe.

Papal Appointments.

ROME, May 2.—Cardinal Rampollo has been appointed Papal Secretary of State; Mgr. Agliardi, Secretary of Extraordinary Ecclesiastical Affairs; Mgr. Ketelli, Papal Nuncio at Paris; Mgr. Galimberti, Nuncio at Vienna; Mgr. Piettro, Nuncio at Madrid, and Mgr. Sollia, Nuncio at Munich.

PANAMA, May 2.—Cholera is decreasing in Chili. 2373 persons have died of the disease in Santiago de Chili alone.

UNITED STATES NEWS.

The Pittsburg glass mixers and teasers who struck two weeks ago for a 10 per cent. advance returned to work to-day at their old wages.

While riding in a buggy at Vienna, Wis., last night Mr. and Mrs. John Carbell were shot from behind by some unknown person. Carbell died instantly and his wife cannot recover.

All but one of the big shops of the Chicago Forge and Bolt Company on Forty-third-street was burned last night. The total loss will reach $125,000. Bartlett Hazlett was fatally injured.

At Cincinnati yesterday Steve Brodie, who has jumped from the Brooklyn Bridge, made the jump from the Suspension Bridge and was picked up by a yawl comparatively uninjured.

THE CRIMES BILL.

Three Amendments Voted Down—The Clo-ture Brought Into Use.

LONDON, May 2.—In the House of Commons to-night Mr. Healy moved that the first clause of the Crimes bill be so amended as to indicate clearly to what portions of Ireland the bill would be applicable. He suggested that the words "proclaimed districts" be omitted and that "Kerry, Londonderry and Belfast" be inserted in their stead.

Mr. Balfour declined to accede to this proposal. He said the Government meant to apply the clause to all parts of Ireland where the prevalence of crime justified such action.

Mr. Healy asked if blood-stained Belfast, where troops had been shot and policemen murdered, was to go free, while the miserable rack-rented districts in the southwest were to be punished.

Mr. Balfour replied that the Government would exercise perfect impartiality in suppressing disorder everywhere.

Mr. Labouchere said the scope and aim of the bill was to crush out the Nationalists, leaving the Orangemen to do anything they liked. The administration of the law was so bound up with the Orange faction that it could not be impartial.

Mr. Gladstone suggested that the words "proclaimed districts" remain but that the districts be defined under the other clauses of the bill. The answer of Mr. Balfour that all districts should be treated impartially was not sufficient, because the ministry had often referred to the particular parts of Ireland where the bill was meant to operate. No doubt the people of Belfast regarded with disgust and horror the prevalence of disorder in their midst, but the same apology was equally good for other districts. The conduct of some persons in Belfast recently stained the name of Ireland more than the conduct of the people of any other part of Ireland. [Cheers.]

Lord Randolph Churchill said the suggestion Mr. Gladstone had made might have been valuable, but its value had been destroyed by the raising of points which were calculated to lead to a controversy. Mr. Gladstone had made himself a party to the insinuation that the Government intended to apply the clause only to certain parts of Ireland and leave Belfast out. There had been disorder in Belfast but the law had not been arrested. There was no analogy between the riots in Belfast and "moonlighting" in Kerry, for which not a single person had been made amenable to justice. No one would venture to assert that the juries in the north of Ireland had failed to do their duty, as was often the case with juries in the south of Ireland. To put the diabolical outrages of the South of Ireland, as Mr. Gladstone did, on the same level as the disturbances in Belfast was to condone and apologize for those outrages. [Cheers.]

Mr. Healy replied that over 300 persons were maimed for life and some killed in the Belfast riots and that only a few of the rioters had been punished. He said the statement was untrue that there had been no conviction in Kerry. There had been over twenty.

Mr. Healy postponed his motion in deference to Mr. Gladstone's suggestion.

Two other amendments by Mr. Healy were lost. While the discussion on the second amendment was in progress Mr. W. H. Smith, amid cries of "Shame," moved to enforce the Cloture rule. The motion was carried by a vote of 237 to 126. Mr. Gladstone and the other Opposition members walked slowly into the Opposition lobby, while the Parnellites and the Gladstonians stood cheering wildly. Mr. Nolan moved to report progress on the bill. Mr. Smith said the Government was unable to agree to this, the House only nine of the 189 amendments to the first clause had been disposed of. Later, however, progress was reported.

LABOR TROUBLES.

THE DIFFICULTIES AT HAMILTON AND LONDON STILL UNSETTLED.

There were no developments in the stonemasons' strike yesterday beyond the action of the four masons employed by Contractor Chalbotz, in quitting work. The men were ordered to quit by the union, and they did so. This action of the union was due to the fact that Mr. Chalbotz's statement at the meeting of the bosses Monday night dispelled all illusion in reference to his position. The masons declare that they were under the impression that Mr. Chalbotz intended paying the new rate throughout the season, but on being they discovered their error they ordered the men to leave the work.

It is the intention of the masons, at least of that portion of them who can do so without inconvenience, to leave the city, and seek employment in other sections of the country. They state that the masons who remain can as well afford to remain idle as the bosses.

London Carpenters Still Out.

LONDON, Ont., May 3.—The carpenters of this city, who are out on strike to the number of 200, to-day received telegraphic instruction from headquarters at Philadelphia to stay out on full strike pay until their demands are met by the employers. What they claim is an increase of 2½ cents per hour all round on present wages.

London Bricklayers Encouraged.

LONDON, May 3.—The bricklayers have received a letter from Alex. Darragh, President of the International Union, that the union will stand by the strikers here till satisfactory terms are reached. They have also received similar word from the union in Toronto.

The Hamilton Carpenters.

HAMILTON, May 3.—There is nothing new in the situation since last night in the negotiations between the carpenters and bosses. The men held a meeting this morning at 9 o'clock, and it is understood that they rejected the offer of the bosses to grant the advance after July 1.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, May 4.

At 3 o'clock last night an alarm of fire called the brigade to the vicinity of King and Trinity-streets. It was a chimney fire on Eastern-avenue, but on the way down a serious accident happened to Foreman William Villiers of the Court-street Hall. Going along King-street, and nearing Trinity, the driver of the hose reel on which Villiers and three others were seated attempted to pull up, as is usual when about to turn a corner, but the horses, a new and refractory brute, refused to stop, and ran the reel upon the boulevard on the south side of King-street. The reel was completely overturned and the men thrown out. All escaped unhurt except Villiers who struck the ground flat on his face, the heavy reel falling on top of him and nearly crushing the life out of him. He was carried into Edward's butcher shop at the corner and afterwards removed to his home at 70 Duke-street, where Dr. Ball attended him. No bones were broken, but he sustained very severe internal injuries, the reel having struck him on the back. Part of his body, one leg and one foot are badly bruised. At a late hour last night he was doing fairly well, but it will be some days before his recovery can be safely counted upon.

Toronto Presbytery held its monthly meeting yesterday in St. Andrew's Church lecture room. Rev. Peter Nichol presiding. Rev. G. A. Mowle, the blind preacher, asked to be provided with pastoral work and his application was referred to the Home Mission Committee. The resignation of Rev. M. C. Cameron of the united charges of Milton and Equesing was accepted in view of the fact that the congregations of St. Andrew's and Knox churches, Milton, are about to unite. Rev. Mr. Patterson of Cooke's Church was granted two months' leave of absence, Rev. Prof. Gregg to act as moderator until his return. Rev. J. M. Cameron's congregation complained of the action of St. James-square Church in establishing a mission within the bounds of the East End Church. A conference will be held between the parties interested.

THE STALLIONS SEIZURES.

Decision of the U. S. Court in the Case of Fanson & Son's Horses.

Eleven stallions (heavy and coach) taken into Indiana by Fanson & Son of Toronto were seized for duty not long ago. From the Indianapolis Journal we learn:

Before Judge Woods of the United States District Court an argument was had, some days ago, on exceptions taken by the Government to the claim set up by Fanson & Son of Toronto to the imported stallions seized by Marshal Hawkins. No duty had been paid on the animals, and in presenting their claim Fanson & Son said they were not chargeable with duties, as stallions were on the free list. The Government held that they could not come in free, unless it was shown they were not for sale for general purposes. Yesterday Judge Woods decided that the animals could be imported without duty charges. This sustains the claim of Fanson & Son. District Attorney Sellers gave notice of his purpose to take an appeal to Judge Gresham.

A Cuban Defaulter.

HAVANA, May 3.—The storekeeper of the warehouses known as Almacenes de Depositos has disappeared, and is said to be a defaulter to the extent of $400,000.

Chamberlain at Glasgow.

GLASGOW, May 3.—Joseph Chamberlain, in a speech here to-day, said he would willingly welcome Gladstone and his followers back to "the old Liberal party." He protested that the new heresy, Home Rule for Ireland, was not ancient Liberalism, but the doctrine of a sect whose chief dogma was the infallibility of the political pope.

THE G.N.-W. TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

The Toronto Incorporators Threatened With Law Suits.

From the Montreal Star (April 30).

The Montreal Telegraph Company is conferring with legal advisers in Toronto as to the advisability of taking criminal proceedings against the incorporators of the Great Northwestern, who, as already stated, are liable for $288,400 of unpaid stock. The lease by the Great Northwestern of the Montreal and Dominion companies has proved a most lucrative business for the half dozen shareholders of the Great Northwestern, who, after paying the 5 per cent. guarantee to the Montreal Company, amounting to $185,500 in round figures, have pocketed a clear $200,000. Half of the stock of the Great Northwestern is held by the Western Union, the balance is divided amongst Messrs. Erastus Wiman, O. S. Wood, Montreal; Adam Brown, Richard Fuller, Hamilton; James Hedley, A. E. Irving and Wm. Gooderham, Toronto. All these men are wealthy, and the Montreal Company feel confident they have them in a tight place should they fail to carry out their agreement.

The Dog Show at New York.

NEW YORK, May 3.—The Dog Show opened at Madison-square Garden to-day. About 1600 animals are on exhibition.

Sullivan's Ultimatum.

The Missouri Republican says: John L. is going to issue a proclamation soon announcing to all the world that he has decided to leave the ring forever. He has had enough glory for one man. But if any foreigner takes a crank notion that he can lay out the champion he will be accommodated, on the condition that he first whip the next best man in America. Under no other considerations will Mr. Sullivan consent to emerge from his retirement. He intends to take a trip around the world giving sparring exhibitions, and will sail for Australia from Sept. 1, taking Sheedy, La Blanche and Fogarty with him.

A Temperance Essay.

The Use of Intoxicating Liquor, and its Effect on Man, Mentally, Physically and Morally.

Below is published, by request of the W. C. T. U., the prize essay by Mr. Alexander Cooper, of the Collegiate Institute, entitled "The Use of Intoxicating Liquor, and its effect on Man, Mentally, Physically and Morally:"

When a man is forming the habit of drinking he thinks there is no danger. He enjoys the sensation which it produces, and he soon gets to like it better and imbibe more freely, for a natural want is easily satisfied, but an unnatural want knows no bounds. The habit creeps stealthily upon him, but he assures his friends that he can quit it when he likes. Oh, fatal self confidence. He evidently does not like, for every day is adding another ply to the cord that is binding him, and when he does wake and says as Sampson did of old, "I will go out as at other times before and shake myself," he finds that he is shorn of his strength. He is rushing on to destruction, bound hand and foot, with no power in himself to stop.

What an infamy it is to man, that he with all his God-given faculties, should take pleasure in sinking so far below the beasts, through drink! Look at him:—mumbling like a mad man. It would seem but a just punishment if he should ever after have to remain in that idiotic state. Although one or two fits of drunkenness may not produce that effect, yet, when the habit is persisted in the drunkard does eventually bring this punishment upon himself. No person, when he takes his first glass, intends to become a besotted drunkard, and yet when he sees its effect on others, how it weakens the strong mind, and brings the mighty man down to the ditch, how it beclouds the brightest intellect, dries up the ambition, dethrones the reason, and paralyses the will power, one would think he would take warning and keep himself free from it. "He that ruleth himself is greater than he that taketh a city." That is the part that strong drink attacks first. When it breaks down a man's self-control then he is in its power. In this matter of intoxicating liquor it is very often the case that while a man retains his will power to break off the habit he does not exercise it, and like the man who hid his talent in the earth, it is taken from him, and when he would use it he finds it is gone.

If intoxicating liquor has such sad effects on man's physical and mental natures, what shall I say of its effects on his moral nature? This is the divine side of his being—that part which links him to God and Heaven.

"Were I so tall to reach the pole,
Or grasp the ocean in my span,
I must be measured by my soul;
That is the standard of a man.

If all the wealth, pleasures, sorrows, joys and everything belonging to this world, were put into the balances with one human soul, they would be as nothing in comparison.

What effects has the use of alcohol on man's moral nature? A tree is known by its fruit. "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit." Let us look at the fruit of alcohol. Does it lift a man up on a higher moral plane, and make him more Godlike? Is there a single being on the face of the whole earth that has been benefitted morally by intoxicating liquor? If there is let him stand forth. Where is he to be found? Where, oh, where? Echo answers, "No Where."

We do not need to ask for the immoral effects of alcohol. Our pathway is strewd with them. We cannot shut our eyes to the fact that intemperance is devastating the land, like the pestilence that walketh in darkness, blasting, as with the breath of the bottomless pit, all that it comes into contact with.

Statistics show that about nine-tenths of all the crimes that are committed are the result of drink. Ask that trembling wretch as he is led up to the scaffold what it was that brought him there, and he will tell you drink did it. He learned to take his glass of wine at his father's table, and when he went out into the world he was already started on the road to ruin, his stock in hand—a taste for intoxicating liquor. From that, and the influence of low associates which it brought him under, it was easy to fall into other vices, and now he is doomed to die for taking the life of a fellow-man.

Ask the authorities at the police stations, penitentiaries, reformatories, etc., what is the one great cause of so many men and women being in these places, and they will tell you that by far the greater number are brought there through drink. Go to the bedside of that dying man. He has been a blasphemer, a Sabbath-breaker, and has steeped himself in every form of iniquity. Listen to his story as he tells you. "It is drink that has been my curse. I once had a happy home, my mother was a Christian woman, I was surrounded by good influences, but there was a tavern across the road, and I learned to drink there. That is where my downward career commenced, but where will it end? My mother died of a broken heart, and now I am about to meet the God whose example I have despised."

There is no end of instances like these. We can hardly take up a newspaper but we see accounts of tragedies, and as we let our eyes glance down the columns we catch sight of the items, "They had been drinking together," "The quarrel arose in a tavern," "He was seen in a state of intoxication," or some such explanation.

Take a sober, refined, moral man, fill him with liquor, and there is hardly anything too wicked for him to do.

Ask any minister of any Christian denomination what is the greatest evil he has to contend with, and he will in nearly every case tell you it is the use of intoxicating liquor. Is it all other evils are combined." If a man will drink intoxicating liquor all the other avenues of crime are open to him. Men under the influence of drink will violate every one of the ten commandments.

What are the immediate effects on a man's moral nature when he begins to yield to this vice? Is he found oftener in the prayer-meeting? or in the company of Christian people? Does he take more delight in the service of God? Is he kinder to his wife and family? No, verily; but just when a man begins to take intoxicating liquor into his system, he begins to degenerate. He may have been a man of high moral standing, fraught with many Christian graces, but he soon gets less particular in matters of morality. As he becomes saturated with alcohol he becomes grosser. His finer feelings and noble aspirations become covered with the mildew of sensuality, smothering the voice of conscience and clogging up those heavenly longings after perfection. The drunkard's career from the first glass until he totters into his grave, without one ray of hope to cheer him, is a constant down grade.

The closer we live to God, and the more we yield to the promptings of the Holy Spirit in our hearts, the nearer we become to what God intends us to be; but God cannot dwell in our hearts that are filled with the spirit of the devil; therefore every glass of liquor which a man takes alienates him from God. "Be not deceived, God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap,"—but in much greater measure. If he that soweth the wind reapeth the whirlwind, what shall he who soweth the whirlwind reap? Human language fails to portray and the heart of man to comprehend the fullest extent of the effects of intoxicating liquor on man's moral nature, for we are told in God's word that no drunkard shall inherit the kingdom of heaven.

Although our physical, mental and moral natures are different in their degrees of importance, yet they are all closely connected. They are in partnership as it were and each one has an influence on the others. 1st Cor., vi, 19 and 20: "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost, which is in you, which ye have of God and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price, therefore glorify God in your body and in your spirits which are God's." God made man in his own image. What a crime does man commit through drink against all the laws of his being—against the trust that is given him. Follow the history of the drunkard from the cradle to the grave, and what a picture of misery and degradation! Look at him in his boyhood, with intelligence in his eye, ambition and noble resolve in his countenance, and love in his heart. Weigh all the misery to himself and his friends that follow when he becomes a slave to the bottle. Look at the evil effects that continue after the dark waters of oblivion have closed over his head—effects on his children who have inherited the desire for drink, and which, even although they may not yield to it themselves, they will hand down to their offspring. Listen to the cry of the lost spirits from the lowest hell, and then tell us what compensation will intoxicating liquor give for all these. The effects of intoxicating liquor are evil, only evil and evil continually, and yet how indifferent we, as a people, are. We shudder with horror when we hear of a person being stung by a serpent, and yet we, as a nation, spend more money in keeping this deadly serpent drink alive than we do in bread. It is a little thing that the cry should rise up on all sides against this curse from homes ruined, from the children made fatherless, aye, and motherless, from the mothers made childless through

"Strong drink that fills the madhouse,
Strong drink that crams the jail,
Strong drink that turns God's blessed earth
Into a raging hell."

Can you look upon the face that once a mother kissed with rapture, but now bloated with drunkenness and crime, and the lips that once repeated a prayer at a mother's knee, but now give vent only to oaths and curses—can you gaze on the child's countenance, pinched with want, the sad eyed mother's hollow cheek, the long lists of crime and wretchedness which fills the newspapers—can you go into the potters' field and look on the nameless graves, and see no effects of intoxicating liquor? Shall we not, by precept and example, use the influence which God has given us to destroy this evil, if not for our own sake, for Christ's sake, and for the sake of others. We are all, to a great extent, our brothers' keepers.

The Peterborough Mechanics' Institute.

Nineteenth Annual Meeting—Satisfactory Reports.

The nineteenth annual meeting of the of the members of the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute, was held in the Institute building, Monday night, President Wm. English, in the chair. After the minutes had been read, came the

DIRECTORS' REPORT:

To the Members of the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute,—

At the close of another year, during which the progress of the Institute has been very satisfactory, your Directors, in accordance with the by-law to that effect, beg to submit, for your consideration, the following report:—

The change made at the quarterly meeting of the members, held in November, by which tickets instead of expiring on 1st May, were made valid for a year from date of purchase, together with the better advertising of the many advantages of the Institute, has resulted in the increase of membership from 261 to 326. There are 115 junior members, and a great many of these are apprentices in the manufacturing and other establishments in the town. These youths cannot fail in benefiting by their connection with the Institute.

Two evening classes were organized and carried on through the winter. One of these, taught by Mr. John Fraser, took the subjects of mechanical and free-hand drawing. Twenty members joined this class, and there was an average attendance of 14. Work done by this class in a previous session was shown in connection with the Canadian Educational exhibit at the Colonial Exhibition, and a commemorative medal and diploma have been received in acknowledgement thereof.

The second class, under the charge of Mr. G. S. Rose, consisted of 21 members and took up book-keeping and commercial arithmetic.

The Directors regret exceedingly that so few of our young men avail themselves of the privilege of these classes, and would again direct the attention of those who are desirous of improving themselves, to the excellent facilities afforded by the evening winter classes held in connection with the Mechanics' Institute.

The number of books issued during the year, as will be seen by the report of the Library Committee, was very large, and although the great demand has been for fiction and miscellaneous works, still it is gratifying that there has been a fair increase in the number of books read of a more solid and instructive character. While this is the case it must be confessed that in a town of such dimensions as Peterborough, which is steadily increasing in population, a very much greater addition might naturally be expected to our membership, and in consequence a larger issue of books, and the Directors feel certain that were our citizens to visit the Institute and see the advantages offered to the reading public, many who now stand aloof would pay the small annual fee and secure good reading for themselves and families.

THE LIBRARY.

The Library Committee reported that 240 volumes had been added to the library during the year, at a cost of $242.06.

Seven Horses Burned at Tweed.

TWEED, Ont., May 2.—On Sunday, while the people were at church, the C.P.R. House, owned by J. T. Latchford, burst into flames. An alarm was given and the people did all that lay in their power to subdue the fire, but without avail, as the house—a fine two-story structure of frame, veneered with brick—was totally consumed, likewise the sheds and stables. There were seven horses burned, belonging to John Graham, Wm. Graham, S. Good, Andrew Kirk one span, John Blakely and Mr. Marchant. A stable belonging to Mr. Davis, grocer, was burned and one belonging to Mr. Bartell. Mr. Latchford had some hogs and a fine blood heifer burned. It was with the utmost exertion that Mr. Oliver Frost's building, on the opposite side of the street, was saved. The greatest sufferers are Mr. Latchford, Mr. A. McGowan and Mr. Frost. Killed at Kingston.

KINGSTON, May 2.—This morning as the pony engine with freight cars was coming into the city from the outer depot, Larry Clark, a laborer, stepped on the track and was struck by the train. The cars did not pass over his body, but he seemed to be instantly killed by the shock. The cars struck him in the back, breaking many ribs completely off the backbone. Mr. Clark was about 38 years of age, and leaves a wife and four children.

An Irishman's Bull.

We are surrounded by difficulties and dangers, said Pat, from the cradle to the grave, and the only wonder is that we ever live long enough after having the one to reach the other. The greatest danger lies in allowing the seeds of disease to be sown in our system. If you feel dull and drowsy, have frequent headaches, bad taste in mouth coated tongue, poor appetite, you are suffering from a torpid liver. Take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" if you would destroy those seeds and avoid reaping a harvest of suffering and death. 6dw18

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Bickle's Canada Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung disease. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 50,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it, sample bottles to try, only 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada. eodw6

There are many remedies for coughs and colds, but there are few that prove so satisfactory as Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, which is a pleasant and reliable cure for all throat and lung troubles, including bronchitis, asthma, croup, whooping cough and the pulmonary complaints of young or old. 2w17d

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

In Good Company.

A burglar seldom does his work alone. He generally has his jimmy with him.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands of despairing patients can testify. On this point a trustworthy medical writer say: "Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most of the remedies in general use by physicians afford but temporary benefit. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders douches and washes. Ely's Cream Balm is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action specific curative power with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient." eodw18

This is to certify that I have used McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and do honestly say that if it cost me one hundred dollars ($100.00) a bottle I would not be without it, as it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used, and I feel like a new man.—Yours truly, Alex. Steele, Carleton Place, Ont. This medicine is for sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at John McKee's Drug Store. eodw17

A Fatal Runaway.

Tuesday evening Rev. Mr. Huff, pastor of the Line Baptist Church Smith, with his wife, was returning home from the residence of Mr. Andrew Young, 4th line of Smith, and Mrs. Huff opened the gate for the buggy to pass out. Rev. Mr. Huff, when outside, in cramping the buggy, turned too quickly, with the result that the vehicle was upset and himself thrown out on his head. He received several severe cuts and bruises. The horse, a spirited young animal, ran away, and reached Bridgenorth, where Mr. John Black attempted to stop it. But the runaway turned down the Ennismore road and entered the yard of Mr. W. B. Kelly, where colliding with a post, the horse's neck was broken, killing it instantly.

The Band Concert.

Notwithstanding the great disappointment occasioned by the severe illness of Mr. Chas. L. Davis, the "star" of the Alvin Joslin Comedy Company, which deterred the company from presenting their play at the Opera House Tuesday night, the hall was nearly filled with an appreciative audience, who were delighted with the entire entertainment provided by the excellent orchestra in connection with the troupe. The full band selections and solos were beautifully rendered, every member of the orchestra being a thorough musician and their instruments of the best class. The audience were pleased beyond expression, and were fully consoled for the non-appearance of the redoubtable "Alvin Joslin."

No Reserve Called for.

A few days ago Mr. D. E. Mouillot, violinist, departed rather abruptly from town. It is to be regretted that previous to his departure, he did not permit a large number of creditors the pleasure of affixing their signatures to liquidated bills. A large number of pupils also fail to see how cash or two lessons can be construed into value received for a quarter's lessons, paid for in advance. People should be more cautious in putting confidence in musical strangers, who have on more than one occasion betrayed that confidence in a somewhat expensive manner, and should be more willing to trust those who, by virtue of long residence, honorable dealing and permanent employment, have shown themselves worthy of trust.

The Bishop's Reception.

At 7 o'clock Tuesday evening a reception was tendered Bishop Dowling in the school room of the Convent of the Congregation de Notre Dame, at which all the visiting bishops and clergymen were present. The hall was tastefully decorated with flowers, etc., and handsome banners bearing suitable inscriptions. His Lordship was presented with two addresses from the pupils and Sisters of the Convent, to which he made suitable replies, promising the pupils a holiday on Thursday. A nice little programme, comprising vocal and instrumental music and recitations by the pupils, was rendered, and short addresses were delivered by Bishop Dowling and other ecclesiastical dignitaries. The proceedings were terminated by the singing of the National Anthem.

The Chief of Policeship.

Capt. W. H. Cooper, Chief of the Peterborough police, handed in his resignation at the council meeting Monday night, and it was accepted. Mr. Cooper has secured a more lucrative situation as superintendent of the Protective Police and Fire Patrol Company of Canada, with headquarters in Toronto, for which place he leaves next week to assume his new duties. At Monday night's council meeting several councillors paid highly complimentary tributes to Mr. Cooper's ability and services to the town, which, though rendered amid much opposition and under many difficulties, were, they contended, well performed. As one of its members remarked, the Council may yet feel that they have made an error in allowing Chief Cooper to go. The gratuity of $100 voted Mr. Cooper by the Council, as a recognition of his services, speaks volumes in his favor. Besides the loss to the town of a prompt and capable Chief of Police, No. 6 Company, 57th Battalion, will lose a careful and experienced captain, who has ever looked after the interests and efficiency of the Batt., and his Company in particular, with military precision. P. C. Adame has been elevated to the Chiefship pro tem.

A Glimpse of Vice-royalty.

The Governor-General's Flying Visit.

Tuesday evening the spacious platform in front of the C.P.R. station was crowded with throngs of citizens, young and old, of every caste in life, gathered to do honor to Queen Victoria's Canadian representative, the Marquis of Lansdowne, Governor-General of the Dominion. The 57th Batt. Band was also present and enlivened the proceedings with several stirring patriotic tunes charmingly rendered. His Excellency the Governor-General appeared upon the rear platform of the Pullman car and was cheered enthusiastically. He made a brief speech, thanking the citizens for their exhibition of loyalty to himself, as representing the Queen, which he felt certain was heartfelt. He was frequently interrupted by vigorous cheers. Lady Lansdowne stood beside her lordly husband, both smiling and profuse with thanks and good wishes for our town. As the train rolled out of the station, cheers were given for the Queen and Lord Lansdowne, the band playing the National Anthem. Afterwards the band serenaded the Oriental Hotel and played two fine selections.

Meeting Adjourned.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Canoe Club, announced for Tuesday night, was adjourned till Friday afternoon in the law office of Messrs Hatton & Wood, at 4 p.m.

Weddings.

As May is considered an unlucky month for weddings, those contemplating matrimony had better avail themselves of April and tell their friends to patronize China Hall for wedding presents.

The Distinguished Dead.

Anniversary of Bishop Jamot's Death—Requiem High Mass Solemnly and Impressively Celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral.

To-day (May 4th) is the first anniversary of the death of the Rt. Rev. J. F. Jamot, D. D., first bishop of Peterborough, and the sad occasion was commemorated by the celebration of requiem high mass. In commemoration of the event the church was suitably arrayed in the solemn trappings of mourning. The gallery pillars were swathed in alternate white and black spiral bands, and festoons of mingled white and black bunting hung from the gallery rail and other points. The high and other altars were draped in black, and in front of the sanctuary entrance was placed the bier, having on it the mitre and stole of the departed prelate.

The church was well filled with spectators.

At ten o'clock the bishops and clergy who had assembled at the palace, formed and went in procession to the Cathedral. In the procession were nearly all those who were present at Bishop Dowling's installation on Tuesday.

REQUIEM HIGH MASS

was sung, His Lordship Bishop Dowling, being the celebrant, assisted by Very Rev. Vicar-General Rooney, Toronto; Father Hudon, Superintendent of the Jesuits, Montreal, acting as deacon, and Rev. Father Brennan, of St. Michael's College, as sub-deacon. Rev. Fathers Halm, of Hamilton, and Rudkins of Peterborough, were Masters of Ceremonies. The musical portion of the services was excellent.

At the conclusion of the mass, Bishop Dowling delivered a lengthy address eulogistic of the services of the late Bishop Jamot in the cause of religion, dwelling particularly upon the deceased prelate's struggles and hardships while Bishop of Northern Canada. He paid a glowing tribute to the piety and zeal of the late Bishop, which had borne such good results. In conclusion he asked the Divine blessing on the congregation.

After the ceremony of absolution was over, the Bishop and Clergy returned to the palace, and from thence proceeded to the Murray street Separate school, in the library of which was spread another elegant repast, prepared by Mr. Harry Long, of which they partook.

Knocked Into Eternity.

Two Men Killed on the C. P. R. Track This Morning.

The pilot-driver of the engine which pulled the 8.39 C. P. R. express train into the station this morning was bespattered with blood and strewn with fragments of human flesh, telling of a terrible tragedy which had been enacted early in the morning, whereby two men were knocked into eternity. The train hands of a freight train running along a few miles west of Arden (about fifty miles east of Peterborough) this morning, discovered the mangled and lifeless bodies of two men lying alongside the track. The train was stopped and the bodies taken care of. It is supposed that the men were walking along the track, and were overtaken by the early morning express, which arrives in Peterborough about 5 a.m., the engine of which, however, lays off at Havelock and changes with the engine of the express which arrives there about three hours later, arriving in Peterborough at 8:39. The men have not yet been identified.

Another Generous Gift.

Mrs. Nicholls' Munificent Donation for a New Hospital Building.

Recently a deputation from the Board of the Nicholls Hospital waited upon Mrs. Nicholls with a view of explaining to her the efforts which had been made by the Board to render the present site of the Nicholls Hospital suitable for the purposes of such an institution. With an admirable desire to meet the views of the deputation, Mrs Nicholls supplemented her previous liberal donations by an additional gift of $9,000, to be used for the erection of a new Hospital building, upon the completion of which the present building and site will be re-conveyed to Mrs. Nicholls.

It is understood that the new building will be put up in the northern part of the town, the site probably being the Duncan McDonald property, north of the Barnardo Home. The site will be well adapted to the purposes desired. The situation is salubrious. There are facilities for good drainage and access to the system of water works, and there are other advantages over the present site. The liberality of Mrs. Nicholls is worthy of all commendation and it is fortunate for the suffering of the town that they have amongst them a lady, who is not only possessed of ample means, but who recognizes their needs and generously devotes a liberal portion of her means to the alleviation of human suffering. The last donation makes $24,000 contributed by Mrs. Nicholls to Hospital purchase and endowment.

How Peterborough Lost Another Business House.

To the Editor of the Examiner;

Dear Sir,—Some three weeks ago I arrived in Peterborough, fully prepared to open a Dry Goods store in your enterprising town, but, after looking the field over, I was convinced that it would be suicidal for me to embark in trade in a place where there is a business house so disgustingly aggressive and so lost to the interests of other houses as one you have located in your town. It is with surprise and chagrin that I notice that this particular house is steadily increasing its number of customers day after day, by employing methods that would make it very uncomfortable for me, if I were in business here, just as it does now for competing establishments who are striving to combat the evil.

I refer to J. C. Turnbull, George and Simcoe streets, who sells a good Black Worsted, or a Scotch Tweed suit for $16, worth $20 in any other town or city. Fine unlaundried white shirts, from 35c to 50c., worth from 50c to 75c. All-Wool Tweeds at 40c, worth 50c. Fine Prints 9½c, worth 12½c. This is no place for me.

Yours in sorrow,
H. I. Price.

THURSDAY, MAY 5, 1887.

A HEATED DEBATE.

THE EXPENDITURES UNDER THE GOVERNOR'S WARRANT.

OTTAWA, May 4.—The Grays have completely ousted the Browns in the matter of color of clothes. The Browns held together fairly well until Dalton McCarthy came down from Toronto with a new suit of gray check when their ranks became demoralized. Charles H. Tupper was the first to go over to the enemy. He was followed by Mr. Edgar, and to-day the cause of the Browns collapsed when their leader, Sir Adolphe Caron, appeared in the House in a full suit of gray, with white plug hat and white rose. The Grays will hold a dinner tomorrow to celebrate their victory.

The afternoon and part of the evening session to-day was spent in discussing the amounts of the Governor-General's warrants last year, raised by Sir Richard Cartwright's motion for a return showing the amounts in detail expended under warrants since 1873. The expenditure under the Governor-General's warrant is supposed to be made in cases of emergency and only when Parliament is not sitting. An expenditure under warrant while Parliament is in session is illegal and this fact raised one of the hottest points in the debate. The sum total of the warrants issued last year amounted to $2,005,589, of which $125,000 was in payment of suits decided against the Government during the year; $67,000, compensation for losses during the rebellion; $52,100 to the Rebellion Commissioners and expenses; $163,238, expenses of the rebellion; $136,679, relief of distressed settlers; $568,091 on Intercolonial Railway, and $189,113 to Indians in Manitoba and the Northwest.

Sir Richard Cartwright spoke moderately, but made out a very good case. He did not make any charges particularly, but specified a good many of the items, and wished to know whether they were really cases of emergency and necessary to be paid by the Governor's warrants. To him it appeared that many of these expenditures were unjustifiable in the sense that they should first have been submitted to Parliament.

The Finance Minister replied in much the same way, explaining that a number of the payments were lapsed balances and how the others were necessary.

Sir Richard said that the lapsed balances of course could not be objected to, but pointed out that a number of the warrants bore date April 14, after Parliament had assembled.

This was explained by showing that although the warrant was signed on that date the orders-in-council were passed before the meeting of Parliament.

Sir Richard Cartwright and Sir Charles Tupper got along very well, but when others took part in the discussion the fur flew.

Mr. Blake made the strongest attack of the day. For about ten minutes he made the place ring. He charged, in the first sentence, that the Government were prostituting the powers given them by the law, to issue warrants the day before Parliament met, in order to prevent the House from examining the accounts. It was utterly impossible to apply the spirit of the law to many of the warrants. Warrants were only to be used in cases of urgency. Where was the urgency in the item of $31,000 for surveys on roads and bridges? At Banff Park where was the urgency? In the payment of $4000 in lawyers' fees in the case of the St. Catharines Milling and Lumber Company v. the Province of Ontario, where was the urgency? In the case when the order-in-council was passed on Feb. 11 and the warrant did not issue until April 14 the urgency was to get the money to spend without the authority of Parliament.

Mr. Welton of St. John grew red in the face as he related his wrongs. Money under warrants had been used in his constituency to give employment so as to influence the elections. He had the floor at 6 o'clock. It was throughout a very good debate, in which the Opposition had the best end of the stick so far as debating went.

After recess the following bills were read a second time: The act to amend the act respecting public morals; the Goderich and Canadian Pacific Junction Railway Bill; the Kincardine and Teeswater Railway Bill; the Ontario and Quebec Railway Bill; the Brandon, Souris and Rock Lake Railway Bill; the Manufacturers Life and Accident Bill, and the New Westminster and Southern Railway Bill.

Hon. Mr. Thompson's act respecting public stores was read a second time and passed through committee.

The resolutions respecting the salaries to be paid officers of penitentiaries were considered in committee and passed without amendment.

The House adjourned at 2.45.

IN AND OUT OF THE HOUSE.

The Budget Will Be Brought Down in a Few Days.

OTTAWA, May 4.—The bounty money to fishermen in the Maritime Provinces is being distributed as fast as the checks can be handed out.

Mr. Taylor of Gananoque received a telegram this morning that his house had burned down during the night. He left immediately for the site of his home.

Mr. McDowall of Saskatchewan appeared in the House for the first time to-day and was loudly cheered by the Ministerialists on taking his seat.

Sir Charles Tupper announced to-day that if he could get ready, the budget speech would be delivered next Tuesday, in which case the estimates would be brought down a day or two previously. If not the estimates will be laid on the table on Tuesday and the budget speech delivered a day or two later.

A Kingston deputation consisting of Aldermen McIntyre, McGuire, Gilroy and Gildersleeve, President of the Board of Trade Micklethorn and Mr. John Gaskin are in town in connection with the unfinished dry dock in the Limestone City. The deputation had an interview with Sir John, Hon. Mr. Thompson and Sir Hector Langevin. They wish to have contract labor employed on the dry dock, which otherwise stands no chance of completion. The matter was promised careful consideration.

The disallowance delegation had their promised interview with the Cabinet to-day and made a very neat bungle of the whole affair at the start out. They had a consultation this morning and decided that as members of Parliament but Winnipeg's representative should be asked to attend and that the press should be excluded. When they arrived at the Russell House it dawned upon some of them that they looked too much like a Winnipeg crowd and not enough like a Manitoba and Northwest delegation. Mr. Scarth was with them and pointed the above fact out to Premier Abbott their chairman, as in fact had the other Manitoba and Northwest representatives were hunted up and induced to favor the conference with their presence, but the press was rigidly excluded. Each member of the citizens' delegation addressed the Ministry, but the members of Parliament maintained a grim silence. The whole matter comes about down to this: If a freight rate in favor of Winnipeg and discrimination against everything west of Port Arthur but that city could be obtained the anti-disallowance cry might go to the dogs. What they want now is a road to the south to connect with the American railway system, through they say they want to connect with the Grand Trunk. This afternoon the delegation had an interview with Mr. Van Horne, at which some plain talk was indulged in. Mr. Van Horne said that a number of leading Winnipeg merchants had combined to boycott the C.P.R. in favor of the American line, of whom Ashdown, one of the delegation was one. Mr. Ashdown denied this and Mr. Van Horne said he had the document to prove it. To-day, when Watson's disallowance motion came up in the House, he read a letter from the delegation asking him to let it stand till a week from Thursday. This was agreed to. The delegation will remain here a week in expectation of Sir John having told them that the Cabinet would take that length of time to consider the matter. The delegates were dined by Sir Donald Smith to-night.

The final report of the War Claims Commission was laid on the table to-night by Sir Adolphe Caron. On the claim of Col. Amyot of the 9th Battalion, Quebec, for $500 on behalf of himself and officers for allowance in lieu of rations, while on service in the Northwest, the commissioners report that "the numerous claims put forth by the officers of this corps and the many articles not authorized by the regulations and orders which were purchased by these officers and charged to the Government necessitated an examination of the whole of the transactions during the period of service, March 31 to June 21, 1885, in order that a proper debit and credit account might be prepared. Forty cents per day, the money value, is taken as the cost of rations notwithstanding that when officers took meals at hotels not less than $2.50 per day was paid by the Department. With a view of making this a final adjustment of accounts with the corps an account of each officer has been prepared. The closing summary shows the battalion is indebted to the Department to the amount of $1478, and to nine officers of the corps $——. It would, therefore, appear desirable that the department call upon the officers commanding the battalion to refund $1478 and account for such rations and forage as may have been issued at Calgary for the use of the corps while en route to Quebec, they having been provided with meals all the way, and also to settle with his officers for the respective amounts due them." The report is signed by Col. W. H. Jackson, Chairman of the Commission.

The report of the War Claims Commission shows that the total number of claims was 1539, representing $3,236,717, from which has been deducted or rejected $468,533. Claims to the amount of $33,513 are still unsettled.

Nicholas Flood Davin has appeared the last couple of days, when passing to and from the House, carrying a Ministerial despatch box. It is understood that Mr. Davin expects the new portfolio, and is carrying the despatch box now to get acquainted with an important part of his duties. The member for Selkirk says he looked into Nick's trunk and saw a Windsor uniform.

The question of the Governor-General's warrants will be gone over again. Not having been decided when 6 o'clock was reached, it now goes to the bottom of the list and will be reached again in about three weeks, which will give ample time for both sides to prepare for the fray.

Mr. Wilson of Elgin is moving in the case of one Joseph Swashes, who served in the rebellion of 1837, and who claims substantial consideration on the ground that his health was impaired thereby. Having had fifty years to examine the state of his health, Mr. Swashes ought to know.

Mr. Brown of Hamilton intends asking the Ministry whether it is the intention to so enlarge the St. Lawrence Canals that vessels passing through the Welland Canals can go through to the seaboard without breaking bulk.

The charges preferred by Rev. James Robertson, Superintendent of Presbyterian Missions in the Northwest, relative to the conduct of Government officials with the Indians, a letter which so much was heard last Fall, will be brought before Parliament by Mr. Somerville on a motion for papers.

Three new Government measures are promised to-night. They are a bill respecting penitentiaries, Mr. Thompson; a bill to amend the act respecting sick and distressed mariners, Mr. Foster; and a bill to amend the Customs Act, Mr. Bowell.

It is learned that a meeting of the officers of the Canadian permanent military force was held yesterday. It was decided to protest against the proposed action of the Government to appoint a member of the Canadian militia as commandant of the new permanent School of Infantry at London, Ont. The permanent officers are of the opinion that the junior officers in Canada's standing army are entitled to such appointments.

A delegation from Simcoe and Port Rowan arrived in the city to-day. They are Dr. Hayes, A. McCall, G. W. Wells, Simcoe, and Dr. Stewart and Isaac Fisher, Port Rowan. In company with Col. Tisdale they waited on the Government to-day and asked a subsidy for a railway from Simcoe to Port Rowan. The Government will consider the matter.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, May 4.

Mr. Samuel Platt, ex-M.P., for East Toronto, died suddenly at his residence, Jarvis-st., early this morning. Mr. Platt returned from Bermuda on Tuesday and yesterday was at his office feeling in good health. He was taken suddenly ill in the night and died, it is supposed, of heart disease.

A meeting of the Oatmeal Millers' Association was held yesterday at the Walker House. These gentlemen were present: Robert Thompson, Woodstock, Secretary; D. R. Ross, Embro; E. D. Tilson, Tilsonburg; T. Martin, Mount Forest; J. Wilson, Fergus; P. McIntosh, Toronto; D. Spears, Galt; J. M. Archibald, Beachville; Walter Thompson, Mitchell; H. Morton, Guelph; J. D. Moore, St. Mary's; N. Boswell, Wyoming, and R. Gartley, London. The object of the meeting was to arrange for placing the export trade on a better basis and to secure better rates on American cats that are ground in transit. Committees were appointed to look after the matter.

The local branch of the Irish National League held its weekly meeting last evening in St. Vincent Hall. The secretary read a telegram from Mr. Fitzgerald, President of the American League, urging the branch to neglect nothing to make Mr. O'Brien's mission a success. The secretary also reported that arrangements were being made to have Mr. O'Brien's visit occur about the middle of the month. Messrs. E. J. Robertson, John L. Loss, N. McKitrick and Geo. A. Harrington were appointed to vacancies on the Executive Committee. A committee was appointed to consider the advisability of publishing an article favoring the plan of campaign, by Mr. Long, a Scotch landlord. The Executive Committee reported that preparations for the coming of Mr. O'Brien were progressing favorably. The meeting then adjourned.

A Bank Officer Drowned.

ALBONITE, Ont., May 4.—A sad boating accident occurred here about 4 p.m. to-day, by which Mr. Sydenham Lindsay of Montreal, a clerk in the Bank of Montreal here, lost his life. Mr. Lindsay and Ernest Stephenson, son of Rev. F. Stephenson, started out to try a new canoe, the water being very high with a strong current. A strong wind blowing directly against the current made it difficult to handle a light boat and when the canoe reached the swift water just at Caldwell & Son's sawmills, it capsized, throwing the occupants out. The men working in the mill hastened to the rescue with a boat and succeeded in getting Stephenson out, but were unable to reach Lindsay. A large number of boats were out grappling for the body and after about an hour's work succeeded in recovering it. Mr. Lindsay, being connected with the Bank of Montreal here, was well-known and held in high esteem by all who were acquainted with him.

THE TIMES' CHARGES.

THE PARNELLITES NOT ANXIOUS FOR A SUIT IN COURT.

LONDON, May 4.—W. H. Smith announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that the Government had received that the allegation that the statement by the London Times that Mr. Dillon told a falsehood while denying in the House of Commons that papers in reference concerning his alleged relations with Sheridan, the Invincible, was a breach of privilege, was not sustained by precedent. It would be against the dignity of the House to summon the Times to the bar without previously enquiring into circumstances. The gangway below the gangway, Mr. Smith added, asked that a select committee be constituted to enquire forthwith into the allegations of the Times. The practice of the House had been to divest itself as far as possible of judicial duty. The Government thought such a committee as was asked for would be unfitted to consider such grave questions as would have to be referred to it for decision. The Government feeling it to be their duty to endeavor to solve the question had instructed the Attorney-General and such others as he cared to associate with him, to prosecute the Times for the libel on Mr. Dillon, who was at liberty to select such counsel as he saw fit. Mr. Smith urged the House to accept the course proposed.

T. P. O'Connor condemned the Government's proposal. He said he and his colleagues in the Government on their prosecution would be content to [illegible] O'Connor here produced a copy of the Times containing the libel on Mr. Dillon and [illegible] ing it aloft, he said: "I purchased this copy of the Times at one of the book-stalls owned by the Right Honorable the First Lord of the Treasury. It is he, speaking for the Government, who says no breach of privilege was committed. [Parnellite Cheers.] I am sorry I am interested as a party in the case against the editor of the Times. The two men ought to be in the dock together. The Irish members rejected his proposal as unfair, unjust and unprecedented. The House of Commons ought not to be taken in by a collusive action."

Have DeLisle, Conservative, rose to a point of order. He said he had heard Mr. Tanner (Home Rule member for Middle Cork) say the Conservatives are a damned lots of cads."

Irish voices: "So you are."

Speaker Peel: The Clerk of the House will please see that the words are taken down.

Mr. Tanner denied that he had used the word "damned." He repeated, however, that the Conservatives were a lot of cads.

The Speaker said he must withdraw the expression and apologize.

Mr. Tanner said he would do so.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt denounced the Government's proposal.

Sir Edward Clark, ex-Solicitor-General, moved an amendment to the Government's proposal, to the effect that the House did not consider the Times statement concerning Mr. Dillon a breach of privilege. Justifying his action in offering the amendment, Sir Edward declared that there was no record of Parliament having committed a man to custody for breach of privilege such as the action of the Times was now alleged to be. He added that he and the Attorney-General were responsible for the advice on which the Government acted. He proposed to confine himself to the legal points of the case regardless of party politics. He then quoted precedents to show that the House was not the proper tribunal to deal with such matters. No corruption had been alleged by a member, nor had any contempt of the House been exhibited such as had constituted the basis in previous cases where breach of privilege had been committed. The course of the prosecution would be left to such persons as the Irish members might nominate, both counsel and solicitors. If the Government were asked to appeal them they would interpose no objection. Sir Edward modified his amendment, making it read that the House declines to treat the Times' publication as a breach of privilege.

The Government's Tactics.

LONDON, May 4.—The debate in the House of Commons to-day disclosed the Government's tactics, leading to the following issues. The Government will first carry an amendment to the effect that the Times accusation is not a breach of privilege and next they will reject Gladstone's proposal for a committee of enquiry and the Parnellites will then be left to accept or reject the offer of Government prosecution of the Times with the Attorney-General assisting the Parnellite counsel. If they assented to the prosecution the Irish leaders would be subjected to an examination, in which they would be exposed the whole secret history of the league since its formation. Being fully aware of the trap set for them the Parnellites would consent to nothing but the appointment of a committee. On the other hand the Conservatives generally are opposed to a committee being appointed, because it would have to be composed of nearly equal numbers of Gladstonians and Conservatives. Witnesses are not examined under oath except in special cases. When the line of inquiry is deemed dangerous either side has the power to protest and to challenge a division. A section of the Ministerialists is inclined to favor the appointment of a committee on the ground that as the Parnellites will not prosecute, a committee of inquiry is better than nothing, as it will assist in suppressing the crime outcry. In the meantime, Mr. Smith is manoeuvring to force the Parnellites to a public trial. Final divisions are expected on Friday. Urgent "whips" have been sent out by both sides and all absentees are being dragooned in. The Liberal-Unionists will support the Government.

AN EXPLOSION IN A MINE.

One Hundred and Fifty Miners Entombed and No Hope of Rescuing Them

NANAIMO, B.C., May 4.—A terrible explosion occurred in No. 1 shaft of the Victoria Coal Company's mine last night. One hundred and fifty men are believed to have been in the mine at the time. At midnight twelve bodies had been recovered. Some were dead and others seriously or fatally burned. There is little hope of rescuing alive any of those yet in the mine. A rescuing party went down the shaft, but owing to black damp were unable to do anything. S. Hudson, of the rescuing party, died shortly after coming out. The mine is now on fire, and the scene around the mouth of the shaft is most heartrending. A special train with surgeons arrived from Victoria early this morning.

DOMINION RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

Annual Meeting at Ottawa and Election of Officers.

OTTAWA, May 4.—At the annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association to-day the following officers were elected: President, Lieut.-Col. Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, M.P.; Vice-Presidents: Ontario, Lieut.-Col. Allan Gilmour; Quebec, Mr. Robert Hamilton; New Brunswick, Lieut.-Col. Hon. A. G. Botsford; Nova Scotia, Lieut.-Col. MacKinlay; Manitoba, Hon. A. M. Girard; British Columbia, Hon. W. J. Macdonald; Prince Edward Island, Lieut.-Col. Hon. R. P. Haythorne, together with the Presidents of the Provincial Rifle Association (ex-officio) and the militia staff officers in command of military districts (ex-officio.) The officers and council were re-elected. Lieut.-Col. Bacon is secretary. The annual report shows that the number of members for the past year was 6382, or 1000 more than the year previous. The balance sheet shows that the total receipts from all quarters for the year were $17,165.23, which, with the balance, $1312.71, from last year, makes a total on the credit side of $18,478.20. The expenditure amounted to $16,367.63, leaving a balance to the credit of the association of $2,110.30. The expenditure connected with the Wimbledon team this year amounted to $2077.87, as against $2085.27 of the previous year. All arrangements regarding the Wimbledon team were left to the executive. All prospective members will have to notify the committee of their intention before May 24. In this connection, though better to be kept a secret, it may now be said that three or four of the possible members will be moved against as members of the team on account of past misconduct. There is likely to be a lively time over this matter before it is settled.

Mighty uncertain is baseball, and it would be well to remember this fact in making combination.

THE VIRTUE OF KICKING.

The city council, of Toronto, must be in very sympathetic mood with the Dominion Government. It has decided to submit a by-law to raise $100,000 for harbor improvements. In spite of humble, yet urgent, deputations, the Government refuses to make the appropriation for harbor improvements asked for, unless the city of Toronto will give its quota of $100,000. A different tune was sung—before the elections. Toronto judging from its past record, may be counted on to always go Tory, and the Government don't think it worth while wasting money to bribe a "solid" city. The News points out that Prince Edward Island, which went solid against the government at the last elections, has had a sop of $20,000 a year, added to its subsidy. The News aptly remarks, "Blessed are the kickers, for they get what they want." This exactly expresses the situation in this district. For seven long years the Midland District has sent an almost solid squad of thick and thin supporters of the Government, to Ottawa. Yet these men, who would naturally be supposed to have some influence, have utterly failed, even when backed up by assiduous deputations, to induce the Government to take up the Trent Navigation scheme and use it as a live work, worthy of substantial encouragement. The government found, that in spite of all their juggling and trifling with the Trent Valley Canal scheme, the district still sent them supporters, and they doubtless reasoned that it was folly to devote money where there was no chance of reaping political advantage from it. For this is the general motive of their distribution of the public funds. If, as was suggested in these columns long since, there had been some vigorous political kicking, the government would have speedily seen its way clear to making substantial appropriations, which would admit of the making of perceptible progress with this important work. The last election there was some kicking on the part of the electors of East Peterborough and North Victoria. Now it remains for the member of West Peterborough in the Commons to show whether he is inclined to "kick" in the interests of his district or meekly follow his party leaders through thick and thin, regardless of the interests of his constituents. In view of a prospect of dull times in commercial circles this fall, it would be a fine thing for Peterborough, if the government would put the section from here to Lakefield under contract. A little robust remonstrance with the government on the part of the member for West Peterborough, might have a good effect.

WITHOUT indulging in alarmist forebodings, we may call attention to the fact that the country is in danger. The Ottawa Senate is without a leader, and in the absence of that indispensible functionary to head the funeral procession, and for lack of business, the corpses have been laid aside for a month—in other words, the Senate has adjourned for a month. Altogether, the present session of Parliament, the Senate has cut something like ten minutes in the aggregate. The utter uselessness of the Senate is becoming more clearly demonstrated every day. A body that costs the country some $300,000 per year should give something more substantial for our money than five-minute sessions alternating with monthly adjournments. The people have to pay the cost of the Senate, but the people has no more voice in selecting these venerable functionaries, than it has in deciding the weather.

THE Montreal Herald is not behind the votaries of fashion. It must needs have, like the dandy and the lady, a new spring suit. And very handsome is its new dress. Not only in typographical appearance, but in general literary and news excellance, is the Herald abreast of its great competitors in the journalistic race. It is one of our foremost political and commercial journals, and admirably and ably carries out from day to to, and from year to year its expressed position—"a fearless independent newspaper, which is truly liberal in sentiment, controlled by no party or clique, and does not fear to maintain the public rights, against all public enemies, regardless of consequences."

The Jubilee Jumble.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—According to my understanding of music, concord and harmony are absolute essentials, yet the moment we leave the written score and get amongst the performers (professing musicians) we get amongst the most agonizing discord. No sooner is a proposal made for the musical celebration of the Jubilee by one leading musician, than another sees no merit in his proposal and straightaway rushes into opposition, and declares there is no merit except in his own way of doing the thing. For the life of me I can't see why both of the proposed schemes should not be carried out. Let the open air concert by the adults take place in the afternoon, and the children's concert in the skating rink in the evening. Then, if the weather should be unfavorable and the out-door concert a failure, the in-door concert could be held, and there would not be absolute disappointment. By all means, fit the bow with two strings, and, for heaven's sake, let the absurd squabbling among musicians cease; let them work harmoniously together instead of pulling apart and quarrelling like a bevy of jealous country choristers. Let them hire a steam shovel, dig a hole, and bury the hatchet a thousand fathoms deep, and be mighty quick about it. Or, if that can't be done, tie all the contending musicians together and toss them across a rope, and let them perform the opera of the "Kilkenny Cats,"—only let us have the concerts.

Yours, etc.,
ALLEGRO CON FUOCO.

The Plate Glass City.

The Census Gives a Largely Increased Population—Increase of the Town's Assessment.

Peterborough is fast approaching in population and prosperity the status of a city. By the last roll just returned by the assessors, a summary of which, compiled by Mr. J. G Macdonald, is published below, it will be seen that there has been a substantial increase in our population since the assessment of 1886, of 514. Peterborough, with Ashburnham annexed, which has a population of about 1800, and those residents of the town just outside the limits, would have a total population considerably over the requisite number for a city, while there has been an increase of over 100 in the number of ratepayers, it is curious to notice that the number of school children has decreased slightly. The value of resident and non-resident lands shows a substantial increase, likewise the personal property, but the income assessment shows a considerable decrease. There is, however, a satisfactory increase in the total assessment. Following is a comparative table of the returns of 1887 and 1886:—

Ratepayers	2,419	2,314
School children	1,923	1,927
Acres resident	1,275	1,274
" non-resident	64	71
Value of resident lands	3,239,425	3,054,725
" non-resident lands	4,060	16,300
Value of resident and non-resident lands	3,834,425	3,099,050
Personal property	287,300	283,550
Income	217,350	219,525
Total assessment	3,739,675	3,567,920
Statute labor	305	279
Dogs	309	304
Bitches	15	25
Population	5,063	5,149
Cattle	262	253

How Peterborough Lost Another Business House.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Some three weeks ago I arrived in Peterborough, fully prepared to open a Dry Goods store in your enterprising town, but, after looking the field over, I was convinced that it would be suicidal for me to embark in trade in a place where there is a business house so dispositingly aggressive and so lost to the interests of other houses as one you have located in your town. It is with surprise and chagrin that I notice that this particular house is steadily increasing its number of customers day after day, by employing methods that would make it very uncomfortable for me, if I were in business here, just as it does now for competing establishments who are striving to combat the evil.

I refer to J. C. Turnbull, George and Simcoe streets, who sells a good Black Worsted, or a Scotch Tweed suit for $16, worth $20 in any other town or city. Fine unlaundried white shirts, from 35c to 50c., worth from 50c to 75c. All-Wool Tweeds at 40c, worth 50c. Fine Prints 9½c, worth 12½c. This is no place for me.

Yours in sorrow,
H. I. PRICE.

The New Post Office.

The ways of Governments are strange and still it seems it is undecided where the new post-office shall be. While there is doubt about this fact, there is no doubt that the Town Clock Grocery (W. J. Morrow) is the best place in town to get the finest freshest groceries, freshest eggs, sweetest butter, cheapest teas and sugar. Highest qualities of goods; lowest kinds of prices, call and be convinced.

On the market: Eggs selling 10½ to 12c.; fresh butter more plentiful and dropping in price, 15 to 16c. in lots; in retail way, 18 to 20c. is obtained; potatoes scarce, selling 95c. to $1 per bag; veal, 6 to 7c.; maple syrup, $1.20 to $1.25 per gallon; other commodities unchanged.

CUSTOM WORK. OUR CUSTOM WORK will still keep its high rank. Fit, Style and Finish is our hobby. Our Cutter, Mr. DRENNEN, is as painstaking and exact as ever, and we undertake to turn out suits equal to any in the Dominion. Suits made up to Order on Short notice.

READY-MADE CLOTHING. I can now show a Stock which has the Style and Finish of Ordered Clothing, in Men's, Boys and Youth's Suits, and at Prices that will astonish you. For example: TWEED SUITS at $5.00, $7.00, and $9.00; WORSTED SUITS at $10.00 and $12.00. BOYS SUITS actually as low as $2.00. If you don't understand how we can do this, and give a good article, too, come in and see for yourselves. The percentage on all our Clothing is close, to be sure, but our facilities for buying at lowest market prices are unsurpassed by any in trade. Bear in mind, too, that our Clothing will wear well. Undergrade Clothing may be offered by buyers elsewhere, but not at the Old Clothing Store. Sign of the Golden Shears, symbolical of Good Luck to all who pass in under.

LATEST SPORTING GOSSIP.

BUFFALO, May 5.—There were more than the usual incidents in baseball circles to-day. The first was the announcement this morning that Pitcher Baldwin and Catcher Bennett of the Detroits, who were responsible for the defeat of the Wolverines yesterday, had been sent home to recuperate. Manager Watkins grimly announcing that he considered them "off their feed."

The resignation of Umpire Bauer of the American Association was officially made known to-day, and at Indianapolis during the progress of an exciting contest with Hicker Anson and his Chicago White Stockings play had to be stopped because of the kicking over Umpire Hardie's decisions. The game was finally resumed.

In the game at Baltimore Milligan, who was catching for the Athletics, was hurt and had to go to the field, and in the ninth inning at Staten Island second baseman McClellan of the Brooklyns was run into by a Metropolitan base-runner. Both were hurt, and McClellan had to be carried off the field.

In the sixth inning at Washington the second baseman of the home club was badly demoralized for a few minutes, but the game progressed after he had recovered his breath and settled down to work.

The Condemned Nihilists.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 4.—The seven prisoners condemned to death for connection with the recent plot to assassinate the Czar are all men. The others who were convicted of complicity in the plot received various sentences to penal servitude, the most severe being twenty years. All the prisoners, except the student Ulianoff, behaved quietly during the trial. It is possible that the Czar may mitigate some of the sentences.

Pleased His Son to Death.

GLENMARY, Tenn., May 3.—Dr. Edward Knox, of Pentress County, on Monday tied up naked his 14-year-old son for some indiscretion and whipped him with a black-snake whip until he became unconscious. At the pleading of his mother he was taken down. The lad died yesterday. The father has fled.

An Irishman's Ball.

We are surrounded by difficulties and dangers, said Pat, from the cradle to the grave, and the only wonder is that we ever live long enough after having the one to reach the other. The greatest danger lies in allowing the seeds of disease to be sown in our system. If you feel dull and drowsy, have frequent headaches, bad taste in mouth coated tongue, poor appetite, you are suffering from a torpid liver. Take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" If you would destroy those seeds and avoid reaping a harvest of suffering and death. 6dw18

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens of verdure, and abundance of bounties of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Constiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symtoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. sodw6

A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strasburg, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

He Had Her.

"Will have me, Sarah?" said a young man to a modest girl. "No John," said the girl; "but you may have me if you will."

Safe Sure and Painless.

What a word of meaning this statement embodies. Just what you are looking for, is it not? Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—the great Sure-pop corn cure—acts in this way. It makes no sore spots; safe, acts speedily and with certainty; painlessly. Do not be imposed upon by imitations or substitutes. 6dw18

As the days become longer, we can afford to use more artificial light, and reading or sewing by lamp light may become a new pleasure by buying China Hall's famous Coal Oils. Same prices as inferior oils.

The Grounds in Order.

The P.A.A.A. grounds have been put in good order, and practice, in various sports, have been begun. A new high fence is being erected on the east side of the grounds, and it is likely the seating accommodation will be increased.

We have just received another lot of Christy's celebrated Zephyr Hats at Fairweather's hat store.

The Body Recovered.

The body of John McGivern, who was drowned last November, in Rice Lake, was found Tuesday, at the place where he was supposed to have fallen in, and where his canoe was found. The exact spot where this accident occurred was opposite Margaret's Island, east of the Keene river.

We have just opened out a direct shipment of Elwood's London Hats at Fairweather's hat store.

The Town's Suit.

The following is taken from the Osgoode Hall proceedings for Tuesday: "Peterborough v. Midland Railway—J. M. Clark, on behalf of plaintiff, moved for an order to examine an officer of defendant corporation. Order made."

Business Change.

The partnership which has heretofore existed between Messrs. William and Douglas Baptie, bakers and confectioners, Charlotte street, has been dissolved, Mr. Douglas Baptie assuming control of the business.

Sent Up for a Month.

Two men were sent to gaol as vagrants for one month each by the Police Magistrate this morning. They were waiting for work to be resumed on the new Locks railway line, which has been stopped for the last few days owing to some misunderstanding as to its course. It is expected the difficulty will be adjusted and work resumed with increased vigor in a few days.

Lawn Tennis Club.

At a meeting of the Peterborough Lawn Tennis Club, last night, the following officers were elected:—

PRESIDENT—Mrs. J. G. Macklin.
SEC.-TREAS.—Mr. F. J. Lewis.
ASSISTANT-SEC'Y—Miss Haultain.
COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT—Messrs. Budden, Macklin and Lewis, Miss Hatton and Miss Gilmour.
AUDITOR—Mr. J. H. Burnham.

A Spring Poet.

The spring poet is not prone to admit that the most noticeable feature of his new ditty is its nudity of ideas.

Free Invitation to all to inspect my magnificent stock of plants in my new Greenhouses. F. MASON.

Arbor Day.

To-morrow, Friday, is Arbor Day—the day set apart by the Ontario Government for tree planting on all the school grounds. It is a statutory holiday in the country, but is not observed in large towns and cities.

A New Church Bell.

A large deep-toned bell has arrived at the G.T.R. station from Troy, N.Y., for the Roman Catholic church at Hastings. Rev. Father Kelley, the pastor, visited Troy some three weeks ago, and while there made the purchase.

Improving the Park.

Men are busily engaged in fixing up the Court House Park. The money voted the Society by the town council is being wisely expended in the improvement of one of the nicest little parks in Ontario. An efficient care-taker has been appointed to look after the Park and protect it, particularly in the way of preventing persons from walking on the grass. Considerable expense would have been saved this spring if the public had shown a little consideration during the winter and spring, by keeping to the paths while crossing the Park, instead of walking on the sod, which has, in places, been so destroyed as to necessitate the laying down of new sod.

Change in the Pastorate.

Rev. H. C. Priest, for the past two years assistant pastor of the Lakefield and Smith Baptist church, preached his farewell sermon to the congregation on Sunday evening last, and will on Sunday next assume the pastorate of Bailliebro' Baptist church. Rev. Mr. Priest leaves for his new field of labor bearing the best wishes of many warm friends in Lakefield and vicinity. His place will be filled by Mr. H. J. Hoveland, a student of McMaster College, Toronto, a young man of unusual ability and devoted Christianity.

Acknowledged with Thanks.

The committee of the P. P. Home thankfully acknowledge the following donations for April:—Miss Coon, box millinery; Mrs. Wm. Hamilton, easy chair and factory cotton; Mrs. McGill, apples and buns; Mr. Greenhow, apples and eggs; Mr. Adam Hall, trays and spitoons; Mrs. George Barnham, 2 caps and 4 aprons; from a friend, fruit cake and dollar's worth bread tickets; Mrs. John McKee, dress; Mrs. B. Ferguson, 2 trays, jelly and maple syrup; St. Andrew's church social, cakes; Mrs. Halliday, window curtains; Mr. Gilbert, six loaves; Curling Club, $4; Miss Cox, $3; Mrs. Dunlap, $1; Mrs. V. Clementi, $3; Mrs. Weller, $5; Rev. V. Clementi, $5; C. Connor, for father, $2; Emma Isaacs, $4, for grandmother; Town council, $3.66, for Portsmouth; D. Burgess, work, 30 cts.; Poor box, $3; Mr. Dunlap, for bread, $2; Mrs. Amys, $10.

An Egg-traordinary Reception.

Yesterday a young man in town took the position of collector for a sewing machine firm, and while on his first trip visited a house on Sherbrooke street, politely intimating to the lady of the house that he was ready to receive payment of her account. For answer he received an egg in the ear, thrown dexterously and vigorously by the lady, which filled his aural organ to overflowing with a yellow mixture of mashed hen-fruit, the surplus trickling down his neck and over his collar in a most disheartening way. Nothing daunted, and determined on this his first essay to succeed, if possible, he again tried his persuasive powers in the effort to convince the lady that her account was far over-due, but in return was the recipient of another egg, which lighted on his neck with a dull thud and scattered itself in every direction. This completed his discomfiture, and he turned away disconsolate, deeply impressed with the idea that he was not built to be collector. His resignation may be expected at an early date.

A Big Feather in Bellegham's Cap.

On Saturday last Mr. D. Bellegham returned from Toronto, where he had been engaged in placing the furniture he supplied for the new and spacious residence of Rev. Dr. Potts, on Prince Arthur Avenue. Mr. Bellegham was recommended to Dr. Potts, who after having visited the leading furniture establishments in Toronto and Ontario, came to Peterborough, and, after examining Bellegham's work, gave an order for the complete furniture of his new home from cellar to garret, and so pleased was he with the furniture supplied that he gave a supplementary order for some special work. It is a great triumph to Peterborough that it contains an establishment like Mr. Bellegham's, which can not only successfully compete with city and corporate establishments, but is able to out-strip them in quality of work, price and style. The capture of this contract by Bellegham from under the nose of the city furniture dealers is a big feather in his cap.

Arranging for a Celebration.

A preliminary meeting of a few gentlemen interested in promoting a proper celebration in Peterborough of the day set apart by the Government for an appropriate commemoration of the Jubilee year of Her Majesty's reign, was held last evening in the Young Men's Reform Club rooms, and after a conversational discussion over the matter, a committee was appointed to wait upon the Mayor Saturday morning on his return from Ottawa, with the request that he, in his official capacity, call a meeting of those citizens interested for Monday evening in the Council chamber, for the purpose of making better arrangements for a celebration on June 21st. Owing to the inability to secure the required number of children for Mr. L. Seward's Jubilee concert, the scheme has been abandoned, and the celebration will likely take the form of a grand civic demonstration.

Gone Down South.

Messrs. McAndrew & Noble have removed from their late place of business on Hunter street to the store in Cox's new block, George street, opposite the market square. The improved accommodation afforded in their new premises will enable them to carry on business on a more extensive scale and with greater facility than heretofore. Messrs. McAndrew & Noble have added to their hot water and steam boiler business a stock of entirely new and first-class tinware, plain and fancy, with many little useful domestic articles. They also keep in stock a fine line of rubber garden hose, and everything in connection with plumbing and steam fitting. The firm is, besides, prepared to fill any orders for roofing, cave-troughing, etc. In rear of the store a large workshop has been erected for the manufacture of improved hot water and steam boilers, of which they make a specialty. Repairs will be promptly made to tinware, etc. Messrs. McAndrew & Noble are pushing and enterprising men, and it is pleasing to note the forward strides they are making in their line of business.

A Vexed Question Settled.

The Town Has a Right to all Flues Imposed Inside the Corporation—An Architectural Opinion.

Mr. C. D. Macdonald, town clerk, is in receipt of a communication from Hon. J. S. D. Thompson, Minister of Justice, relative to the disposition of Scott Act fines, in answer to the memorial forwarded by the town to the government, along with several letters on the subject which passed between the town and the county. In it the Minister says:—

"You are suggested in ordinary cases I would, perhaps, not feel myself called upon to express an opinion on such a matter, as it concerns the interests of two corporations, and is not one therefore in which the public at large, or the town, is concerned.

"Inasmuch, however, as it is stated that my opinion will be accepted by both corporations concerned, and may have the effect of avoiding future disputes, I have to state to you that in my opinion the fines, penalties and forfeitures recovered under the Canada Temperance Act of 1878, and amendments thereto, belong, under the Order-in-Council of 15th November last, to the "incorporated town," if such fines, penalties and forfeitures were recovered and enforced within the town. I am,

Yours very truly,
JNO. S. D THOMPSON.

R. to take up their residence as stated below; Miss O'Donell for Louisiana; Michael Connors for Montana and Miss Barbino for Seattle on the Pacific coast, Washington Territory, where she meets her uncle Mr. John Fee. She has been a lifelong resident of the town and the many friends she has formed will regret to loose her companionship while they wish her all happiness in her new home.

Church Scandal at St. Catharines.

ST. CATHARINES, May 4.—A sensation has been caused here by the charge of unchristian-like conduct that has been preferred against a prominent citizen and layman of St. Paul's Methodist Church and a young lady. Both are active workers in the church, and the scandal that has been raised is deeply regretted by all. The prominent citizen is a married man and well advanced in years, while the lady is young and attractive. Their close intimacy of late and sundry little manifestations of affection gave rise to the talk. In order to settle the matter the pastor and trustees have opened a court of enquiry, and their verdict is anxiously awaited.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC
FROM
J. J. SHEEHY.

I beg to say that contrary to announcements which appeared in the Peterborough papers for the past two months, I do not intend to remove to T. Dolan & Co's Dry Goods Store, nor have I any connections whatever with that establishment. The final arrangements not being satisfactory to me, I withdraw from the projected change, and intend carrying on the Dry Goods business in my usual stand next to Loch's Hat Store.

It is my intention in the future as in the past to show at all seasons nothing but new and fresh goods in the various lines of Dry Goods and Gents' furnishings, and by doing so, hope to retain that confidence, which, I am proud to say, I have enjoyed from the public since commencing business two years ago.

FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1887.

OTTAWA NEWS.

OTTAWA, May 5.—Adam Hudspeth, newly elected member for South Victoria, was introduced to the House to-day by Sir John Macdonald and Hon. Thos. White. Mr. Hudspeth is a large, fine looking man, with iron gray hair and sandy, mutton-chop whiskers. He has a seat on the second last row on the Conservative side immediately behind Dr. Montague and in front of Mr. Baird of Queens.

Mr. McCarthy's bill respecting defective patents, Mr. Hall's bill relating to pension fund societies, and Mr. Tisdale's bill to amend the Franchise Act in order to enable tenants who are on the place at the time when the list is finally revised to vote, were introduced.

Mr. Chapleau introduced a bill to amend the Chinese Immigration Act. The alterations proposed are that the Chinese wife of a white man shall not be taxed, that Chinese will be allowed to pass through in bond, that they will be allowed to absent themselves for three months and return without being taxed on obtaining a permit, and that one-third of the total receipts from the Chinese tax shall go to the British Columbia Government.

In answer to a question Sir John stated that the Canadian Government had made the following proposition to the Imperial Government regarding a subsidy in aid of a Pacific mail service: The Imperial Government to grant £60,000 and Canada to grant £15,000. This would give a tri-monthly service between Vancouver and Hong Kong. This proposition is still under consideration by the Imperial authorities.

The next business undertaken was the consideration of Mr. Edgar's bill for the discharge of insolvent debtors, which he moved for a second reading. This bill is a long affair which may be epitomized thus: The object is for the discharge of insolvent debtors whose entire estate has been ratably distributed among their creditors without preference whether by due course of law or voluntarily by assignment for the benefit of creditors, the author of the bill holding that when a man has honestly given up all he has in the world for the benefit of his creditor he should not be hounded longer. The bill provides that an insolvent may obtain his discharge by obtaining from his creditors a consent in writing to his discharge or if the estate has paid 66⅔ per cent. of the liabilities, the consent of a majority of his creditors.

The bill raised a debate that lasted until 9 o'clock. Messrs. Jones, Paterson (Brant), Beaudoleil, Bechard, Curran, Dupont, Kenny, Hesson and Sproule took part. Those who supported the bill took the same ground as the mover; those who opposed it did so on the ground that it opened the gate to fraud and gave the opportunity for evading the insolvent law. The parties were about equally divided upon the question, but the second reading was ultimately carried without a division, and the bill goes to the Committee on Banking and Commerce, where there will be a big tussle over it.

Mr. McCarthy's Act to amend the Companies' Act, was read a second time and referred to the Banking Committee.

Notices of motion having been reached, Mr. Cawright moved that his return of Governor-General's warrants be referred to the Committee on Public Accounts. Sir Charles Tupper agreed without hesitation, and after a short discussion the motion was adopted.

Mr. Blake moved for the papers in connection with the changing of the site of the bridge across the Welland Canal at Welland.

Mr. Pope explained that the construction of the new canal made this removal absolutely necessary, and pointed out that the order for the removal was issued in 1877, when the Reform Government was in power.

By adopting Mr. Charlton's motion the Government adopted the principle that the blue books be made public as soon as prin. and without waiting for the assembling of Parliament.

Mr. Fisher moved to abolish the office of Deputy Speaker, and supported the motion in a long speech, the gist of which was that as Parliament had got on without a Deputy Speaker in earlier years the office was not necessary now, and the salary was wasted. He proposed that the chairman of Committee of the Whole act as Deputy Speaker when

The members were called in and the motion was defeated on the following division:

[illegible]

Here is a hint as to the position the Government will take on the disallowance question. Mr. Watson was requested to place his motion in Mr. Nesmith's hands as a supporter of the Government, and was afraid to do it. Mr. Smith consulted a prominent member in the confidence of the Government and received the following answer, "Don't you do anything of the kind. Let Watson skin his own skunk."

Sir Chas. Tupper laid on the table to-day a report showing the receipts and expenditures from July 1 to April 30 in the years 1886-6 and 1886-7. The last year's figures show an expenditure of $28,895,548 and a revenue of $26,169,956, leaving a surplus of $2,175,288 on April 30, to which date the return is brought down. It may be added however that the following interest due on May 1 was paid: In Canada $99,720, in England $1,175,285, or a total of $1,274,995. This, deducted from the former surplus, leaves a net surplus of $900,293, with two months of the fiscal year yet to run and all interest and other capital charges paid. The surplus on June 30 will not fall far short of $2,000,000.

The House of Commons Cricket Club was organized to-day at a meeting in the tower room. Mr. Robertson (Hastings) was elected President, Mr. Davies Vice-President, and Mr. C. H. Tupper Secretary-Treasurer. Dr. Landerkin was elected field captain. The laws in its excellent term and practice will be commenced at once.

A meeting of members who take an interest in the question of prohibition was held in the tower room to consider what action would be advisable to take in the matter. After some discussion it was finally decided to introduce a resolution to Parliament favoring prohibition. A sub-committee was appointed to draft this resolution.

Steps are being taken to hold a public meeting with a view of arranging a reception to the Governor-General on his return from Toronto. A requisition to the Mayor asking for a meeting is being got up and if sufficient signatures are obtained to show a favorable public feeling on the subject the Mayor will be requested to call it at as early a date as possible.

A MURDERER HANGED.

Smith Who Shot Hannon, a Watchman, in New York, Put to Death.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Peter Smith, the murderer of John Hannon, was hanged at the Toombs Prison at 7.30 this morning. The procession arrived at the scaffold at 7.20 a.m., with Father O'Connor and Father Duranquet on either side of the prisoner. They knelt in prayer under the scaffold. At 7.27 o'clock Smith kissed the crucifix and the drop immediately fell. He died instantaneously. Hannon was a watchman at a dump on one of the New York piers and had a difficulty with a number of rowdies who frequented the neighborhood, among whom was one Sweeny. At the latter's suggestion Smith shot and killed Hannon in April, 1885.

Lord Lansdowne as a Landlord.

LONDON, May 5.—The Dublin Irish Times publishes the address, which has been forwarded to the Marquis of Lansdowne, signed by 504 tenants on his Wiltshire estates, expressing sympathy with him on the attacks made by Wm. O'Brien and others regarding the management of his Irish estates. The address sets forth the great satisfaction felt by his English tenants at the treatment they have always received from Lord Lansdowne, who has not only given abatements, but built cottages for his laborers and spent large proportions of his rents in making improvements.

Royalty at the Wild West Show.

LONDON, May 5.—The Prince and Princess of Wales and their daughters, the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louise and the Comtesse of Paris, accompanied by brilliant suites, visited the Wild West Show and the grounds of the American Exhibition to-day. Buffalo Bill and his company gave a special performance for the benefit of his royal guests.

Canadians Will Not Tolerate it.

LONDON, May 5.—The St. James Gazette says: "Canadians have nothing to do with Lord Lansdowne as an Irish landlord, and Mr. O'Brien's object is only to discredit him in his Vice-Regal capacity. The Canadian plan of campaign is as illegal as the Irish one, and certain Canadian people will not tolerate it."

Sunk in Collision.

LONDON, May 5.—The steamer Asie from Marseilles has been sunk in a collision with the French steamer Ajaccio from Cette to Algiers. Several passengers were drowned.

To Confer with the Cardinals.

ROME, May 5.—The Pope has summoned three cardinals to confer with him upon the question of reconciliation with the Italian Government and to arrange conditions upon which the Vatican will consent to negotiate.

A Canadian Murdered.

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., May 5.—On January 25 last was published a despatch from Baltimore, Md., stating that a sailor named Thomas Mowell, of Detroit, had been murdered on board the schooner Walter C. McGeely, by John Dix, the master, and Robert L. Redding, sailor. The despatch described the man as weighing 216 pounds. It is now thought that the murdered man was Thomas Morvell, of Texas Landing, near this place. Morvell was mate on the steam barge D. M. Wilson at the close of navigation last fall and left Amherstburg in November, since which time he has not been heard from. Morvell weighed 216 pounds.

STRUCK AN AVALANCHE.

An Accommodation on the Intercolonial Completely Wrecked.

MONCTON, N.B., May 5.—To-day's express from Quebec is five hours behind time. The delay was caused by a fatal snow slide three miles west of Trois Pistoles. The west bound accommodation struck an avalanche which had dropped on the track from a high bank in a clay cutting, and both engines and the four first class cars ran off the track and piled in a heap of ruin. The fireman of one of the engines named Pierre Levasgeur was killed, and a brakeman named Alfred Lavard was badly scalded and died in a short time. The two engine drivers and one of the firemen crawled out from the wreck with scarcely any injury. Mr. Macdonald, the superintendent, was on board, and immediately sent for medical aid and for the auxiliary cars of St. Flavie and River Du Loup. Owing to the awkward position of the wreck, between two banks fifty or sixty feet high, leaving no place to dump the debris, the clearing of the line was a difficult matter. The accident was one which it was impossible to foresee, nothing of the kind having been known to happen before. The bank that fell is an enormous one, and composed of snow as hard and heavy as clay.

Newfoundlanders Excited.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., May 5.—There is considerable excitement here over the threat made by the captain of a French corvette that the houses and stores of the Sandy Point settlement, on the French shores, would be demolished if the bill prohibiting the sale of bait, passed by the Newfoundland Legislature, receives the assent of the British Government.

A Mill at Ingersoll Burned.

INGERSOLL, May 5.—About 11.30 to-night a fire broke out in James Smith's flour mill. It was not discovered until the building was nearly all in flames, and it was impossible to save any part of the mill. The building and machinery were valued at about $12,000, and were totally destroyed, together with $8000 or $10,000 bushels of wheat and a large quantity of flour. There is a small insurance.

THE TIMES' CHARGES.

THE HOUSE UNWILLING TO APPOINT A COMMITTEE.

LONDON, May 5.—In the House of Commons this afternoon consideration of the question of breach of privilege in the Times-Dillon case was resumed. No member rising to speak on the motion of Mr. Lewis that the conduct of the Times was a breach of privilege and the house take notice of it. Speaker Peel put before the House the amendment of Sir Edward Clarke, Solicitor-General, that the House decline to treat the Times publication as a breach of privilege.

This resulted in a vote of 297 in favor of the amendment to 219 against it. The amendment thus became a substantive motion and Mr. Bradlaugh resumed the debate.

Mr. Gladstone, who, on rising, was loudly cheered, moved an amendment that a committee be appointed to inquire into the charge of wilful falsehood made against Mr. Dillon in the Times on Monday. He said he did not intend to suggest that the inquiry go beyond the article referred to. He objected to Lord Randolph Churchill's calling him the leader of the party of separation. He perfectly understood why Lord Randolph did not call it the party of Home Rule. There was a future before Lord Randolph in which Home Rule plans might figure as convenient to propose. (Cheers.) Turning to the question of privilege he said it was unfortunate that the Government proposed the present charge against an Irish member while inditing upon the Irish people by means of a permanent Coercion Bill a brand of perpetual dishonor. Why take the case into a court of law? Was it certain that Mr. Dillon would get a verdict? Nearly thirty years ago he went as Commissioner to the Ionian Islands. The Times then said that the Ionian Assembly was committing treason and that the Commissioner was aiding and abetting the Assembly. He thought these charge required redress, and he took the best advice on the subject, but all of his advisers said he could not depend upon securing a fair verdict. The Irish members would be in a still more unfavorable position in a jury trial, and it was no wonder they preferred the tribunal of the House. The House was a perfectly competent tribunal—indeed, the only competent one. The precedents were all on the side of the appointment of a committee. There was the case of Butt in 1854, when it was held that the accusation that members were hungry for places to which were attached salaries and pensions deserved an inquiry. After citing a number of other precedents, in all of which the charges were less grave than those brought against Mr. Dillon, he challenged the Government to establish a single precedent where a prosecution had been ordered without the House having previously condemned the act upon which the prosecution was based. He appealed to the Government to alter their determination, which otherwise might lead to a crisis of the most serious and momentous importance. The Irish members, who had been maligned to an enormous extent, asked for a particular course, which the majority refused, forgetting that they were acting against a minority representing a nation. [Parnellite cheers.] The Government could yet, on the grounds of reason, prudence and precedent, accept his amendment, showing the country that they had determined at last to give even the Irish members full justice, even indulgent justice, seeing that their honor and character were at stake. [Cheers.]

Sir Richard Webster, Attorney-General, admitted that Mr. Gladstone had put the issue in the clearest possible way. But the opinion of the law officers of the Crown was unshaken. An examination for precedents showed there never was a case parallel to the present; that there never was a case where the Government directed an inquiry into a charge where the authorship was admitted and the party accused of libel expressed a willingness to justify. [Cheers.] The house had never dealt with a charge of falsehood as a matter in which it should interfere. Not a single case existed in modern times in which a similar libel upon a member of the House had been treated as a breach of privilege. If such a precedent should once be established there would probably be a breach of privilege every week. It was idle to suggest that common justice would not be done in a case of gross libel. He appealed to the House to affirm that the course proposed by the Government was a most honorable and adequate one, and that a court of law was the proper place in which to deal with the charges.

Without Foundation.

PARIS, May 5.—It is semi-officially announced this afternoon that the reports circulated in London of an alleged anti-German demonstration yesterday in the Champs Elysees are without foundation. It is declared that no such occurrence as that described took place anywhere in Paris, which was calm and undisturbed throughout the day and evening. The only arrests made were those of twelve persons taken into custody during the evening for rioting on the Place de l'Opera.

The Sheriff of Toronto Sworn in.

Sheriff Mowat was sworn in by Judge McDougall on Wednesday afternoon. He is busy getting things into shape.

The filling of the vacant shrievalties of York and Wellington will probably be made before the end of the week. It is said that Dr. Widdifield, M.P.P., will be the man for York, and that Robt. McKim, who was in the city yesterday, will get the Wellington office.

THE NANAIMO DISASTER.

Hope of Rescuing the Imprisoned Miners Has Been Abandoned.

NANAIMO, B.C., May 5.—The fire at the Victoria Coal Company's mine is believed to be now under control, although it is yet impossible to get at the imprisoned men until it is entirely subdued on account of the fact that gas may be driven into the fire and a second explosion caused. Even now fears are entertained that the whole place may be blown up. All hope of rescuing any one in the mines has been abandoned. Every effort is being made to relieve the prisoners; several physicians are in attendance, business houses are closed, the collieries shut and the entire population is gathered at the scene of the disaster. The explosion is supposed to have been caused by coal dust. The imprisoned miners were all old settlers.

It was believed late last night that the fire in the air shaft had been extinguished, and that only a small body of flame existed between the air and main shafts which can be conquered to-day. An attempt will then be made to bring air in and the work of rescue will begin. By to-night it is hoped the men will be reached. One woman last night lamented the loss of husband, father and brother, but this was only one of many heart-rending cases. It is estimated that there are between fifty and seventy five Chinamen in the mine.

The Latest Report.

NANAIMO, B.C., May 5.—The fire in the mines has considerably abated. A dense volume of steam arises from the air shaft, and until the fire is completely subdued it will be impossible to enter the workings to ascertain whether the unfortunate men shut in are living or dead. Fresh relays of working parties are being brought from Wellington, and sleeps in the harbor have also supplied about sixty men who are working now.

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER.

During the late elections the Government party took to itself much praise, and sought to make much political capital, of the firm position taken by the Ottawa Government on the Fisheries Question—and it was contended that if the country wanted to maintain its rights, and have a bold unflinching policy carried out, it must support the Government, and continue it in office. Facts have recently come out which warrant the belief, that at that very moment the Government was contemplating a complete acquiescence in the complete surrender of the rights of Canada in the fisheries, by the Imperial Government. On March 24th, Lord Salisbury sent a despatch to the Washington Government, to the effect that the British Government, understanding the action of the United States in denouncing the fishery articles of the treaty of Washington to be in a great degree the result of disappointment at being called upon to pay £1,100,000 under the Halifax Fisheries Award, offered to revert to the old condition of affairs without pecuniary indemnity, which offer it trusted would commend itself to the American Government as being based upon that spirit of good will and generosity which should animate two great and kindred nations, whose common origin, language and institutions, constitute as many bonds of amity and concord. Here we have rights, which an impartial and competent board of arbitrators, after exhaustive examination of the facts, and after due deliberation, decided were worth five million dollars and a half abjectly surrendered, without any other equivalent than the paltry condition of reciprocal trade in fish, which is not worth taking into account. The correspondence brought down to Parliament a day or two ago, not only confirms these facts, but what is worse, reveals the fact that the Dominion Government were consenting parties. The matter will be up before long in the House for discussion and will doubtless receive a thorough sifting, which will bring new facts to light. It is to be hoped that grounds may arise for the dissipation of the belief which, with our present light on the subject it is impossible to resist, that Great Britain has shown a lamentible willingness to surrender important and valuable Canadian rights, and that the Dominion government has acquiesed with more willingness than is compatible with vigourous maintenance by it of the interests of this country.

THE QUEEN'S COUNTY OUTRAGE.

Since this matter has engaged so much of Parliamentary and public attention, and will continue for some time longer to do so, many will doubtless be glad to read a succinct statement of the facts and circumstances connected with the case. Queen's County, New Brunswick, has, since Confederation, been represented in the Dominion Parliament by a Liberal. At the February elections Mr. George King, the representative of the riding for two previous terms, was the Liberal candidate and Mr. Baird the Conservative candidate. The returning officer, appointed by the Dominion Government, was president of the local Conservative Association. Both candidates were regularly nominated, according to law, and the $200 deposit of each was duly made, and in evidence of the validity of the depcsit the returning officer's receipt was given. The latter allowed both candidates to go to the polls, and the result of the voting was the election of the Liberal candidate by a majority of 61 votes. In spite of this fact, however, on declaration day, the partizan returning officer usurped the authority of deciding that Mr. King, the Liberal, was not a legal candidate, because the deposit of $200 had not been made by Mr. King's agent, and, therefore, was not legal, the Tory candidate, though receiving 61 votes less than his opponent, was declared elected by acclamation, and was duly gazetted as member for Queen's County. In reality, Mr. Baird, who received 61 votes less than Mr. King, sits and votes on the floor of Parliament, thus outraging every principle, not only of representative government, but all ideas of common sense and fairness. Thus there is ample ground for denominating the circumstances leading up to the present position, the "Queen's County Outrage."

Ennismore.

(From our own Correspondent.)

WEATHER NOTES.—April has been a cold, backward month, although only once it was below zero, on the morning of the first, but it was throughout discouraging to farmers and others. Frost had been felt almost every night and was sometimes severe, considering the time of year. Snow or hail fell on 8 days to the depth of 2 inches, the last on the morning of the 27th. Rain fell on 7 days to the depth of one inch and 80-100 of an inch. The average temperature of the month was 37 degrees at sunrise and sunset, which is very low for April, the highest this year in the shade only reached 68 deg. It may interest some of our readers while we call to mind April, 86. In that year at 3 p.m., on the 15th, the temperature stood at 70 deg. in the shade, on the 16th at 71 deg., on the 17th at 69 deg., on the 18th at 78 deg., on the 19th at 76 deg., on the 20th at 79 deg., on the 21st at 77 deg., on the 22nd at 78 deg., and on the 23rd at 89°, while everyone during the present month has experienced the difference. We had two thunder storms, but little rain. Grey birds were first seen on the 1st, robins on the 7th, butterflies on the 8th, cranes on the 13th, loons on the 19th, wild duck on the 21st, and gulls on the 27th; frogs were first heard on the evening of the 24th; auroral lights were never visible during the month. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month respectively, viz: North-east 3 days, north-west 12 days, south-east 8 days, south-west 2 days, south 1 day, east 2 days, north 1 day, and west 1 day.

On some favored spots ploughing commenced on the 18th and sowing on the 22nd, but in general little has been done yet. Concerning the fall wheat it would be premature to give a decisive opinion. The season is so cold and late, and the roots are not yet growing, we cannot tell how it will succeed. At all events, some have commenced to plough it up, and what will be left will not be near an average crop.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.

On Friday night an unusually successful entertainment was given in the school house, section No. 4. The school was tastefully decorated with evergreen arches and tissue paper designs. The background of the stage deserves special mention. A succession of mottoes, evergreens and artificial roses were most artificially arranged. "Excelsior" in white on a background of red was placed at at the highest attainable point and "Welcome" gleamed here and there in gilt letters, through the network of evergreens. "God Bless Our School." Upward and Onward," "Labour has sure reward," etc., were also to be seen.

At a little before eight o'clock the curtain was drawn back, revealing to the audience upwards of fifty little pupils all in gala attire. The girls were all dressed in white with flowers in their hair and presented a beautiful appearance

Readings, recitations, dialogues and songs followed each other in quick succession, and the applause each received showed how thoroughly they were appreciated. Each piece showed careful training, and too much praise cannot be given to Mr. Sullivan, the kind, patient, earnest teacher of No. 4. The children were completely carried away by the enjoyment of the evening, and their happy little faces made every one feel brighter and happier.

Rev. Father Keilty, parish priest of Ennismore, honored the entertainment by his presence, and at the close expressed himself as having thoroughly enjoyed it. Father Keilty encourages everything in connection with education, and to him is largely due the success of the Ennismore schools.

Every person went home with the conviction that Mr. Sullivan and his pupils know well how to entertain their friends.

How Peterborough Lost Another Business House.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Some three weeks ago I arrived in Peterborough, fully prepared to open a Dry Goods store in your enterprising town, but, after looking the field over, I was convinced that it would be suicidal for me to embark in trade in a place where there is a business house so disgustingly aggressive and so lost to the interests of other houses as one you have located in your town. It is with surprise and chagrin that I notice that this particular house is steadily increasing its number of customers day after day, by employing methods that would make it very uncomfortable for me, if I were in business here, just as it does now for competing establishments who are striving to combat the evil.

I refer to J. C. Turnbull, George and Simcoe streets, who sells a good Black Worsted, or a Scotch Tweed suit for $16, worth $20 in any other town or city. Fine unlaundried white shirts, from 35c to 50c., worth from 50c to 75c. All-Wool Tweeds at 40c, worth 50c. Fine Prints 9½c, worth 12½c. This is no place for me.

Yours in sorrow,
H. I. PRICK.

Astonishing Success

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung disease. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it, sample bottles to try, only 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada. eodw4

All You High-Price and Would-be Clothiers.

GOUGH

The Wonderful Cheap Man, Rings Out his Alarm.

This week he is going to hurl a tirade of prices at you that will besiege his place of business with anxious buyers, and break you all up. Our three flats are packed with NEW GOODS, and we can show MORE CLOTHING THAN THE WHOLE KIT OF YOU COMBINED, including the tail end of a few Dry Goods Stores that carry a few shoddy Suits. Energy will tell, and the people appreciate it. Our business is not on paper; it is a reality, and the result of long, and patient study and hard work.

READ

YOU BABY CLOTHIERS,

LOT 1.—Mens Blue Serge Suits for $3.50, not mark you, old faded out brown shoddy serge, such as you can buy elsewhere for $3.75, but a pure Indigo dye, warranted fast color, and to cost you $8.00 from any other dealer.

LOT 2.—Mens All Wool Waterloo Tweed Suits for $4.00. This is a beautiful black and brown check, trimmed with a silk serge lining, and the lowest wholesale price of it is guaranteed to be $6.50. We show a dozen different patters in this line to select from.

With this line of goods we throw you in 10 yards of Embroidery and one pair of Corsets. Such goods are too trifling for the Wonderful Cheap Man to sell, and are assigned to his Gift Department.

LOT 4.—Mens Fine French Worsted Suits for $10 and $12, not backed good, but pure worsted, worth $25 made to order. We have thousands of these goods to select from.

An Irishman's Bull.

We are surrounded by difficulties and dangers, said Pat, from the cradle to the grave, and the only wonder is that we ever live long enough after having the one to reach the other. The greatest danger lies in allowing the seeds of disease to be sown in our system. If you feel dull and drowsy, have frequent headaches, bad taste in mouth coated tongue, poor appetite, you are suffering from a torpid liver. Take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" if you would destroy those seeds and avoid reaping a harvest of suffering and death. 6dw18

The Bodies Identified.

A despatch from Arden states that the two supposed tramps killed by the C. P. R. express Wednesday morning were two lads, about 19 years of age, one the son of the late Wesley McConnell, and the other the son of Eldridge Walker. It seems they had been to a sugar social, and it is thought had sat down on the track, as if to wait for some one, and fallen asleep. The night express came along and struck the boys, cutting off the top of the skull of McConnell, who must have died instantly. The other, Walker, survived some time, one leg being terribly crushed and his skull badly fractured.

Didn't Pay Their Taxes.

At the police court this morning five young men were charged with non-payment of statute labor tax by Collector Cummings, one of the defendants being two years in arrears—in all, six cases. Two of the men showed certificates of membership of the 57th Batt., two more were enlarged for a week to give them a chance to produce their certificates, as they claimed to be volunteers; one man paid his tax, and the other charge was dismissed the defendant having goods for distress. Mr. Cummings has in all 250 such cases in hand, five more of which will be disposed of at the police court to-morrow morning.

On the War-path.

Mr. John Colgan, who lives at 150 Farley Avenue, Toronto, was in town Tuesday night looking after his son, William John, who, in company with two other boys, left their homes in Toronto on Monday to seek their fortunes. P. C. McGinty early Tuesday morning had found three small boys huddled up in a George street doorway, whom he took to the police station, and in the morning they were allowed to go. The descriptions of the three boys captured by the constable tallied with those of the boys Mr. Colgan was looking for; but the youngsters could nowhere be found. When last seen they were evidently going towards Port Hope, and Mr. Colgan immediately went there, but has so far been unsuccessful in his search, no trace of the youthful wanderers being found. The boys are all children of respectable parents and no cause can be assigned for their leaving home. It is evident they have been indulging in the dime novel literature, as two of them have revolvers and all carry knives. Their ages are as follows: William John Colgan, 15; John Henry, about 16; and a boy named Fox, about 12 years of age. They have little money, if any. It is thought that they are trying to make their way to the land of the free and "The home of the brave."

A Royal Endorsation.

Mr. Gough:

DEAR SIR,—I have just read your big advertisement—'twas about the only thing in last week's paper, and I needs must see it—and seeing, must read it—and I'd be afther taking advantage of your wonderful offer—for wonderful it is—if it is not like some of the goods one sometimes meets in Peterbury—shoddy—and I hope yez will be out-selling them and run some of them slick and clane out of Peterburry. But I'll be afther letting my pen run me out of Burleigh without telling you what I want, to which is a horrid nuisance, and if you can remedy it, down I come flying with my ten dollars. Don't yez see, there's niver a car comes up here, barrin' an ould stage that needs to run through the cheapening mill for a bit. They charge two whole dollars to jiggle and jolt yez to Peterburry, and they'd as lief give yez a wet day as fine one, and they won't keep the "skeeters" off yez, nor send a man ahead with a mop to dhry up the road, and if yez happen to have a valise as big as yer fist you must pay twenty-five cents fare for the little thing. 'Taint the dhriver is to blame sure, no, Hughie, bless him, is a jolly man and a clever, none cleverer or more careful and kind—its the ould stage itself is to blame of course—nobody else, not even Tom or Billy—so the remedy is,—yez build a small railroad and send a bit of a thrain up to Apsley onct a week—run the dirthy ould stage off the thrack—install Hughie in the car wid a pocket-ful of tickets to give away and we'll march down like a lot of nice little men and women wid our ten dollars, for it brings us about next to nothing up here. If yez can't build a railroad fill a waggon with yer cheap clothing, cram in some dhry-goods equally cheap, and bring them up about the first of July—let us know a month before so we can be scraping up our coppers to be ready, and turn Tom and Jem green and set them shaking in their boots. If yez will play thim that little shrick onest in a while, we'll niver cease to pray that yez may go on and prosper in the way you've begun and that yez may niver stop till yez have planted yez flag in Apsley and been proclaimed and crowned

"KING OF BURLEIGH."

P. S.—Will yes be afther buying butther and eggs when yez come? Butther, for we make good butther.

Burleigh, April 29th, 1887.

I beg to say that contrary to announcements which appeared in the Peterborough papers for the past two months, I do not intend to remove to T. The final arrangements not being satisfactory to me, I withdraw from the projected change, and intend carrying on the Dry Goods business in my usual stand next to Loch's Hat Store.
It is my intention in the future as in the past to show at all seasons nothing but new and fresh goods in the various lines of Dry Goods and Gents' furnishings; and by doing so, hope to retain that confidence, which, I am proud to say, I have enjoyed from the public since commencing business two years ago. d&w

AFFAIRS AT OTTAWA.

THE DISALLOWANCE QUESTION TO STAND OVER.

OTTAWA, May 7.—The Ottawa River is rising at the rate of a foot an hour almost. The north waters are coming down and the residents at Gatineau Village are making their houses secure. They have a queer way down there. The Ottawa and the Gatineau rise at the same time and between the two the little village on the point is between the father of all evil and the deep water. So to save their habitations the people chain them to trees and thus attached they float contentedly until the raging floods subside. Standing at the pavilion on the great rocky bluff which forms the site for the new Parliament buildings, and looking up the river to the Chaudiere Falls, a mile away, the prospect is that of a vast boiling cauldron. The waters plunging over the descent are seen whirling into the pit beneath, spurting up foam and spray and lashed into madness go thundering and rolling down the gorge, surging against the base of Parliament Rock and spreading out over the lower lands below Hull to engulf in anger the neat gardens and crooked streets of Gatineau.

The following bills were introduced and read a first time: To incorporate the Eastern Canada Savings and Loan Company, the Alberta and British Columbia Junction Railway Company, the Prescott Railway Company, the Kingston and Smiths Falls Railway Company. To amend the acts regarding the Western Assurance Company, the British Canadian Loan and Investment Company. To terminate the trust of the Southern Railway Company and to reduce the stock of the Ontario and Qu'Appelle Land Company.

Mr. Cargill, seconded by Mr. Tyrwhitt, introduced his bill to repeal the Canada Temperance Act. In doing so he said the act had been carried in his county, though his riding was opposed to it; that the results attending upon the operation of the act had not been beneficial to the county or the country; that it lessened the assessable value of hotel property and has created loss to the municipality without increasing sobriety.

The Banff Park Bill was finally passed and disposed of.

The report of the House Committee on the Penitentiaries resolutions was received and a bill founded upon them was introduced.

Mr. Pope's act to amend the Railways Act was read a second time, and the Northwest Senatorial Representation Bill was put through its final stages, as was Mr. Charlton's bill regarding public morals, whereat its promoter was so pleased that he dropped his bill to punish seduction.

Mr. Brown asked whether it was the intention to further enlarge the St. Lawrence Canals this year to the size of the Welland Canal.

Mr. Pope replied that some considerable work is being done each year upon the St. Lawrence Canals. It was not the intention of the Government just now to bring down a very large appropriation after the heavy expenditure that we have been subject to, but the Government takes a deep interest in the deepening and enlarging of these canals and will forward the work as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Watson has consented to allow the disallowance question to stand over, and the budget speech will be delivered on Thursday. The estimates will be brought down on Monday.

A large number of the members of Parliament have asked that when the House adjourns on Wednesday, May 18, it stand adjourned until the Wednesday following. A requisition was presented to the Premier today to the above effect, signed by fifty-eight Reformers and a still larger number of Conservatives. Sir John mentioned the matter in the House, leaving it for consideration.

It was expected that the Deputy-Speaker would be appointed to-day, but such was not the case. Mr. Rykert is the man.

Sir Charles Tupper laid on the table to-day Mr. Wyld's report on the trade relations between Canada and the West Indies. The report shows that Mr. Wyld visited Cuba, Jamaica and other West Indies Islands, met with considerable support from the authorities, and collected a mass of statistics relating to the trade of the Islands. He reports in favor of a line of steamers going to Havana, thence to Kingston and thence to Santiago, returning to Halifax, alternately the trip to be from Jamaica to Cienfuegos and thence to Halifax by the western end of Cuba. The report indicates that the Board of Trade of Jamaica expressed itself as unwilling to recommend a subsidy on the ground that the advantage was all on the side of Canada. The report further recommends that St. John should be made a port of call, if it was found that cargo can be furnished.

The British Columbia members will ask the Government for a grant towards relieving the wives and families of the miners killed at Wellington, B.C., at the Vancouver Company's coal mines. They have sent for particulars of the accident and the number of families left destitute by the terrible disaster.

The Government have received information to the effect that Her Majesty's ships of war Triumph, Constance and Cormorant have arrived at Esquimalt, B.C., and it is expected that several other men-of-war will arrive there shortly.

THE TIMES' CHARGES.

A COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE DESIRED THEM INVESTIGATED.

LONDON, May 6.—The debate was resumed in the House of Commons this evening on Mr. Gladstone's motion to appoint a committee to inquire into the Times' charges against Mr. Dillon.

Mr. Healy said every possible question seemed worthy of inquiry by the House except a question affecting the character of its members. The Parnellites did not care whether they got this inquiry or not, but if the Government majority refused this inquiry the name of British gentlemen would be placed on a level with that of the Indian thug. The Parnellites challenged the Tories to combat at once on this question. They would stand on no technical reference, but would meet any charges brought against them. From the decision of the majority of the House the Parnellites would appeal to the people outside and to other nations. The Irish people never sent them there to beg favors but to demand their rights.

Major Saunderson said he did not wonder that Mr. Gladstone tried to whitewash his Irish friends who were now supplying his policy. He challenged Dillon to disprove the Times evidence.

Mr. Dillon: "I have offered to enter into the charges fully before a committee. I shall no longer exchange the lie with members of the House over them." [Cheers].

Henry Fowler (Lib.) said the Parnellites did not desire to limit the inquiry. He had a telegram from Mr. Parnell stating that he was quite willing to extend the inquiry so as to include the forged letter published by the Times. [Cheers.]

Mr. Gladstone's motion was rejected by a vote of 317 to 233, and Sir Edward Clarke's motion, that the House decline to treat the Times' publication as a breach of privilege, was agreed to.

THE NEW HEBRIDES AFFAIR.

Delegates to the Colonial Conference Dissatisfied With England's Action.

LONDON, May 6.—Sir Henry Holland, Secretary of State for the Colonies, announced in the Colonial Conference here on April 27 that the Government hoped to arrange with France for a joint naval commission for the Government of the New Hebrides. The commission, it was stated, would have power to protect the settlers, traders and missionaries, and would also be empowered to land marines to punish the natives for committing outrages and to maintain order, the marines, however, to be withdrawn when the special work for which they landed was accomplished. If the scheme proposed was accepted by France it was to be arranged that the French garrisons now occupying the chief harbors of the New Hebrides should retire.

The publication of the details is attributed to the indignation which the proposal has aroused among the colonial representatives here, many of whom are said to be unable to conceal their anger at what they deem the surrender of their claims to France. It is said Sir Henry Holland's statement amazed the members of the conference and almost led to a scene. The Australians, all without exception, deprecated any policy which even seemed to recognise French pretensions in the New Hebrides.

Lord Salisbury, who was present, supported the speech made by Sir Henry Holland in justification of the Government's proposal. The Premier's argument, however, instead of mollifying the incensed delegates served but to intensify their wrath. His remarks implied that the Australian demands hampered England in her negotiations with France. He maintained that the colonists made a grave mistake in not accepting the compromise which the Earl of Rosebery proposed and which, the Premier said, would have prevented the extension of the evils complained of by the Australians, or arising from the sending of French convicts to the South Pacific, the rejection of which made it difficult for the English Government to approach France with any request that she curtail her liberty of action as to the uses to which she should put her own territory. "Surely," exclaimed the Marquis, "the colonies do not desire to make the recidivist agitation a casus belli." The Premier's speech increased the dissatisfaction of the delegates to such an extent that Sir Graham Berry, the Agent-General of Victoria, twitted the Prime Minister with having made a speech that would have been excellent coming from the mouth of the French premier.

NANAIMO DISASTER.

A SAD TIME IN THE HISTORY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

NANAIMO, B.C., May 6.—This is the saddest day ever known in the history of British Columbia. There are 101 white men and fifty Chinese still in the mine. Forty-seven of the whites are married men with families. Some of the young wives with small children are frantic with grief, standing around the mouth of the fatal shaft. Dense volumes of smoke continue to ascend from this shaft. A large gang of men, principally sailors, in down this shaft fighting the fire with the desperation of despair. It is hoped the fire will soon be under control. It would be madness to penetrate the mine, as another explosion might occur. The worst has yet to come when the bodies are brought up. The people do not realize yet the dreadful catastrophe that has blighted the city. The mouth of the shaft is eagerly watched hour after hour by an eager crowd—men, women, children, Chinese and Indians, all too much terrified to talk above whispers. Relief is much needed and cannot come too soon, as the destitution will be terrible. Many of the men have large families who have not the necessaries of life.

STRIKES IN TORONTO.

The Boss Masons Will Fight Their Employes —The Upholsterers' Troubles.

No change is reported in the masons' strike. The usual daily session of the masons was held yesterday morning at Temperance Hall. It was stated that the men were arranging to secure material for building purposes from other parties than the members of the Master Masons' Union, who have declined to furnish it

The Master Masons' Union held a protracted meeting last night, but no business of interest to the public was transacted. President Yorke made a statement in reference to the action of the masons in quitting work on the Chalkely building. The men, he said, agreed to finish the work, but when called out by their union, walked out. The building was in a dangerous condition, and owing to this fact the Master Masons' Union had consented to allow Mr Chalkely to pay the increased rate. There were about 70 members present, and it was unanimously decided to fight the strike to a successful issue. Action was taken to protect any member who might be boycotted.

It was nearly midnight when the boss upholsterers' committee and the Executive of the District Assembly, K. of L., got through their conference. The demands of the men were thoroughly discussed, but no decision was arrived at. Another conference is to be held.

London Strikers Leaving the City.

LONDON, May 6.—A number of strikers left the city this morning, and a number more have signified their intention of leaving to-morrow. This, with the number who went to work on the Sault Ste. Marie branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has considerably reduced the number of the unemployed. The majority of the strikers contemplate leaving on Monday if arrangements are not come to before that date.

The Doctor Evidently Killed the Man.

BINGHAMTON, N.Y., May 6.—A terrific thunder storm passed over this city early this morning. Morris Morrey, aged 17, was struck by lightning while in bed and instantly killed. A companion in the same bed was not injured. About twelve hours after the death of Morrey, while moving him, a stream of warm blood spurted from his nose. The attending physician then probed the heart and drew therefrom nearly two quarts of blood, which showed no change from its natural color or consistency. He declined to say that it was a case of suspended animation, and cannot explain the phenomenon.

Border Ruffians Executed.

GUAYMAS, Mex., May 6.—At sunrise yesterday Col. Arvizu, Lieut. Guiteres and Louis Boscon were executed according to sentence. They faced death bravely, all refusing at first to have their eyes bandaged, but finally, on the appeal of Col. Yarrati, the men allowed themselves to be blindfolded. A volley was then fired at the condemned men, and the examining surgeon a few minutes later pronounced all dead.

The Afghan Insurrection.

LONDON, May 6.—In the House of Lords this evening Viscount Cross, Secretary of State for India, announced that Lord Dufferin did not confirm the report that the Khyber Pass had been closed by the rebels. He added that the Government had no reason to believe that the forces of the Ameer of Afghanistan had been defeated.

The Strike at Merrniton.

ST. CATHARINES, May 5.—The strike of the operatives in the Merritton Cotton Mill still continues, and there is no sign of weakening on either side as yet, the men claiming that they cannot live on the wages offered, and the employers stating that they are the best they can afford to pay.

MUNICIPAL QUALIFICATION.

Governments of the most progressive ideas and liberal inclinations do not always go fast enough for the advocates of the abolition of discriminating distinctions between capital and capacity—between bullion and brains. Among the unfair discriminations against a large and intelligent class of the community, is the retention, in the municipal law, of the property qualification as the chief test of fitness for elective municipal offices. As the law now stands, it requires for a valid candidate for councillor, municipal assessment of $200 freehold, or $400 leasehold in villages; $400 freehold and $800 lease-hold in townships; and $600 freehold and $1,200 lease-hold in towns. There seems to be no reason why the candidate for municipal office in towns should not be placed on the same footing as electors is regard to qualification. The present restrictions shut many worthy men of good ability, good judgment and exceptional fitness for good councillors, from presenting themselves as candidates—that is, all honest men lacking the property qualification, for their is a possibility of a candidate, under the present law, getting a bogus legal qualification by securing bogus title to sufficient property. During the recent session of the Local Legislature, Messrs. Widdifield (North York) and Stratton (West Peterborough) introduced an amendment to the municipal act, proposing to make the qualification for electors the qualification for elective municipal officers. But, as the report reads, "despite strong and earnest speeches by the mover and seconder, the motion was voted down." The opposition arose, not from any deep-seated hostility to the change, but from the fact that there had not been a demand for the important reform involved in the proposal. But these gentlemen broke the ice and the change will not be long delayed, for it has justice and fairness and reason on its side. In these days of enlarged franchise privileges it cannot be maintained that men, who possess the most important qualifications, because they do not, from various circumstances involving no discredit to them, happen to have a certain amount, actual or representative, of filthy lucre, should be debarred from municipal office. It seems preposterous that intelligent electors, though they unanimously desire it, should not have the privilege of electing to office a poor man, though he have the knowledge of a Newton and the wisdom of a Solomon; while a born idiot who may inherit the fee simple of half the town is, according to law, an elegible and fit and proper person for a candidate.

The Queen's Jubilee.

To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

SIR,—The admirable suggestions already given in your columns by our handmaster, Mr. Millar, and Mr. Fraser, regarding the above celebration, I heartily concur in. I believe that an out-door concert, held in our beautiful Court House Park, and as Mr. Fraser puts it, "absolutely free," would be far more in keeping with the Jubilee spirit and time of the year than packed like sardines in a box in either drill shed or skating rink, even supposing a few hundred dollars should be realised thereby. Seeing that Mr. Millar and the Fire Brigade Band have the honor of taking the initiative in this matter, I would suggest that their chairman call a public meeting to discuss the best ways and means (musically) of celebrating the Queen's Jubilee, thereby enabling every one interested to state his views, and so arrive at some definite plan of procedure.

I remain,
Yours truly,
D. D. GALLETLY.

CANADA FIRST.

A Lecture by Principal Grant at the New York Canadian Club.

NEW YORK, May 6.—At the Canadian Club last night Principal Grant of Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., lectured on the subject of "Canada First." A very large audience was present and great enthusiasm prevailed. The lecturer, among other things, said that he trusted the proposed temporary adjustment of the fishery trouble, as suggested by Lord Salisbury with the full consent of Canada, would be adopted, so that during the next few months opportunity might be afforded for a calm and deliberate discussion of the whole of the relations existing between the two countries with regard to unrestricted commercial intercourse between them. The reverend Principal said that like every other question it must be looked upon from the standpoint of Canada first, the question being: Would it be of permanent and material benefit? On the point of material advantage, the Principal said that he could not be considered an authority and would not like to express an opinion, but it seemed manifest that such unrestricted intercourse must be of unspeakable benefit to both sides. At the close of the lecture there was an enthusiastic scene in which motions of thanks were made and seconded by Rev. Dr. Ormiston, Rev. Dr. McArthur, Rev. Mr. Fotheringill and Monsignor Ducey, representing the Presbyterian, Baptist, Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches.

THE CONDEMNED NIHILISTS.

The Sentence of Death Commuted to Imprisonment for life.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 6.—It is reported that the Czar has decided that the sentences of death pronounced against the Nihilists convicted of complicity in the recent attempt to assassinate him shall be commuted to imprisonment at hard labor for life in the case of all but two of the condemned. Poliansokaky, one of the condemned, said he and his accomplices acted from firm conviction that what they set out to do it was their duty to perform. Another of the prisoners is a young student. He had just finished his studies with brilliant success, having taken the gold medal of the university which graduated him. The youth was so ardent in the cause of Nihilism that he sold his gold graduation medal to obtain funds to enable an accomplice to leave the empire. All the prisoners pleaded guilty, and every one refused, under threat or promise, to betray any accomplice. The evidence indicated the existence of four widely ramifying Nihilist organizations, having head centres at St. Petersburg, Kiel, Vilna and in Siberia. One of the witnesses was a woman. She admitted that she was the wife of one of the accused, although she said she had never been joined in wedlock to him by "unnecessary religious formalities." She was, on this admission, arrested and conducted to prison.

BISHOP BINNEY'S FUNERAL.

Several Thousand Persons Attend and Take Part in the Services.

HALIFAX, May 6.—The funeral of the late Bishop Binney took place this afternoon with impressive ceremonies. There was an immense attendance, including several hundred clergymen from all sections of the diocese. The body lay in St. Luke's Cathedral all day, and was viewed by a large number of people. At 3 o'clock, after a short service, a procession was formed and the remains conducted to St. Stephen's Chapel, where another service was held. The funeral cortege then proceeded to Camp Hill Cemetery, where the body was interred with the usual High Church service. The large cemetery was crowded with people, some thousands being on the grounds.

How Peterborough Lost Another Business House.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Some three weeks ago I arrived in Peterborough, fully prepared to open a Dry Goods store in your enterprising town, but, after looking the field over, I was convinced that it would be suicidal for me to embark in trade in a place where there is a business house so disgustingly aggressive and so lost to the interests of other houses as one you have located in your town. It is with surprise and chagrin that I notice that this particular house is steadily increasing its number of customers day after day, by employing methods that would make it very uncomfortable for me, if I were in business here, just as it does now for competing establishments who are striving to combat the evil.

I refer to J. C. Turnbull, George and Simcoe streets, who sells a good Black Worsted, or a Scotch Tweed suit for $16, worth $20 in any other town or city. Fine unlaundried white shirts, from 35c to 50c., worth from 50c to 75c. All-Wool Tweeds at 40c, worth 50c. Fine Prints 9½c, worth 12½c. This is no place for me.

Yours in sorrow,
H. I. PRICE.

An Irishman's Boil.

We are surrounded by difficulties and dangers, said Pat, from the cradle to the grave, and the only wonder is that we ever live long enough after having the one to reach the other. The greatest danger lies in allowing the seeds of disease to be sown in our system. If you feel dull and drowsy, have frequent headaches, bad taste in mouth coated tongue, poor appetite, you are suffering from a torpid liver. Take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" if you would destroy those seeds and avoid reaping a harvest of suffering and death. 6dw18

COUNCIL MEETING.

A special meeting of the Village Council was held in the Council chamber on Friday evening, April 29th.

Present—the Reeve in the chair, Councillors Cox, Watson and Henderson.

Communications from A. F. Wood, Dominion Government Commissioner, Hamilton Fire Department, the village Treasurer, and the following letter, were received.

LAKEFIELD, April 29th, 1887.

Application to the Reeve and Council of Lakefield:

I have been a faithful citizen of Lakefield these 21 years and also paid my taxes when due. Also I have been a member of the Methodist Church for 20 years, enjoying the peace of God and my neighbors, but the last 12 months I have been persecuted with boys 20 years downwards on Queen street, also in the barracks, which is the temple of God, and last night they have been worse than ever, pitching stones and sand at me while on the march. I often made up my mind to give in my complaint to the Reeve and Council, but I tried to make peace without that, but last night they were worse than ever. I think it is high time that the Council would interfere and put a stop to this rowdyism around the street corners by them that think they are somebody, such as young dudes whose they get well filled up with fire water.

I am, yours truly, a servant of my beloved Queen, God bless her,

(Signed) L. F. STONE.

Moved by Mr. Cox, seconded by Mr. Watson, that an order be drawn on the village Treasurer for the sum of $16.50 in full of judgment and costs re suit of Wm. Leeley, and that the Reeve and clerk be authorized to sign the same.—Carried.

By-laws to borrow money, appoint a village constable, and to preserve order, etc., received their several readings, and were passed, signed and sealed by the Reeve and clerk.

CONFIDENTIAL.

A good story has leaked out in certain quarters, during the last few days, which is too good to keep, so here goes. A certain young gentleman, who was joining one of our secret societies, and who had listened to the many stories told of the terrific rides taken by former members, on the "festive goat," as well as to the kind advice tendered him (all for friendship's sake) by his many friends in the order, concluded to be "on to it" when the critical moment arrived. After mature deliberation he decided to adopt the rather primitive school boy plan of placing Gaze's geography where the rod was wont to fall, but in place of the "old book" he adopted a piece of sheep skin with the wool on, in case "Billy's" back should be bare from long usage. All rigged out and happy, he arrived at the Lodge ante-room, but then—Homo sæit qui malæ pense.

NAVIGATION.

The ice broke up in Clear Lake last Friday night, so that there is now a clear track up to Burleigh for the steamers. The Fairy was the first boat to "show up" this season, and looks well in her new coat of paint. The water is about the same height as last spring and will not be likely to raise any more now the lakes are open.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

The stonework at Lovesick locks will be finished by the middle of this week, and work will be resumed at Burleigh. Numbers of men are passing through the village on their way up to work. The water is very high there.

FLORAL.

Our old friend, Carter, never had such a fine show as he has in his greenhouse at present. Call and see him, and secure some of his plants for house decoration, or for that of the graves of friends or relations. Now is the time if you want your lots in the cemetery attended to.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent, of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Constipation, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

Safe Sure and Painless.

What a word of meaning this statement embodies. Just what you are looking for, is it not? Putman's Painless Corn Extractor—the great Sure-pop corn cure—acts in this way. It makes no sore spots; safe, acts speedily and with certainty; painlessly. Do not be imposed upon by imitations or substitutes. 6dw18

Personal.

George Legault, of Tayside, Ont., says he can heartily recommend Yellow Oil as the best reliever of rheumatic pain, his father and mother having suffered for years with rheumatism, and all remedies failed except Yellow Oil. 2w17d

A Severe Attack.

"I never felt better in my life than I have since taking Burdock Blood Bitters. I had a severe bilious attack; I could not eat for several days, and was unable to work. One bottle cured me." John M. Richards, Sr., Tara, Ont. For all bilious troubles use B. B. B. 2w17d

Cricket.

The Season's Fixtures.

There is going to be a big boom in cricket, in Peterborough, this year. It is likely that the club will play more matches this season than it ever played in one season before. We are to have a visit from the Belmont Club, of Philadelphia, (one of the strongest clubs on the other side of the line) Toronto, Whitby and other good clubs, so the season promises to be an unusually interesting one.

It may be mentioned that besides those given below, matches will probably be played with, Ottawa, Trinity College School, Lakefield and Omemee, but the dates are not yet definitely settled.

The club purpose making a tour east, some time in August, if possible.

MATCHES ALREADY ARRANGED.

May 24th—Campbellford, at Campbellford.

June 11th—Toronto, at Toronto; 17th, Campbellford, at Peterborough; 21st, Whitby, at Peterborough.

The first of these, Married vs Single will be played on Saturday, 14th May. A list of the matches which are to be counted for the bat will appear next week.

It is to be hoped that next week there will be a full turn-out of the members for practice, as the ground is in tip-top condition for play.

A Big Baby, at That.

Another progressive town, says the Mail, is Peterborough, which, with Ashburnham, has a total population of 10,099 and an assessment of $4,125,500. This is an increase in population, since last year, of 544, and in assessment of $467,560. Ashburnham, though a separate municipality, is practically one with Peterborough, which will probably be the next "baby city."

A Gambler's Loss.

Friday morning a man who gave in his name as Armstrong, of Hastings, called at the police station and said he had been robbed of some $90 while gambling with some comrades. As he was quite drunk, he was sent to an hotel to sober up. In the evening he again appeared, still drunk, and telling the same story. He was again sent off, but turned up once more this morning, as much intoxicated as ever, still repeating that he had lost $90. As soon as he sobers up he will be listened to.

Ye Loyal Citizens, and Brave.

The committee appointed at the preliminary meeting, held the other evening, of those interested in seeing the 21st June, the day set apart by government in commemoration of the Queen's Jubilee year, properly celebrated, waited upon Mayor Stevenson this morning and in compliance with their instructions, requested him to call a public meeting for the purpose of discussing the matter. The request was granted, and all citizens anxious to have the jubilee year of Queen Victoria's reign properly recognized, are requested to assemble at the town council chamber, next Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, sharp. It is to be hoped there will be a large attendance of citizens to lend their aid and approval to the worthy object of doing honor to our gracious Queen.

Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock the way freight for Belleville struck a cow, and diesator near Keene. The engine driver, as he was nearing the station, saw some cows on the track at the first crossing beyond the village. The station agent saw them also, and sending his boy to drive them off, the track was cleared for the freight. After stopping for a few minutes, the train pulled out of the station, but as she reached the crossing, at a not very rapid speed, one obstinate brute of a cow charged the train, trying to cross between the cars. She got caught between the tender and the first car, the coupling of which broke, and several cars were thrown off the track, two of them going over the fence at the crossing. The cow was stopped in fragments, and a train length of the track was torn up. Though the cars were all loaded, the contents were not injured, and the whole damage was slight. A special was sent down from Peterborough and brought the passengers of the evening train from Belleville to town. Men were at once set to work, and the gap was filled in and the track cleared by five o'clock this morning.

A Palatial Business House.

Plans for a Complete Remodelling of Hall, Innes & Co's. Premises.

The long established dry-goods business of Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co. has so flourished, old and expanded that it has outgrown their present premises, though the latter now comprise two double counter shops, as large as the largest in town. To provide the necessary additional room, and, also, to make the new premises to be in keeping, the Nicholls block is to be substantially changed and improved.

Alongside the present premises of the firm, there is, on the one hand, the Metropolitan Grocery, and, on the other, a vacant shop, which latter is to be added to the business premises of Hall, Innes & Co. To begin, the whole front is to be provided with plate glass windows. The windows of the present shops are to be raised higher than those of the shops on either side, and in the second story of these plate glass windows are also to be placed. The front walls of these are also to be raised considerably higher than the walls of the lateral portions of the block and furnished with elaborate ornamentation. There will be only main entrance to the front—at the point now represented by the entrance to the easternmost shop, otherwise the whole front will be an unbroken range of plate-glass windows, ninety feet in length.

Internally the changes are to be equally marked. The present wall, between the two shops now used, will be removed and the two thrown into one. From this, communication will be made with the new shop added on the east by broad, arched doorways at the front and rear. The present staircases will be removed at the rear, and a range of closet windows placed in the rear wall, making the front and rear walls of the combined shops practically of glass. In lieu of the staircases an elevator, giving access to the three floors, will be placed about the middle of the western side of the main shop, thus facilitating ascent and descent and affording more room. In the centre of the main shop there is placed a double-faced range of half-height shelving, flanked by counters joined by a semi-circular sweep at the ends. The shelving and counters are divided at the middle by a passage-way. At this point the cash desk will be placed, and to it will converge the several tracks of the cash railway from all the counters in the shop. In the north-east corner of this floor will be placed the room of the cutter of the tailoring department and the office, separate apartments elegantly fitted with glass. All the fittings and accessories will be of the most modern and improved character, unsurpassed for elegance and convenience by those of any city establishment. The easternmost shop, on the ground floor, will be devoted exclusively to carpets and allied goods, such as rugs, mats, etc.

THE SECOND FLOOR.

The most western third of this floor is to be devoted to the purposes of the millinery and mantle show rooms. From this, doors communicate with the fitting rooms, which occupy the rear of the central third of the premises. The front part of this third is fitted up as a ladies' reception room, which will be furnished with all the elegance and luxury of a drawing room, where ladies waiting for the train, waiting their turn to be served or desirous of rest, may have, as boarding house advertisements say, "all the comforts of a home." Connecting with this is a ladies retiring room and connected with this is a lavatory etc. Between the fitting rooms in the rear and the reception room in the front are cloak rooms and a small store-room for surplus stock. The eastern third of this floor is the spacious and well lighted work room for the millinery and mantle operatives.

THE THIRD FLOOR.

The west third of this flat, is designed for the display of floor oil-cloths and other goods of that description. The middle third will be used for surplus stock, while the eastern third will be the work room for the operatives in the tailoring department. The entrance to the work rooms will be by stairs in the rear of the carpet rooms.

The above is a mere outline of the changes proposed to be made by the plans prepared by Messrs Gordon & Helliwell of Toronto, and which have received the approval of the firm. As soon as the working plans and specifications can be prepared, the contract will be let, and the work pushed with vigour, for the changes must be completed by the end of July.

Improvements will also be made in the premises occupied by the Metropolitan Grocery company's premises and a plate glass front, continuous and uniform with those of Hall-Innes & Co's shops, will be put in. Internally the stairs in rear of the shop will be removed and their places supplied with a hoist.

The changes in the now beautiful Nicholl's Block will make it one of the handsomest in town, and the premises of Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co. will be of such surpassing elegance, extent and excellence that the title of a "palatial business house" will, in no sense, be a misnomer. In consideration of these changes, which have been decided on within the past month, Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co. are compelled to clear out their present extensive stock of goods, consisting of new direct importations. For the next six weeks the public will have the opportunity of selecting from a splendid stock on the most favourable terms.

Doing the Just Thing.

Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., received this morning a telegram from Mr. Wm. Wainright, general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, as follows:

"MONTREAL, May 6th.

"Our general freight agent advises me that steamship companies are now preparing new tariffs, making Peterborough same as Toronto. This will meet the case, I presume."

The case mentioned is, that Peterborough has been paying 3c. per pound more for freight on iron, imported from Liverpool and Glasgow, than Toronto, and the new arrangements removes this rather burdensome discrimination.

Masonic Excursion.

The Masonic fraternity of Peterborough, have completed arrangements for a grand excursion to Toronto on Thursday, June 9th. The train will be composed of first-class coaches. The excursion being under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity, it is safe to say it will be well managed and arranged. Further particulars will be announced hereafter.

Collector Cumming's Cases.

Four more young men were called at the police court this morning for non-payment of statute labor tax. Two proved by certificates that they were volunteers, while the other two could not be found and so had not been served with summons.

He Took Possession.

Friday evening Acting-Chief of Police Adams arrested and incarcerated a drunken man whom he found stretched out asleep on the floor of a house on Aylmer street, having frightened out the occupant, an old lady named Mrs. McDermott. He was commanded to appear at the police court this morning and released. The Police Magistrate dismissed the man, as he has hitherto borne a good character, and, the door of the house being open, he merely wandered in.

Was it Burglars' Work?

Last night G. A. Schofield & Co's drug store was carefully locked as usual and the lights extinguished. This morning the back door was found unbolted and a lamp burning in the back part of the store. Nothing else, however, was disturbed. During the previous evening a suspicious looking character was observed hanging around Mr. Menzies bookstore, whose actions were noticed at the time, and it is a mere supposition that Schofield & Co's. store, just next door, was entered by him by mistake, and, not finding what he wanted, left quietly.

AFFAIRS AT OTTAWA.

THE MEMBER FOR ADDINGTON DECLARED HOPELESSLY INSANE.

OTTAWA, May 8.—The statement that Mr. Bell, M.P. for Addington, has been incarcerated in the lunatic asylum at Kingston and has been declared hopelessly insane by the physicians in attendance has been made public here and is creating considerable discussion. As to how the seat is to be declared vacant there are many divergent opinions. This is believed to be the first case of a member of the House of Commons going insane, and the only precedent appears to be the case of Hon. Adam Crooks in the Ontario Legislature. In that case a sub-committee of the Committee on Privileges and Elections was appointed as a commission, who returned the afflicted member as insane, and on that return the seat was declared vacant. As yet the present case has not come before the House, but it is probable that it will shortly do so in the shape of a question by a member or in some such way.

It seems to be definitely settled that Col. Ouimet will be appointed to the command of this year's Wimbledon team and that F. Hart, commanding the St. John Rifle Corps, will go as adjutant.

The Manitoba delegates visited the Experimental Farm yesterday accompanied by Senators Schultz and Sutherland.

Speaker Ouimet and Hon. Mr. Thompson gave large parliamentary dinners last evening.

The Minister of Justice on Saturday gave a decision in the matter of the Bell Telephone case, sustaining that company. The decision declares as follows: On consideration of the evidence by the petitioners and the respondent company, and the statement of the company that they accept as the true position of the matter the position stated by Lockwood, their witness, that the commercial instrument as manufactured by the company does not embody any of the elements or claims of the three Edison patents impeached in these proceedings, and being of the opinion that the weight of evidence is in favor of that view, I am of opinion that the importation of their commercial instrument before me is not an importation of any of the Edison inventions, and I dismiss the application.

Mr. Guevin, of the Public Works Department, considered to be the leading hydraulic engineer of Canada, dropped dead of heart disease in his office on Saturday morning. Mr. Guevin had been for thirty years in the employ of the department, and was 69 years of age.

Mr. Jamieson (North Lanark) has been selected to move the prohibition question before the House.

A delegation from Montreal and elsewhere, representing those who took part in putting down the Fenian raids in 1866 and 70, waited on Sir John Macdonald and Sir A. P. Caron in the committee room of the Privy Council on Saturday. The various corps who took part in subduing the rebellion were represented. Messrs. Coursol, Curran and Ellis, members of Parliament, accompanied the delegation. Mr. Coursol introduced them and represented to the Ministers that they desired some recognition for the services rendered to the country. Their motives were not of a mercenary character. Sir John Macdonald said that he would have the matter laid before the Queen, who was the fountain from whom all honors came, and if her consent was obtained he would be willing to do his part. Sir A. P. Caron spoke in a similar strain.

FRESHETS IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

Boat Landings and Streets at Portland Under Water.

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 7.—Not since 1854 has this province suffered so disastrously by freshets as this spring. The wharves and boat landings in Portland are under water, the streets fronting on the river have all been inundated and many firms have been obliged to suspend business. The cellars of twelve tenements and the school houses have been invaded and one building was carried off. All the mills in the immediate vicinity and in the harbor have been obliged to close except two and several hundred hands are thrown out of employment. The floods have extended at some points far inland and the river yesterday was rising half an inch an hour, passing the highest point ever before reached. If it continues its advance at the same rate as during the last twenty-four hours Fredericton will be completely submerged before morning.

THE NANAIMO DISASTER.

One Hundred and Seven White and Eighty-two Chinese Victims.

PORTLAND, Oregon, May 8.—The total number of persons known to have perished in the mining disaster at Nanaimo, B.C., is 189, of whom 82 were Chinese and 107 white. More than half of the white men leave families.

Verdict Against the C. P. R.

LONDON, May 8.—The case of Jones against the [illegible] Railway, heard at the Assizes yesterday, was an action for damages brought by the widow of the late J. F. Jones, who was killed last January by alighting engine [illegible] crossing the tracks at Point Edward. Jones fell and was thrown on the road and the deceased had to walk through the last two cars upon his knees to get free, as one while doing this. He was struck. The jury gave a verdict for plaintiff for $1000.

Two Hundred Houses Burned.

PESTH, May 7.—Two hundred houses have been destroyed by fire in the town of Nagy Karoly, Transylvania. The castle of Count Karolyi narrowly escaped destruction.

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

The Bitter Feeling of One for the Other Rapidly Growing.

LONDON, May 8.—Matters on the continent continue to wear a very uncomfortable aspect. The Germans are mightily indignant at the behavior of the Paris mob during last week, and treat the insults howled along the boulevards, especially the cries of "Give us back our clocks," referring to the timepieces alleged to have been looted by Prussian officers from French country houses during the war, with altogether unnecessary importance. The Reichstag has during the past two days voted large additional military supplies with hardly any opposition, and immense bodies of troops continue to be massed on the frontier, and expulsions of everyone suspected of French sympathies in Alsace-Lorraine proceed with unlimited vigor.

In France popular feeling is growing stronger, and it is confidently expected at Paris that the present Goblet Cabinet will be overturned in order to make room for one more energetic and less disposed to bow down before Germany. The Ministers, with the exception of Boulanger, are designated as cowards by a majority of Frenchmen, who are indignant at their thoroughly apparent dread of offending Prince Bismarck.

Meanwhile, although Schnaebele is back in France, his trial is proceeding at Leipsig, with the object of proving the complicity of the French Government in the recent troubles in Alsace-Lorraine and in anti-German intrigues among the annexed populations. It is asserted that documents of a most compromising nature to the French Cabinet were found by the Germans on the person of Schnaebele, and that the Leipsig trial will result in very exacting demands for guarantee and satisfaction on the part of Bismarck to France.

Recently published official statistics show the remarkable fact that there are at the present moment over 1,200,000 Germans settled in France, of whom 900,000 are located in Paris and in the provinces lying between the metropolis and the German frontier. Many thousands of these colonists are soldiers of the reserve, and thus, if war were to be declared between France and Germany, the former would find an immense hostile army already established within her lines of defence.

A SCANDAL AT ROME.

Queen Margherete Refuses to Receive the Wife of a Minister.

LONDON, May 8.—A scandal has been revived at Rome by Queen Margherete's refusal to receive the wife of M. Crispi, the third wife of the present Minister of the Home Department. The first Madame Crispi was a Maltese peasant girl whom Crispi deserted in 1869. In 1863 he married the famous Rosalie, vivandiere of one of Garibaldi's insurrectionary battalions, keeping his first marriage a profound secret. In 1878, while Minister of the Interior, he received intelligence from Malta of the death of his first wife and straightway proceeded to marry wife No. 3 on the ground that his marriage with Rosalie was invalid by reason of bigamy. The Queen, who likes the white-haired and eccentric Rosalie very much, absolutely declines to receive Madame Crispi No. 3. What will be the result of this? Perhaps a Cabinet crisis; perhaps even worse. Mazzini always prophesied that Crispi would be the last Minister of the monarchy in Italy.

RUSSIA'S WARLIKE ASPECT.

The Leader of the War Party Very Popular at Court.

LONDON, May 8.—In Russia everything bears a warlike aspect. M. de Giers, the Foreign Minister who represents the peace party, has not yet become reconciled to M. Katkoff, nor has he been, as yet, invested with the Grand Cordon of the Order of Stanne, which the Czar announced he was about to confer upon him in token of Imperial approval of his policy. On the other hand M. Katkoff, the Russian official who is employed at Paris to look after Russian interests in the French press, and who is an ardent Pan-Slavist and friend of Katkoff, has received the same class of decoration which had been promised to De Giers. Moreover, the Czarina has forwarded to M. Katkoff, who is the leader of the war party, her portrait and that of her children inclosed in a rich diamond frame.

A Milwaukee Anarchist Sentenced.

MILWAUKEE, May 7.—Paul Grottkau, the Anarchist, who made incendiary speeches at Milwaukee Garden last May, was this morning sentenced to one year at hard labor in the House of Correction by Judge Sloan. Grottkau will be held at the county jail for a week in order to allow his attorneys to appeal to the Supreme Court for a new trial on a writ of error. At the end of that time he will be taken to the House of Correction if the Supreme Court does not grant a stay of proceedings. Mrs. A. R. Parsons, wife of the condemned Chicago Anarchist, was present when Grottkau was sentenced. The court room was packed with spectators, who manifested great interest in the case.

THE MEXICAN EARTHQUAKE.

One Hundred and Seventy Persons Reported Killed So Far.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—The Call's Guymas, Mex., special, to-night, says: The earthquake of May 2 started a terrible volcanic eruption at Baliape, destroying Moctezuma. It killed 150 persons and ignited the woods. There were also twenty killed at Oputa by the falling of the buildings. Many people were injured at Granados and Guaabar, which towns were almost completely destroyed.

Volcanic Eruptions.

NOGALES, Ariz., May 7.—Accounts received here tend to show that the report of the volcano having broken out in the Whetstone Mountains is true. A gentleman who arrived from Sonora yesterday says there is strong evidence of a volcanic eruption at a point about forty miles southeast of Magdalena, and it is confidently stated that one peak throwing out large volumes of smoke, accompanied by streams of lava, smoke and fire, can be distinctly seen from several points along the line of the Sonora Railroad. As far as can be ascertained, the volcano is in the Sierras Azul range. From the appearance of the country and the heavy earthquakes that have occurred it is believed that other volcanos will break forth in a few days.

Out of Evil Comes Good.

TUCSON, Ariz., May 7.—Another violent earthquake is reported in the San Jose Mountains, forty miles south of Fort Huachuca, in Sonora. Gen. Forsyth has sent an exploration party to investigate. The party has just returned from Santa Catalina Mountains and report the canons full of water. The water was brought to the surface by the earthquake. This is a great boon for this region, as there are thousands of acres of good farming land at the base of these mountains which only need water to make them valuable. Another good effect of the earthquake is the opening of two large gold veins, which were discovered in the Santa Catalina Mountains at a point where the whole side of the mountain slid down. Several prospecting parties left to-day to locate claims.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, May 9.

On Friday evening a little boy was sent on a message to Ringer's fruit store on Wellington-street, and on returning home commenced to run. Two large dogs, a Newfoundland and a greyhound, ran after him and began snapping at him viciously until they knocked him over, when both savagely attacked him. Mr. G. A. Weese happened to be passing and, with great difficulty, kicked the dogs off and carried the boy into a drug store, where his wounds were examined and dressed. He was bitten on the hand, legs, thigh and side, one of the wounds being very severe. The owner of the dogs declines to destroy them, but the neighbors are taking the matter up, as the boy's father is a working man and ill in bed. But for Mr. Weese's prompt rescue the boy would have been worried to death.

At a meeting of the principal and masters of Upper Canada College, held on Thursday, the following resolution, proposed by Mr. Wedd and seconded by Mr. Brown, was unanimously adopted:

The principal and masters of Upper Canada College at this their first meeting since the death of Rev. John McCaul, LL.D., desire to place on their minutes a fitting notice of the sad event. The public recognition received by Dr. McCaul many years ago, on the occasion of his retiring from the principalship of the College to fill a higher position in the University, bore ample testimony to the very great estimation in which he was then held; and the full and minute accounts of his distinguished career which have recently issued from the daily press show that his high scholarship, brilliant eloquence, indomitable energy, dignified deportment and unvarying kindliness subsequently achieved for the University the same advantages as formerly for the College. It therefore only remains for the present principal and masters to state how entirely they concur in the encomiums already bestowed upon him, and to offer to his bereaved wife and family their heartfelt sympathy.

His Excellency the Governor-General, Lady Lansdowne and suite attended the morning service yesterday in St. James' Cathedral. The vice-regal party walked to and from the cathedral, entering which they were met by Col. Growski, A. D. C. to the Queen, who escorted them to his pew.

As the Governor-General and party passed out of the grounds, hundreds of persons awaited their appearance, and His Excellency frequently raised his hat.

The Governor-General will visit the Gooderham & Worts distillery at 11 o'clock this forenoon and from there he will go to the Grand Trunk cattle byres. At 6.30 His Excellency will be presented with an address by the Board of Trade. Later on, he will be taken through Massey's, Clarke's and Gurney's manufacturing establishments. There will be a dinner party at Government House in the evening.

On Tuesday afternoon Lord Lansdowne will make a tour of the Public Schools and receive an address from the trustees. The Vice-Regal party will attend the Volunteer Monument concert at night.

On Wednesday the Governor will lunch with Lieut.-Col. Otter and the officers of "C" company at the New Fort.

Thursday forenoon is set apart for a trip to the Island with Mayor Howland, and in the afternoon a visit will be made to the Hill Crest Convalescent Home.

The Collegiate Institute will be visited Friday at 11.30.

There will be another reception Saturday afternoon.

At 1.30 yesterday morning while Night-watchman Joseph Smith was on Colborne-street he saw two men standing in front of Wm. Croft & Son's fishing tackle establishment at Colborne-street and Exchange-lane. As he advanced they ran down the lane and escaped by another lane running east. The grating over one of the cellar windows had been removed and the men were evidently burglars.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce are about to issue a new series of $10 notes. A steamship under full head of steam and making the quickest and safest passage on record is the central vignette, while the portrait of the late President Hon. W. McMaster is on the left end of the note, and that of the President, Mr. J. W. Darling, is on the right end, a linking of the old love with the new.

These appointments were gazetted on Saturday: Cassaine Langlois, Windsor, to be an Associate Coroner for the County of Essex; James Deacon, Lindsay, to be Police Magistrate for the County of Victoria.

LIVE STOCK IN THE NORTHWEST.

The Past Winter the Severest Ever Experienced on the Ranges.

MONTREAL, May 7.—Mr. J. H. Smith, representing John Swan & Sons, live stock importers of Glasgow, has just returned from an extended tour of the ranching country in the Northwest and British Columbia. He says the past winter has been the most severe for cattle ever experienced since ranching started in the Northwest, and the average loss on pilgrim cattle brought into the territories from Ontario and British Columbia will amount to from twenty to twenty-five per cent., while the loss on the old range acclimated cattle will not exceed from 8 to 10 per cent. Nine thousand head of cattle were driven over the plains from Montana to Maple Creek (263 miles east of Calgary) last year, and owing to the Montana ranges being so crowded it is expected that from 40,000 to 60,000 cattle will come into the territories this year, provided that the ninety days' quarantine of Montana cattle does not hold them back. Although beef is high at present, this state of things can last only for a short time, and cattle selling for from $50 to $55 to-day will be only worth about from $40 to $45 in less than two months' time, and in a year's time the same cattle will not be worth more than $30 to $35. Some ranchmen talked about the Hudson Bay route for their shipments of cattle. There can be no doubt but that when completed it will be of great assistance to the territories, as it will reduce the railway journey to just one-half of what it is by way of Montreal. It will then also be possible for cattle to be driven 600 to 700 miles over the plains without deteriorating them in any way, as they would be driven only some ten to fifteen miles per day, and thus would be fattening all the time, besides lessening the railway journey and expenses considerably. The Canadian Pacific charges $200 per carload from Calgary to Montreal, and is willing to reduce the rate to about $150. To encourage trade it has reduced the rates from Winnipeg from $230 to $100 per carload, while the rate from Montana to New York is $270.

A BANK'S GREAT LOSS.

A $10,000 Package Belonging to the Bank of Ottawa Missing.

OTTAWA, May 7.—The officials of the Bank of Ottawa yesterday carefully wrapped up $10,000 in crisp new bills of $10 and $20 for transshipment to their branch bank in Carleton Place. The money is missing. The bank has several outside agencies besides the one at Carleton Place, and the bank here has to keep these agencies supplied with bills. Yesterday the $10,000 for Carleton Place was forwarded by the Dominion Express. The usual manner of handing the money over to the express company was followed and the bank got a receipt. The express office here forwarded the money by the 10 o'clock train yesterday morning. It is said that the parcel containing the bills was duly checked off and that the train messenger received it. In fact, it is stated that the train messenger does not deny checking it off, and was under the impression that he put the money all right, but on reaching Britannia, about six miles from the city, he discovered that the parcel was not there. No suspicion is attached to any of the employes. The guilty person is supposed to be an outsider. It is said that a well-known thief arrived in the city yesterday and was about the station during the morning, and it is not unlikely that he may have walked off with the currency while the express packages were being transhipped

THE OPERATION OF HIGH LICENSES.

An article in the North American Review, by Mr. H.P. Crosby, deals with the question of High License, now attracting so much attention, especially in the United States, as a palliative of the evils of intemperance. The advocates of High License claim that it checks the evil by practicable means. It reduces, they say, the number of drinking places, and "at the same time, enables the community to derive a large and steady revenue from the sale of intoxicating drink." Furthermore, they claim the High License plan has the support of public opinion, and, therefore, can be enforced. In the words of the writer of the article referred to above:—

"It will not prevent a man of full age, who is neither intoxicated nor an habitual drunkard, from obtaining any kind of liquor whenever he wants it. It will not force your code of morals upon me, nor mine upon you. It will not change human nature in the slightest degree. It will merely reduce the number of saloons. This reduction will make it possible to keep the saloons under supervision, and also curtail the political influence of their proprietors over those public officials whose duty it is to enforce the excise laws. The result of this will be that the liquor men will be forced to observe the law with decency. High license will not bring the Millennium, but it will remove us a little further from the Dark Ages."

The writer, in support of his contentions, give figures. He says that, in Illinois, the High License went into effect in 1883. It had the result of closing several hundred saloons in Chicago and several thousand in the State. It increased the revenue for licenses in Chicago from $300,000 to $1,700,000 and in the State from $700,000 to $4,500,000. In 1875 Michigan had 6,444 saloons. The High license law went into effect and in 1876 the number of saloons was reduced by 1577—to 4867. Next year 881 saloons dropped out and the decrease went on till in six years—in 1883, the number of saloons was lowered to 3461, or a reduction in six years of nearly fifty percent. The writer claims that under the old prohibition law the number of saloons would have been 6,966, and adds, "taxation has spared us all this catalogue of woes, and has put into the county treasuries of the State, up to this date, a total of $8,166,921.". The article goes on to cite similar results from the operations of the High License Law in Missouri and New York City and Brooklyn. The above data furnish food for thought and for no end of argument between the advocates of restriction of the liquor traffic and those favouring its total suppression.

St. Paul's Anniversary.

Two Impressive Sermons by an Ottawa Minister—Large Congregations and Good Music.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was filled Sunday morning with an appreciative and delighted congregation, who listened intently to an excellent sermon delivered by Rev. Mr. Herridge, of Ottawa, upon the occasion of the anniversary services of the church, from the text, Romans viii, 28:

"We know that all things work together for good to them that love God."

The preacher took up the various objections to this creed of the apostle, that Christians were no better protected in this world than the wicked, that the invariability of God's law would not allow the Lord to show a Christian any favor, and other objections, explaining away each and carrying conviction to the hearts of his hearers.

IN THE EVENING

the church was crowded. The anthems by the choir, as at the morning service, were excellent. Rev. Mr. Herridge chose for his text, Chronicles I, xxiii, 14:

"Moses, the man of God."

This was a somewhat unpromising chapter, said the preacher, in which these words occur—a chapter simply of names, and you would scarcely expect to find in it anything like this. But it contains one laudable passage which challenges attention, for while all others are mentioned without comment, the writer of Chronicles singles out the name of Moses, and in after years, after he had passed away, rises to Moses a sublime pre-eminence in human history, and records the secret of his immortal greatness—Moses, the man of God. It is a curious expression, "the man of God," but it is more clearly than any other I can think of, the key-note to the character of Israel's great man. His was a changeful history, but he had all through his career a strong current of unwavering faith in Him who was invisible. He was not the man of circumstances, a man of the world, a man of self-seeking; he was a man of God, and perhaps as we trace each movement of his life we shall be able to understand something of what that means. The career of Moses seems naturally to divide itself into three equal parts—forty years from his birth to his flight from Egypt; forty years' sojourn in the land of Midian till his return to Egypt; and forty years from the time of the escape of the Israelites from the land of bondage till his death. Concerning the first part the sacred record is somewhat meagre; but its majestic silence is but too frequently broken by careless tradition. A single event is sufficient to reveal the direction of the path along which he is moving and the goal which he is most likely to reach. Tradition assures us that when the Egyptian princess saw the little ark among the waters she was struck dumb with amazement at the marvellous beauty of the child, and determined to make him her own. But at first he refused to be nourished, and when, at three years of age, a crown was jestingly placed upon his head, he hurled it to the ground. So, when he became a man, he refused a flattering alliance with an Egyptian princess. But all these manifestations of his independence are unnoticed in this portrait of Moses, and in a few graphic touches the Man of God seems to stand in clear light before us—"By faith Moses, when he was come of years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, preferring to suffer affliction with the people of God than enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season." Few young lives are there who have been placed in greater peril than Moses at the splendid court of Egypt. We are told that Moses learned all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds. The court of Egypt was at once most splendid, and voluptuous, and tyrannizing and profane. Alongside of the delights of learning it exhibited, also, the pleasures of sin, but Moses conducted himself as a man of God should do, and so, when he was come of years, he refused to be called the son of Pharoah's daughter. This is the true starting point of his history.

The preacher then went on to detail Moses' heroic and Godly resistance against the enticements of the corrupt but glittering Egyptian court; his slaying of the Egyptian and his consequent flight from Egypt; his solitary dwelling as an humble shepherd in the land of Midian, for forty years, which time he spent in deep reflection—a necessary operation, the preacher pointed out, to the formation of true character; then his return to Egypt, the deliverance of the children of Israel, and their wanderings in the desert were mentioned, the sermon being concluded by a touching reference to Moses' death on Mount Nebo, at the age of 120 years; "his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated." The preacher drew practical lessons from the life of Moses, who, in being the true man of God, has become immortal.

This evening in St. Paul's Church a service of song will be held by the choir. A silver collection will be taken at the door.

The steamer can be floated easily.

The Buyers Make a Purchase.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 6.—It is reported on the best authority that Dwyer Bros. to-day bought Kenmont, the Nashville Monomaniac, from the Auburn, Ind., stables, for $15,000 cash. Egmont sold as a yearling in 1884 for $375.

The "Jubilee" Race Meeting.

LONDON, May 6.—This was the first day of the "Jubilee" race meeting at Kempton Park. The race for the Queen's Cup (handicap) of 1000 sovereigns, for 3-year-olds and upwards, 5 furlongs, was won by Frederick Coste's colt [illegible].

An Irishman's Boil.

We are surrounded by difficulties and dangers, said Pat, from the cradle to the grave, and the only wonder is that we ever live long enough after having the one to reach the other. The greatest danger lies in allowing the seeds of disease to be sown in our system. If you feel dull and drowsy, have frequent headaches, bad taste in mouth coated tongue, poor appetite, you are suffering from a torpid liver. Take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" if you would destroy these seeds and avoid reaping a harvest of suffering and death. 6dw18

A Good Life Preserver.

T. Milburn & Co., March 16th, 1886.

I was completely relieved from that dreadful disease dyspepsia, with only four bottles of that life preserver—B. B. B., and cheerfully recommend it to any one subject to such disease. P. Downey, Morrisburgh, Ont. 2w17d

World-wide is the reputation of West's Cough Syrup, the truly marvellous remedy for coughs, colds, croup, whooping-cough, asthma and consumption. All druggists.

Astonishing Success

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 60,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it, sample bottles to try, only 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada. eodw4

Honest and True.

This is the eminently the case with Polson's Nerviline, the great pain cure. It is an honest remedy, for it contains the most powerful, the purest, and most certain pain subduing remedies known to medical science. It is honest, for it does all it claims to do. It is honest because it is the best in the world. It only costs 10c or 25 cents to try it, and you can buy a bottle at any drug store. Nerviline cures toothache, neuralgia, pain in the back and side. All pains are promptly relieved by Polson's Nerviline. 6dw19

Woe to the Home.

Now is the time when the man who keeps hens begins to be viewed with intense anxiety by his neighbors who have gardens.

A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

The Last Year 1886.

After the above year is ended there need be no person suffering from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Lumbago, or any acute pain, if they only purchase a bottle of Fluid Lightning, as it cures instantly. Pain cannot stay where it is used. The name is Fluid Lightning. Sold by John McKee Druggist. eodw19

Personal.

George Legault, of Tayside, Ont., says he can heartily recommend Yellow Oil as the best reliever of rheumatic pain, his father and mother having suffered for years with rheumatism, and all remedies failed except Yellow Oil. 2w17d

McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Cerate.

Have you an old Sore, Cut, Burn, Bruise, Corn, Bunion, Salt Rheum, Pimple, Blotches, Rough Hands or Face? If so, there is but one cure, namely, McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Cerate. If you but try it, it will convince you. It costs but 25c. at John Mckee's Drug store. eodw19

A Severe Attack.

"I never felt better in my life than I have since taking Burdock Blood Bitters. I had a severe bilious attack; I could not eat for several days, and was unable to work. One bottle cured me." John M. Richards, Sr., Tara, Ont. For all bilious troubles use B. B. B. 2w17d

It is an infallible cure for croup and whooping cough. A bottle should always be kept convenient, as it is always a certain cure for coughs, colds, consumption in its early stages, bronchitis, asthma, and all throat and lung troubles. 25c., 50c. and $1 per bottle. All druggists. dwd

I found it a sure cure. I have been troubled with catarrhal deafness for seven or eight years with a roaring noise in my head. I bought medicine in 13 states but nothing helped me till I procured a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. In four days I could hear as well as ever. I consider Ely's Cream Balm the best medicine ever made.—GARRETT WIDRICK, Hastings, N. Y.

I have used Ely's Cream Balm for dry Catarrah (to which every Eastern person is subject who comes to live in a high altitude.) It has proved a cure in my case.—B. F. M. WEEKS, Denver, Col. eodw19

Great Sweating Sores rapidly heal under its benign influence. Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution, will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this God-given remedy, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now concentrated remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills, alternating with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy borebodings, irregular appetite, and coated tongue, you are suffering from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Consumption, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. Send ten cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's book on Consumption. Sold by Druggists.

The most pleasing thing to us is when the Ladies look around and examine goods and prices elsewhere. It increases our sales and proves the stability of our Merchandise and prices.

We sincerely hope that ladies will shop more, as it will be beneficial to them and certainly will be to us.

High-priced houses never wish customers to leave their store until the purchases are made.

—Gloves & Hosiery.—

The popularity that our Kid Glove Department has attained, is only another proof that we are not only selling the most Gloves, but also the best fitting ones at such remarkably low prices that it leaves all pretended competitors in the lurch.

The Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, MAY 9, 1887.

LOCAL NEWS.

Explanation.

J. J. Sheehy's card to the public appears in this edition of the EXAMINER on the first page.

Succumbed to the Heat.

Sunday evening a lady fainted in St Luke's Church from the effects of the oppressive heat.

Weddings.

As May is considered an unlucky month for weddings, those contemplating matrimony had better avail themselves of April and tell their friends to patronize China Hall for wedding presents.

For reliable Kid Gloves, try the Alexandre make; to be had, in all the leading shades, at Turnbull's.

King Solomon's Mines

May have contained its dazzling treasures, but even they had nothing so suited to every day life as China Hall. Coloured tea sets at $2.50, and glass sets (6 pieces) at 30 cents.

Short Nights.

As the days become longer, we can afford to use more artificial light, and reading or sewing by lamp light may become a new pleasure by buying China Hall's famous Coal Oils. Same prices as inferior oils.

Kidd beats them all for low prices and good goods. Ladies button boots, 70c., lace boots 55c., men's long boots, $1.45.

Sanitation.

The police are still busy making their tours of inspection of back yards. Over 100 notices have been served, but as a general thing the townspeople with notable exceptions keep their premises in good order.

Further Favored.

Mr. Andrew McNeil, secretary of the Oddfellows' Celebration Committee, has received letters from the G. T. R. and C. P. R. companies, agreeing to extend the excursion limits to Brockville and Ottawa at the same rates as published in the EXAMINER last week.

The New Post Office.

The ways of Governments are strange and still it seems it is undecided where the new post-office shall be. While there is doubt about this fact, there is no doubt that the Town Clock Grocery (W. J. Morrow) is the best place in town to get the finest freshest groceries, freshest eggs, sweetest butter, cheapest teas and sugar. Highest qualities of goods; lowest kinds of prices. call and be convinced.

A New Peanut Butcher.

Walter Kerr has started a peanut and candy stand at the corner of Simcoe and George streets, and invites public patronage. The necessary funds for such an undertaking were secured by subscription, many gentlemen making liberal donations. Walter says he is going to give the Italians a keen competition.

Its Demerits.

The scaffolding has been removed from the outside of the new post office, and the building is now open to unobstructed view. Opinion is divided as to its architectural beauty, except, perhaps, on one point, the unanimous decision being, that the lowness of the tower detracts greatly from the general appearance, and also from the usefulness of the clock as observed from the west, the lower half of the dial being shut from view by an interposing gable.

Special.

Dr. C. A. McRae, one of Dr. Kergan's surgeons, will be at the Grand Central Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, May 7th, 8th and 9th, when he can be consulted free on all private and chronic diseases. The doctor is considered by Dr. Kergan to be the most thoroughly honest, experienced and skilful man he ever had on his staff, and those who have ever consulted him have been of the same opinion. If unwell, avail yourself of this opportunity and consult Dr. C. A. McRae, who will give you a free, candid and correct opinion of your case. d3t

High Court of Justice.

Sitting of the Spring Assizes, County of Peterborough.

The Spring Assizes of the county of Peterborough opened at the Court House at one o'clock this afternoon before Mr. Justice O'Connor. The bar was represented as follows:—R. B. Osler, Q. C., H. G. Bigelow, R. E. Wood, C. C. A., E. H. D. Hall, G. W. Sewers, W. H. Moore, John Green, W. A. Stratton, and E. B. Stone.

The following Grand Jury was impannelled:—

THOMAS E. FITZGERALD, Foreman.

Thomas Blezard,	Lawrence St. G. Steele,
Robert Deneh,	John Savigney,
A. W. Dafoe,	Thomas Telford,
Wm. Ferguson,	Joseph Forster,
Robt. Graham,	Dennis Harley,
William Irwin,	David Kelly,
Henry LeBrun,	John Lees,
D. D. McIntyre,	R. W. Muncaster,
C. D. Moore,	W. E. Roxburgh,
R. B. McKee,	B. R. Matthews,
Wm. Redpath,	Arthur Rutherford,
Charles McGill.

ADDRESS TO THE JURY.

His Honor in addressing the Grand Jury congratulated them on the fact that the criminal docket was not very large or the offences serious, except, perhaps, the case of infanticide, which was so serious that the law made it equal to murder. The jury, he said, must be satisfied from the evidence, first that the child was alive, and next that there was the intention to commit the crime. He warned them against the mistake that Grand Juries sometimes make, in thinking they should try the case, as they very often do. But their duty was merely to examine the witnesses, and upon their evidence bring in a true bill, if they were convinced therefrom that the prisoners should be put upon their trial. His Honor, after referring to the perjury case, gave the jurymen some instructions regarding the means of finding a true bill, and referring to the calendar before him, was surprised to find that no less than five lunatics were imprisoned in the county gaol here. It seemed to him that insanity was on the increase in Canada, and he could see no reason why. But such was the fact, and in every gaol in the country there was from one to half a dozen lunatics confined. He also referred to the fact that seven vagrants were confined in the Peterborough gaol, which he likewise considered unaccountable in such a prosperous county. However, it was their duty to investigate these things and make such remarks as they thought proper.

The jury then retired, and after the petit jury had been sworn, the first case was called, as follows:

BOUCHER VS. SAWERS.—This is a suit for the amount of an account due the plaintiff by the defendant. The defendant offered half the amount, but the plaintiff would not accept and demanded full payment. The defendant then resisted payment and alleges negligence and unskilfulness on the part of the plaintiff. Doctors Aikens, Bethune, Richardson, Fulton and Cameron, of Toronto, and Doctors Halliday, King and Douglass, of Peterborough, are giving expert testimony on behalf of the plaintiff, and Doctors Fred. Sawers, of Rochester, Kincaid and Clark, of Peterborough, and Might, of Port Hope, are giving like testimony on behalf of the defendant. The sad accident giving rise to this suit is still fresh in the memory of our readers. The case is proceeding as we go to press.

The Baseball Match.

The First Match of the Season—Some Good Ball Tossers in Peterborough.

Saturday afternoon about four o'clock a game of baseball was begun on the P. A. A. A. grounds between the Association men and the "Rankers." Only six innings were played, the Association club having an easy victory, due, in a large measure, to their pitcher, Fitzgerald, who throws a very swift ball with a good curve. The match was played under the new baseball rules, which among other things gives the batter 4 strikes and the pitcher only 5 balls. Some good individual play was done, Mr. J. H. Long making two fine field catches. Dr. Brennan earned for himself the reputation of being the heavy "slugger" of the club, his ponderous strikes splitting two of the bats. Another match will be played at an early date. Following is the composition of the teams, etc:—

RANKERS.		ASSOCIATION.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Rankers	2	1	3	0	0	0	—6
Association	4	4	1	0	6	0	—15

Arrived at Turnbull's by express, several quite new and stylish shapes in Bonnets and Hats, such as the Graceful, Tandan, Toboggan, Sylvia, Northwood, Essex, and others too numerous to mention.

Her First Trip.

The steamer Golden Eye has been prepared for the season's navigation and will make her first trip to Harwood and Idyl Wyld on Wednesday morning.

The Queen's Jubilee.

All loyal citizens of the Empire are urged to remember the public meeting to be held in the council Chamber this evening to consider steps for the proper celebration of the Queen's Jubilee year. It is especially important that the members of representative society or school committees should be present. Let there be a grand rally.

Evangelistic Services.

Wednesday and Thursday evening's services in the Mission School house, by Mr. Rich, were well attended, while on Friday evening, the last of the series, he gave a parting address to the young converts. Mr. Rich goes to Millbrook, where it is to be hope the same success in the good work will attend him.

See Turnbull's Carpets at 10c., 12½c., 15c., 17c., 20c. and 25c. a yard. Good patterns and grand value.

A Wandering Lunatic.

A harmless lunatic named Kane, who has been confined in the gaol here for a long time, wandered away from the premises yesterday. He was seen in the Township of Smith, inquiring his way back to the gaol, but as he has not yet appeared, he is supposed to have again taken a wrong road. The gaol authorities are searching for him, and he has likely by this time been returned to his "home." His prison suit created consternation among those who saw him, thinking him a dangerous escaped prisoner.

—A young man in a Hunter street hotel Sunday night, in raising the window of his room in the third flat, by some means loosened it so that the whole frame fell out to the sidewalk below, making an unearthly crash. He had plenty of ventilation the rest of the evening.

The Flower Industry.

Peterborough's Flourishing Floral Establishments.

Peterborough despite what gets the name of being practically progressive and hard-headed in business matters, yet there is a broad æsthetic side to the interests of our citizens. This is shown in the beautiful nature of our public and private business blocks, and also more largely in the adornment by tree and flower of private premises. The taste for flowers, especially, "grows with that it feeds on." Only a few years ago the culture of flowers was conducted in an intermittent and spasmodic manner, and there was no one making a business of their culture for commercial purposes. Now we have in our midst two extensive and complete establishments, equal in all respects, except high prices, to the city conservatories. In these will be found a "wilderness of sweets" of infinite variety from "the bright, consummate flower," the queenly rose, to Chaucer's

"daisie, or eis the eye of the day.
The empryse and floure of floures all."

The flourishing existence of these establishments prove the development and refinement of the public taste, and the demand created thereby severely taxes the increased capacities of our local floral farms.

MASON'S GREEN HOUSES

are situated alongside the spur of the Midland R. R. just north of the Barnardo Home and are at present in their busiest season. They comprise, including hot bed frames, 6,000 square feet of glass. One of the green houses, 100 x 20 feet, is filled at present largely with seedling flower plants for bedding purposes. But the demands of the trade will compel Mr. Mason, this season, to build a large propagating house. The other green house of similar size contains thousands of plants for bedding purposes also, and for house culture, and the hot bed frames contain an immense supply of vegetable plants such as tomatoes, cabbages etc. The present demand for Mason's stock is, of course, immense, not only the home demands but those of his shipping trade. He ships large quantities to the surrounding towns and villages. Through the medium of the handsome quarterly magazine issued by him, the Canadian Florist and Cottage Gardener, a large outside demand has arisen and Mr. Mason fills numerous orders by mail, some coming from as far as Victoria, British Columbia, and only on Saturday he received from Portage La Prairie, the duplication of an order filled last year, showing how safely flower plants can be sent by mail. Mr. Mason has an unlimited supply of superior house and bedding flower plants and vegetable plants. These are to be found at his green houses and also at his down town conservatory opposite the market square.

WEST END GREENHOUSE.

A Floral Establishment of which the town may well be proud, is that conducted by Mr. A. Blade, Park street, ("Cordach" the residence of Mr. Geo. M. Roger). This business has been in existence about five years, and its greenhouses have been added to every year, the addition this season consisting of 30x20 feet, and their is now a continuous stretch of conservatory 90x20 feet besides two propagating houses and the business demands that the extension be pushed 90 feet further towards Park street which will be done this year, and will make a continuous stretch of conservatory of 180x20 feet, as against one little greenhouse, five years ago, 30x12 feet. Here are kept in stock a supply of immense extent and variety, including flower plants for house and bedding purposes and every kind of vegetable plant. With all the enlargement of the capacity of the establishment, the demand still keeps pace with the supply, and it is yearly growing greater. The circle of patronage extends beyond a local trade, and is being pushed into surrounding towns and villages, some orders being received from and west of Toronto.

Thus it will be seen that the culture of flowers is a matter of growing importance in Peterborough, and the business here is a firmly established one, and one of considerable extent, the two establishments giving remunerative employment to over a score of persons. Much more of great interest on the subject, might be written, but the present demands on the space of the EXAMINER, make it compulsory to defer to another time the pleasure of dealing more fully with the subject.

News Nuggets.

—Lakefield has an organized baseball club.

—Adjutant Bolton, of Peterborough, and officers of surrounding district, will assist in a Salvation Army jubilee at Lakefield this (Monday) evening.

—Thomas Johnston, of Duck Pond, near Port Hope, hanged himself Friday last. Last Tuesday he sustained a severe fall which is supposed to have affected his reason; hence the suicide.

—Saturday night two young men were scuffling on Simcoe street, when one of them went through the window of Mrs. Brown's millinery store. They paid the damage.

—Mr. Sid Hunter, son of Mr. Jos. Hunter of Smith, had his collar bone broken last Thursday by being crowded against the side of the stall by his horse.

—Mr. Kidd exhibits in the show window of his boot and shoe store an immense eagle, measuring 7 feet from tip to tip, weighing 14 lbs., which was poisoned by his brother last winter.

It seems that the light so unaccountably found in Scheffield's drug store Saturday morning had been placed there by P. C's. Pidgeon and McGinty, who, during the night, had found the door open and left the lamp burning as a beacon of warning.

—Sunday fishing is in order now. Yesterday the river was lined with youths angling earnestly, while earlier in the day adults were also engaged in seeking piscatorial plunder; but they, having some regard for public opinion, of which the small boy is void, had quit their unseemly sport.

Preparing for Their Picnic.

At a recent congregational meeting of St. Peter's Cathedral, it was decided to hold the annual picnic on the Murray street grounds on June 21st, the day of celebration of the Queen's Jubilee year. As the congregation are beginning preparations at this early period, it is confidently expected that this year's picnic will eclipse all former ones. Arrangements on the most complete scale are being made.

J. J. SHEEHY.

I beg to say that contrary to announcements which appeared in the Peterborough papers for the past two months, I do not intend to remove to T. Dolan & Co's Dry Goods Store, nor have I any connections whatever with that establishment. The final arrangements not being satisfactory to me, I withdraw from the projected change, and intend carrying on the Dry Goods business in my usual stand next to Loch's Hat Store.

It is my intention in the future as in the past to show at all seasons nothing but new and fresh goods in the various lines at Dry Goods and Gents' furnishings; and by doing so, hope to retain that confidence, which, I am proud to say, I have enjoyed from the public since commencing business two years ago. d&w

THE ESTIMATES DOWN

AN AMOUNT OF $49,391,189 REQUIRED FOR THE YEAR.

OTTAWA, May 9.—The estimates are down. Sir Charles Tupper laid them on the table the first thing, and they were referred at once to the Committee on Supply. The estimates are for the expenditure for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1888. The total amount estimated as necessary during the coming year is $42,221,-122. Of this $35,041,855 is chargeable to the consolidated fund for current expenditure, and $7,279,327 is charged to capital account. The increases over the present year are $1,724,474, and the decreases $826,814, leaving the net increases, $825,000. The chief increases are: Public debt, $439,835; civil government, $30,-875; legislation, $102,375; arts, agriculture and statistics, $82,333; militia, $57,000; administration of justice, $18,100; ocean and river service, $21,550; subsidies to provinces, $304,720; miscellaneous, $102,107.

For the collection of revenue the estimates show a net increase of $367,275, of which $235,837 is for railways, $224,000 of the latter sum being for repairs and working expenses of the Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island Railways. Of the increase chargeable to capital the sum of $940,268 is for the redemption of public debt and $151,000 for railways and canals. Under the head of art, etc., is the sum of $97,333, the contribution of Canada towards the memorial of the jubilee of the Queen's reign, viz.: the Imperial Institute of the United Kingdom, the Colonies and India, and $60,000 outlay for establishing and maintaining experimental farms.

Under the head of permanent corps, artillery, cavalry and infantry is the sum of $482,700, an increase of $47,000 over the present year. A new item of $10,000 appears for barracks in British Columbia, and for rolling stock on the Intercolonial is the sum of $315,000; for the Halifax extension; $11,000; for the construction of the Cape Breton Railway, $800,000; for the canal at Sault Ste. These last three items are chargeable to capital.

The following are the estimated expenditures on public works chargeable to income: Prince Edward Island, $[illegible]; New Brunswick, $[illegible],200; Nova Scotia, $[illegible]; for maritime provinces [illegible]; Quebec, $82,000; Ontario, $[illegible]; British Columbia, Northwest Territories, [illegible]; [illegible], $13,000. For Keewatin harbor, $20,000; which $5000 is for land and rabbit [illegible] and islands on the Lower St. [illegible] for experimental farms, $60,000; [illegible], $142,700. A sum of $5000 is [illegible] a commission to enquire into the [illegible] fisheries.

Outside the above items are the following: Belleville Harbor $[illegible], Cobourg Harbor $6000, Collingwood Harbor $[illegible]; general repairs and improvements on Lake Ontario [illegible]; Hilton Harbor $[illegible], Kincardine $[illegible], Kingston $[illegible], Kingsville $[illegible], Little Current $[illegible], Port Elgin $[illegible], Sault Ste. Marie $[illegible], Toronto Observatory gets $[illegible], Kingston and Montreal $[illegible] each; general meteorological service, including cost of telegraphing, etc., $[illegible], an increase of $[illegible].

The heat to-day inside and out was almost unbearable. The mercury stood at 88 in the shade, and after the House had been in session a couple of hours the chamber resembled a brick kiln. The general hilarity of the occasion was not increased by a long and excessively dull and dry debate on a subject that has already been discussed three times at length and don't amount to anything anyhow. It is the old subject of the gassetting of the returns by the Clerk.

Sir John will move the appointment of the Deputy Speaker to-morrow.

Mr. Robertson of Shelbourne was served with a writ to-day.

Mr. McCarthy introduced his long promised bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act. In explanation, he said that one object of the bill was to simplify proceedings where a petition was presented for the abolition of the Scott Act or the revocation of the order-in-council bringing the act into force. At present the forms given which are applicable for its introduction are changed to suit proceedings on repeal. Difficulties had arisen and the provision in the bill made it clear which side the electors would be voting on. Other objects were to repeal the clause compelling men and wife to give evidence and provide that they may be competent but not compellable witnesses, and also to provide that a brewer in a Scott Act county who, under the law as at present, can sell beer and cider in another county may sell in the county in which he resides. These are the principal provisions of the bill.

It is currently rumored that C. H. McIntosh, ex-M.P., will be the new Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories. His friends are desirous that his abilities and services in the party should be recognized in this way.

TASCHEREAU AND MERCIER.

A Letter From the Cardinal on the Jesuit Bill and the Premier's Reply.

QUEBEC, May 9.—The correspondence exchanged between Cardinal Taschereau and Premier Mercier since the passing of the Jesuit Bill is published this morning, and shows that something very like a complete rupture has taken place between the two. In his last letter the Cardinal says:

It is in vain after this that you assert your great respect for me personally and the other Canadian prelates and your submission to their simplest desire on religious matters. I cannot admit that the question is so completely a civil one, that the bishops have nothing to do with it. I do not reproach you for your devotion to your old professors, but I complain of the language you used toward the episcopacy and your persistence in refusing to them a thing altogether right and which, without hurting anybody, could only contribute to the maintenance of peace between Church and State.

In his final reply the Hon. Mr. Mercier says:

It is evidently useless for me to try to explain myself to your Eminence. You will have it that I am in the wrong in daring to defend the cause of these holy men. In a Catholic House in France the legislature expel the Jesuits and refuse the rights of other citizens. In the Province of Quebec legislators protect and grant these civil rights. In France the legislators are rightly censured by the religious authorities because of this iniquitous persecution. In this province legislators are threatened with the displeasure of a prince of the Church because they have deemed it their duty to sustain the Jesuits.

I must avow that I cannot understand these strange anomalies. But no matter. I shall not the less remain submissive to the religious authorities.

THE NANAIMO CATASTROPHE.

Bringing Up the Victims From the Fatal Pit.

NEW YORK, May 8.—A despatch from Nanaimo, B.C., says: Thirty-five bodies were recovered from the mine yesterday. Up to noon seventeen white men had been brought up and more were coming. The names of the seventeen were as follows: Jas. Thomas, John Richards, Thos. Martin, Edward Wilkins, William Bane, Jos. Bains, Joseph Watson, Jas. Milton, Edward John, John J. Smith, Edward Devlin, Joseph Thompson, David Morgan, John C. Fallas, Jonathan Bramley, jr., Arthur alias Jas. Campbell. A shovel was found, on which was written with chalk:

"Thirteen hours and now dying in misery.
(Signed) JOHN EVANS."

Evans was 22 years old. The men were thus evidently conscious for thirteen hours after the explosion, and some may have survived five or six hours longer. The fire is now nearly under control and it is hoped all the bodies will be recovered within the next few days.

SIR WILLIAM YOUNG DEAD.

The Ex-Chief Justice of Nova Scotia Passes Away in His 88th Year.

HALIFAX, May 8.—Sir William Young, ex-Chief Justice of Nova Scotia, died to-night. He was in the 88th year of his age. He was admitted to the bar in 1825. In 1860 he became Chief Justice of the province, a position in which he was succeeded in 1881 by Mr. Macdonald, the present Chief Justice. He was knighted in 1869. Lady Young died some years ago. They had no family.

HAMILTON AFFAIRS.

An Incendiary Fire—A Case of Child Desertion—Two Runaways.

HAMILTON, May 9.—Mrs. Farthing has been sent to the Mercer Reformatory for one year for keeping a disorderly house on Rebecca-street.

The case against Anthony Doherty for committing an aggravated assault upon Bessie Nawn, was, upon motion of the prosecution, adjourned till Wednesday.

A fire broke out in an empty house on Kingstreet west to-day. An alarm was given and the department responded quickly. The fire was found to have started under the stairway, and was put out without any further damage.

The ladies who held the Washington Tea Bazaar deserve credit for the faithful way in which they worked for the benefit of the Church. About $600 was realized during the three days.

Nearly 1000 people attended the first union temperance meeting at Arcade Hall yesterday afternoon. A fine choir and good speakers edified the assembly. Meetings will be held once a month during the summer.

Senator Sanford will take a trip to Europe sometime next month.

On Saturday evening Mr. Miller of Catherine-street made a strange discovery on entering his house. It was an infant about 4 weeks old, left there by some unknown person. An investigation is being made, as some of the infant's clothes had the hospital mark upon them.

Two orphans, Henry Elliott and Joseph Shepherd, ran away from the Orphans' House. They are about 10 and 12 years old and were dressed in dark tweed

The American Exhibition Opened.

LONDON, May 9.—The American Exhibition was formally opened to-day. The weather was clear and sunny and about 7000 persons attended. The bursting of a boiler during the morning prevented the starting of the machinery, otherwise the program of the opening was carried out. Hundreds of visitors ignored the ceremony of opening the regular exhibition and rushed to the grounds where the Wild West Show was performing.

A Hungarian Arms Factory.

VIENNA, May 8.—Nordenfeldt is about to sign a contract with the Hungarian Government for the establishment of a factory at Pesth for the manufacture of small arms. The capital of the concern will be 4,000,000 florins. Hungary will relist the land on which the factory will be built free of rent, and will exempt the property from payment of taxes for fifteen years. It also exempts from duty all imported machinery which will be used in the factory, and [illegible]

O'BRIEN JUST AT HAND

AT LEAST HE IS SOMEWHERE IN THE FOG AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The Umbria, with William O'Brien on board, is still down the bay and will not be able to reach her pier before morning.

Montreal Preparing to Receive Him.

MONTREAL, May 9.—A meeting of the committee appointed to make arrangements for the reception of O'Brien met to-night. A slight change was made in the dates on which he will visit the different cities. He is to lecture here on Wednesday, at Quebec on Tuesday, at Ottawa on Saturday, at Kingston on Monday and at Toronto on Tuesday. Invitations from Hamilton and Pembroke had to be declined as he can only spend ten days in the country. On arrival here on Tuesday night he will be received by a guard of honor of the Irish societies and escorted to a hotel, where he will be received by the presidents of the various Irish societies in regalia and be presented with an address of welcome, congratulating him on the position he has taken in organizing the plan of campaign and bringing to light the Dublin Castle scandals.

Mr. Lane, Secretary of the local branch of the Irish National League, received a telegram from J. J. Delaney, President of the New York branch, asking him to postpone the Montreal meeting till May 13, as they wanted O'Brien at a big demonstration to be held in New York to-morrow. Mr. Lane replied that the dates had been arranged by cable, and that it was too late to change them now. If the Montreal meeting were postponed all the other meetings would have to be postponed also.

A telegram was received from John Fitzgerald of Hudson, Neb., appealing to Mr. Lane's patriotism, and saying that the demonstration at New York would lend colat to O'Brien's visit. Mr. Lane replied to the effect that Mr. Fitzgerald should mind his own business; that patriotism had nothing to do with the matter, as the New York demonstration could not possibly help us in Canada. He also telegraphed O'Brien at the Hoffman House, New York, that he must come on at once, and advising him not to pay head to New York Irishmen, who were endeavoring to get him to stay over. He thought the proper time for the Irishmen of New York to get up a demonstration was when O'Brien was about to return home.

New York Will Furnish a Body Guard.

NEW YORK, May 9.—At the Hoffman House meeting of the representatives of the Irish societies to arrange for the reception of William O'Brien, Mr. Lynch, of the Home Rule Club, moved that a committee be appointed to escort Mr. O'Brien to Canada. Mr. Miles O'Brien said that this evolved a very delicate question in view of the present strained relations between the United States and Canada. It was finally resolved to lay the matter on the table until Editor O'Brien could be consulted. The following address has been prepared for presentation to the agitator:

DEAR SIR.—On behalf of the Irish-American people of our great city we welcome you heartily and cordially to New York. You are no stranger in a strange land, for beyond the brief period of your former stay in this country you have found lodgment in our hearts, and we welcome you again and again. We honor you for the years of service which have made your name a household word, for, wherever the exiled children of our race dwell, there is the name of William O'Brien revered and respected.

When five years ago you went down to Mallow, your native town, to stand as the Nationalist candidate, your success caused dismay to Ireland's enemies and gave a death blow to the rotten borough system, so well adapted to the needy placemen who are ever ready to placate power and worship the golden calf.

It is not necessary to follow the record of your Parliamentary career. In the light of the splendid services of the Irish party no better eulogium is required than to say you performed your whole duty, disregarding every consideration of health and looking to Ireland's welfare alone. But perhaps the highest claim you have on our affection is your position as editor of United Ireland. In the darkest hours of almost hopeless despair the clarion voice of Ireland's greatest journalist rang out in thunder tones sentiments that made the enemies of the people writhe 'neath the lash of one who never knew fear.

The jury packer paused in his foul work, partisan judges and every tool of tyranny cowered under the exposure that brought their infamy to light. Coercion and a free press cannot co-exist and the sad truth forth that United Ireland must be suppressed and its editor imprisoned. In vain doth the heartless tyrant rage, and so with renewed vigor you carried on the warfare and tore the mask from the unspeakable orgies of the Castle.

Moral and political corruption go hand in hand, so when, in God's providence, Ireland shall gain the inestimable boon of self-government a grateful people will not forget your services in wielding them or a cancerous plague that had cursed Dublin for years.

And now, sir, in conclusion, we trust in the mission on which you are engaged will be eminently successful. In it you have our hearty support, and we wish you God speed in your endeavor to save the people of Ireland from the sentences of death to which alien landlordism would gladly consign them.

Thanks to the National League, to the indomitable spirit of our people in Ireland and to the moral and material aid they obtain here and elsewhere, the battle is progressing gloriously and omens of certain victory in the coming time are clear to every discerning mind. We much mistake our reception in Canada if you do not receive from them a genuine Irish welcome. Already the action of the sympathizers of representative Canadians through their Parliament has been heard and they have spoken with no uncertain words. This warrants us in expecting a renewal of the cordial and sincere expressions of moral support and such evident acts of friendship as will give an earnest of their friendly feeling to the cause you represent.

This we do know, you have the kindest wishes of the Irish-Americans of New York, and we trust that you will ever retain pleasant memories of them.

You can assure Mr. Parnell and his colleagues of our fullest confidence in them, and our determination to continue the struggle until the red shall crown the work in the resurrection to Ireland of self-government and the freedom which we Americans justly regard as our dearest and most sacred possession.

THE CONFEDERATION LIFE.

The report of the fifteenth annual meeting of the Confederation Life Association, published in this issue, is most satisfactory, not only to the shareholders themselves but to the public who, observing the success and solid progress resulting from careful and conservative business methods, will have their confidence in the safety and stability of the Association strengthened and confirmed. For the eleven months of 1886 the business done, showed an increase of $497,082 of insurance over the full twelve months of 1885. This increase is a sound one, not based on any specious expedients involving flashy appeals to the cupidity of investors in life assurance. The company has adopted reasonable rates, and has conducted business on well tried lines of life insurance, and no insurers have been deluded by experimental inducements, and there is, therefore, no chance for subsequent failure on the part of the company, and subsequent repentance on the part of insurers. The death claims, calling for only $89,948.85, which includes bonus and interim bonus additions, shows that great care is used in the selection of risks, and the insured feels a reassurance that the integrity of his policy will not be vitiated by risky risks; and in addition it is to be noted that the interest secured more than met these claims. A careful perusal of the report will show the public interested that the Confederation Life Association exercises the utmost care to protect the interests of insurers, ever doing so at the expense of the shareholders, as shown by the fact that the sum of $61,364.45 is left undistributed, in order to be prepared for, at present, unforseen contingencies. Another element of confidence, especially to the public in this vicinity, is, that Mr. Harry Rush represents the company in this town. His well-known business ability and business probity will tend to increase the confidence which the public has every reason to feel in the Confederation Life Assurance Association.

CONFEDERATION LIFE ASSOC'N.

Proceedings of the Fifteenth Annual Meeting,

Held at the Head Office, Toronto Street, Toronto, on Tuesday, April 12th, 1887, at 2 p.m.

The meeting was well attended by Policy holders, Shareholders and others interested.

The President was elected Chairman, and J. K. Macdonald, Secretary of the meeting.

The Chairman called upon the Secretary to read the notice calling the meeting, which was done.

The Minutes of the last Annual Meeting were taken as read.

The President then submitted the Fifteenth Annual Report as follows:—

The close of the year 1886 completes the three quinquennial periods of the Association's existence, and the results, from whatever standpoint viewed, afford striking evidence of true progress.

It is, therefore, with a large measure of satisfaction that the Directors meet the Policyholders and Shareholders in the fifteenth Annual meeting with evidences of success unequalled in the history of Canadian Life Companies. It has continued to be the aim of the Directors to secure business at reasonable rates, and hence they have avoided the extravagance in that direction which too strongly marks the struggle for pre-eminence between Life Insurance Companies. A safe business, on only well-tried lines of insurance, has been sought for, and therefore all merely specious plans, which, in the opinion of the Directors, are certain to prove delusive, have been avoided. The adoption of such plans, and a less conservative course in caring for the Policyholders' money, would have led to a largely increased volume of business; but, if that course had been adopted, a less satisfactory balance sheet and a decreased surplus would have been the result.

During the year (including 112 re-assurances for $173,250 from the Life Association of Canada), 1,919 applications for a total assurance of $2,977,100 were received. Of these, 1,512 for $2,794,100 were approved, and 107 for $183,000 were declined. It should be mentioned that these results represent only eleven months' work, and yet, as compared with the full year 1885, the eleven months' work shows an increase of 427 accepted applications for $497,062 of assurance.

No stronger evidence than the above can well be offered of the appreciation by the public of the special advantages afforded by the Association's high standard of security, and liberal terms and results, combined with only sound plans of insurance.

At the close of the year the register showed the following business in force:—9,493 policies on 8,476 lives, for $14,679,474 of assurance.

In the matter of the re-assurances from the Life Association, and the consideration allowed for the same, the Directors might have charged only a part to the expenses of the year, carrying the balance to some such account as "Commuted Commissions;" but such a course would have been contrary to the practice of this Company, and while apparently increasing the surplus, would have been entirely worthless either as a security or for division, and therefore the consideration was charged in full to the expenses of the year. A sound balance sheet will steadily compensate for a slight increase in the expense ratio.

The Death Claims for the year were again favorable, calling for $85,948.85, which includes bonus (and interim bonus) additions, under 56 policies on 49 lives. This fact sufficiently attests the care exercised in the admission of members. It will be observed that the interest received more than provided for the claims.

The usual Financial Statements, duly certified, are submitted herewith. It cannot fail to be a source of satisfaction to all interested in the Company to note the rapid growth in volume and strength which these statements indicate. The following increases on the showing at the close of 1886 are worthy of note:—

	Premiums	Interest and Rents,	Reserve,
Increase	$95,491 20	$13 919 91	$291,855 77
	Assets.	Surplus.
	$266,875 25	$89,251 07

In the opinion of the Directors, the time has arrived when the rate of interest used in calculating the policy liabilities should be reduced from four and one-half per cent. to four per cent. The large increase in the Reserve, amounting as nearly to $300,000, will indicate how fully provision has been made for the future payments, which are sure to be required. So thoroughly has the necessity for absolute safety been realized by the Board, which, in the face of the greatly reduced rate of interest now (and likely to be) obtainable on first-class investments, can only be assured by reducing the assumed rate of interest, that they have determined to hold a large sum undistributed. Larger profits to the policy-holders at the present time would be but a poor compensation for a possible inability to provide at an early day for the greater liability which will be occasioned by the Government compelling the assumption of four per cent. in calculating the Reserves. The Directors mean to be prepared, and will therefore hold for that purpose and for unforseen contingencies the sum of $61,364.45 undistributed.

It will be a cause of satisfaction to the Policyholders to learn that one-half of the ten per cent. going to the shareholders, for the past Quinquennium, has been given up, as a further protection to the Policyholders, being included in the $61,364.45 so specially reserved. This gives, practically, ninety-five per cent. of the profits of the Quinquennium to the Policyholders.

The Confederation Life has done the Canadian Public excellent service in leading up to a measure of liberality on the part of the life companies strikingly in contrast with what prevailed before it was deemed desirable to come up to its standard. This Association still maintains its place in the van.

It will be seen from the Balance Sheet that the sum of $260,420.50 has been allocated to the policyholders. To this should be added $10,230.78, which has been paid out as Interim profits, making the total profits to the Policyholders for the last five years $270,960.28 more than double the profits for the Second Quinquennium.

The result cannot fail to prove satisfactory, the more especially as so large a provision has been made for all contingencies under the special amount held as undistributed surplus.

It has also been decided to bring the amount paid on the new shares up to ten per cent., making the old and new alike. This will be done by declaring a bonus of $2 per share, and calling in $4 on the new shares. This bonus will be declared out of the Shareholders' surplus, and will make the paid up capital $100,000, which will still further strengthen the security of the Policyholders.

The Directors felt that the time had arrived for the creation of an Actuarial Department, and, on the recommendation of the Managing Director, it has been organized.

The valuation of the Policy and Annuity obligations has been made by Mr. D. Parks Fackler, the well-known Actuary, of New York. His certificate will be found appended to the Report.

The change decided upon last year in regard to the quinquennial periods goes into effect in 1887, and in future the date of the issue of the policy will determine its quinquennial periods. Policies sharing say four years' profits now, will, on the settlement of the premium for 1892, become entitled to the profits for 1887, the fifth year of the policy. Policies in force for longer or shorter periods will similarly become entitled to profits in 1889-90, etc.

The Directors have had the insufficiency of the present office accommodation forced upon them by the rapidly growing business, and have concluded that the time has come when the Company should possess a building of its own. They have tried to purchase a suitable site, but finding that impossible, have leased for a period of 42 years, with the right to renew in perpetuity; the site is on the north-east corner of Yonge and Richmond streets. It is proposed to proceed to build as soon as may be prudent, and have the building ready for occupation before the expiry of the lease of the present offices.

The Directors have pleasure in referring to the continued diligence and faithfulness of the Office and Agency Staff.

All the Directors retire, but are eligible for re-election.

J. K. Macdonald, Man. Director. W. P. Howland, President.

J. K. MACDONALD,
Managing Director.

A number of the persons present expressed their great pleasure at the very satisfactory report submitted, and commended the Directors and Management for the steps taken in providing for the increased security to the policyholders, and also for the large surplus after such ample provision had been made for the requirement of the present law, as well as for the greater requirement under the prospective reduction to the four per cent. basis of valuation.

The usual routine business was taken up and disposed of. The old Directors were re-elected, and at a subsequent meeting of the Board Sir W. P. Howland was re-elected President and the Hon. Wm. McMaster and Wm. Elliott, Esq., were re-elected Vice-Presidents.

These vessels are the half clipper ship Seminole of Stetson's California Dispatch Line and the clipper Charmer of the New York and California Line. Several thousand dollars have been already wagered.

An Irishman's Boil.

We are surrounded by difficulties and dangers, said Pat, from the cradle to the grave, and the only wonder is that we ever live long enough after having the one to reach the other. The greatest danger lies in allowing the seeds of disease to be sown in our system. If you feel dull and drowsy, have frequent headaches, bad taste in mouth coated tongue, poor appetite, you are suffering from a torpid liver. Take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" if you would destroy those seeds and avoid reaping a harvest of suffering and death. d4w18

A Good Life Preserver.

T. Millburn & Co., March 16th, 1886.

I was completely relieved from that dreadful disease dyspepsia, with only four bottles of that life preserver—B. B. B., and cheerfully recommend it to any one subject to such disease. P. Devaney, Merriborgh, Ont. 2w17d

World-wide is the reputation of West's Cough Syrup, the truly marvellous remedy for coughs, colds, croup, whooping-cough, asthma and consumption. All druggists.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us gardens of roses, skies and oceans, and thousands of millions of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symtoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. sodw4

Honest and True.

This is the eminently the case with Polson's Nervoline, the great pain cure. It is an honest remedy, for it contains the most powerful, the purest, and most certain pain subduing remedies known to medical science. It is honest, for it does all it claims to do. It is honest because it is the best in the world. It only costs 10c or 25 cents to try it, and you can buy a bottle at any drug store. Nervoline cures toothache, neuralgia, pain in the back and side. All pains are promptly relieved by Polson's Nervoline. 6dw19

A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

Personal.

George Legault, of Tayside, Ont., says he can heartily recommend Yellow Oil as the best reliever of rheumatic pain, his father and mother having suffered for years with rheumatism, and all remedies failed except Yellow Oil. 2w17d

A Severe Attack.

"I never felt better in my life than I have since taking Burdock Blood Bitters. I had a severe bilious attack; I could not eat for several days, and was unable to work. One bottle cured me." John M. Richards, Sr., Tara, Ont. For all bilious troubles use B. B. B. 2w17d

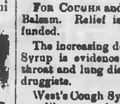
ST JACOBS OIL

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY



WILL SURELY CONQUER PAIN!

CONQUERS RHEUMATISM.

Sir Roger Tichborne's Acute Rheumatism—Cured.

113 Fourth Ave., New York, N.Y.
February 22, 1887.

For the last four months I have suffered from rheumatism, and every time I sat down and got up I suffered the most acute agony; in fact I was not able to move my legs without pain, and when going down stairs the pain was too dreadful to bear. I was recommended to send for a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil and try it. I did so, and to my great surprise and delight I found it an almost instant cure as regards the pain. I have only used one bottle up to the present, but I now can sit down, get up, and walk about without the slightest pain.

R. E. D. TICHBORNE.

Rheumatism 13 Years—Cured.

Mr. James Maloney, Sr., Orillia, Ontario, says: I have been a sufferer with rheumatism for the past thirteen years, and have tried during that time, many of the remedies advertised for it, but all without effect. I was induced to use St. Jacobs Oil. With its use the pain vanished and has not since returned.

Nothing Equals It for Rheumatism.

Capt. Chas. W. Crowley, President of the Canadian Sailors' Union, Prince street, Kingston, says: St. Jacobs Oil is indeed a most remarkable discovery; I think there is nothing equal to it for the cure of rheumatism and like diseases.

Rheumatism—Knees and Ankles—Cured.

Hon. E. J. B. Peace, Mayor of Kingston, Canada, suffered with severe rheumatic pains in the knees and ankles and was promptly cured by St. Jacobs Oil.

Every application gives relief; every bottle contains a cure; every bottle tested as to quality; every wrapper bears the firm's facsimile signature; every home in America and Great Britain knows its value; every spoken language knows its name; every journal praises it; St. Jacobs Oil. Great Healing Qualities rapidly heal under its influence. Impure Blood is manifested by a tendency to carbuncles, Boils, Pimples, Carbuncles, Sores, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Mil-k-leg, Fleeting Pains, White Swellings, Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. CONSUMPTION, which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this Godsend in medicine, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. PIERCE thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-Bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE

In many cases only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Consumption, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. Send ten cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's book on Consumption. Sold by Druggists.

Granting a License.

A meeting of the West Riding License Commissioners was held yesterday, when the druggist's license at Lakefield was granted to Mr. S. Henderson. Other business of no public interest was transacted.

Short Nights.

As the days become longer, we can afford to use more artificial light, and reading or sewing by lamp light may become a new pleasure by buying China Hall's famous Coal Oils. Same prices as inferior oils.

Kidd beats them all for low prices and good goods. Ladies button boots, 70c., lace boots 85c., men's long boots, $1.45.

No Meeting.

Only about half a dozen people convened at the Council Chamber last night in response to the call for a public meeting to discuss arrangements for a celebration of the Queen's Jubilee, and the meeting was according declared "off."

Almost a Fire.

Last evening about 8 o'clock some passers-by noticed a couple of large lamps all ablaze in Mr. J. J. Turner's awning factory on Brock street. The lock of the front door was burst through and the flaming vessels flung into the middle of the street just in time to avert a serious fire.

The New Post Office.

The ways of Governments are strange and still it seems it is undecided where the new post-office shall be. While there is doubt about this fact, there is no doubt that the Town Clock Grocery (W. J. Morrow) is the best place in town to get the finest freshest groceries, freshest eggs, sweetest butter, cheapest teas and sugar. Highest qualities of goods; lowest kinds of prices. call and be convinced.

See Turnbull's Carpets at 10c., 12½c., 15c., 17c., 20c. and 25c. a yard. Good patterns and grand value.

Celebrating the 24th.

The Queen's Birthday will be celebrated in Peterborough by an afternoon's sports on the Association grounds, in Ashburnham. At 1:30 sharp a baseball match will be begun between Lindsay and Peterborough, after which contests in foot and bicycle races, jumping, etc., will take place, for handsome prizes. Posters are out announcing the celebration, from which, or the committee in charge, ample particulars can be gained.

A Service of Praise.

A Chorus of Fifty Voices Sing Songs of Praise—A Fine Musical Entertainment.

At St. Paul's Church, last night a large audience assembled at the "Service of Praise" in connection with the anniversary services. The silver collection at the door amounted to over $50.

Following is the programme announced to be rendered:—

Hymn 63.."Blessing and Honor and Glory and (Power."

Solo Organist.....Mr. J. E. Jaques
Organist and Director.....Mr. J. S. Parker

The programme was carried out to the letter with one or two exceptions. Rev. Mr. Torrance expressed regret that the address announced to be delivered by Rev. Mr. Herridge had, owing to the latters necessary return to Ottawa, to be foregone. The choruses by the Choir were grand, and very well rendered, showing great painstaking on the part of the director, Mr. J. S. Parker. Mr. Jaques' organ solos were much admired, while the vocal solos by Misses Haultain, Vair and Ellsworth, Mrs. Mein and Mr. Manning were excellent. Mr. Bagueley did not render the solo set down to him. The entertainment on the whole was admirable, and every one of the audience seemed entirely satisfied. The National Anthem closed the service.

High Court of Justice.

Sitting of the Spring Assizes. County of Peterborough.

SECOND DAY, TUESDAY.

The Grand Jury returned "no bill" against Mary and Edward Holbrook, charged with infanticide.

In Queen vs. Waren, charged with perjury, the Jury brought in a true bill.

The Grand Jury made the following:

PRESENTMENT.

To His Lordship, Justice O'Connor:—

The Grand Jury of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, beg to present:—

1. That we have inspected the gaol and find everything in the best of order and condition, both as regards cleanliness and the precautions used to ensure the safe keeping of the inmates. The gaol has recently undergone extensive sanitary improvements.

2. We regret to have to point out that we found incarcerated several parties for which, it seems to us, a gaol is no proper asylum. These consist of three helpless idiots, and an infant at the mother's breast. The circumstances leading to the painful condition of these unfortunates are too revolting to refer to more specifically in this presentment, and are such, as in our opinion, call for an investigation and for more watchfulness of public morality on the part of the authorities.

3. We also found five insane persons confined in the gaol, unfortunates, who for no crime are wearing the garb of criminals. We would suggest that the most earnest endeavours be made to provide accommodation for these in a proper asylum.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. E. FITZ-GERALD, Foreman.

His Lordship in reply stated that he coincided with their views regarding insane persons, and would have a copy of the presentment sent to the Attorney General.

The Grand Jury was then discharged.

The case Boucher vs. Sawers is still going on.

[Dr. R. Kincaid was stated yesterday to be a witness for the defendant in the case of Boucher vs. Sawers. This is incorrect. Dr. Kincaid gives evidence of no kind in the matter.]

Stenson Bros'. Shoe Store.

The new firm of Stenson Bros. since taking possession of the boot and shoe business of R. Stenson & Son, have commenced a thorough refitment and renovation of their premises. The work room formerly situated on the ground floor has been transferred upstairs, while the whole first flat is being converted into a show room. Workmen are now busily engaged in fitting it up and in a short time will have it completed. In the mean time the cheap clearing sale is being continued, and the best of bargains are being offered. Parties desiring first class foot wear at and below cost prices, should make a note of this sale, and govern themselves accordingly.

The Increase of Insanity.

Insanity seems to be alarmingly on the increase in Canada. This fact was recognized by Justice O'Connor in his charge to the Grand Jury at the Assizes now in progress, and the jury, in their presentment, published elsewhere in this issue, also refer to the subject. The percentage of lunatics in our county gaol is far greater than all the other prisoners combined. Only yesterday three or four unfortunates of this class were brought from Dummer township and placed in prison, where they should not be, but where they are for the present obliged to be accommodated. The capacity of the Provincial asylums is taxed to the utmost, and although the expenditure in this line is already something enormous, still further accommodation will have to be provided and further expense incurred.

Arrived at Turnbull's by express, several quite new and stylish shapes in Bonnets and Hats, such as the Graceful, Tandan, Toboggan, Sylvia, Northwood, Essex, and others too numerous to mention.

Sure to Satisfy.

There are many remedies for coughs and colds, but there are few that prove so satisfactory as Hegyard's Pectoral Balsam, which is a pleasant and reliable cure for all throat and lung troubles, including bronchitis, asthma, croup, whooping cough and the pulmonary complaints of young or old. 2w17d

Turnbull sells Oreteone, Prints, and Steam Loose by the pound. For bargains go to Turnbull's.

Gentlemen who have not tried Dack & Son's boots, should try a pair. Leave your orders at Kidd's, where you can get every kind of boots, shoes and slippers.

Ennismore.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Monday last a young son of Mr. [illegible] Clough, on going into the farm-yard, [illegible] some time after, unaccountably among the cattle. After being carried into the house, it was some hours before returning to consciousness, when he could only say that a cow kicked him. Dr. Bingham who was in attendance, thinks that it might have been the horn of a cow, or a young horse may have struck him as some think. At all events he received a severe shock above the ear, when little more would have proved fatal. We are happy to say that he is now fast recovering.

A few days ago as the family of Edward Flaherty were moving into the house of the late Mr. O'Dowd, one of the daughters fell into the cellar, severely injuring herself. She is recovering and will soon be around again.

THE BRIDGE.—Through the exertions of Mr. W. B. Kelly, caretaker of our floating bridge, it is again fit for travel, after the usual spring wrecking, which is thankfully acknowledged by travellers from the north, more especially as the road about Lancaster bridge is in such a dangerous condition, people with teams being under the necessity of going round by Bethel Church. It is astonishing that the township of Emily or the County of Victoria does not attend to the road, as it is now becoming a yearly occurrence.

Personal.

Miss Mittie Fraine, a noted Canadian elocutionist, will be here on May 20th.

Mr. G. J. Early, photographer, leaves this evening for London, Eng. He will return in July. He goes via G. T. R. and Dominion line of steamers.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, May 10.

Mr. James Fleming, a citizen of Toronto for half a century, died at his residence, 19 Elm-street, yesterday morning. Born in Aberdeen, Scotland, in 1812, Mr. Fleming came to Canada in 1831, and after spending two years in Montreal settled in Toronto, where he embarked in the seed and florist business, his premises on Yonge and Elm streets being one of the landmarks of the city. Mr. Fleming took an active interest in horticultural and agricultural affairs, and occupied prominent positions in connection with the Board of Agriculture for Upper Canada, the Agriculture and Arts Association, and the Industrial Exhibition. He was a justice of the peace of twenty-five years' standing, and served in the City Council as an alderman for St. John's Ward for three years. The deceased gentleman was a director of the Building & Loan Association, of the Electoral Division Agricultural Society, and of the Horticultural Gardens; was one of the trustees of the House of Industry and a York Pioneer. He leaves a wife and one son and an estate valued at close on $250,000.

The Young Men's Liberal Club met last night at their rooms in the Arcade. President Gregory in the chair. After the customary routine business, Mr. Chamberlain gave notice that at the next meeting he would move the adoption of this resolution:

That while reaffirming its earnest support of the proposal to extend to Ireland as large a measure of home rule as is consistent with the maintenance of the unity of the Empire, this club is of opinion that the visit of Mr. Wm. O'Brien to Canada for the purpose of disturbing the present harmonious relations between the people of the Dominion and their legislative head by attacking the Governor-General for alleged actions not done in his official capacity and with which the people of Canada cannot be supposed to deal, is uncalled for and likely to be detrimental to the cause which has our profound sympathy, the amelioration of the condition of the Irish people.

For some time past the annex to the City Registry office, Richmond-street west, has an own signs of weakness, and yesterday afternoon the outer layer of brick in the east wall caved in with a crash that startled Registrar Lindsay and his clerks nearly out of their wits. No one was hurt. There is danger of the new tall chimney toppling over and the north wall is also in an unsafe condition. The "disaster" was the subject of an enquiry at the City Council meeting last night, and Ald. Irwin, as chairman of the Property Committee, promised to bring the architect and contractor to time.

A drunken man was found on Yonge street at 10 o'clock last night. An Agnes-street officer undertook to escort the man to the station, but the inebriated individual was too robust. The assistance of three other officers was procured and they finally succeeded in getting their prisoner to the station. A crowd was attracted by the desperate resistance of the prisoner, and acting evidently under the impression that he was being ill-treated, some of them threw stones at the officers, none of whom were, however, struck.

A quantity of jewelry was stolen from the house of Mr. Hutchinson, Wm. 335 Ontario-street, on Sunday afternoon.

Late on Saturday night Banks' auction room, Johnston-street, was broken into and some spoons and a gold watch stolen. Evidently the same thieves broke into the rear of R. C. Rothwell's, 113 Yonge-street, and took over $100 worth of bracelets and opera glasses and a small sum of money.

BOXMAKERS ON STRIKE.

The Employes of Firstbrook Bros. Go Out—The Stonemasons Still Firm.

For some time past there has been trouble in Firstbrook Bros.' box factory, caused, so the men allege, by the firm's action in discharging union men and filling their places with others not members of that body. The discontent culminated over the discharge yesterday of a unionist in a "march out" of the men at 1 o'clock. Firstbrook Bros. claim that the men did not give them time to consider their demands for the dismissal of the man who was engaged to fill the unionist's place. The Executive Committee of the District Assembly considered the matter last night, and decided to interview the firm to-day. It is expected that an amicable settlement will be arrived at.

The stonemasons at their meeting yesterday roundly denounced a city paper for its statement that some of the men had gone back to work at the old rate. They deny the statement, and declare they are prepared to stay out till the bosses accede to their terms.

The upholsterers' difficulty remains unchanged. The bosses' proposition is expected to be framed some day this week, and will be handed to the Executive of the District Assembly for its consideration.

The trouble between the bakers and their employers has arisen through the bosses' desire to go back on last year's agreement, under which the men went to work at 5 o'clock. The bosses now want the men to commence at 4 o'clock, which the men object to, making the point that this is in violation of the agreement.

Photographs of Pigott's Writing Being Taken for Comparison.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 9.—The agent of the Associated Press has learned that John Fitzgerald is having photographs taken of the letters and documents in the handwriting of Pigott which were submitted to the Export Committee on Saturday for comparison with the London Times facsimile letter, and will forward copies to Mr. Parnell and his friends, and to the leading members of the Gladstone party, so that they may compare the handwriting for themselves with that of the Times letter.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC
FROM
J. J. SHEEHY.

I beg to say that contrary to announcements which appeared in the Peterborough papers for the past two months, I do not intend to remove to T. Dolan & Co's Dry Goods Store, nor have I any connections whatever with that establishment. The final arrangements not being satisfactory to me, I withdraw from the projected change, and intend carrying on the Dry Goods business in my usual stand next to Loch's Hat Store.

It is my intention in the future as in the past to show at all seasons nothing but new and fresh goods in the various lines of Dry Goods and Gents' furnishings; and by doing so, hope to retain that confidence, which, I am proud to say, I have enjoyed from the public since commencing business two years ago. d&w

AFFAIRS AT OTTAWA.

THE PREMIER HAS NOT YET NAMED THE DEPUTY SPEAKER.

OTTAWA, May 10.—Coincident with the rise of the river five or six feet above its normal level and with the thermometer shooting up to 92 degrees in the shade has arisen a question of constitutional procedure that promises to throw into complete shade the contest between the Browns and the Grays, and the exercises of the Parliamentary Cricket Club. In fact, the latter body kept in the shade today, anyhow. The cricketers have erected a very handsome marquee and two dressing tents on the lawn and practised vigorously yesterday. To-day their exercise consisted of lying in the tents and wishing it wasn't so hot.

But to return to the great constitutional question. It is this: Why is it that no man or the sonor daughter of man has yet seen a Minister in the House while the same was in session, with his hat on. All other members of the House except the reporters and the unwashed in the galleries wear hats, but the members of the Cabinet never. Why is this thus? The librarian of Parliament and the Government statistician agree that it is because the administration acknowledge themselves to be the servants of Parliament and bare their heads to the wintry blasts from the Opposition benches to show their humility, but this view meets no acceptance from outsiders at all who truthfully remark that this is not that kind of a humble administration. Nevertheless, why is it? The matter will probably be appealed to the Privy Council.

The most important matter before the House to-day after the constitutional question hereinabove referred to was one that was not mentioned at all. The absence of mention was what constituted the importance. I refer to the Deputy-Speakership.

Last Thursday the First Minister gave notice that on the following day he would name the appointment of a Deputy Speaker. But Friday passed over and no motion was made. Yesterday Sir John announced to the House that the motion would be made to-day. It was not made to-day. Ten days ago it was known that Mr. Rykert had been finally selected for the position. Mr. Rykert was in the House to-day, presided in committee of the whole, and there was apparently no ground for delay because if a deputy speaker is needed it is during these hot days. From all of which some people argue that there is a hitch in the proceedings, and that after all Mr. Rykert is not to be the elect. It is even whispered that another man is being sought for. Another day will probably set the crooked places straight.

To-morrow the Senate will meet again after its long vacation. A good many of the venerables have returned, Hon. Speaker Plumb and Hon. Frank Smith among the rest. The leadership question is understood to be settled, a gentleman, it is said, having been selected who will prove satisfactory to all parties, but the name is not yet given to the public and may not be for two or three days.

A rather ugly matter, that was assuming proportions far too considerable to be comfortable, was settled by the Speaker to-day in a most practical manner. At nearly every division this session there has been trouble over the pairs. Last night there were complaints in no less than five cases. Private pairs would be made in which the conditions would be misunderstood, and then would come questions and assertions and denials that were in some cases positively distressing. This afternoon Speaker Ouimet declared that hereafter he would recognize only those pairs made through the regular party whips in the authorized way. This will effectually put an end to the trouble.

This is a world of troubles. Within the past few days the Montreal Post, Montreal Herald and Ottawa Free Press have all accused Mr. Curran of having secured the discharge of workmen on the Lachine canal because they had voted against him. Mr. Curran, speaking to a question of privilege this afternoon, denied the allegation in toto, and announced that he would ventilate the matter in the courts. It is understood that he has taken actions for libel against the three papers named, laying the damages at $10,000 in each case.

After the long sitting of the previous evening the House did not feel like tackling heavy work to-day and all the more important measures on the order paper were allowed to stand. Among them was Mr. Laurier's motion to repeal the Franchise Act, which will come up on Monday. This motion is expected to raise a howling debate, as the Opposition will tack all the iniquities in the political decalogue to it.

The work for the [illegible] is out. Nominations [illegible] to be on May 31 and polling day, if a [illegible] on May 24, but it is believed that Geo. [illegible] will be returned by acclamation.

The following bills were introduced to-day: To [illegible] the Equity Insurance Company [illegible] to incorporate the Alberta Railway [illegible]—Mr. Shanly; to incorporate the [illegible] and Savings Company to extend its business and for other purposes—Mr. [illegible] to incorporate the Halifax and West [illegible] Company—Mr. [illegible]; to incorporate the Bay of Quinte Bridge Company—Mr. [illegible]; to incorporate the [illegible] Trunk, [illegible] and Lake Erie Railway Company [illegible]; respecting the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada—Mr. Riddell.

Mr. [illegible] introduced an act to amend the [illegible] and [illegible] matters. The [illegible] of the bill are to correct an error in the [illegible] that occurred in the revision. Under the [illegible] the enforcement of [illegible] voting is given the benefit of the act. This [illegible] case in the original statute, and the [illegible] corrects the error.

Mr. [illegible] introduced a bill to provide for the [illegible] Act respecting Canadian railways [illegible] Canal enlargement.

The [illegible] of the [illegible] from the [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] giving [illegible] of one [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] them to grant him an [illegible] of his health having been greatly impaired while serving as a volunteer during the said rebellion. It doth appear that he was [illegible] on a [illegible] in 1837, from which he contracted rheumatism. From the same he has suffered for these 50 years and at various times has petitioned the Government to do something in the premises, which the aforesaid Government have steadily and persistently declined to do, [illegible]

O'BRIEN GETS TO PORT

HE HAD AN UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE ON THE STEAMER.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The steamer John E. Moore took the O'Brien Reception Committee down to the steamship Umbria, which was at anchor outside Sandy Hook, last evening, and they took off Mr. O'Brien and escorted him to the Hoffman House, this city. The night was very foggy, and the Moore was compelled to move slowly. It was 1 o'clock this morning when the party got back as far as Quarantine. A remarkable scene was offered when the Moore ran up alongside the Umbria. For several minutes after the object of the committee had been made known no person in authority could be discovered to attend to the New Yorkers' wants. The cheers that the committeemen and their friends sent up for Mr. O'Brien were answered by portions of the passengers and crew with groans and counter cheers for Salisbury, Balfour and other friends of coercion. These were in turn responded to by the 400 Irish immigrants on the Umbria, with uproarious cheers for O'Brien, Parnell and Gladstone, besides more for Bishop Ireland of Minnesota, who was also on the steamer. Then the unfriendly people on the Umbria started up "God Save the Queen," and when they reached the middle of the verse a loud and clear Irish voice was heard above the anthem to cry in earnest accents, "God Save Ireland." This caused a general laugh and put an end to the singing. Capt. Patterson of the Moore had much difficulty in finding any one on the steamship to take a line from his boat. His request for the presence of Capt. McMickan was greeted with the information that the Captain was at dinner, at which there were more jeers. After about ten minutes, however, the Captain came to the rail and asked, "What do you want?"

"We have a permit to take some passengers off," replied Gen. O'Beirne of the committee.

The captain's response to this came rather gruffly: "I'll allow no person to leave the ship until the doctor has made his examination."

"Oh, we've got the doctor and the Custom House Inspector, too," chimed the chorus from the Moore, and there was another laugh. Just then Mr. O'Brien appeared at Capt. McMickan's side and, addressing the people on the Moore, inquired: "Are there any of my friends who want me to go to New York to-night?"

"We all do," came the shouted reply.

"Then I will go," said O'Brien determinedly, adding after a pause: "If only out of compliment to the onwards aboard here."

There was a wild cheer at this. A ladder was run up the steamship's rail after fore and aft lines had been made fast, and Dr. A. W. Smith, brother of the health officer of the port, ran up the ladder. He went through his form as far as Mr. O'Brien, Bishop Ireland and Dennis Kilbride were concerned, and then Capt. McMickan asked him to pass the ship. Dr. Smith evidently thought that the steamship people had not earned any special courtesy, for, notwithstanding Capt. McMickan's repetition of his request, with the added plea that by so doing Dr. Smith could save the ship valuable time, the doctor told the commander that he would have to take his turn. Just as Mr. O'Brien landed on the deck of the Moore the after line of the boat parted and her stern swung away, thus preventing the disembarking of Kilbride, who was the first tenant evicted by Lord Lansdowne and who accompanied O'Brien on his tour. Mr. O'Brien was greeted enthusiastically by the New Yorkers, with whom were Judge W. W. Dougherty of the Boston Reception Committee, T. M. Brady, President of the Boston Common Council; Hugh McCaffrey and Luke Dillon of Philadelphia, Edward D. Moore of the Pittsburg Council and others. In the cabin Mr. O'Brien was presented with the address by Chairman J. A. O'Gorman, to which he feelingly responded.

WM. O'BRIEN.

He said he would say that he was engaged upon what was to some extent, perhaps, a dangerous mission. Lord Lansdowne had been chosen by the landlords as the pioneer and champion of that body in the work of extermination. They had not been able to stem the torrent of eviction, but they had been able to protect the tenants who had the pluck to adopt the plan of campaign, and to stand by it. Five hundred poor tenants had been evicted in three months of this year in Ireland; but not one who had adopted the plan of campaign, because the tenants were fed and maintained out of the landlord's rents as long as a penny remained. The consequence was that they had made evictions expensive. Lord Lansdowne had made the Luggacurran case a test case, and he had come here to make it a test case, too, and to meet him on the steps of his own throne. If Lord Lansdowne thought he could carry on these evictions he (O'Brien) thought there were a million of Irish Canadians who would want to know the reason why. He asked the Canadians to be the judges. He then referred to the trying time in Ireland at present, but he thought they had a leader on whom they could rely in Parnell. Never before were the people of Ireland so hopeful and never before were its enemies in such dismay. [Applause.]

Hugh McCaffrey extended an invitation to Mr. O'Brien to visit Philadelphia and promised him a rousing reception.

The gentlemen present were then introduced to Mr. O'Brien and pleasant courtesies were exchanged as the boat made its late way to the city. On his arrival here Mr. O'Brien was driven to the Hoffman House. He will leave for Canada to-morrow evening.

The Agitator Interviewed.

NEW YORK, May 10.—William O'Brien, Editor of United Ireland, was seen at the Hoffman House to-day, and after alluding to the British Loyalists who have tried to make it uncomfortable for him on the voyage over, he said: "I cannot wait to speak in New York as much as I would wish to. My mission is to Canada and I must guard all my strength. Besides they have the right first to hear me. I shall start for Montreal to-night and shall make my first speech there. I hear my Irish friends have been refused every large hall in Montreal, but that will make no difference, for, if necessary, I shall speak in the public square."

"Have you any fears of trouble?"

"Not the least. I go to Canada on a mission popular alike with Protestant and Catholic, and will set forth the wrongs of the farmers of Ulster as forcibly as those of the toilers of the South. There is no religious question in the matter, for it is purely one of human justice. I appreciate the intended honor of an escort from the Irishmen of New York, but I have declined it and shall go to Canada just a simple traveler on a peaceful errand."

Mr. O'Brien emphatically denied that Parnell is sick or suffering from a cancer, and says that the great Irish leader was never better in his life. He further says that the Coercion Bill will pass, but that it will react on its promoters and will certainly be repealed when its obnoxious provisions become more as by enforcement. Speaking of the alleged Parnell letter, he asserted most emphatically that it was a forgery and a clumsy one at that. He would not say that Pigott was the forger, but he spoke of him as a renegade. Mr. O'Brien says that if he gets back from Canada safely, of which he has no doubt, he will spend a week speaking in New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Where the Most Draw the Line.

OTTAWA, May 10.—Preparations are being made here to receive O'Brien. The first move was made by the Loyalists, who hired all the halls in the city. The O'Brien Committee, however, have secured the lecture room of the Roman Catholic College, which will hold 200 or 300 people. O'Brien is expected in Ottawa on Friday night and will speak on Saturday evening. It is said that the Government will

He Will Lecture in St. Andrew's Hall.

The Toronto branch of the Irish National League have secured St. Andrew's Hall for Mr. O'Brien's lecture, which will be given on next Tuesday night. There will be no charge for admission. The leaguers intend bringing their ladies with them, and they say that so far as they are concerned everything will pass off quiety and that they will not be parties to any disturbance. Mr. O'Brien will arrive here on Tuesday and will be met at the station by a number of the League's members, but there will be no public demonstration.

Protesting Against O'Brien.

Mayor Howland was waited upon yesterday by a deputation comprising School Trustee Bell, Capt. McGillivray, C. B. Boyle and Messrs. Reid and Wilkes, with a petition requesting him to call a meeting of the Queen's Park to discuss the resolution prohibiting William O'Brien from speaking in this city. His Worship replied that he fully sympathized with those who objected to the introduction here of strife-provoking questions. O'Brien was entitled to the right of free speech. He promised to call the meeting and agreed to preside. The date of the proposed meeting will be announced to-day.

Sketch of the Visitor.

William O'Brien was born in the town of Mallow, County Cork, in 1852, and was educated at Queen's College, Cork. He first attracted the attention of Mr. Parnell when a reporter on the Dublin Freeman's Journal, and when it was decided upon that a League organ was necessary he was chosen to edit it. United Ireland was established in 1881, and when a few months after wards, it was suppressed and the staff arrested, Mr. O'Brien was sent to Kilmainham jail as a political prisoner, where he remained for six months. In 1883, he was returned to Parliament for Mallow, defeating Mr. Roche, who he defeated T. W. Russell Liberal, in Tyrone. Mr. O'Brien is looked upon as a very clever man, being a fine speaker and a clever writer. This is his second visit to America.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

TORONTO, May 11.

A meeting of representatives of the national societies was held last night in the St. George's Society rooms for the purpose of considering a scheme for the erection of a memorial statue to Her Majesty the Queen. Those representatives were present: St. George's Society, J. Herbert Mason. Below unexplained. Homestead and R. Symons; Irish Protestant Benevolent Society, Dr. O'Reilly, W. J. McMaster and W. Wilson; Caledonian Society, W. D. McIntosh and A. McNab.

This resolution, moved by E. Homestead and J. H. Mason, was carried:

That whereas twenty-seven years ago University Park was formally given its present name of Queen's Park, and the foundation stone to the Queen's statue was laid by the Prince of Wales, and whereas the council and citizens of Toronto have raised a sum of money to the erection of a sick children's hospital as a memorial of Her Queen's jubilee, be it resolved that this meeting respectfully suggests that the erection in Queen's Park of a statue of Her Majesty would be an appropriate and additional mode of commemorating her jubilee.

The Secretary was instructed to communicate with the several societies to get an expression of opinion as to whether they will take part or assist in the movement. The meeting adjourned till May 19.

An alarm from Box 145 brought seven or eight sections of the brigade to Esplanade and Bay-street at 11.15 last night. The fire was in Messrs. John B. Smith & Sons' extensive planing mill and box factory on the south side of the Esplanade and was of a destructive character. A member of the firm says that the loss would at least be $60,000, covered by insurance in the Western and Ætna companies. The establishment will be started up again as soon as possible. No one could account for the origin of the flames, but young Mr. Smith, bookkeeper, W. G. Beasley and Watchman Clint were under the impression that the premises were fired by an incendiary, and appearances warranted this opinion. While the Yonge-street reel was responding to the alarm, it upset over a pile of stone at Agnes and Yonge-streets. William Fox was the only fireman injured, his right leg being bruised. The reel was badly wrecked.

The Civil Service examinations commenced yesterday in Richmond Hall, Dr. Theobarn of Ottawa presiding. The preliminary examinations occupied the time yesterday, the qualifying will take place to-day and to-morrow, while optional subjects, composition, translation, precis writing and book-keeping will be taken up to-morrow and Friday, and shorthand, telegraphy and type-writing on Friday afternoon, as most convenient. The promotion examination will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday in the same place. There are 51 candidates for the preliminary and 69 for the qualifying.

A stylish looking youth named Lawrence W. Bronsdon was arrested last evening on a charge of forgery. The warrant was taken out by J. J. Follett, the Yonge-street tailor, and the specific charge is signing the name of W. H. Smith to a Standard Bank check for $15 and presenting it in lieu of payment. It is said that he has been guilty of a number of similar transactions lately. He gave his residence as Avenue-road.

The League Needs Funds.

DUBLIN, May 10.—At the fortnightly meeting of the National League to-day the treasurer's report showed that the expenses since the previous meeting had exceeded the receipts by £800.

NEARLY KILLED BY STRIKERS.

A Serious Occurrence in the Neighborhood of Montreal.

MONTREAL, May 10.—A number of striking bakers of A. Trudel, of Cote St. Louis, set upon a few of the men who were engaged to fill their places, seriously injuring a man named Guyon. They next proceeded to the residence of Mr. Trudel, broke open the door and frightened Madame Trudel so badly that serious consequences may follow. Then the men broke into the bakery and one of the ringleaders discharged several revolver shots at the proprietor and his foreman. Failing to hit Mr. Trudel they rushed upon him, and with blows and kicks rendered him almost insensible. After this the whole gang left the premises and made off in different directions. Warrants have been issued for their arrest.

Fashionable Wedding at Guelph.

GUELPH, May 10.—There was a fashionable gathering in St. George's Church this morning to witness the wedding of Mr. William G. A. Lamb, of the firm of Williamson & Lamb, tea merchants, Toronto, and Miss Beverly Dixon, youngest daughter of the Ven. Archdeacon Dixon of this city. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Hamilton, after which a reception was held.

A Congress of English Catholics.

THE ENORMOUS ESTIMATES.

With a net Dominion debt of two hundred and twenty-five millions of dollars, it would be thought that the time for retrenchment in public expenditure had come. This fact is admitted by all, for Sir Charles Tupper, the present finance minister, declared through his organs, that in preparing this year's estimates he was to use a broad axe as a "pruning knife." The result shows that this was an idle boast, and one which no person expected the "High Priest of Corruption" to carry out. Instead of a reduction of expenditures we have an enormous increase in the estimates brought down on Monday, a summary of which was given in our daily edition of Tuesday. The increase is over a million dollars in excess of the estimates of 1886-7. Our burden of debt has its oppressiveness emphasized by the fact that more than a third of the enormous revenue contributed by the the people goes to meet charges upon it. The charges on account of public debt, now amount to $14,710,305. This is indeed an alarming state of affairs, especially when it is considered that, after an existence as the Dominion, of twenty years, the charge on account of debt, is over a million dollars greater than the total expenditure of the Dominion in 1868. While this is so, the public expenditure has nearly trebled, the estimates for the current fiscal year demanding $36,041,883.46 which will be increased, judging from the past record of the present spendthrift administration, by several millions when the lavish supplementary estimates are brought down, or, at least, fifteen millions more than Hon. Mr. (now Sir Leonard) Tilley declared no government had any reason to expend in conducting the public service; that is, $23,500,000. We have deficit upon deficit and increase upon increase of the annual expenditure; we are piling Pelion on Ossa in the way of adding to the public debt, yet the Tory politicians tell us that Canada is prospering, as she never prospered before. And there seems to be no hope for the future. The present governing power have public opinion by the throat—have all the infernal machinery in diabolical running order, to enable them to misgovern the country in spite of public opinion. Gerrymander, Franchise Act, rascally revising officers, pliant returning officers, corrupt clerks of the Crown in Chancery, bribery, by subsidy, direct from the public chest, minority members of Parliament—are all arrayed against honest government. The debt of the country, increasing by "leaps and bounds," while the population, struggling under a debt burden of fifty dollars per head, is very little more than holding its own. What will be the outcome? Nothing, unless an exceedingly speedy halt is called, but national bankruptcy. We hope the electors who last February helped to retain the present government in power, are proud of the work they have done. Let them lay the situation to heart, and reflect whether to aid a trumpery party triumph at the expense of the very financial existence of the country, is true patriotism; whether the ballot in their hands was not rather a curse than a blessing.

Sanitary.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Allow me to give a few extracts from the Health by-law, relating to sanitary work necessary at this season of the year.

Section 13 states that all wells shall be cleaned out before the 1st day of July in each year.

As to disposal of sewerage and refuse, Rule 3 says that all reservoirs, cesspools or privy vaults shall be cleaned out at least once a year, on or before the 15th May, and from 15th of May to 1st Nov. they shall be thoroughly disinfected by adding once a month not less than 2 lbs. of sulphate of copper (blue stone) dissolved in two pailfuls of water, or other suitable disinfectant.

Rule 5. All putrid and decaying animal or vegetable matter must be removed from all cellars, buildings or yards on or before the 15th May in each year.

Rule 6. All garbage shall be burned or placed in a proper covered receptacle for swill and house offal, the contents of which shall, between 15th May and 1st November, be regularly removed as often as twice a week.

The lateness of the present season and the probability that very hot weather will come on suddenly, necessitate the completion of spring sanitary work as soon as possible. Add to this that the town is constantly becoming more crowded, and the importance of such work is seen. Ice is still lingering in many yards the melting of which should be hastened by clearing the surface from day to day. The greatest care should be needed to keep down diphtheria and typhoid fever.

J. CLARKE, M.D.,
Med. Health Officer.

The Dawn of Home Rule.

The following stanzas are the words of a new song, with the above title, sent from Dublinby the composer to Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald town, and at his request they are hereby published:—

Behold the bright morning of Liberty rising,
The clouds that obscured it are fast rolling by;
The sunshine of freedom peeps from the horizon,
And the loud cry of "Justice" goes up to the sky.
By the memories of times now left far behind us,
When a Parliament sat in our dear native land,
Then Ireland was wealthy, contented and happy,
And can be so yet if united we stand.

Chorus—Then why cannot Irishmen all act like brothers!
Why can't they do as our fathers have done?
The right hand of fellowship give to each other,
And "Home Rule" for Ireland will be fought and won.

Oh! Erin, my country, the chains that have bound thee
In slavery, wretchedness, misery and woe,
Will shortly be sundered, and you will be set free
As you were 'fore the Union, long, long years ago.
Your foes, who for eighty-six years have oppressed you,
Have found, though coerced, that to conquer's in vain,
And friends who've deceived, and who've often caressed you,
Will awaken to find you a nation again.

Chorus—Then why can't the Orange and Green blend in union!
Irishmen true to each other should be;
Remember we're all sons of dear Mother Erin,
"First flower of the earth and first gem of the sea."

Our country by some is condemned and discarded,
Judged only by hearing one side of the case;
If they shared our troubles, misfortunes and sorrows,
In their eyes 'twould appear a far different place.
The seed which was sown when the Union was planted,
Has borne us ill-fruit, which oft fell at our doors;
Its swift-spreading branches—discord and disunion,
With famine and outrage—have poisoned our shores.

Chorus—Then why cannot Englishmen grant us but justice!
Their help unto foreigners gladly they send;
Then why ignore Ireland—the blood of whose children,
The honor of England was shed to defend.

God bless our small band of Irish crusaders,
Who've fought for our country so nobly and well
Like heroes of old, side by side, with their leader,
Our trusted and true-hearted patriot—Parnell.
All hail to that statesman—the brave William Gladstone,
May merciful Providence spare him to see
His bitter foes vanquished, and justice at last done
To Ireland, dear country—he'll yet set her free.

Chorus—Then why cannot Irishmen all act like brothers!
Why can't they do as our fathers have done!
The right hand of fellowship give to each other.
And "Home Rule" for Ireland will be fought and won.

Keene.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Two cows, belonging to Mr. Duncan and Mr. Douglass, of Allendale, last Friday evening got on the track just east of the station, and were killed by the east bound freight train. One of the cows got fast under the train in some way and was carried along for several hundred yards, finally derailing seven cars and pretty badly damaging the trucks of two of them.

Miss Amelia Brown, an elderly person who lives with her sister at John Lang's, Esq., M.P., and who is subject to epilepsy, was raking up and burning some rubbish in the garden, when she took a fit and fell with one hand in the fire, burning the hand and part of the arm most seriously.

Mr. James McCann, an old and respected resident of Keene, died last Saturday morning. His remains were removed, on Monday, to Peterborough for interment.

We have now two billiard tables in Keene. It is strange that no sooner is one evil partially suppressed, then another temptation is presented to our youths. Now, lads who ought to be at home in the evenings, or engaged in some outside manly unharmful recreation, are exposed to the temptation of spending their time and money—and when that falls the money of employers or parents—leaving gambling habits and sufferer themselves in the most thorough manner, for the impedimenta and real duties of life.

Astonishing Success

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung disease. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it, sample bottles to try, only 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada. eodw4 of suffering relieved in so many days. Corns causes in the aggregate as much suffering as any single disease. It is the magic solvent power of Putnam's Corn Extractor that makes it speedily successful in removing corns. Take no substitute, however highly recommended. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is the best. Sure, safe, and painless. 6dw19.

Me Too.

A line in one of Moore's songs reads thus: Our couch shall be roses bespangled with dew. To which a sensible girl, according to Landor, replied: 'Twould give me the rheumatis, and so it would you!

Overworked.

"My husband strained himself with overwork, causing a large swelling in the groin. He suffered great agony, which doctors failed to relieve; he could not eat nor sleep. B. B. B. quickly cured him. He says he never had such quick relief in his life." Extract from a letter from Mrs. George Bost, Cookaville, Ont. 2w17d

The Last Year 1886.

After the above year is ended there need be no person suffering from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Lumbago, or any acute pain, if they only purchase a bottle of Fluid Lightning, as it cures instantly. Pain cannot stay where it is used. The name is Fluid Lightning. Sold by John McKee Druggist. eodw19

LATEST SPORTING GOSSIP.

Utica Protests Toronto's Victory.

UTICA, N. Y., May 10.—Although outbatted and outfielded the Uticas were not beaten in nine innings to-day. In the last half of the ninth, after one out, Peats was onfirst when Gilman, after three strikes had been called on him made a long hit. Peats reached the plate but in parling around Hofford to avoid the ball, which had been fielded in, he failed to touch the plate. Hofford touched the plate with the ball and throwing the ball to Beagle caught Gilman off at second. During an argument Gilman stole third. Shortly after, he was caught off third by one of the Utica players. The umpire finally decided Peats out, but not only refused to call Gilman out, although no time had been called, but also refused to send him back to second. The Uticas entered a protest. Shortly after Gilman, who had been twice put out, came home on McCormick's hit. Score:

Utica	1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—5
Toronto	0 0 0 0 3 0 2 0 1—6

Balls called—On McKinley 63, on Pendergrass 32. First base on balls—Utica 3, Toronto 2. Strikes called—Off McKinley 61, off Pendergrass 33. Struck out—Utica 8, Toronto 7. First base on errors—Utica 3, Toronto 6. Left on base—Utica 3, Toronto 9. Two-base hits—Pendergrass, Gilman. Earned runs—Utica 2, Toronto 1. Double plays—Alberts to Kearns to Peats, Beagle to Halgin to Latham. Passed balls—Decker 1, Hofford 1. Time of game—2h. 15m. Umpire—Reid.

Archbishop Taché Recovered.

MONTREAL, May 10.—His Grace Archbishop Taché has so far recovered from his late illness that he will leave for Ottawa in a day or two.

An Irishman's Ball.

We are surrounded by difficulties and dangers, said Pat, from the cradle to the grave, and the only wonder is that we ever live long enough after having the one to reach the other. The greatest danger lies in allowing the seeds of disease to be sown in our system. If you feel dull and drowsy, have frequent headaches, bad taste in mouth coated tongue, poor appetite, you are suffering from a torpid liver. Take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" if you would destroy those seeds and avoid reaping a harvest of suffering and death. 6dw18

A Good Late Preserver.

T. Milburn & Co., March 16th, 1886.

I was completely relieved from that dreadful disease dyspepsia, with only four bottles of that life preserver—B. B. B., and cheerfully recommend it to any one subject to such disease. P. Devanny, Morrisburgh, Ont. 8y17d

World-wide is the reputation of West's Cough Syrup, the truly marvelous remedy for coughs, colds, croup, whooping-cough, asthma and consumption. All druggists.

Unusual.

Hawthorne says: "No fountain is so small but that Heaven may be imaged in its bosom." Old Master-of-Fact says, too, that the shallower the puddle and the more muddy its bottom the more clearly it reflects the Heavens and he would like to know what the moral of that is.

Honest and True.

This is the eminently the case with Polson's Nerviline, the great pain cure. It is an honest remedy, for it contains the most powerful, the purest, and most certain pain subduing remedies known to medical science. It is honest, for it does all it claims to do. It is honest because it is the best in the world. It only costs 10c. or 25 cents to try it, and you can buy a bottle at any drug store. Nerviline cures toothache, neuralgia, pain in the back and side. All pains are promptly relieved by Polson's Nerviline. 6dw19

A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

The Work of an Ass.

The Rev. Robert Hall, when asked how many sermons a preacher could prepare in a week, replied, "If he is a man of pre-eminent ability, one; if he is a man of ordinary ability, two; if he is an ass, six."

McGregor's Speedy Cure.

When we say McGregor's Speedy Cure is the only perfect cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion and Impure Blood, we are telling plain facts, of which hundreds upon hundreds can testify who have been restored to perfect health by its use. We would therefore advise you strongly if you are a subject to any of the above troubles to give McGregor's Speedy Cure a trial and be convinced. It is sold in 50c. and $1 bottles at John McKee's drug store. eodw19

Personal.

George Legault, of Tayside, Ont., says he can heartily recommend Yellow Oil as the best reliever of rheumatic pain, his father and mother having suffered for years with rheumatism, and all remedies failed except Yellow Oil. 2w17d

A Severe Attack.

"I never felt better in my life than I have since taking Burdock Blood Bitters. I had a severe bilious attack; I could not eat for several days, and was unable to work. One bottle cured me." John M. Richards, Sr., Tara, Ont. For all bilious troubles use B. B. B. 2w17d

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Rarely has it manifested its power in curing Tetter, Loose Skin, Running Tubercles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, White Swellings, Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a treatise on Scrofulous Affections. THE BLOOD is the LIFE! Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution, will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this God-given remedy, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. PIERCE thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE

Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills, alternating with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, coated tongue, you are suffering from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Consumption, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. Send ten cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's book on Consumption. Sold by Druggists.

PRICE $1.00, 25 CENTS PER DOSE.

LOCAL NEWS.

Turned Out for Drill.

Companies 2, 4 and 6 of the 57th Battalion were out for drill in Central Park last night.

For reliable Kid Gloves, try the Alexandre make; to be had, in all the leading shades, at Turnbull's.

King Solomon's Mines

May have contained its dazzling treasures, but even they had nothing so suited to every day life as China Hall. Coloured tea sets at $2.50, and glass sets (6 pieces) at 30 cents.

Short Nights.

As the days become longer, we can afford to use more artificial light, and reading or sewing by lamp light may become a new pleasure by buying China Hall's famous Coal Oils. Same prices as inferior oils.

Kidd beats them all for low prices and good goods. Ladies button boots, 70c., lace boots 55c., men's long boots, $1.45.

Mechanics' Institute.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Mechanics' Institute last night, Mr. F. J. Lewis was elected Vice-President and Mr. John Corkery, Secretary-Treasurer. The committees of last year were re-appointed.

Question and Answer.

The question is pertinently asked these days, "when will the band begin playing in the Park?" And the answer is furnished by a member of the band, who says, "Not till after the 24th of May." The Horticultural Society wish the Park to be as little used as possible for a few weeks, until the annual spring improvements are completed.

Arrived at Turnbull's by express, several quite new and stylish shapes in Bonnets and Hats, such as the Graceful, Tandan, Toboggan, Sylvia, Northwood, Essex, and others too numerous to mention.

A Bicyclist's Lament.

An enthusiastic biklat remarked to the EXAMINER to-day that he wished we would "jog the boys up a bit about wheeling. Why," said he, "they haven't had a club run yet this season, and bicycling is only carried on in a spasmodic, now-and-again style that will soon be the death of it." So, ye bold bicyclists and prominent club men, call a club run without delay if you wish to save yourselves.

A New Bakery.

Mr. John Calvert, who learned confectionery at Messrs. Long Bros.', and bread-making at Rochester, N. Y., has opened a bakery in Mr. Lund's old stand, Aylmer street north. He is having a handsome new delivery waggon made at Mr. John Metherall's, which will be on the road Monday. Mr. Calvert solicits public patronage, promising to supply the very best bread and confectionery in the market at low prices.

Gentlemen who have not tried Dack & Son's boots, should try a pair. Leave your orders at Kidd's, where you can get every kind of boots, shoes and slippers.

The New Post Office.

The ways of Governments are strange and still it seems it is undecided where the new post-office shall be. While there is doubt about this fact, there is no doubt that the Town Clock Grocery (W. J. Morrow) is the best place in town to get the finest freshest groceries, freshest eggs, sweetest butter, cheapest teas and sugar. Highest qualities of goods; lowest kinds of prices. call and be convinced.

The Town's Suit.

The suit of the town of Peterborough against the Midland Railway, set down for trial at the present assizes, has for the present been withdrawn, the railway company agreeing to make such amendments to the railway crossing at Dalhousie street as they can see their way clear to doing, the action pending till the autumn assizes, when it will be decided whether the town will continue the suit or withdraw it.

FROM
J. J. SHEEHY.
I beg to say that contrary to announcements which appeared in the Peterborough papers for the past two months, I do not intend to remove to T. Dolan & Co's Dry Goods Store, nor have I any connections whatever with that establishment. The final arrangements not being satisfactory to me, I withdraw from the projected change, and intend carrying on the Dry Goods business in my usual stand next to Loch's Hat Store.
It is my intention in the future as in the past to show at all seasons nothing but new and fresh goods in the various lines of Dry Goods and Gents' furnishings; and by doing so, hope to retain that confidence, which, I am proud to say, I have enjoyed from the public since commencing business two years ago. d&w

THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1887.

OTTAWA NEWS.

OTTAWA, May 11.—The first matter of the day was the discussion on Mr. Casey's motion for copies of returns respecting the Haldimand election, in which the conduct of Judge Upper was severely commented on. Dr. Montague, member for Judge Upper, made his maiden speech in defence of his constituent

The second matter of importance to-day is the announcement of the leader of the Senate. Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, Mayor of Montreal, ex-M.P. for Argenteuil, is the man. To create a vacancy, Hon. John Hamilton resigns from the Inkerman District, Quebec. The order-in-council creating Mr. Abbott a Senator was passed yesterday. He will reach the Capital by the midnight train and will probably be sworn in as a member of the Cabinet without portfolio to-morrow and will undertake the duties of the leadership at once.

The third important event of the day was the appointment of the Deputy-Speaker. As intimated last night it did not go to Mr. Rykert and it did go to an Eastern man—Mr. Colby of Stanstead. Sir John made the motion immediately upon the opening of the House. He said he had asked Mr. Rykert to accept the position and he was disposed to do so, but on consulting with his physicians he had been recommended contrary and he had recommended Mr. Colby.

Mr. Blake said he had a greater pleasure in supporting the motion than he had anticipated and intimated pretty plainly that if Mr. Rykert had been nominated he would have fought the matter to the bitter end.

The fourth important event of the day was the Conservative caucus this morning. There was a full attendance. The principal subject discussed was the disallowance question. Sir John explained the Government's action and policy in the past, Sir Hector Langevin spoke in French and Sir Charles Tupper discussed the financial phases of the subject. The party were unanimous in support of the policy the Government propose on the subject. It is understood that the present policy is no departure from the past policy of the Government on this question. In other words disallowance still has the floor. Other questions were deferred until Friday, to which date the caucus adjourned.

And what may be a fifth important matter is the summoning of Sir Leonard Tilley to Ottawa. He is expected to arrive to-morrow, and it is stated that he will be sent to England as High Commissioner. If this be true, then Sir Charles Tupper has returned to home politics permanently and the Lieutenant-Governorship of New Brunswick will again be vacant.

To-day Mr. Edgar asked the following questions: When was the field allowance or kit money paid over to the Queen's Own and Royal Grenadiers of Toronto, and what sum was allowed to each man? Have the pay sheets for their kit money been signed by the members of the York and Simcoe provisional battalions, and if so, when were they received by the Militia Department? If the amounts signed for have not been already paid to the men, why has not the Government done so?

In reply Sir Adolphe Caron said the Grenadiers were paid their kit allowance of $8.15 on Dec. 24, 1885, by Lieut.-Col. Algor, paymaster. The Queen's Own were paid the same allowance on May 2, 1886, by departmental check, and no pay sheets having been received by the York-Simcoe battalion no allowance had been made.

The balance of the work done this afternoon was of no public importance. A number of questions were asked of the ministers and a number of returns were moved for, but none were of such importance as to interest the public. No bills were touched and the House adjourned at 6 o'clock to get a good night's rest preparatory to tackling the budget.

The Senate reassembled this morning and got through an accumulation of routine business. Hon. Frank Smith announced the accession of Mr. Abbott to the ranks of the faithful.

Sir John stated to-day that perhaps the Government would bring in a bill amending the controverted elections act. The matter, he stated, is under consideration.

The report of the commissioner regarding the Montreal floods was laid on the table to-day. In addition to the proposed works I sent you last night, it is recommended to raise the wharves to the level of the street fronting the river and to erect a permanent dyke in place of the temporary structure, with openings for access to the wharves, these openings to be closed by gates during the winter months. The cost of the permanent work is estimated at $1,700,000.

Mr. Ives intends moving for copies of the correspondence relative to the admission of Newfoundland into the Dominion. It is thought here that the time for the annexation of Newfoundland is not far distant.

Hon. Peter Mitchell has a notice on the order paper declaring in favor of manhood suffrage.

The Jamieson prohibition motion will take the following form: That in the opinion of this House it is expedient to prohibit the manufacture and importation and sale of intoxicating liquors except for sacramental, medicinal, mechanical and mercantile purposes; that the enforcement of such prohibition and such manufacture, importation and sale as may be allowed shall be by the Dominion Government through specially appointed officers.

Mr. Trefontaine has a notice on the paper which in substance enquires of the Government whether Gabriel Dumont is included in the amnesty, and whether he will be molested if he returns.

The death of Senator Carmer was formally announced in the Senate to-night. The principal candidates for the vacancy are Dr. Fortin, ex-M.P., Gaspe, and Wm. Beckham, ex-M.P., Drummond and Arthabaska, with the chances, it is said, in favor of the former. When this vacancy is filled, which will probably not be immediately, the constitution of the Senate will be 48 Conservatives to 24 Reformers. If the present Government remains in power ten years longer there will not be a Reformer left in the Senate.

The boom for C. H. Mackintosh for the Lieutenant-Governorship of the Northwest still continues to wax in strength and might.

Capt. Donaldson, Secretary of the Dominion Artillery Association, has written the National and Scottish Artillery Association asking them to send out a team each for the purpose of competing at the Artillery meeting at the Island of Orleans next September. The Government will probably give an increased grant in order to permit of valuable prizes being offered. Col. Oswald, President of the Canadian Association, has written to England expressing his willingness to see that the expenses of the Visitors are defrayed during their stay at Island Orleans, and offering to arrange a sight-seeing trip as far west as Niagara Falls.

THE COERCION BILL.

THE NATIONALISTS MAKING A STUBBORN FIGHT AGAINST COERCION.

LONDON, May 11.—The House of Commons this evening resumed consideration in committee of the Coercion Bill.

Peter McDonald (Nationalist) moved the adoption of an amendment to the effect that the evidence of witnesses at preliminary enquiries should not be adduced against them except in case of perjury.

Mr. Balfour opposed the adoption of such an amendment because, as he said, the clause as it stood was necessary to induce witnesses to give evidence.

Prof. James Stuart of St. Andrew's University, Radical member for the Hoxton division of Shoreditch, declared that the clause as it stood was a most serious innovation in criminal law.

T. M. Healy said that in opposing the Government's proposal, the Irish party were fighting for one of the oldest principles of English jurisprudence.

Mr. W. H. Smith insisted that the committee divide and amid cries of "shame," "monstrous," etc., cloture was put and carried by a vote of 285 against 162.

Gladstone at a Non-Conformist Lunch.

LONDON, May 11.—Mr. Gladstone was present at a luncheon given to-day to forty Non-Conformist ministers at the residence of Dr. Parker of the City Temple. He made an address of an hour's length, the subject of the whole discourse being Ireland. He said there never had been any reason for charging the Parnellites with complicity in Irish crime. Six years ago, while Prime Minister, he had denounced the Parnellites as dangerous. That was totally different from charging them with crime. The present utterances of Major Saunderson, of Lord Randolph Churchill, and even of the Marquis of Salisbury were more dangerous than any utterances the Parnellites had ever made. Mr. Gladstone held that the alliance between the Liberals and Parnellites was a perfectly open one, and one that had been brought about by community of belief. It compared favorably with the alliances between the Conservatives and the Irish in 1885 and 1886. The Coercion Bill was an insidious attack on the press. The measure was designed to create new offences and was a dishonoring and degrading bill. In conclusion Mr. Gladstone vehemently denounced the Government's attitude on the Times charges against the Irish members, and said the prosecution of the Times by the Crown would be a horrible farce.

Watching for Dynamite.

LONDON, May 11.—It is reported that the Government, acting on information from secret agents in New York, has sent the cutter Orwell to Carrigaholt, Ireland, to watch for the arrival of an American vessel with a cargo of arms and explosives.

The Times' Charges.

LONDON, May 11.—A committee of leading Conservatives has made unofficial overtures to Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Morley with the view of finding out whether those gentlemen will assent to the appointment of a commission consisting of two English judges and one Scotch judge to inquire into the charges against the Parnellites. The Gladstonians are opposed to troubling themselves any further with the question unless the Government takes definite action, while the Government is not disposed to make a move until the Coercion Bill shall have been passed.

Parnell on His Way to London.

LONDON, May 11.—Mr. Parnell has left Avondale and will arrive in London to-morrow morning. He has sent a telegram saying that his health is improved and that he expects to be present in Parliament to-morrow.

IN MEMORY OF REV. DR. McCAUL.

The Senate of Toronto University Records Its Regret at His Death.

The Senate of the University of Toronto met last night, the members present being Dr. Wilson, Dr. O'Sullivan, Dr. Oldright, Rev. Father Vincent, Prof. Galbraith, Dr. Adam Wright, Dr. Ellis, Mr. King.

The report of the scrutineers at the recent Senate election was presented to the effect that Messrs. Galbraith, Oldright and Ellis had been elected senators by the graduates and Mr. L. E. Embree by the High School masters. It was decided to hold a special convocation for conferring degrees in medicine in the university library on Saturday, May 14, at 3 p.m.

On motion of Dr. Wilson, seconded by Dr. O'Sullivan, the following resolution was adopted:

That the Senate of the University of Toronto avail themselves of this, their first meeting since the death of the late President of University College, the Rev. Dr. McCaul, formerly Vice Chancellor of the University, and for many years an active member of this board, to record their sense of the valuable services rendered by him to higher education in Canada; and the advantages which this Senate derived from his great experience no less than from his scholarly culture during the many years in which they were privileged to enjoy his counsel and co-operation in carrying on the work of the University. To his bereaved widow and family they respectfully tender the assurance of their sincere sympathy.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, Sir Geo. Stephen, Bart., was elected President and Mr. W. C. VanHorne Vice-President.

HAYTI PAYS THE CLAIM.

The President Pays a Large Sum in Cash to the British Authorities.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, May 11.—The Anglo-Haytien question has been settled on the basis foreshadowed some time ago. President Salomon in person paid over to Mr. Still a large sum in cash and gave first-class security in the shape of bonds for the payment of the balance of the debt. The whole sum paid and to be paid is within $220,000. A gentleman just arrived from Port au Prince reports that President Salomon paid the money willingly, and also expressed himself wholly satisfied with the amicable settlement of the claim. All are satisfied, English honor is supposed and Tortuga Island remains a Haytien possession.

Freight Rates on the C.P.R.

MONTREAL, May 11.—At a meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade yesterday a number of letters from merchants and others interested on the subject of the increase of freight rates on the Canadian Pacific Railway to British Columbia were taken up. They complained, first: That there should be an advance and second that merchants who sent out travelers and took orders on the old rates could not fill said orders without involving heavy loss. Some of the letters complained that an advance of from 70 to 120 per cent. had been made. The railway company claimed that the new rates were reasonable and fair in comparison with the American railways and that the rates prevailing since February, 1886, were ruinous, being the result of the war between the railway companies to the south.

The London Strike.

LONDON, May 11.—The Master Carpenters notified the Secretary of the Carpenters' Union this morning that the only solution of the difficulty that they could offer is for all who are willing to come back to work at the former rates, but they could not promise an increase during the depressed state of trade caused largely by the wholesale strikes in the building business. The carpenters and joiners having signified their willingness publicly to arbitrate their difficulty, met again this morning and resolved to fight till the bitter end.

HALIFAX, N.S., May 11.—The American schooner Clara J. Friend, which put in here yesterday from the Western banks, applied to the customs authorities for permission to buy a quantity of provisions. Sketch of the Visitor.

William O'Brien was born in the town of Mallow, County Cork, in 1852, and was educated at Queen's College, Cork. He first attracted the attention of Mr. Parnell when a reporter on the Dublin Freeman's Journal, and when it was decided upon that a League organ was necessary he was chosen to edit it. United Ireland was established in 1881, and when, a few months afterwards, it was suppressed and the staff arrested, Mr. O'Brien was sent to Kilmainham jail as a suspect, where he remained for six months. In 1883 he was returned to Parliament for Mallow and again in 1885, when he defeated T. W. Russel, Liberal, in Tyrone. Mr. O'Brien is looked upon as a very clever man, being a fine speaker and a clever writer. This is his second visit to America.

Object of Mr. O'Brien's Mission.

From the Irish Canadian.

It is for the citizens of Toronto to say whether or not Mr. O'Brien shall have a fair hearing. A couple of newspapers of the city have been industriously inflaming the minds of the more excitable by bad language and gross misrepresentations as to the object of Mr. O'Brien's visit. These firebrand sheets say that Mr. O'Brien proposes to make a personal attack on the Governor-General, than which a greater calumny could not be uttered. It is needless to inform our readers that Mr. O'Brien's mission here is not undertaken for purposes of personal abuse, but simply to expose the exactions of a rack-renting landlord by his ready and relentless agents. If cases of exceptional hardship in which the Marquis of Lansdowne has been more than ordinarily severe and arbitrary can be brought home to His Lordship by Mr. O'Brien, or by any one else, why should not the truth be told and heard? If, on the other hand, the story of Lord Lansdowne's evictions should turn out to be exaggerated or unfounded, his lordship's position will be immeasurably strengthened, and Mr. O'Brien will have earned for himself and for his cause naught but censure and condemnation. There should, then, be neither threat nor intimidation, but the fullest freedom for the ventilation of the grievances alleged by Mr. O'Brien. To mob or molest him would do more harm to his assailants than to him or his cause.

DISTRESS FOR RENT and TAXES

The Law, as Amended at the Late Session of the Ontario Legislature.

The EXAMINER has been requested to publish the following text of the Bill introduced by the Provincial Secretary and passed at the recent session of the Ontario Legislature:

An Act Respecting Distress for Rent and Taxes.

HER MAJESTY, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:—

1. (1) The goods and chattels exempt from seizure under execution, shall not be liable to seizure by distress by a landlord for rent in respect of a tenancy created after this Act comes into force, except as hereinafter provided; nor shall such goods be liable to seizure by distress by a collector of taxes accruing after this Act comes into force, unless they are the property of the person actually assessed for the premises, and whose name also appears upon the collector's roll for the year as liable therefor.

(2) The person claiming such exemption shall select and point out the goods and chattels as to which he claims exemption.

2.—(1) A landlord shall not distrain for rent on the goods and chattels the property of any person except the tenant or person who is liable for the rent, although the same are found on the premises; but this restriction shall not apply in favour of a person claiming title under or by virtue of an execution against the tenant, or in favour of any person whose title is derived by any purchase, gift, transfer, or assignment from the tenant, whether absolute or in trust, or by way of mortgage or otherwise, nor to goods on the premises in the possession of the tenant under a contract for purchase, or by which he may or is to become the owner thereof upon performance of any condition, nor where goods have been exchanged between two tenants or persons by the one borrowing or hiring from the other for the purpose of defeating the claim of or the right of distress by the landlord; nor shall the restriction apply where the property is claimed by the wife, husband, son, daughter-in-law, or son-in-law of the tenant, or of any other relative of his, in case such other relative lives on the premises as a member of the tenant's family.

(2) Nothing in this section contained shall exempt from seizure by distress goods or merchandise in a store or shop managed or chargeable by an agent or clerk for the owner of such goods or merchandise when such clerk or agent is also the tenant and in default and the rent is due in respect of the store or shop and premises rented therewith and thereto belonging, when such goods would have been liable to seizure but for this Act.

(3) The word "tenant" in this section shall extend to and include the sub-tenant and the assigee of the tenant and any person in actual occupation of the premises under or with the assent of the tenant during the currency of the lease, or while the rent is due or in arrear, whether he has or has not attorned to or become the tenant of the landlord.

(4) In case of an assignment for the general benefit of creditors the preferential lien of the landlord for rent is restricted to the arrears of rent due during the period of one year last previous to the execution of such assignment, and from thence so long as the assignee shall retain the premises leased.

3. (1) A tenant may set off against the rent due a debt due to him by the landlord.

(2) The set-off may be by a notice in the form or to the effect following, and may be given before or after the seizure:

Take notice that I wish to set-off against rent due by me to you, the debt which you owe to me on your promissory note for , dated (or for eight months' wages at $20 per month, $160,) (or as the case may be).

In case of such notice the landlord shall only be entitled to distrain for the balance of the rent after deducting any debt justly due by him to the tenant.

4. (1) A tenant who is in default for non-payment of rent and claims the benefit of the exemption to which he is intitled under this Act, must give up possession of the premises forthwith, or be ready and offer to do so.

(2) The offer may be made to the landlord or to his agent; and the person authorized to seize and sell the goods and chattels, or having the custody thereof for the landlord, shall be considered an agent of the landlord for the purpose of the offer and surrender to the landlord of the possession.

(3) The surrender of the possession in pursuance of the landlord's notice shall be a defeasance of the tenancy.

(4) Where a landlord desires to take the exempted goods, he shall, after default has been made in the payment of rent and before or at the time of seizure serve the tenant with a notice which shall inform the tenant what amount is claimed for rent in arrear, and that in default of payment, if he gives up possession of the premises to the landlord after service of the notice, he will be entitled to claim exemption for such of his goods and chattels as are exempt from seizure under execution, but that if he neither pays the rent nor gives up possession his goods and chattels will be liable to seizure, and will be sold to pay the rent in arrear and costs.

(5) The notice may be in the following form or to the like effect:

Take notice that I claim $ for rent due to me in respect of the premises which you hold as my tenant, namely, (here briefly describe them); and unless the said rent is paid, I demand from you immediate possession of the said premises; and I am ready to leave in your possession such of your goods and chattels as is in that case only you are entitled to claim exemption for.

Take notice further, that if you neither pay the said rent nor give me up possession of the said premises after the service of this notice, I am by law entitled to seize and sell, and I intend to seize and sell all your goods and chattels, or such part thereof as may be necessary for the payment of the said rent and costs.

This notice is given under the Act of the Legislature of Ontario, respecting distress for rent or taxes.

Dated this day of A.D.

(Signed) A. B. (landlord).

To C. D. (tenant.)

(6) Service of papers under this Act shall be made either personally or by leaving the same with some grown person being in and apparently residing on the premises occupied by the person to be served.

(7) If the tenant cannot be found and his place of abode is either not known, or admission thereto cannot be obtained, the posting up of the paper on some conspicuous part of the premises, shall be deemed good service.

(8) No proceeding under this section shall be deemed defective or rendered invalid by any objection of form.

5. Where a landlord has by law a right to enter for non-payment of rent, it shall not be necessary to demand the rent on the day when due, or with the strictness required at common law, and a demand of rent shall suffice notwithstanding more or less than the amount really due is demanded, and notwithstanding other requisites of the common law are not complied with: provided that, unless the premises are vacant, the demand be made fifteen days at least before entry; such demand to be made on the tenant personally anywhere, or on his wife or some other grown up member of his family on the premises.

6. When growing or standing crops, which may be seized and sold under execution, are seized for rent, they may, at the option of the landlord or upon the request of the tenant, be advertised and sold in the same manner as other goods, and it shall not be necessary for the landlord to reap, thresh, gather or otherwise market the same.

7. Any person purchasing a growing crop at such sale, shall be liable for the rent of the lands upon which the same is growing at the time of the sale, and until the crop shall be removed, unless the same has been paid or has been collected by the landlord, or has been otherwise satisfied, and the rent shall as nearly as may be, be the same as that which the tenant whose goods were sold was to pay, having regard to the quantity of land and to the time which the purchaser shall occupy it.

8. No costs shall be levied for or in respect of the seizure upon exempted goods when they may not be lawfully sold, and when sold no greater sum is all than $2, and actual and necessary payments for possession money, shall be levied or retained for or in respect of costs and expenses of sale of such exempted goods.

9. When the sum to be levied by distress for rent or for any penalty exceeds the sum of $80 no further charges shall be made for or in respect of costs or expenses by any person making the distress or employed in doing any act in the course of such distress than such as are set forth in schedule A of the Act entitled An Act respecting the costs of levying distresses for small rents and penalties, than the following, that is to say:

(a) The actual expenses or outlay reasonably incurred in removing the goods distrained or part thereof when such removal is necessary:

(b) Advertisement when necessarily published in a newspaper $2.50; but not exceeding $5.00.

(c) If any printed advertisement otherwise than in a newspaper $1.00; but not to exceed $3.00.

(d) The sum of $1.00 per day for man keeping possession, in lieu of 75 cents per day.

(e) When the amount due shall be satisfied in whole or in part, after seizure and before sale, the bailiff or person seizing shall be entitled to charge and receive but three per cent. on the amount realized, in lieu of five per cent., and no more.

10. Any person who offends against sections 8 or 9 of this Act shall be liable to the penalties provided by section 2 of The Act respecting the costs of levying distresses for small rents and penalties, and the proceedings may be had and taken for the punishment of the offender and the imposition and collection of such penalties as are provided by section 2 and subsequent sections of said last-mentioned Act. Section 8 and the subsequent sections of this Act shall be read with and as part of the said Act.

11. The person whose goods are distrained or the person authorizing the distress, or any other person interested may upon giving two day's notice in writing have the costs of the bailiff or other person making the distress and the disbursements charged, taxed by the clerk of the Division Court within whose division the distress has been made.

12. The bailiff or person so making the said distress shall furnish the said clerk with a copy of his said costs, charges and disbursements for taxation at the time mentioned in the notice or at such other time as the said clerk may direct, and in default of his so doing he shall not be entitled to any costs, charges or disbursements whatever.

13. The clerk upon such taxation shall, amongst other things, consider the reasonableness of any charges for removal, keeping possession, and for advertising, or any sums alleged to have been paid therefor, and may examine either party on oath touching the same. The person requiring the taxation shall pay the clerk a fee of twenty-five cents therefor.

14. Where that portion of the bill or charges in dispute amounts to the sum of $10, either party may, on giving two days' notice, have the taxation revised by the clerk of the county court. He shall be paid a fee of fifty cents for such revision by the person appealing, and it may, in the discretion of the clerk, be deducted from or added to the bill as finally taxed by him.

15. In any proceedings taken under section 2 of The Act respecting the costs of levying distresses for small rents and penalties the taxation shall not be received as conclusive evidence.

16. Sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 8 shall apply only to tenancies created after this Act shall come into force.

17.—This Act shall come into force on the first day of October, 1887.

An Important Omission.

To J. R. Stratton, Esq., M.P.P.:

MY DEAR FRIEND.—In the address adopted by the House to be presented to the Queen, the most important event in her life as regards Canada, is not even mentioned. In 1847 wheat in England was $4 per bushel. In Canada at the same date, wheat was 50 cents per bushel in trade. In 1849 the Corn Laws were abolished. England got bread at a reasonable price, and Canada got a good price for her produce and has gone ahead ever since. This great change was due to the efforts of the English Reformers.

I am faithfully yours,

T. MASON.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Try it. eodw4

LATEST SPORTING GOSSIP.

UTICA, N.Y., May 11.—Umpire Reid, who was appointed for to-day's game, sent his resignation to Secretary White this morning. It was agreed that Philip Helpert, a local substitute umpire, should fill the place until one of the captains objected, and that Manager Cushman of the Torontos, or Manager Dischler, should go in as the toss of a cent should determine. An objection was made by the Toronto's captain to a decision by Helpert in the seventh inning, and Mr. Dischler umpired the rest of the game. The playing was close, but not brilliant. Sheppard and Traffley were the Toronto battery, and Housewine and Sexsmith that for the Uticas. Score:

Trotting Troubles.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 11.—Judge James Grant of Iowa presided at the meeting held here yesterday evening of the National Trotting Association. General W. S. Tilton of Boston, Vice-president, and Secretary T. J. Vail were also present.

The most important case to be considered during the session is that of Mr. T. J. Vail, whom it is desired to expel from the office of secretary, which he has held for several years.

It would seem, from statements made by members of the board, that there is an almost unanimous sentiment against Mr. Vail, and if these men vote as they talk it is difficult to see how the secretary can retain his office. It was freely said that if by any chance Mr. Vail should defeat the attempt to expel him several trotting circuits will withdraw from the National and enter the American Association. Both Mr. Vail and Judge Grant decline to speak at all on the subject of the quarrel between them.

An Irishman's Bull.

We are surrounded by difficulties and dangers, said Pat, from the cradle to the grave, and the only wonder is that we ever live long enough after having the one to reach the other. The greatest danger lies in allowing the seeds of disease to be sown in our system. If you feel dull and drowsy, have frequent headaches, bad taste in mouth coated tongue, poor appetite, you are suffering from a torpid liver. Take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" if you would destroy those seeds and avoid reaping a harvest of suffering and death. 6dw18

Honest and True.

This is the eminently the case with Polson's Nervilline, the great pain cure. It is an honest remedy, for it cost's us the most powerful, the purest, and most certain pain subduing remedies known to medical science. It is honest, for it does all it claims to do. It is honest because it is the best in the world. It only costs 10c. or 25 cents to try it, and you can buy a bottle at any drug store. Nerviline cures toothache, neuralgia, pain in the back and side. All pains are promptly relieved by Polson's Nervilline. 6dw19

A Common Occurrence.

Many bad joints, by which people are crippled for life, are made by neglected or badly treated rheumatism. Ida Plank, of Strathroy, Ont., was afflicted with rheumatism in her fingers so that she could not bend them. Yellow Oil cured her, and is a prompt cure for all painful complaints. 2w17d

ST. JACOBS OIL

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY — WILL SURELY CONQUER PAIN!

Unequalled for Lame-Back.

Capt. George Murphy, chief of the Government Harbor Police, Montreal, says: I may rank myself among those benefitted by St. Jacobs Oil. A short time ago I suffered from a severe pain in my back between my shoulder blades, and I was cured by the Great German Remedy. From all I have heard and seen of the remedy, I must say that it is unequalled.

Suffered 30 Years With Lameback—Cured.

Mr. Thomas Claydon, Shelburne, Ontario, Canada, states: I had suffered with lameback for thirty years and tried almost everything without relief. Less than a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil cured me perfectly.

Like Snow Before the Sun.

From Gallery, House of Commons, Ottawa, Canada.

During the many sessions in which I have worked in our daily press gallery, this is the only one during which I have not been subject to lumbago. The cause of this is that I used St. Jacobs Oil this winter, and my lumbago then disappeared like snow before the sun.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its healing influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, White Swellings, Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE." Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution, will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this God-given remedy, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. PIERCE thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE

Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternating with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and coated tongue, you are suffering from Dyspepsia, Dyspepsia, and Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Consumption, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. Send ten cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's book on Consumption. Sold by Druggists.

Explanation.

J. J. Sheehy's card to the public appears in this edition of the EXAMINER on the first page.

Turnbull's is the right house for Boys Clothing. His styles are new, and prices the lowest. Examine and be convinced.

Miss Mittie Fraine, Elocutionist, will give a recital in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, on Friday, 20th May. Only 150 tickets will be issued. Price, 25 cents.

Gentlemen who have not tried Dack & Son's boots, should try a pair. Leave your orders at Kidd's, where you can get every kind of boots, shoes and slippers.

For reliable Kid Gloves, try the Alexandre make; to be had, in all the leading shades, at Turnbull's.

King Solomon's Mines

May have contained its dazzling treasures, but even they had nothing so suited to every day life as China Hall. Coloured tea sets at $2.50, and glass sets (6 pieces) at 30 cents.

Kidd beats them all for low prices and good goods. Ladies button boots, 70c., lace boots 55c., men's long boots, $1.45.

Accounts in Crime.

For several days past the police court has been almost blank. Justice in the meantime has transferred the scene of her judgments to the Court House.

W. C. T. U.

A special meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in their rooms at 4 p.m. to-morrow (Friday). Will the ladies please remember as there is very important business on hand.

Short Nights.

As the days become longer, we can afford to use more artificial light, and reading or sewing by lamp light may become a new pleasure by buying China Hall's famous Coal Oils. Same prices as inferior oils.

Port Hope Estimates.

In Port Hope $7,233 is required for public and high school purposes, and $59,065.74 for municipal purposes. The rate on the dollar will be 5½ mills for schools, 8½ mills for administration of justice, etc., and 6½ mills for municipal purposes, making 20 mills on the dollar in all—a rather high rate.

Arrived at Turnbull's by express, several quite new and stylish shapes in Bonnets and Hats, such as the Graceful, Tandan, Tobeggan, Sylvia, Northwood, Essex, and others too numerous to mention.

Repairing the Fracture.

Mr. Robinson, the Montreal commercial traveller whose mishap was chronicled yesterday, remains at the Oriental Hotel. The fracture was set yesterday afternoon by Doctors Boucher, Halliday and King, and the patient is doing well.

It Made a Mess.

Some time during the silent watches of the night an ornamental moulding fell from the ceiling in Ormand & Walsh's drug store, breaking one the show cases and covering everything in the place with a layer of fine dust. The store was in a "mess" this morning.

The Dog Destroyers.

The crusade against the great untagged, is still being prosecuted vigorously by the policemen, though their opportunities for perforating tagless canines have been considerably lessened of late, a majority of the dog-owners preferring the sacrifice of a dollar bill to the death of their pets, and in consequence there are very few unlicensed dogs about town, one at least, but few that are allowed to run at large. There are, however, a good many bills still in the town clerk's hands, waiting to be used.

The New Post Office.

The ways of Governments are strange and still it seems it is undecided where the new post-office shall be. While there is doubt about this fact, there is no doubt that the Town Clock Grocery (W. J. Mangan) is the best place in town to get the finest fruit best groceries, freshest eggs, sweetest butter, cheapest teas and sugar. Highest qualities of goods; lowest kinds of prices. call and be convinced.

Exemption from Seizure.

In to-morrow's issue will be printed a copy of the act passed at the recent session of the Ontario Legislature, relating to the subject of "Exemption from seizure under execution." A great many persons, who have not ready access to the printed volumes of the statues, will be interested in perusing it and will do well to clip and keep for reference. This latter advice will also apply to the act relating to distress for rent, published in Thursday's daily edition.

Stenography.

Attention is again directed to the advertisement in another column of Miss E. Harper, a graduate of the Canadian Business University and Shorthand Institute, Toronto, who has started a class for instruction in shorthand in the Mechanics' Institute building. Miss Harper has already a good-sized class, but is prepared to receive as many more as wish to learn stenography. Her class hours are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. For particulars and terms call or write Miss E. Harper, Peterborough.

Two Comprehensive Publications.

Mr. A. J. Taylor, of Toronto, a travelling passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, sends us two small books entitled, the one, "The Why and Wherefore," containing explanations of many little phenomena which come under every day observation; the other, "The Modern and Scientific Game of Whist, and How to Play it," containing complete instructions for beginners. Both books, though in a measure advertising mediums, are valuable none the less, and may be had by enclosing ten cents in postage to A. V. H. Carpenter, General Passenger Agent, Milwaukee.

See Turnbull's Carpets at 12c., 12½c., 15c., 17c., 20c. and 25c. a yard. Good patterns and grand value.

Distress for Rent.

Rent is generally a distressing subject, and much more conspicuously so when collected by process of law; but the terror for the visit of the bum bailiff has been greatly reduced by the bill passed at the recent session of the Ontario Legislature relating to distress for rent. There is, however, one important addition, which might be made with natural advantage, to the exemption clause (sec 1) of the new act, and that is that exemption from seizure should have been applied to all furniture purchased from d. belleghem, the famous furniture factor. This would encourage the purchase by the people of first class goods at low prices. The people would save so much money that the resulting prosperity of the country would be immensely increased. See the point? So much money would be saved that people could pay all their debts and their rent besides and no seizure would be called for.

The Prize School.

Mr. William Hickson, teacher at school house section 2, Cavan, (Mount Pleasant), has received through Inspector Tilley, of Bowmanville, a bronze medal for himself and a diploma for the school, awarded for specimens of school work sent to the Indian and Colonial Exhibition from that school. Inspector Tilley visited the school on Thursday last and presented the medal and diploma, complimenting the teacher and pupils upon the fact that their's was the only school in the county of East Durham which received any marks of recognition for an educational display. He also complimented the school upon having the best senior classes of any in the county, which was due to the able management of Mr. Hickson, who as an instructor of youth was possessed not only of an extensive fund of knowledge, but also the power of imparting that knowledge to those under his instruction.

A New Industry.

Friday evening Mr. John McGuire, President, and Messrs. A. T. Button and Frank Davis, of the Uxbridge Organ Company, will arrive in Peterborough with a view to inspecting the town and ascertaining what inducements will be offered the company for removing their factory here. Having outgrown their Uxbridge premises to such an extent as to necessitate the erection of new buildings, the company are desirous of locating at a more favored spot, if sufficient inducements are offered to warrant the change. Port Hope and Toronto are holding out tempting baits in the way of bonuses and exemptions. Peterborough, however, with so many natural advantages, should get the industry, and it is to be hoped that the Town Council, or a committee appointed for the purpose thereof, will use every reasonable effort to secure the location of the organ factory here.

Queen's Birthday Visitors.

To-day there is present in town a committee representing West Toronto district Orange Lodge, to make arrangements for the visit of a monster excursion to Peterborough on 24th of May. The committee is composed of Capt. W. C. McSpadden, No. 6 Company, York Rangers; Geo. Downard, Secretary, past master L.O.L., 342; W. Bell, past district master, and Capt. Armstrong, 'Prentice Boys Corps.

The excursion will come by way of the G. T. R. line and Port hope. Capt. McSpadden estimates that from 1,500 to 2,000 persons will take advantage of this excursion to visit Peterborough. Among the number will be a detachment of the "Pioneer Corps" 150 strong, in full uniform. Two baseball clubs and a cricket club will also accompany the excursionists. The committee, under the escort of Messrs. Robert Weir and G. W. Hall, are doing the town this afternoon, and doubtless closer examination of the town and its resources, will deepen the favourable impressions which led to the selection of Peterborough as the objective point of the annual excursion of West Toronto District Orangemen.

Personal.

Mr. A. E. Dixon has succeeded in passing his solicitor's examination at Toronto.

G. W. Moock, M. P. P., for Carleton, Conservative whip in the Local House, was in town yesterday and to-day.

The Irish Canadian says:—"Mr. J. C. Curtin—a Peterborough boy and an elève of St. Michael's College, Toronto—paid his old home and his old friends a visit last week. In the rounds of his calls he dropped into our sanctum, and we had a cordial grasp. Mr. Curtin is one of the oldest journalists on the New York press, and holds a responsible position on the World of that city. He is a racy and pungent writer, a deep thinker, and has a fine perception of men and things."

High Court of Justice.

Sitting of the Spring Assizes, County of Peterborough.

FOURTH DAY, THURSDAY.

The jury, in the case Cochrane vs. the Hamilton Loan and Provident Company, were given a number of questions to answer, the replies being largely in favor of the plaintiff. Several legal questions have been adjourned to Toronto for argument, when judgment will be rendered.

COX VS. CAVANAGH.

This was an action of ejectment by the plaintiff, Mr. Geo. A. Cox, against the defendant, asking for the recovery of the possession of the Cavanagh Hotel property and the dispossession of Mr. Timothy Cavanagh therefrom. The defendant opposed the action on the ground that sufficient notice to leave had not been given. There was considerable conflicting evidence as to the term of the tenancy under which Mr. Cavanagh held the property prior to its sale by Mr. Clurton to Mr. Cox.

Run off at Campbellford.

Six Cars of a Freight Wrecked and Several Train Hands Injured.

CAMPBELLFORD, Ont., May 11.—A freight train west bound, in charge of Conductor Way, was derailed about four miles west of Campbellford about 2 o'clock this afternoon. She was running at usual speed and going around a curve, when all at once the locomotive left the track. Being in a cut, the front part of the engine caught the bank and was thrown right across the track and six cars were piled up on her within the length of two cars. The engineer, W. Mallock, and fireman J. Taylor, stuck to their post and were buried under the debris. They were rescued and brought to Campbellford at once, and Drs. Goldsmith and McCrae dressed their wounds. Engineer Mallock has his left leg broken above the ankle, both bones, and is cut on the right side of the face and head. His leg was caught by the falling cab and pinned him fast. Fireman Taylor has internal injuries about the left side and shoulder, a large cut extending around the back part of his head about four inches, and a deep cut over the left eye. Both are doing nicely now. The forward brakeman, who was in the cab, jumped as soon as the engine left the track and escaped unhurt. Conductor Way was slightly injured. The cause cannot be ascertained at present. The engineer states that he was on his seat, his hand on the lever and looking ahead out of the cab window when the engine went off. The engine is considered by the train hands as unlucky, having gone off in a similar manner about a year and a half ago near Keene. The auxiliary train arrived about 6 from Belleville, and will have the track cleared off for traffic

LATER—The track is now clear and traffic has been resumed. Engineer Mallock was brought to town this morning and is at the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. Craig, Ashburnham. Fireman Taylor's injuries are more serious, and he cannot be removed from Campbellford.

O'Brien in Montreal.

The Irish Editor Delivers His First Address.

MONTREAL, May 11.—This morning Mr. O'Brien was received at the Bonaventure depot by a moderate number of enthusiastic Irish people, but not as numerous as expected, and on landing was presented by Mr. Cloran, President of the National Association, with an address.

A fair-sized audience assembled in the evening in the Albert Hall to listen to the opening lecture in Canada of Wm. O'Brien, the Irish Agitator, in his crusade against Lord Lansdowne. A cordon of policemen was stationed in and near the hall, and every precaution was taken to prevent or overcome any demonstration of hostility. His measures were so complete that officers in plain clothes were placed in the lanes and in the churchyard of St. Bartholomew's, adjoining the hall, but happily these precautions were unnecessary, as no violence or insult of any kind was offered.

Mr. O'Brien gave his version of the disputes between Lord Lansdowne and his tenants, and generally reviewed the Irish troubles. He disclaimed any intention of attacking Lord Lansdowne in his representative capacity, and intimated that he dealt with him as a landlord.

THE BUDGET.

OTTAWA, May 12.—For four days prior to to-day Sir Charles Tupper was absent from the House or only visible in the chamber a few minutes at a time. He was understood to be preparing for a great effort on the budget speech and to-day he certainly gave evidence of elaborate preparation and made one of the great efforts of a life that abounds in great efforts. The budget speech of the session of 1887 will compare favorably with the budget speech of any previous year since Confederation, and great budget speeches have been made by Sir Leonard Tilley, Sir Richard Cartwright and Sir A. T. Galt. The House was full, the public galleries well filled, the ladies' gallery radiant with the beauty and fashion of the Dominion. The press gallery was crowded and the Upper Chamber came over in a body from the Senate. Throughout the afternoon the interest never flagged, principally because of an innovation that shall be referred to presently, and after recess the crowd was greater, though the attention given to the speaker could not be. Sir Charles spoke in good voice, slowly so as to husband his strength as much as possible, but distinctly, impressively, and, when occasion required, with vigor. The innovation referred to was in connection with the tabulated and other statements of figures. He had these all made out in detail, but he only read the totals to the House, handing the detailed statements to the official reporters to be inserted in the Hansard. By this means he saved a considerable amount of time, saved the patience of the House, and yet placed the information before the public, if they care to read the public debates. He said:

With regard to the receipts and expenditure for the year ended June 30, 1886, it will be found that the late Finance Minister, in his speech delivered in this House on March 30 last year, estimated that the total receipts on account of the Consolidated Fund would amount to $35,000,000. The public accounts which have been duly distributed to the members of the House show that the actual amount received was $33,177,040.30, showing that the late Finance Minister's estimates were almost literally verified. As a matter of fact his calculation of the customs yield was realized within $150,000, but the main difference arose from the receipts from excise, which did not come up to expectations. It must be realized, however, that all through that year Canada suffered particularly from other causes in addition to the ordinary depression of trade felt all over the world. In the early part of the year the effects of the rebellion in the Northwest were severely felt and the smallpox epidemic in Montreal for months laid that city under quarantine and to a large extent had a disastrous effect on the trade of the Dominion. On the other hand the late Finance Minister estimated the total expenditure at $38,138,287.61. This was increased in the actual amount expended to $38,011,612.36. The difference may be said to be made up by the charges for suppression of the rebellion in the Northwest, which were estimated at $2,300,000, whereas the actual expenditure on this head was $3,177,-290.50, and in addition there was increased charge on account of Mounted Police of $1,029.-369.20, as against an estimate of $832,241.66. These expenditures were unavoidable and had to be met, and unfortunately for the Dominion the deficit of last year was the consequence. It may be argued that this expenditure in connection with the Northwest Rebellion, not being of an ordinary character, should be regarded as a capital expenditure, and it is proposed to adopt this course with sums paid in the current fiscal year to complete these services, and also with the payments to be made to sufferers by the rebellion. Coming now to the outcome for the current year it will be found that the late Finance Minister in his statement made to Parliament at its last session estimated that the revenue from all sources would amount to $34,500,000. Probably in making this estimate he took into consideration the depression under which Canada was suffering in common with all parts of the world, and made an estimate accordingly. However, from the returns up to date which have been laid before the House, it will be seen that the amount expected was underestimated: that Canada has in fact emerged from her depression, and that instead of a revenue of $34,500,000 it is believed that the year's income will run round numbers amount to $35,300,000. [Cheers.] It may be interesting to state in connection with this point that the columns of the Statist of Feb. 5 last, in reviewing the financial and commercial history of England for 1886, contains the following:

There is some cause for satisfaction at the general course of business throughout the year. People in business have shaken off their long languor and depression, have found at last that things have touched bottom and have been more disposed to go ahead. There are many circumstances not altogether reassuring, and some trades would seem to have hardly participated in the general improvement, but on the whole merchants are more cheerful and an impetus has been given to trade which cannot but last a good while unless some untoward event should happen.

To notice the details of the estimate now before it is expected that the customs will yield $22,500,000, in the excise it was estimated that the yield would be $7,000,000, but whether much of this yield was anticipated in the previous year, or whether the habits of the people are becoming more and more temperate, it is not thought by the officers of the Inland Revenue Department that the income from this source will be more than $6,000,000. The miscellaneous items will be about as estimated, viz., $7,300,000 making a total $35,300,000. Turning to the expenditure side of the statement we find that the whole sum expended to April 30 last, as shown by the returns submitted to this House has been $26,276,843.20, from which, as has been mentioned before, it is proposed to deduct and charge to capital $216,085 23 miscellaneous charges in connection with the Northwest rebellion. The further charges on the consolidated fund services will probably be: To complete interest payments $4,200,000, sinking funds $800,000, and for miscellaneous services of all kinds and descriptions $4,760,000. It is probable, therefore, that the expenditure may be about $35,600,000, leaving an apparent deficit at the end of the year of $300,000, and I have no doubt it will be found when the year has expired, if the revenues come up to the expectations formed, that this estimate will be about correct.

With regard to the expenditure under the charge of the Minister of Railways and Canals, it will be noticed that in connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway Parliament is only asked to vote $180,000 to cover expenditure in British Columbia. Against an authorized expenditure during the current year of $92,200 for the Intercolonial Railway is an increase of expenditure required of about $300,000 for construction account. This House will be asked to vote less than last year, but in consequence of the estimated large increase in the traffic over the line new rolling stock will have to be purchased to the extent of $815,000. As will be seen on reference to the estimates, Parliament will be asked to vote the sum of $800,000 for the construction of the Cape Breton Railway against an authorized expenditure for the current year of $350,000. Coming next to the question of canals, an increase has been asked of about $216,000. While the older canals require less money to complete the necessary works at present under construction, a new vote is asked for $2,600,000 towards the construction of a canal at Sault Ste. Marie.

The amounts chargeable to capital under the control of the Minister of Public Works will be reduced in consequence of the completion of the Esquimalt graving dock. The sum asked for the new public building at Wellington street, Ottawa, is similar against $116,600 for this year and $95,000 for completion of Port Arthur harbor, and for Kamouraska River $40,000, against $70,000, and a vote will be required for Canso Government harbor of $7,000,000. The Minister of the Interior will require an extra sum of $46,000 on capital account to provide for the payments for surveys, etc., in connection with Dominion lands.

In arts, agriculture and statistics the increase asked for is $22,124.25 [illegible], and looking at the estimate for this service will find that the sum of $20,000 voted last year in connection with the Colonial and Indian Exhibition is dropped out, and similarly is omitted the $2,000 to cover the expense of the census of Manitoba, no further sum being required. On the other hand, the Minister of Agriculture will require to set in operation and maintain the experimental farms which, it is expected, will be in full working order during the year. For this service the sum of $30,000 is asked, as against $20,000 in the previous year. Parliament will also be asked to vote, and that it will do to most cheerfully I have no doubt, $30,000 as the contribution of Canada towards the memorial of the jubilee of Her Majesty's reign, viz., "The Imperial Institute of the United Kingdom, the Colonies and India."

The House will now come to a series of estimates in connection with services in which it is proposed to effect a saving. There is first, [illegible] to Insemo, [illegible] which is made than accounted for by the completion of the road system and bridge accommodation of the Lachine Canal. In the voluminous services under the control of the Minister of Public Works it is proposed to effect a general saving and it is hoped that as the works under that department are now gradually arriving at completion there may be a permanent saving. Under this head, one new item, however, for $40,000 is introduced for building and fencing in connection with the experimental farm. The decrease in the amount asked for mail subsidies and steamship subventions arises from two items, the discontinuance of the votes for subsidies for steam services between the ports in the Gut of Canso and between New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, and Great Britain. It is but right to state, under this head, that tenders have been invited for steam services between Canada and the West Indies, and it may be that a vote will also have to be submitted by Parliament in this connection. With regard to ocean and river service there is an increase of $81,850, of which the maintenance and repairs of Government steamers require $19,750, whilst the expenses in connection with the Canadian registration of shipping, including printing, require the balance, $1,100. In lighthouses and coast service the net increase is $3,500 on a service requiring over $370,000. The increase is in the salaries and allowances of lighthouse-keepers, and is spread all over the Dominion. It is right, however, to note that the Cape Race light, which was recently transferred to the Dominion by the Imperial Government, is responsible for $1000 of this increase.

It has been found practicable to reduce the requirement for signal service by $1,000. There has been added to the grant for meteorological observatories $3000, of which full details are given in the estimates, the increased cost of telegraphing and the incidental expenses in connection with this service necessitating the increase. It is not proposed to ask for any additional amount on account of a marine hospital or steamboat inspection.

The estimates for fisheries show a decrease of $23,500, caused chiefly by a reduction of the amount to provide for the cost, maintenance and repairs of the Government protection steamers, as it is thought that the appropriation can be safely reduced to this extent.

After revision it has been found that the requirements for the geological survey can be reduced by $1700.

For Indian affairs, an increase all told is asked of $2819, and it is believed by the officers of that department that the amount asked this year will not require to be supplemented.

There is a decrease of $16,500 in Northwest Mounted Police, not withstanding that the force has been reorganized and placed on a proper footing. This decrease is caused by the reduction of the amount for repairs, renewals, replacement of horses, etc.

In miscellaneous it will be found that there is an increase of $100,680, entirely made up of papers partly printed, 35 p c; photographic dry plates, 15 cents per square foot; shirts, cotton or linen, $1 per dozen and 30 p c; veneers of wood, 10 p c; colored fabrics, woven or dyed thread of cotton, or jute, or both, 35 p c; artificial fertilizers, $6 a ton.

Sir Charles next addressed himself to Canada's extension of her ocean-going service. Arrangements were almost completed for an Atlantic service that would defy every competitor, and there was every prospect that the Pacific line of steamers plying between British Columbia and China, and India and Australia, would soon be an accomplished fact. He had just concluded this subject when 6 o'clock was reached.

After recess Sir Charles started out again with renewed strength, and spoke even better than before dinner. He startled the House considerably, too, but this part of his speech will have to be condensed into a bare outline for the present, albeit it was the most important subject he spoke on to-day.

In brief the Government are going to head every effort towards making Canada a great iron-producing country. To do this they propose to apply the principle of protection to the iron industry in the ratio of the labor employed upon the production of the goods, and to in time bring up the duty to the limit of prohibition. Sir Charles spoke of the boundless wealth of ore, of the ease with which charcoal could be procured, of the impetus it would give trade of every kind. In fact, he spoke for an hour and a half on this subject. Here is one of his statements: To supply the amount of iron plates, etc., used in Canada each year, not including steel rails, cutlery, hard ware, etc., will require 200,000 tons of pig iron, 750,000 tons of iron ore and 700,000 tons of coal, giving the carrying of 1,650,000 tons of freight to bring the materials together. To manufacture from pig iron to merchant ware will require 740,000 tons of coal. In fact, said Sir Charles, the development of the iron industry will tax the coal industry to its utmost. To produce the goods will give employment to 30,000 workmen and subsistence to from 25,000 to 150,000 people. The first measure of protection proposed is to double the duty on iron, keep up the bounty and abolish the duty on anthracite coal. In other words Sir Charles proposed a complete revolution in the coal and iron trade and made the biggest N.P. speech that has been delivered since 1878. In conclusion he read the tariff resolution and sat down amid thunderous applause at exactly 10.30, having spoken some five hours.

THE OLD STORY.

THE estimates for 1887 88 contain an appropriation of the enormous sum of $90,000 for "Trent River navigation--for construction of locks and the improvement of navigation between Lakefield and Balsam Lake" a delightfully indefinite and non-committal reference to the points at which the money is to be expended. It will be observed that "the large and influential deputation which waited upon the Government to induce it to put the section between Peterborough and Lakefield under contract" didn't "strike oil". They had no influence. Contrast this magnificent appropriation of $90,000 (a recote too, by the way), with the appropriation of a trifle of $1,000,000 for the Sault Ste. Marie Canal, a jingo project which loses its raison d'etre in the face of the fact that the Imperial Government is in favor of surrendering for a song to the Yankees, fisheries of the annual value of nearly eighteen million dollars each year, and that our prejingo government is a willing, consenting party to this proposed pusillanimous and shameful surrender. The Sault canal is not a present necessity, unless the Government also proposes the free surrender to the United States, of our canals, in return for exclusion of Canadian shipping, for the use of canal on the American side of the Sault. The Trent Valley canal is, on the other hand, an important factor in securing the shortest water route between our North west possessions and the sea-board. This explains the discriminating liberality of the Government towards the latter scheme.

"KNOXONIAN," a sprightly contributor to the Canada Presbyterian, is not personal in his remarks, but he is so incisively direct that "he who runs may read." In contrasting the moral tone of the whiskey-drinking pioneer days of Canada with the present lax moral sentiments of the people, he says: "The character of a people is shown by the kind of men they put in places of honor. Within the last year the second and third generations of Canadians have put in the highest places men whom their grandfathers would have carried out of the country on a fence-rail." No necessity to point the moral.

Lakefield's Summer Hotel.

A Magnificent Building to be Erected for the Summer Trade.

Lakefield should boom this season as a summer resort. Mr. W. Blackwell, architect, Peterborough, has prepared plans for a fine new summer hotel to be erected at Lakefield by a stock company, in which Messrs. Percy, George and Robert Strickland, Thos. Gordon, W. Casemant and others are largely interested. The hotel will be located near the wharf, between the main street and the river, near where the railway track crosses the road. Tenders have been called for, and work will be begun at once. It is estimated the building will cost at least $5.000. It will be a frame building, three stories and a half in height, designed after the modern summer hotel style, and fitted out with every convenience. The building is nearly the shape of an L, with a frontage of 120 feet, a depth of wing of 64 feet, and a width of 32 feet, with a double verandah running along the front. On the first floor is a dining-room 30 feet square, a kitchen 18x23, main hall 16 feet wide, offices 16 feet square, billiard room 30x27, ladies waiting room 13x 15, reading room 14x10, baggage room etc. There are 15 bedrooms and a large drawing room on the second floor, and 18 bedrooms in the third story. Sumptuously furnished throughout, with every modern comfort and luxury, the building designed at once for convenience and capacity, will be a handsome structure indeed, and one which not only reflects much credit upon the architect, but upon the enterprise of the gentlemen who have the matter in hand, and whose capital and energy, thus expended for the weal of the travelling public at least, it is to hoped will bring them the reward they deserve. With the whole chain of our beautiful back lakes so convenient, with their healthy pleasures, good railway connection with Peterborough, the hotel itself a model of luxury and comfort, the undertaking can scarcely fail of success.
